RADIO IN 121?

President Russell Jones stated that 121 wanted to install a radio in the classroom. Permission has not yet been granted.

Shirley Burgess, Shirley Baldwin, and Stanley Edison are on the committee chosen to prepare an assembly program for the class.

121 is also busily at work on its Christmas box.

CHRISTMAS PLAYS IN PAGE HALL TONIGHT

Robert Wheeler and Shirley Baldwin will star tonight in “The Birthday of the Infanta.” Robert Wheeler will portray the part of the “Fantastic,” a pathetic figure, and Shirley Baldwin will be a beautiful 12 year-old princess. Doris Holmes acts as the dignified elderly duchess and Robert Ratell is the King’s Chamberlain. Armon Livermore will be the child cousin of the Infanta (Miss Baldwin). Charles Barnes and Arthur Bates will portray the Moorish servants.

IS IT FAIR?

Is it fair that no seats be reserved in the Cafeteria or Annex? Considerable dissatisfaction greeted the announcement from Student Council. We feel that the Council showed good judgment in passing the prohibition of reserving seats. First, many students save seats for people who do not come. This is not true in all cases, but in the majority of the cases it is found that people save seats when not necessary. To correct this matter the Student Council has come to the decision that no seats are to be saved. Of course in some cases reserving seats causes inconvenience to students. Some of us who like to be together at certain tables are separated, and if we do sit together we must rush to get there so that we can get our usual table. Some people also take advantage of this rule and break up tables just to be mean. In all, the ruling of the Council is the only solution to this difficult problem, and we as students must abide by our Council's law. We are sure any suggestions submitted to the Council on this condition will be recognized.

CLUBS REPORT

The Airplane club flew airplanes on the campus. The models were brought to Milne by the instructor of the club.

The Cooking club boys were presented with a number of hats by Kimmels' bakers. The members made pigs in blankets this week.

The Design club members are going to have an exhibition in the library next week. The exhibition will contain such things as dress designs.

CHRISTMAS BOXES

Each homeroom is to make a Christmas box of original design. As you know, the names of the persons to whom the boxes will be given are to be obtained from the Protestant Welfare. A prize will be given to the homeroom that has the best box. Even if you are able to win a prize, don't work mainly for that. The boxes are for a worthy cause. The food is more important than the design of the box, so don't forget to bring all the food possible.

A good, well filled box will bring a happier Christmas to someone this year and that might not be possible if all Milne didn't do its best. The way in which Milne students are supporting the Christmas box idea is a sure sign of a happy Christmas ahead for many.

USING THE ANNEX AND CAFETERIA

Lately it has appeared as though we don't care what our lunch rooms look like. A person walking into the Annex certainly would not think that the students of Milne were very tidy. There are bread crusts, waste paper and milk bottles lying all over the room. There are plenty of rubbish boxes around for these things. Why don't the students use them? Chairs are often pulled out of the rooms and often left that way. All these things only make more work for the person in charge of the Annex. There are not very strict rules for the Annex and everybody has plenty of freedom, but if these privileges are abused, they will be taken away from us. It is the duty of all the students of the Junior High to keep the lunch rooms in order.

This is important for the school's own sake, because it is much more pleasant to eat in a place that is clean than one that is not.
