Commencement Date Moved Up

After months of study and consideration the Milne faculty has decided to initiate a program this spring differing from that of former years. This program will provide a week during which students to whom the regents are important, may concentrate all efforts toward preparation while others have a program devised to fit their interests and aptitudes.

During the week of June 14, the student body will be divided in two basic units. The first group will consist of those students planning to take regents. They shall spend the entire week in special review classes taught by Milne supervisors. The remaining students shall be grouped according to interests where they will work with individual supervisors.

On the Friday concluding the week of June 18 there will be an afternoon program at which time the annual awards and scholarships shall be presented. At this time the special activity groups shall report on what progress they have made, while a portion of this program will be taken over by the seniors for class day exercises.

That night, Friday the 18th, the Senior Ball to be held on May 3 and 4.

Circus Club Comes To Milne Tonight

Spring Concert Dedicated to Dr. Frederick

On April 15 and 16, the music department will present to the public its annual spring concert. The program, which is dedicated to Dr. Robert Wende '48, head of the Music Department, will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the Page Hall Auditorium. The choir, band, junior choir, Milnettes, male ensemble, dancers and the male quartet will appear under the direction of Roy York, Jr.

Three Scenes Planned

The program is arranged in three scenes. The first of these is entitled "Alleluia" and will be sung by a white robed choir and a backdrop of blue heavens.

As the first selection between scenes, Janet Gross '30, and Annette Waxman '51, will play a duet of a piano concerto by Mendelssohn; the Milnettes will follow. Three selections by the junior choir will be heard, "Hunting," "Bravura Waltz," and "Some Folks Do."

A backdrop of a mist-shrouded castle characterizes the second scene, the theme being "From the Vale of Shangrila."

Following intermission, all groups will participate in the first floorshow. The choir will be seen in evening dress and a modernistic backdrop will bring about the effect of the theme, "A Twentieth Century Rhapsody." The Milnettes will reappear and will join with the Male Ensemble. The choir will sing a modern arrangement of "Three Mother Geese."

Followed by "Oh What a Beautiful Morning" and "Country Style," during which the square dancers will take part.

Many Committees

Mr. York is being aided by his wife, Mrs. Roy York, Jr. in the planning of the concert. Mary Jane Fiske '48, and Judy Horton '50, are cochairsman in the production of the concert. Nancy McManus, '49, heads the production committee. Working on the various costumes is Nancy French '48. The lighting will be taken care of by Arnold Levin '48, scenery by Jack Henke '49, and managing the stage will be Putnam Barnes '50. In charge of patrons is Joyce Hilliers '48, and of ushers is Rita Sonz '48, Rod Kennedy '48, and Leo Paxton '48, who are working together on the publicity for the affair. Jack Ricketts '48 heads the printing committee and Robert Randles '48 is in charge of tickets and posters.

Spanish Teacher Named Valedictorian

Seven senior students were presented to a joint assembly by Dr. Robert Fisk on Friday, March 18. These people are the honor students among the class of 1948.

Nancy French, with the highest average, is valedictorian. Nancy McAllister, second on the honor roll, is salutatorian. The other students eligible for top honors are: Robert Abernethy, editor of the Crimson and White, Benjamin Mendel, Mary Pryor, Carolyn Harken and Suzanne Feiler.

In his address to the assembly, Dr. Fisk explained how the averages of these students were computed. Every report card mark from the time one enters high school is averaged, and the final mark is the basis for deciding position in the class.

Scholarships Offered

The Cornell and New York State Scholarships for the seniors have just been announced. The State Scholarship awards $350 a year which may be applied to any college or university in this state. The winner, if going to attend Cornell, will receive $200 yearly. So far, twenty seniors are preparing for the entrance examination to these scholarships which will be taken on May 3 and 4.

For the remainder half of the assembly, Dr. Wallace Taylor of our Social Studies Department, gave a talk on "Our World Today." In it he gave various opinions and views on universal military training, and other current situations existing in the world.

Groups will not be restricted to the limits of the school.

Dr. Fisk, principal, remarked, "We are very interested in the new program and confident it will add to the excellence of our school."

Second Dance Starts A New Tradition

The Crimson and White Circus Club Dance will be held tonight. It is the first dance of an original type to be sponsored in Milne for many years. Proceeds from the dance will be used to produce extra editions of the paper this spring.

The entire staff of the Crimson and White has been utilized in planning this organization. It will be held in the Page Hall gym from 8:30 to 12:00 midnight.

