Student Council Election; Vote

For President

Bob Horn

Action!—That's what you want in a student council president. Who's the man for the job? Bob Horn—match! Bob has seen more action than you will ever know, above and beyond the call of duty.

Bob doesn't believe in promises unless they are kept. Bob keeps his. He is a hard and efficient worker who does not leave the job for someone else to do.

Sports and cars are two of Bob's interests. He has played freshman basketball and baseball and for the past two years he has been catcher of the j.v. baseball team.

Speaking of parliamentary procedure—who was? but anyway—Bob is an expert in this field as every office he has held has been that of president! He was elected president of the Junior student council in the eighth grade. Bob has been president of his class ever since they have had one. This year he is chairman of the Alumni Ball. He is also a member of Hi-Y and Adelphi.

A president must have a pleasing personality, brains and speak well in public. Bob has all three of these qualifications. He is one of the most popular and well liked boys in the Junior Class. Bob is also one of the smartest in his class. He has a flair for public speaking that will stand him in good stead if he is elected.

So—keep this slogan in mind: This is it—simplified, He's the one who's qualified. Want the right man for the job? Vote for our candidate—Bob!

Jim Dougherty

"The world is full of willing people; some willing to work, others willing to let them." That's the reason for electing a president. He must be willing to be a leader, willing to accept responsibility, but most of all he must be just plain willing to work.

Jim's willingness to work shows itself in the numerous activities in which he takes an active part. He was captain of the Albany Boys' Club basketball team. He is presently a member of Theta Nu Literary Society. In addition, Jim finds time to help with C.Y.O. activities, and is a swimming instructor for the Red Cross.

More is needed than willingness, however. Ability and experience are also requisites. Jim possesses both of these in abundance.

His ability to get things done and to get them done on time was proven when he was elected to, and served in, the position of editor of C.B.A.'s Junior High School newspaper. Student government is also a part of Jim's background. For two years he was a class representative on C.B.A.'s highest student committee.

In the Hi-Y, too, Jim came in contact with parliamentary procedure and the methods of student government. On two occasions he was chosen to attend important conferences as one of his personal representatives.

It is obvious, then, that JIM DOUGHERTY has the willingness, experience, and ability to lead Milne's student council. Why not let him do this by voting for him?

For Vice President

Ellie McNamara

Ellie McNamara for Vice President—Why?—She's the gal with the background for the job! Vice President of junior student council—Vice President of M.G.A.A.—Vice President of Sigma—Representative to student federation of councils. Her Vice President experience is so enormous and so successful that she is the logical choice for the coming election. It really isn't necessary to mention that she is news editor for the C&W and chairman of the card party for next year. Her qualifications are simply based on her past record and experience in student government. She has imagination, loyalty, fairness and above all, the courage of her own convictions.

One of the main jobs of the Vice President is to set up and plan assemblies. Ellie's originality and discrimination will provide a varied and interesting program throughout the year. Another important responsibility of the Vice President is heading the various charity drives during the year. Because of her organizing ability, these drives will be run successfully and with a maximum of efficiency. I also feel that Ellie would be able to preside over the meetings which the president could not attend because of her well rounded background of parliamentary procedure and public speaking ability.

McNamara's Band is on the move. Come on kids get in the groove and swing and sway with Ellie-Hey! She's our veep in every way! You join McNamara's Band—elect Ellie—and your student council will make sweet music next year!

Ellen Hoppner

Are you in the market for a new vice-president of the student council? I've got a wonderful offer to make. Ellen Hoppner, my candidate, is a real bargain, and all you have to do to obtain her for the job is to vote for her on election day. She's been tested and found to be working smoothly because she has actively participated in the student-faculty committee, one of the student council branches. Ellen has been a student council representative in junior high, and she has proved her ability to offer good suggestions and do work efficiently for the good of the organization.

