DUES DISCUSSED IN MEETING

Homeroom 129 had a business meeting Monday, with the president, Benjamin Farran, presiding. The main topic of discussion was dues. There was no decision about what should be done.
At the basketball game Saturday night, Milne High paraded forth her poor sports. A group of Milne students took it upon themselves to cheer for the opposing team and boo our team. Do we want this, Milnites? Milne High has for many years had a good sportsmanship record. This spirit of sportsmanship is a tradition of the school. We are not going to throw our traditions to the winds, are we? Come on, you sports of Milne, and show these backsliders what it’s all about.

To have loyal Milnites on the sidelines is as important as to have a good basketball team. Whether we win or lose is not so important as good sportsmanship at the right time. Put yourself in the position of the team. When they were playing and doing their best, this group of Milnites cheered for the opposing team. It was only the super-sportsmanship of the team that made them go on and fight and win last Saturday.

OBEYING TRAFFIC RULES

It has been noticed lately that disrespect has been shown toward our traffic officers. We should do something to correct this disrespectful attitude toward them. These officers are obeying the rules of the school, and we are disobeying them when we refuse to listen to their warnings. Let us remember that we have a regulation to live up to and that we are not doing so by disobeying our traffic officers.
