MISS WHEELING FORCED TO DROP
WORK TEMPORARILY FOR ILLNESS

Miss Katherine E. Wheeling, head of the English department, has been granted leave of absence on account of illness, by Professor John M. Sayles, to extend from Wednesday until the close of Easter vacation. The Crimson and White staff learns of this with deep sorrow and unites with the whole school in expressing its hopes that Miss Wheeling will speedily recover and be able to continue her work with us.

Mrs. Percy Williams, formerly Miss Ruth Kelley, will resume her duties in Milne after an absence of several years. Mrs. Williams will temporarily fill Miss Wheeling's position.

NOTICE

There will be no Boy's Basketball Game this weekend, because the majority of the members of the team are going to Cornell University to be shown through the University and to see the Yale-Cornell Track Meet. This trip is being sponsored by the Hi-Y Club both of Albany and Milne.

CRIMSON AND WHITE CAGERS WIN
SIXTH CONSECUTIVE VICTORY BY SUSPENDING SCHENEVUS LAST WEEK

The Milne basketball team won its sixth game in a row last Friday night on the Page Hall court, when it defeated Schenevus High School, 34 to 29.

Milne completely outplayed its opponents in the first half and found little difficulty in scoring. As a result of several new out-of-bounds plays, the teams was able to compile twenty-three points in the first half, at the same time holding Schenevus to ten points.

In the third period, Milne's attack and defense weakened and soon the lead was cut in half. Schenevus continued to gain throughout the first part of the last quarter, but the final whistle blew with the score 24 to 29 after a most thrilling rally.

Howie Rosenstein excelled on the offensive by scoring eighteen points.

In the preliminary game, the Milne Junior High school team defeated Philip Livingston High by the score of 25 to 21.

PROF. SAYLES DESCRIBES THREE
DUTIES OF PUPIL TO COMMUNITY

"We have three obligations to the welfare of the community in which we live," said Prof. John M. Sayles in an address before the Senior High School assembly last Wednesday at eleven o'clock. "The first," Mr. Sayles went on to say, "is our duty to ourselves, the necessity of becoming something, some aid to society."
The second one brought out, in one's attitude to one's fellowmen. This was illustrated by reference to the selfishness of some people while attending opera, who, although not interested themselves, kept others from enjoying the entertainment.

The third and last obligation as expressed by Mr. Sayles is the spiritual duty of everyone to the community in upholding its moral standards, as explained by Mr. Sayles, this is one of our most important obligations in school life, namely to determine, ourselves, what we want our school to stand for.
Now that the student body is comparatively well convinced of the advisability of such exemptions, it is necessary to formulate our requests in such a way that they will not seem either obnoxious nor too drastic to the faculty. The Council has been at odds as to the extent of its requests; however, there has been one definite proposal decided upon, namely that all Seniors be exempted from the permit system. In addition, it is hoped that several other propositions will be accepted, including certain exemptions from study periods for those students who have kept their averages well above passing.

As yet, the plans have not been drawn up sufficiently well to present to the faculty. However, it is felt that those requests which will be made will not be so rash that the faculty will be unable to comply with them, for almost every demand will be patterned after the systems in vogue in many other schools. But both the student body and the faculty may be assured that when the final plans are drafted, they will all have been designed to achieve the end in view, that of raising the status of the Senior above the rest of the school, and of giving other students something material to look forward to during their high school course.

SENIOR PRIVILEGES

Very recently, when the Student Council endeavored to learn the reason for the lack of spirit in Milne, a certain Senior ventured to say that Milne students had little to look forward to in their high school work. He went on to say that in our school a Senior, after having spent numerous years of study here, was still the same as any other student and was forced to abide by the same strict rules as all others.

As a result of this little speech, much comment has been passed concerning the exemption of the "dignified" Senior from certain binding rules imposed by the faculty. The matter was taken back to all the home-rooms through the Student Council and, much to the surprise of those who lead the movement, little opposition was encountered. It was indeed gratifying to see that the other students had the foresight to understand that such exemptions as are asked by the present Senior class and Student Council would vitally affect them in the future, and it is evident that all students realize that this movement was begun with the most unselfish intentions.