The dance will be literally a circus. Everything from pink ponies to clowns and elephants has been planned to bring an evening of fun to Milne. Rod Kennedy will preside over the whole event and has promised a colorful floorshow featuring Doris Einstein, Dorothy Morton, John Powell, and George Erwin. The first half of the floorshow begins at 8:30.

Another feature of the floorshow will be the presentation of the prizes to the winners of the "Gay-blades" naming contest. The harmony quartet plus Rod Kennedy will act as judges.

At 10:30 the second half of the floorshow will commence. The climax of the dance will be reached during this period when Bob Abernethy, editor-in-chief of the Crimson and White, announces the new staff of the paper. The old staff will officially retire at this time.

Ken Miller To Play

Music will be supplied by Ken Miller’s Band. Its eleven members have taken first prize in the All-Albany Band Contest for the last two years and are now retiring as champions of the district.

The decoration committee is headed by Rod Johnston. The gym will be lined with a tent-like structure of crepe paper, animal cages and a balloon cascade will add to the circus atmosphere.

Bob Randles is responsible for the floorshow. He is aided by Rod Kennedy. Commenting on the show Mr. Randles said, "I am sure Milne will enjoy its first original floorshow. Rod and his entertainers have worked long and hard in bringing this show forth."

Doris Long and Deanie Baur are the co-chairmen of the dance. They are coordinating the committees and handling the items which are too small for committee work.

In retiring from his position as editor-in-chief of the paper Mr. Abernethy said, "I wish to take this opportunity to express my deepest appreciation for the fine work the staff of the Crimson and White has given me during the past year. I cannot possibly thank them enough."
END OF THE LINE

This is the last issue of the present staff. Tonight will witness the climax of our efforts when the new staff takes over. For us it has been a big year. We will not soon forget

AN EXPLANATION

As most of you have probably noticed there have not been as many editions of the paper this year as in the past. Everything has an explanation and this shortage is not an exceptrue. At the budget assembly it was stated that it would be impossible to produce the usual number of editions with the amount appropriated to the Crimson and White by the Student Council. With this in mind you passed the budget. As it is poor business to go in debt, we produced only the number of editions that we could pay for. The dance tonight if it is successful should supply the necessary cash for more editions this spring. It is up to you to make it a success. It is up to you to appropriate a bigger fund for the paper next year.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

The Milne girls had the opportunity to take home economics as soon as the college department opened in 1910. At that time nutrition was the only subject taught in this department. A laboratory was used by the students in the room now occupied by the college co-op. Then the division was made, allotting the foods and its related interests to Miss Mary Fillingham, and the varied clothing subjects to Miss Keim who later became Mrs. Barsam.

As Milne grew and acquired its new building, the department occupied rooms 323, 325, and 327 as its special room. As this time home economics became a regular subject.

In 1934 the boys clamored for a Junior High club and it was led to prepare things for themselves. The popularity of this club continued for more than two years.

When the addition to the building had been built in 1933, space was eliminated to the home economics department for its laboratories. In 1944 Miss Filling­ ham left Milne and Mrs. Barsam has had charge of the department since.

Milne "5" Ends Mediocre Season

Diamond Aspirants Bid for Positions; 8 Regulars Return

Having completed a fair basketball season, the baseball team once again is limbering up for the coming season. With warmer weather ahead Milne turns to baseball in hopes that there is a good season in store.

As yet the entire team has not turned out for practice. A week before Easter vacation, Coach Grogan had the pitchers and catchers working out in the return of the team and was expectant of a good showing. The warming weather has once again been limbering up for the coming season. With warmer weather ahead Milne turns to baseball in hopes that there is a good season in store.

However, there are two other boys being groomed for the pitching staff. One of them, Al Cow, a senior, is expected to help the mound corps. Although he lacks experience it is expected he will work into the role of the pitcher. The otherlinger is Schuyler Sackman, a sophomore. Sackman pitched for his team last season, and is far he is the only left hander on the squad. There are others trying out for pitching berths. Among these are Lee Dennis, Gifford Barry, Don Miller and Bill Farnan, the hurling staff will be bolstered considerably.

Working along with the pitchers are the catchers. With Dick Bauer, the old holderer, receiver, there are Wally Craig, a transfer from Albany Academy, Ray Gurten and George McDonough.

 infield Field

A good majority of last year's team is returning. Lettermen George Bell, Art Walker, Ed Segel, and Ed King were expected to be back down the infield. All of the teams, which is considered the weakest part of the team, are Bob Clarke and Tom Talbot, who are returning lettermen.

