Milne school has been selected in an attempt to prove the effect of the Gottlieb method for the prevention of tooth decay.

Experiments On Milnites

In a determination to find out the effectiveness of the method, Dr. Gottlieb of Baylor University. This method is supposed to seal off the avenues by which decay producing bacteria enter the teeth. A complete description of this method has recently been published in "Colliers," a national magazine.

Age Limits Tendered

Results show that the application of sodium fluoride on the teeth of children in the first 40 per cent. One magazine, however, stated that this was only effective for children under the age of 13 years.

Before the beginning of February, letters of explanation and blanks for enrollment in this dental project were mailed to the homes of Milne students from the office of the principal, Theodore Fossiek. Nearly 200 students responded to the letters, and during the last two weeks they have been undergoing treatment. The treatment consists of X-raying, cleaning, and treating the teeth of the process. The X-rays were sent to the students' private dentists.

Hopes for 90% Results

Milne is one of the experimental centers because of its close connections with the state.

Dr. Daniel Westbrook, who is in charge of a national dental project, stated: "We're engaged in a study to test the effectiveness of a particular technique for which the sponsor claims a 90 per cent reduction in dental decay. In order to determine how effective the new technique may be, the New York State Department of Health is applying it to some 200 children over the Milne girls who receive treatment will be re-examined at the end of one year.

Senior Class Orders Graduation Folders

Members of the senior class have ordered announcement folders and name cards for graduation.

The class had a choice of several folder styles and types of printing, which they voted on during a meeting held January 25.

Ideas for spending the annual card party money were also discussed at this meeting. President Daniel Westbrook was chosen to speak in favor of giving it to the senior class.

FEBRUARY 18, 1949

George Washington's Birthday will be the theme of the junior high dance to be held Saturday, February 19. The affair to be held in the lounge will last from 7:30 to 10:30.

In addition to dancing, the evening's program will feature a floor show by Bennett Thompson.

A door prize consisting of two tickets to the Playhouse will be given to one of the couples.

The Junior Student Council is in charge of all arrangements.

The party assembled at the Washington Avenue entrance of the Capitol at 7:30. They then went over to the Joseph Henry Memorial where Assemblyman Herrick, of the first district, delivered a short lecture to the group.

The bills to come before the session that evening were reviewed by Mr. Herrick, who also gave a brief background of each measure and indicated which ones might provoke a controversy.

About 8:30, the party went back to the Capitol to sit in on the session of both houses.

Milne "Terry Round"

"They fly through the air with the greatest of ease!"

For the past few weeks Milnites have been braving the elements by skiing, skating and tobogganing. Nancy Reiden, Joyce Hallett, Lee Dennis, Carolyn Miller, Audrey Hopfensperger and Ernie Whitefield are some of the brave souls who went skiing. The Ice skaters included Nan Bird who was seen at Burden Lake. Speaking of skating, Helene Good and Joan Clark saw the Ice Follies at the Troy Armory. At midnight we found Gwendolyn Leitler, Patsy Canfield, Marge Schneider, Phylis Burnett, Mary MacNamara, Marian Deitrich, Eleanor Erb, Beryl Scott and Margaret Moran tobogganing; while out at St. Agnes Fred Clum, Bob Kelly, Pete Ball and Bud Tallamy were enjoying themselves skiing over the snow.

Ruth Staley, Ray Guerrieri, Anne Conigliio, Ronald Vanderburg, Joyce Russo, Jack Henkes, Lynn Van Oly, Ray Malthouse, Carol Dobbs, Allen White and many others seemed to be enjoying the music, magic and movies.

Tuesday night found Marilyn Lynk, Sue Armstrong and Jack Magrew square dancing at the First Church. Many Milniters have seen "Red Shoes," including Ernie Shultz, Terry Stokes, Doris Metzner, Eleanor Jacobs, Sue Laven, Terry Hilleboe, Jean Payne and Lois Levine.

Roller skating has also attracted many Milnites. Joyce Roberts, Jay Lechner, Mary Lou Richardson and Joan Sutherland were all having fun at Hoffman's. At 5:00, the morning after the Schuylkill game, a sleepy group of Milne freshmen, sophomores and juniors got up to go to the "Big City" with the Westfield skating club. The assembly program, sponsored by the Westminister Presbyterian youth group. The "early birds" included: Dianne Grant, Nancy Gotier, Phylis Burnett, Bobbie Dewey, Nan Bird, Put Barnes, Bob Parker and Ward Tracy; juniors; Dick Taylor and John Kinum, sophomores; and Mary Alice Leitler, Claire Marks, Beryl Trayce, Frank Parker, Jane Carlsough and Ed Bigley, freshmen.

