MIKE BRODIE
By ARTIE COHEN

Progress is not achieved merely through doing a good job and efficiently carrying out one's allotted duties. True success is gained when an individual expresses his own character and ability in his position, and in doing so produces new ideas and programs to the benefit of all concerned. In our case, those concerned are the students of Milne, and the candidate with the qualities to succeed as President of the Senior Student Council is Mike Brodie.

Because Mike Brodie is interested in the workings of your Student Council and wants to become fully acquainted with the President's responsibilities, he took it upon himself to go to every council meeting, even though he is not a present representative. Leadership and experience are the qualifications Mike offers for the Presidency. Mike has been President of his class twice, and of his homeroom three times, and is also a member of the National Honor Society. Even though he is a member of the Varsity Basketball team, Co-Captain of the Varsity Baseball team, and a member of the M.B.A.A., Mike has been active on various Council committees such as the Parent Committee, Sports Nite Committee, and the Committee for the Revision of the Constitution, which proves that Mike is eager to spend extra time for the Council.

Voting for a candidate with experience allows you to have a smooth, efficiently run student government. Mike Brodie offers this experience to you. Let experience and leadership be behind the wheel to run your government—vote for Mike Brodie.

TIM McNALLY
By KEN BROOKS

T is for talented. Tim is very talented and would use this great gift to improve our Senior Student Council.

I is for imperial. The Irish are an imperial race of people and would serve our school well if a fine lad like Timothy were its leader.

M is for magnificient. Tim is magnificent. He has all the qualities of a magnificent president. His marks are all above average and he has had experience in previous offices which display leadership.

C is for clever. Over his years at Milne, Tim has possessed very clever ideas. We need a person who can produce clever ideas and present variety to Milne's activities.

N is for natural. In my opinion, Tim is a natural leader and will lead his fellow students in any activities or goals the students wish to achieve.

Steve Patent
By ABIE ANOLIK

In 1962 John Glenn orbited the earth, the world approached the brink of nuclear destruction, the New York Yankees won the World Series, and quietly and unknown to the world, Steve Patent entered Milne. Since then he has contributed more and more to his talents and interests to the various organizations of the Milne School, particularly the Student Council. It seems quite natural, therefore, that Steve Patent has decided to run for the important post of Vice President.

He is certainly qualified for this position. Steve has represented his home room on Student Council for the past two years, and served on the Student Faculty and Sports' Night Committees. He is a member of the National Honor Society and Milne's Little Red Schoolhouse team. Even more important, Steve is a vice-president at heart. He is the Vice President of his home room, of the Milne Chess Club, of the Class of '67, and of his youth group. His participation in baseball, basketball, bowling, and even ping-pong illustrate his wide range of activities.

Besides bringing all this experience to the office of Vice President, Steve will bring a sincere interest in, and desire to serve the Milne student body. I hope that, on election day, you will consider all of Steve's qualifications and vote for the candidate who will best serve the Milne School.

CAROL MICHAELSON
By PAT CALI
Carol Michaelson is running for secretary of your Student Council. Carol is often seen in the halls of Milne and at numerous school sponsored activities. Carol is presently a member of the school’s Leaders Corps and active in G.A.A. She has also served as acting secretary of Sigma. Carol is an “A” student in English and maintains at least a “B” in all her other courses. She has been on the Honor Roll continually since at Milne.

Carol has also demonstrated her ability of leadership outside of school. She was secretary of her sophomore year. This year she is president of this group and first youth group as early as her school. She was secretary of her homeroom she’s done a great job.

She’s taken a typing course, too, Card party chairman with a high “B” average, it’s true!

Active in Quin, in G.A.A. she’s seen,
Judy Lavine, Judy Lavine.
There’s ski club, riding club and Councillettes,
The list could go on forever,
Yet she’s active in every endeavor,
She’s one of the most qualified I’ve seen,
Judy Lavine, Judy Lavine.
She’s the girl with ideas galore,
There is so much she wants to do,
She is willing to serve you.
Energy and ability she will bring on the scene.
Judy Lavine, Judy Lavine.
So remember when you cast your vote.
The girl who will do her best,
She’s the one who’s above all the rest,
She’s got everything—she’s really keen.
Judy Lavine, Judy Lavine.

Who is running for council secretary?
The girl with ideas and drive,
The one with experience, the one who’s alive,
You must know the girl that I mean,
Judy Lavine, Judy Lavine.
As secretary of her home room she’s done a great job.
She’s taken a typing course, too, Card party chairman with a high “B” average, it’s true!

CAROL GRAHAM

We’re talking to Mr. Jockular Ford, who is running for Student Council Treasurer of the Milne School.

Q: Mr. Ford, what changes would you propose for the Student Council next year?
A: Well, first of all, I think the Treasurer should be rewarded for his hard work with a trip to Mexico. I plan to initiate this policy if I’m elected.

Q: That certainly is a run-away idea. Tell me—what are your qualifications for the position?
A: I’ve served as Treasurer of my church youth group for two years; I have good academic marks, including Math; I’ve participated in school activities, especially as a member of Milnemen; and most important, I have a real interest in Milne’s future as an active, progressive school. I think the Student Council can have an important role in this development.

Q: Mr. Ford, as chairman of the Student-Faculty committee, what programs would you like to see implemented?
A: I would try to promote a greater liaison between teachers and students. This could stimulate, internally, some much needed enthusiasm and interest in the school from both parties.

Q: That’s certainly a spirited idea. What do you think is your appeal to the voters, Jock?
A: I’m Jockular.

The council meets . . . the council talks . . . and talks . . . and talks . . . [ACTION!] is what our senior student council will need next year, and Barbara Proctor is the girl to spark this action.

Action can be initiated only by people with good ideas, and Barb’s originality when she chaired committees for the Alumni Ball and the Card Party undoubtedly helped the success of these activities. When she served as class representative on G.A.A. council last year, Barb’s voice was never raised in idle chatter; she had worthwhile suggestions and new ideas. When judgment was needed, Barbara often provided the insight that solved a problem.

Even people with good ideas can’t always drive a council to action, but responsible leaders who work hard and live up to their obligations can. In her Girl Scout troop, Barb has served as secretary and has been entrusted with various positions of responsibility. Perhaps you’ve met Barb in the halls while she was selling Girl Scout cookies and/or calendars. If you have, you know she’s a girl willing to give time and effort to worthwhile activities, and she will bring this willingness to work to the student council.

Experience as treasurer of FHA has acquainted Barb well with the intricacies of the Milne banking system. Surely this asset is essential to anyone hoping to handle nine separate accounts as student council treasurer.

If you want Milne’s student council to be “where the action is” next year, you’ll vote for the girl with originality, drive, devotion, and experience. She’s the kind of person who would help make Milne’s student government one to be proud of. Remember these things, fellow students, when you mark your ballots.
