D.R. SAYLES ADDRESSES STUDENTS OF MILNE

"When I was asked today to give a word of greeting to the Milne Students, I was affected with a bit of nostalgia. Milne has been my school home where my interests lay for many years and its welfare has been paramount in my life. But I know it is in safe leadership and for a few days to come I shall see you more or less in the light of a very interested visitor. But it lies with you students as well as your teachers to preserve its traditions.

"Milne Students are honest. They analyze their position with integrity and faith in themselves. They are fortunate in the control of their school which lies so much in their own hands and which they may do so much to preserve. It is a true school democracy.

"Milne Students are industrious. I am constantly amazed and pleased at the air of business which pervades the school and motivates the student body. They know what they want to do; they secure counsel and advice, and they go about their work.

"Milne Students are courteous. Courtesy however involves more than mere politeness. It is based on respect; and respect involves a regard for things which are important; they think themselves, and rightly, to be important; they regard their work as important; they think their associates are important; and they believe their school to be important and thereby make it so.

"And so I ask you to hold high the banner of Milne this year. Make this your best school year and say always to yourselves, 'It can be done!'

Ed. Note: We are sure that we speak for the Crimson and White as well as the entire student body in assuring Dr. Sayles that we will do all that is within our power to continue to hold high the traditions of Milne and to control the school democracy as efficiently as it has been done in past years.

SIXTH GRADE PUPIL GETS FIRST STUDENT TAX CARD

Joyce Stanton purchased the first Student Tax Pass from Miss Solomon this week. Miss Solomon also stated that there are sixty two 7th graders in Milne this year.

A special meeting of the Milne Red Cross will be held at 3:30 in room 204 today. A representative from each Jr. and Sr. High homeroom is invited to attend.
JOURNALISM COURSES
S. L. YOUNG TO TEACH

Journalism, Milne's only 810 class, started this year on Monday under the supervision of Miss Katherine E. Wheeling.

Miss Sally Young, a State College senior, will teach the class as the successor of Miss Joan Strong.

This class, which meets in the Little Theatre, is worth one school credit to students who follow it up sufficiently.

Sophomores entering Journalism are being groomed for positions on next year's staff of the Crimson and White.

Sophomores or juniors desiring to join the class should see Miss Wheeling before Monday.

PEARSON ADDRESSES SENIORS

In connection with the reading of Goodbye Mr. Chips, Mr. Lionel Pearson, Latin professor at State College, gave a lecture and held an informal discussion with the senior class in the Little Theatre Friday. Mr. Pearson, a graduate of Oxford, told of school life and traditions in England. He received his Ph.D. at Yale University. He is now substituting for Miss Marion Cheshbrough.

SHAP'S ARGUSN INTEREST

The snapshots which have been on the library bulletin board, were there through the efforts of Sally Devereaux and Estelle Dilg, feature editors of the Crimson and White. They collected the pictures from a number of Milites. Comments have poured in, and great interest aroused since most of the pictures were of this years seniors taken several years ago.

Vice-President—Stanley Edison

This past summer has brought grief close to the hearts of Milne in the loss of one of our notable alumni, Alfred Wheeler.

Those of us who have known Al, and a number of us have, will ever remember his charming wit and winning ways.

At the time of his graduation in 1938, the "Crimson and White" magazine said, "He is a man worth knowing at all, he is worth knowing well." This seemed to fit Al particularly well for closer associations found us deeply respecting him.

Al was a student at Antioch. While in Milne, he was a member of Adelphi, a member on Athletic Council and manager of the tennis team, and Senior associate editor of the Crimson and White. He also participated actively in dramatics.

Words are but empty means to express our sincere grief and deep sympathy.

JUMP RIGHT THERE READ THIS!

The following set of rules for this school are printed here by the request of Dr. Frederick, who is now actingprincipal of Milne, so that everyone should acquaint or reacquaint himself with them. The simple rules are as follows:

1. Every student must be in his homeroom at 9:00 A.M. each morning unless he or she is sick.
2. No student should be in school after 4:15 unless with special permission.
3. No running in the halls.
4. No student must leave school grounds before 3:20 without permission from the principal.
5. No smoking on school grounds.
6. No eating outside the Annex or the Cafeteria.