Ellen hails from Loudonville. Ever since she was young, she has liked people and associating with them. In fact, Ellen has traveled quite extensively and lived with families in Guadaloupe and Europe. Ellen has a good knowledge of parliamentary procedure and she could be called on at any time to conduct a meeting. She tells me that she also reads the student council minutes avidly each week.

Ellen's extra-curricular activities number quite a few, but she says that she will devote as much time as possible toward bettering the functions of our already pretty super council.

Remember folks! If you want a good gal for this job of veep, vote row Hoppner all the way. You'll be glad you did!

Be happy, Vote Hoppy
Vote Hoppy all the way!

Federation of Student Councils for man, well, qualifications make the mor—and a knowledge of the stu­neatness—punctuality—sense of hu­TARY. Writing ability—efficiency— the C&W next year. She receives two years, and is feature editor of been handled well. Sue was also manager of G.A.A. and a represent­ative this year. All these jobs have secretory.

I've known Melinda since she came to Milne in the seventh grade, and in these five years, she's taken an active part in Milne activities and affairs. She's a bit quiet, (you don't want to have a noisy secre­tary, now, do you?) but never hesi­tates to state her ideas.

Still, you may ask, what actual experience does Melinda have in this particular field. We know she can write (very well, incidentally), but, so what. Just what does this dear lass have that would justify your voting for her. Melinda was elected by her sisters in Quin to be their "keeper of the books" this year. (The rumble from the grapevine says that she did a sterling job). Besides this she was secretary of her homeroom for two years. She was also on the literary staff of the B&I this year and on the assembly committee.

So, friends, when you've given your ballot to vote for the officers, I hope that you will vote for the girl with all the qualifications—MELINDA HITCHCOCK.

For Treasurer

Bill Englander

You want a hot tip on who's going to win this year's pennant race? I'm not sure about these, but I will give you a sure bet for the next treasurer of the senior student council. He is William Englander, Norwalk, Connecticut's contribution to Milne. "Jiggs" as he is better known, entered Milne in the tenth grade after attending those two "glorious Al­bany institutions" P.S. 19 and Hack­ett junior high. Jiggs is very popu­lar, for he attracts friends swiftly. To prove this, he made such a good impression on this year's junior class that after being acquainted with him for only one year, they elected him as their Vice President. Jiggs has upheld their faith and trust in him, by doing a very cap­able job. He was assistant chair­man and a great deal responsible for the carrying out of this year's successful Alumni Ball.

In this position as well as through­out the rest of his school curricu­lum, Jiggs has proven thoroughly that he can handle great tasks and responsibilities efficiently and smoothly. This qualification is one of the essentials for the job of treasurer. He is also on very good rea­tions with the faculty which is neces­sary, as the position calls for being chairman of the student-faculty committee. Jiggs is also capable of handling the books and records.

He has varying interests, being on the baseball team, while also be­ing in Adelphi and Hi-Y.

After giving you all the qualifica­tions that he has for the job, I don't see how you can miss voting for BILL ENGLANDER for Treasurer.

Jim Cohen

At the ripe old age of 12, Jim made his first appearance as a Milne student. Since then he has made many appearances in Milne activi­ties. "James," who is a member of Adelphi, has an inexhaustible in­terest in Milne athletics. Scholas­tically, Jim has maintained a good "B" average in all subjects, especial­ly in math.

No one can say he has not had the experience of being a student council treasurer. In eighth grade, the junior student body elected him treasurer of their student council. As treasurer, he kept neat and effi­cient records of the council's financial affairs.

I have only known Jim for a few months, but in that time I have come to know him as a hard and industrious worker. With Jim's win­ning personality and attraction to money, you can rest assured that the funds of the senior student council will be in excellent hands.

North, south, east, or west there just isn't a more competent man for the job, (who can hang by his thumbs). I am speaking to you as a Milne student when I say that for keeping careful, accurate, and neat books for us students, you can't top JAMES ARONSON COHEN.

All these extra, extras and many more can be found in the library under D.T. (displaced thumbs). So—if you think you're going places and doing things with Monitor—wait till you travel with Jim!
