Historical Note

The Office dates from the establishment of an Affirmative Action Program in 1971 in the Office of Personnel. Previous titles include; Office of Equal Employment Opportunity, Affirmative Action Office, and Office of Diversity and Affirmative Action. Currently called the Office of Diversity and Inclusion, it is responsible for providing diversity-related training and resources, addressing discrimination and harassment complaints, and consulting on recruiting and hiring.

Scope and Contents

This collection includes affirmative action and recruitment plans; student surveys; workforce analysis documents; conference materials; daily correspondence (1974-1986); Federal compliance reports (1971); task force and committee materials including: the Women's Concerns Committee (1978-2000), the Black Action Coalition, and others. Topics covered include: Section 504 (which addresses disability discrimination), Title IX, and equal employment.

Arrangement of the Collection

The collection is unprocessed and is likely disorganized. Individual items may be difficult to find.
