Administrative History

The University at Albany has been publishing varied array of materials related to school, student, and faculty functions for some time. At times the University is directly publishing these materials, but more often than not these pieces were created by students and faculty of the institution. These materials included academic journals and newsletters from individual departments such as the anthropology and criminal justice departments. Many of these publications did not have long runs and so only encompass a few years. The university continues to support publications from faculty and students and will continue to grow in volume.

Scope and Contents

This collection is made up of many different publications from the university. This ranges from departamental newletters, academic journals, student club publications, files related to special events and alumni, and duplicate copies of publications in the reading room. There are many full runs of different publications in this collection, making it a comprehensive source of university activities. The connections between all of these is the fact that they were published by or under supervision of the University at Albany.

Arrangement of the Collection

Collection is arranged in alphabetical order.