New York also claimed Helen Piggors, Betty Froehlich, Paul Costello and Audrey Hopfensperger. "Piggy" gained the biggest prize when she returned with Agnes Shultz, Frank Parker, Jane Carlsough and Ed Bigley, freshmen.

Milne music lovers turned out "en masse" to hear the Civic Assembly Concert at the Palace Theatre. Carol Boynton, Marge Norton, Dottie Blessing, Joyce Russo, Nancy Schonbrun, Marge Leonard and Doris Kaplan were among the many there.

Schuyler Subdues Milne; Second Half Rally Fails

Philip Schuyler's undefeated Falcons racked up their 11th straight victory of the season by subduing Milne, 47-37, on the Hackett Junior High School gym. The final margin of victory was far from conclusive as Milne staged a second half rally to cling to an 11-point deficit.

Raider's Cop 2: Lose Close Tilt

After playing an inconsistent first half, Milne came back with a determined rally to overcome B.C.H.S. by a score of 28-20 on the Partlow Hall court in a Class C league tilt.

Bethlehem Central took a slim 6-5 lead in the first quarter and increased it to 24-14 at the half. Milne rallied in the third quarter to come within two points of B.C.H.S., making the score 27-25.

The final session was even closer. The score changed hands seven times until the last three seconds, when Lew Carr sank a hook shot to give the Red Raiders the clinching two points.

Last Minute Decisive

Van Rensselaer was able to withstand a second half surge by Milne, edging the Red Raiders, 41-39, in a crucial Class C league tilt on the victor's court.

Milne held a slim 6-5 margin after the first eight minutes but the east siders went on a scoring spree to gain the lead 20-9 at the half.

After the intermission, the Milne aggressions spurred and outscored the victor's for 14-6. They were on the short end of a 20-23 tally at the close of the third quarter.

The final minutes of the game shifted the lead to both teams, but Bill Kirsh sank a long set shot with 32 seconds left to give Rensselaer the margin of victory.

Milne Checks Rally

Milne brought its seasonal record to six wins against six defeats, trouncing Hudson High School 36-31 in an independent contest.

They were on the short end of a 14-6 tally in the first half, but the Red Raiders spurted to the victor's court.

Carrying the scoring burden for Milne were Lou Carr and Dick Bauer with 10 and 9 points respectively.

Rifle Tryouts Held: 4 Vets Form Nucleus

Tryouts for the first squad of the Milne riflemen were held on Wednesday at the Washington Avenue Armory. The results of this session have not been released but the rivalry was keen.

The small group of 18 members are under the supervision of Mr. John Risner, who works together with the boys and girls at their informal gatherings. Every Wednesday night, they meet to discuss the coming events on the agenda.

There are four holdovers from last year's squad, who form the nucleus of the club. Jack Henkes, president, David Segal, Larry Coffin and Lee Dennis are the returning veterans.

VERSATILE YOUTH IS OUTSTANDING: PLAY IS STEADY

By EDGAR WILSON

Are there many Milnites who have not noticed the tall sandy-haired senior walking the "halves" halls of the Milne School? One can be sure that of you must have wondered who this good looking athlete is after seeing his brilliant basketball play. So who should it be kept secret any longer, his name is Dan Westbrook.

Dan has been and is one of the most outstanding athletes of the class of '49. He has been a regular guard for three years on the hoop squad and has contributed his basketball skill by winning the left field berth for three years.

Injuries Hinder Dan

A seventeen-year-old Elsmere youth, Dan's 186 pounds, solidly filled into a 6'2" frame has become a basketball wonder in prominent basketball circles. His early season play was hindered considerably by an injury, suffered in a practice session, to his right elbow. Also, a severe ankle sprain forced Dan to sit out a couple of practices, but did not seriously handicap him.

Now, no longer plagued with injuries, Dan has rounded into his top form and continues to flash his brilliant back courts which have put Milne on the long end of many scores. Dan's forte is a driving one-handed push shot, on which he capitalizes for most of his points.

