SUE PELLETIER

Musical and athletic ability are hardly a combination to be found in every girl, but then, Suzanne Pelletier is no average girl.

The pretty girl who has been seen wearing the new white G.A.A. blazer is the girl about whom I am writing. The blazer, the highest G.A.A. award, is only one of a number of factors that prove how excellently she participates in each field of activity that she enters.

DON TALBOT

A new boy in the eighth grade (stolen from P. S. No. 10) Don stirred up quite a commotion and attracted many inquisitive glances. Ever since he has been in the middle of things and has gathered many friends with his winning ways.

Right off Don's classmates proved that he was accepted, by naming him Captain of his gym squad in the ninth and tenth grades. Mr. Talbot has followed up this interest in sports by playing baseball in his Freshman and Junior year, track last spring, and the J.V.'s high scorer this season. Don also participated in football with such earnest effort for two seasons that he seriously injured himself.

An all around good citizen Don Talbot was made a member of Phi Sigma in his Sophomore year and is now the society's Vice-President. Hi-Y also claims his membership and Don has also maintained a position on the honor roll. He was chosen as one of the six members to be awarded the G.A.A. blazer. She also held offices within the G.A.A. council. In past years she has been offi...

BEVERLY BALL

In the year 1934 in the month of April, Beverly Ball was born in Menands. Since that day she has lived in Menands all her life. Proceeding there were three brothers and a sister, of which two brothers attended Milne. The first school that was graced by her presence was the Menands School.

Beverly entered Milne in the seventh grade as a member of Dr. Freels' homeroom. Her first impression of Milne was that it was very large and different compared to the Menands School because that school had only eight rooms, four on the first floor and four on the second. That year she joined the cheerleading and dancing clubs and she was also a member of the Junior Choir, as she is now, in her eighth year.

In the eighth year she was again a member of the cheerleading club and she substituted dramatically for dancing.

The subjects for which she has the least passion for are Math. and Social Studies. Her favorite ones are English and Art, which correspond to her desire to be an artist.

Her out-of-school activities in the sports line include skating and swimming; which are her favorite, and she also has gone out for several extra-curricular sports here at Milne, this includes being captain of the girls' softball team in her home team.

When asked what her aims were she said she would like to "make the lunch hour longer." She also said she feels that they could really have some good dances.

All in all, Beverly thinks Milne is a pretty swell school and would serve it to the best of her ability.

Remember, ballots for Bell are ballots for the best candidate.

GEORGE MCDONOUGH

PATRICIA ASHWORTH

JOHN KINUM

George McDonough was born in Albany. His first home was on North Pine Ave. He wasn't the only child in his family, for he had two older brothers, Bill and Pete. When George was a little over four he had a younger brother named David.

At five years of age George started school at Public School 16. After the first grade he did not return to School 16, for he and his family had moved. For the second grade he went to School 19. This was not the end of George, because a little more than a year later George was back on North Pine Ave. and returned to School 16. He stayed in School 16 until the sixth grade.

Now the family moved to Western Ave. He was forced to leave School 16 because he was out of the school district so he went to V. 1, for his sixth year of school. In V. 1, he was on the basketball teams.

For the seventh grade George came to Milne where he was no stranger, for he had two older brothers, Bill and Pete, to guide him along.

George was quite a man in his first year at Milne. He was vice-president of his homeroom and also the Red Cross representative of the same. He was on the seventh grade basketball team, but there didn't happen to be a baseball team for him to exhibit his talents on. Everyone in Milne knows how well liked and popular he is.

During the summer George worked on his paper route and proved himself to be a real worker. Then along came September and so did the usual return to the halls of dear old Alma Mater. He found several new faces in his class and proved to be the friendly person we all know, welcoming them with his cheery smile.

He started the year with a bang as student council representative. He was also on the assembly committee and proved himself to be a worthwhile member. You all know we have had a lot of good assemblies this year, could he have anything to do with this? It is easy to get along with George, his winning personality achieves his slightest wish. Why not help him to get the best for the student body by voting him in as president?

A McDonough Booster.

Patty was elected to this year is Swing Director. This change was not for long, because a little more than a year later Patty was back on North Pine Ave. and entered School 16. This year is the seventh grade for Patty. Patty has done these last two years in Public School 18 and entered Milne in the seventh grade last year. From the start, Patty was popular with her classmates and she is the last to admit all Milne girls are this way.

She entered enthusiastically in many sports, some of which are soccer, basketball, and archery.

Patty's favorite subject is Math. Weak in the Catskills, Pertaining to school, his favorite subject is Math. Weaknesses include Mehlan and ice cream. To round out his description, his ambition is to own a yacht. On his gloomy side, he desists cutting grass (who doesn't?), no matter whether he's using a lawn mower or a flock of sheep.

John Kinum was born in Albany on January 15, 1938. His first six years of schooling were received at School 16, and then he entered Milne in the seventh grade. At Milne, George says that Milne has treated him pretty nicely in his first two years and he likes the school very much.

Two of John's various hobbies are fishing and showing off his flashy clothes (have you ever seen his ties)? He also likes baseball, basketball, and dancing. During the summer months, John divides his time between a cottage on Lake Champlain and a shack in the Catskills. Pertaining to school, his favorite subject is Math. Weaknesses include Mehlan and ice cream. To round out his description, his ambition is to own a yacht. On his gloomy side, he desists cutting grass (who doesn't?), no matter whether he's using a lawn mower or a flock of sheep.

John has had plenty of experience for the office of Junior High Student Council President. His history in Milne shows this fact. In the seventh grade he was an active member of the Junior High Student Council under the able leadership of Dan Westbrooke, who was president of the Junior High Student Council. John learned a great deal from him and the class elected him to a post on the Milne Boys' Athletic Association. As vice-president, he gained the needed for the presidency for any office, we find that Mr. Kinum has them all. He has had experience in the Student Council and this will aid him in taking over the duties of the president. This experience is one of the most important things in taking over any office. He is resourceful, intelligent, and his pep and energy overflows as he puts his utmost ability in every job he undertakes. His leadership in directing people is excellent and he has many friends in and out of school.