DR. FREDERICK ADDRESSES STUDENTS

A new school year, a new start, new friends, old friends, new faculty, war in Europe, and ourselves to educate. When all the assignments are finally done, when the thrill of amusement is gone, when our Milne days are ended what will be the story we have written? Only today I sat on the speaker's platform with a fellow teacher. When we were introduced, he stated that he was a Milne graduate. I asked some of the faculty about this former student and found that the story he had written was one of which he could be proud.

My wish for all of you this year is that the record you leave behind may be such that we all may be rightfully proud.

Robert W. Frederick

During a recent election of officers in the Sophomore Class at Green Mountain Junior College, Fos., ’37, was elected Secretary. While at Milne, Sipperl was well-known for his athletic ability.

Miss Vivian Snyder, ’36, member of the Senior Class at Mount Holyoke College, was one of 36 students who attained an average of 90.1 or higher during the year 1938-39. Miss Snyder has been elected house president of South Randallo Hall. During her years at Milne, Miss Snyder was both scholastically and socially popular. Her contributions to Quin were many.
This is a little matching test to get all of you alligator Milnites back into the swing of school routine.

COMMENTS

We are not copy-cats, but we do have to keep up with the city papers, so here are our brief news comments on current affairs which concern Milne.

Enjoyable— last Saturday night at the Madison. Incidentally, do you remember how long the lights stayed out during that storm?

Flashy— the new paint job in the Cafeteria.

Rush— for new books. Unusual, isn’t it.

Question— as to whether or not our football team consists of those who practice on the campus.

TO MILNE INSTITUTE OF LEARNING

This is me as a seventh gradeer. The first day at Milne, I came with my "Mater".

Here I am in my third semester. Those underclassmen certainly pester.

Everyone gets here by-and-by. The ninth is the head of all junior high.

Oh here I am in the wonderful ten. And I am one of the society men.

I am now in the junior class. And among the esteemed elders I pass.

And now I've reached my senior year. It's the parting from school in June that I fear.
The gloriously long vacation of many a Milnite came to an end one Monday morning, not so long ago.

The bigger and better Rover club, of the class of '39, greeted the new Seniors, and forwarded their best tidings to the seventh graders.

After the address in the auditorium and watching the exit of the seventh graders (all of which is old stuff to us) we sauntered back to the homerooms, and proceeded to discuss vacations, contemplations and junk.

That same Monday we joined the throng and pushed along to the Annex. If the newcomers had never seen what it's like when several hundred people have the same idea in mind, they certainly know now.

INTERUPTION!

SPECIAL
THE RECEPTION
WILL NOT BE NEXT FRIDAY!

Tuesday was the eventful day on which the new teachers were greeted. Was it possible that some of the minors took the advice of the current tune, and brought an apple for the teacher?

Undoubtedly several college classes have had or nearly had youthful visitors; all of Milne, Richardson and a couple of other buildings provide adequate places for the unoriented to stray to.

He to her: I supply half the wit and knowledge for my class.
She to him: Why you egotistical—
He to her: But there're only two in the class.

The Years Move Forward

Have you, by any chance, noticed the string of cars parked in back of Milne?

After five long years of obviously watching the older fellows' cars "pile up" near the Washington Avenue entrance, the Milne senior lads (and perhaps the lasses— who knows?) are seeing 'dreams come true, they, too, are accumulating.

Pres Robinson appeared with his car which has recently changed its color to a flashy cream and red.

It is rumored that A.H. Livermore, Jr. Esquire, and what-not, has acquired one of these cherished chariots, (Entirely unconfirmed.)

Johnny "Shoo" Schamberger has an ignition key dangling from his collection, too. His is the blue number.

Of course, no one is really trying to compete with Bob Gale, cause— after all!! Our Rover club is quite well equipped with adequate means of transportation, Walt Seim, Johnny Wykes, Ed Starkweather, and most of the others, do not fare too badly.

THERE OUGHT TO BE A LAW

Forbidding saleswomen, waitresses, and other public servants having fingers more than two inches long to appear at their places of business.

Madame, shall I massage your scalp or just tilt your hat?