Basketball Playdays To Come

Basketball playdays will be held at Philip Livingston High School. Saturday morning, February 12, the team played seven ten-minute games of B.C.H.S. with one point, Len Paxton. Juniors were Helen Cupp, Larry Walker, Marlene Cooper, and Bev Orrett.

Arriving at 9:30 a.m. the girls started in by losing the first game to B.C.H.S. girls. Then the Milne team began rolling. The four victories were over Lansburg, 4-2; Saranac, Miss Murrow's victory, 6-1, and Albany High School, 7-0. Avon Park overpowered us 3-2 and the Milne girls tied Roessells, 3-3.

The Milne girls scored a high scorer of the day with sixteen points. Other forwards scoring were Helen Cupp, Len Paxton four points, and Bev Orrett eleven points. The team brought lunches and milk was supplied by Philip Livingston. The playday was over about 3:00 p.m. It was a full day of fun and good sportsmanship. The Milne girls all had a wonderful time.

The senior and junior girls are invited to attend a playday at Philip Livingston High School. There are three playdays. The following girls have been chosen to play: Carol Dobbs '49, Joan Mosher '49, Janet Kilby '49, Larry Walker '50, Betty Mae Frockchi '49, Bev Orrett '59, Helen Cupp '50, Len Paxton '50, Janet Hicks '50, Anne Conigliaro '50, Judy Horton '50, Carol Boynton '49, Marlene Cooper '50, Bobbie Leete '50, Nancy Shaw '50, and Nancy Betham '49.

The senior and junior girls enjoy bowling at Rice's during Wednesday gym periods that they have decided to continue it for awhile. It has started a new "Over 100" bowling club for the junior and senior girls exclusively. The possible membership is 29 juniors and 32 seniors. The race is on to see which class will have 100% membership first. As of February 9 there are eight seniors and nine seniors in the club. Helen Pignor is high for the class of '50 with 129. Gusta Costello hit the 124 mark to top the seniors. The junior average is 110.5 and the senior average is 100.6.

The junior high girls have started basketball intramurals on Friday afternoons. The girls have turned out that tournaments are played every Friday.
Senior High Active
In Crafts Class

"One or two openings still remain for senior high students to enter the daily art class," states Mr. Harlan Raymond. Varied projects have been pursued by senior high students in this class under the supervision of Mr. Raymond. Leather work has been popular. Leather work has been completed by a key case, while Marilyn Akers has fashioned leather bookends. The project of Marcelin Cohn was a large wooden frame. Frames of leather were also constructed.

New Device Used

A new device for designing plastics has been introduced. Very attractive sets of plastic pins and ear-rings have been made. These are on display in the show cases on the first floor. Osgow Cadillac Helps

Many of the new and interesting projects have been introduced by "cadet" teachers from Osgow State Teachers College. Mr. Kenneth F. Lister, the last arrival from Osgow, is spending the next nine weeks working with the Milne Industrial Arts Department.

Juniors Experience Profile Examination

Eleventh grade students reported to their homemakers Tuesday, February 15, and Thursday, February 17, to take the Kuder Preference Test.

The test sponsored by the Milne Guidance Office, helps to determine the student's immediate school program and future social opportunities. A profile is drawn for each student, indicating individual preferences by means of colored bar graphs.

College Students Correcting

The papers are being corrected by students participating in the State College Testing Course who acted as proctors during the two-day testing period. Each junior will receive a profile sheet during the homeroom period on Tuesday, March 1. Mr. Ralph Tibbett's guidance director, stated that the ninth grade will take the Kuder Test March 1 and 3. The test will be repeated during their junior years to indicate the degree in which preferences change over a two-year period.

1948 Yearbooks Available

Students other than seventh graders, who did not receive a copy of the 1948 "Bricks and Ivy," may obtain one from David Seigal.

Any student or student teacher wishing an extra copy of this year's Milne publication, "Bricks and Ivy" should also see David Seigal immediately. The price will be $3.50 for each additional copy.

Senior Spotlight

JOYCE HALLETT

Standing out as one of the artists in the senior class is Joyce Hallett. Joyce entered Milne in her ninth year and since then she has had a paint brush in hand, a good deal of art work with the Art Department brought her the position of President of the Art Council. She has served as such for the past two years.

Art has not deprived Joyce of other school activities. She has worked on the Crimson and White and the Bricks and Ivy. This year she is Mistress of Ceremonies for Sigma Literary Society.