Again this year Milne will return to Ridgefield for its home field. When approached on the coming season Coach Grogan commented: "With the return of several veterans from last year's squad, we expect a better than average season."

Facing Milne is a twelve-game schedule. With the addition of Schuyler and New Lebanon to last year's schedule the team faces some tough games.

Milnites Attend Press Convention

By LEE DENNIE

On March 11-13 twenty-two Milnites devoted 72 hours to the study of the nature and function of conventions. The example was the 24th Annual Scholastic Press Convention in New York City. The twenty-two odd journalists who attended the convention were the nuclei of the retiring and incoming staffs of the Crimson and White and the Bricks and Ivy.

Arriving at Grand Central Station, New York, about 10:30 A. M., everyone headed for the Commodore Hotel through Grand Central's mazes. Once registered, the delegation split up after agreeing to rendezvous at Columbia University in time for the opening meeting.

After many-hour subway ride out to Columbia was the first of many exciting rides to follow; for others it was the only ride.

Convention

The Convention covered the various problems to be met in the preparation and production of newspapers, magazines, and yearbooks. Lectures were devoted to the handling and preparation of material for such departments as sports, photography, layouts, feature articles, special columns, and advertising.

The convention concluded with a double banquet. Half of the 3,000 conference delegates had luncheon at the Commodore while the other half assembled at the Biltmore. The feature event of the Commodore luncheon was a broadcast address by the Honorable George W. Munson, United States chief delegate to the United Nations. Mr. Austin spoke on "The necessity for journalists in the world of tomorrow."

Recreation

The lighter side of the nature of conventions were likewise thoroughly studied. Thursday evening "The Store With 10,000 Items"

Senior Girls Give Shower

Last Wednesday, April 7, at 2:30 P. M., Mrs. Barsam's sewing room was the scene of the Senior Girls "Shower." The tea was given in honor of the brides-elect Patricia Colborn and Elizabeth Rockenfeller. The girls each received silver creamer and sugar sets from the girls of the class of '48 and the women faculty members.

Seniors As Hostesses

Pat, Betty and the faculty members were served refreshments by the senior girls who donated the cookies, cakes, sandwiches, coffee and tea for the occasion. Mary-Jane Fiske and Doris Einstein headed the plans for the tea.

Pat Colburn recently announced her engagement to John Brodie of Albany, who recently opened Brodie's Florist Shop. Betty Rockenfeller will become the bride of Joseph Harper of Oneonta in the fall.

Annual Play Is Huge Success

Milne's annual senior play, "Dear Ruth," was presented March 23 and 24. Students turned out en masse for the production. The comedy in two acts by Norman Krasna was directed by Mr. Arthur Collins, a State College student.

The Student Chairman, Jack Rickels, gave his vote of thanks to the many who willingly helped to put on the production.

New System Is Now In Effect

An experiment is being carried on every Wednesday and Thursday in the planning of the junior high dramatic periods.

Notices were sent to all the junior high school homerooms in the middle of March, listing various activities, their supervisors, the location and the maximum number of students that may attend.

Attendance Taken

There is no attendance taken at these periods, but every student is expected to select and attend one of them.

Movies in the little theatre with Mr. Fairbanks and Miss Haines, dancing in the little gym with Miss Murray and Mr. Grogan are the two activities usually filled to capacity.

Mr. Fossiek reports: "The program is going along very smoothly."

"Timpy" was elected president of the Dramatics club in the eighth grade. She has been a member of good standing in the Milne choir since the ninth grade. She is also a member of the popular singing group, the Milnettes.

During the last few years "Timpy" has been active on the Bricks and Ivy. She is Literary Editor this year.

As far as we know, "Timpy" is the only girl in the senior class with pierced ears. She has a great weakness for cats, Taborton, seagulls, lade, singing, and "frozen daiquiris" at Lindy's.

Among her dislikes are people who are late and those who are conceited. Her ideal man must have good manners, a sense of humor, and like to dance.

"Timpy" has been accepted at Miami University, at Ohio. After finishing college she plans to be an airline hostess.

Janet Rabineau's literary career began in the seventh grade when (not knowing what she was setting herself in for) she joined the yearbook staff. She was well rewarded for her efforts in the ninth grade by being elected junior high editor. In her junior year she was elected associate-editor and in her senior year was selected by the editorial board as the editor. Her fellow classmates will never think of Janet without remembering her perseverance and the time she spent in her effort to present a better yearbook to the entire school, and before commencement, too!

Always exceedingly active in the Girl Scouts (she's a mariner!), this summer Janet was a delegate at large at the World Camp.