Joyce is fond of sports, claiming hockey and bowling as favorites. Recently she took up horseback riding and seems very enthusiastic about it.

Spaghetti, eating and boys with brown hair make up her list of likes. She dailies pigs' feet, fish, and getting up early.

Joyce's summers are usually spent doing a variety of things. Last year she spent part of the time working at Wally's Vegetable Stand; the other part relaxing at Martha's Vineyard.

JOHN HENKES

Being tops in sports in Milne, is not the only way to gain recognition. The class of '49 is proud of Jack Henkes, a member who has proven himself reliable, and hard working. It might well be said that he's our "Jack-of-many-trades."

You can't really appreciate the time or progress that goes into the Bricks and Ivy, until you've observed Jack working as Art Editor on "lay-outs, dummy sketches or covers." He has been the Art Editor for two years and assistant for one.

Noted for Art Talent

For the past few years Jack has either designed or supervised the painting of most of the Spring Concert backdrops. The scenery for the senior play was also Jack's handiwork.

Finding time outside of school activities, Jack has designed, and built many big houses in Loudonville. He wired them, too!

We note that he has been in Hi-Y for three years, Phi Sigma vice-president last year, Rifle Club, Choir, Male Ensemble, and last year he was vice-president of the Art Council.

 Clubs Continue With Increase Of New Group

Second semester clubs began on February 17, with the addition of a chess club.

Instigated by Bert Sackman, this new club will teach members the fundamentals of chess and provide enjoyment and practice for those who are proficient in the game. With all members looking forward to the inauguration of a President of the Art Council.

Students engaged in various gatherings during the next semester.

"In the Still of the Night" and "Yesterday and Today" are two of the serious songs in their repertoire.

"I'm Only Nineteen," which includes a panoply of Judy Horton, adds to the program. "The Pie-Crust Humming Song" blends the girls' voices into one.

Perform At Engagements

Solas are sung by Joyce Ruso and Shirley Weingert in "The Song Is You."

Tuesday evening, January 25, the Milnettes sang at a dinner at the First Lutheran Church for the Protestant Family Welfare Association. Saturday evening, January 29, the Page Hall Auditorium they entertained during the "Theta Nu Folies."

Their most recent engagement was at the Loudonville Parent Teachers Association on Tuesday, evening, February 8.

Art Classes See Colored Slides

Art classes, instructed by Mr. Popolizio, will soon see a collection of multicolored slides of famous paintings.

The slides show the history of painting from prehistoric times to the twentieth century. They illustrate the best examples of living in various ages of art and have pictures of many of the finest paintings. There are 140 slides, 100 of which are a permanent collection in the art room. The remaining forty belong to Mr. Popolizio.

Mr. Popolizio states, "The purpose of the slide lectures is to balance the practical point of view with theory in order to give a thorough understanding of the significance of art today."

Milne Students Tour Knickerbocker News

Section I of the seventh grade tour the Knickerbocker News Building, Wednesday, January 19 on a field trip sponsored by the social science teacher. Upon arriving, the students had their pictures taken for the paper. They then left the main office and were conducted on a tour through the building.

Their guide showed them the big presses and explained how they worked. All of the students had their names printed on lead news papers.

Girls Athletic Council

Sponsors Student Tea

Girls Athletic Council sponsored a tea for new student teachers and members of the faculty on February 10, at 5:30.

Approximately 175 attended this tea held in Richardson Lounge. The tea was served with cookies and tea in many types of small pastries, prepared by Mrs. Barsam and a number of high school economics students.

Barbara Dewey and Janet Killby, Larry Walker and Nancy Bethem poured the tea. They were assisted by Mrs. Barsam and a number of her home economics students.

Dr. Fossieck Speaks

Dr. Fossieck expressed satisfaction that this national historical event was viewed by some of the group of Milnettes. He stated, "Since the inauguration of a President of the United States is regarded by people all over the world as an historical event, we of the Milne staff thought it worthwhile that our students take time to hear what occurred."

Milnettes appear At Social Events

The Milnettes are engaged to appear at various gatherings during the next semester.

"In the Still of the Night" and "Yesterday and Today" are two of the serious songs in their repertoire.

"I'm Only Nineteen," which includes a panoply of Judy Horton, adds to the program. "The Pie-Crust Humming Song" blends the girls' voices into one.
