Sororities To Pledge Upon Return of Bids

ALL sorority bids are due by Wednesday afternoon, February 23, and will be received by the sororities and the eighteenth hour on that day. The bids will be opened and read in each sorority room and any protests that may be made must be presented at that time.

Dean Declares

Justified in Existence

Dr. A. R. Brubacher, head of the co-educational college, said yesterday that he opposed a demand for the organization of the Inter-Sorority Council based on the belief that it would promote a sort of social organization marked by a spirit of exclusiveness.

Brubacher said that sorority organizations under the existing system were justified as long as they did not assume an attitude of exclusiveness.

"There is nothing wrong with the spirit of exclusiveness," he said. "One is only as good a citizen as the group that he or she represents."

Brubacher said that the Inter-Sorority Council formed last year was justified because it represented a larger number of students than the individual sororities. He said that the Inter-Sorority Council was justified because it represented a larger number of students than the individual sororities.

However, Brubacher said that the Inter-Sorority Council was not justified because it represented a larger number of students than the individual sororities.

Sororities that support the Inter-Sorority Council, Brubacher said, are justified because they are giving service to the College and to the community.

Sororities that support the Inter-Sorority Council, Brubacher said, are justified because they are giving service to the College and to the community.

Sororities that support the Inter-Sorority Council, Brubacher said, are justified because they are giving service to the College and to the community.

Sororities that support the Inter-Sorority Council, Brubacher said, are justified because they are giving service to the College and to the community.

Sororities that support the Inter-Sorority Council, Brubacher said, are justified because they are giving service to the College and to the community.

Sororities that support the Inter-Sorority Council, Brubacher said, are justified because they are giving service to the College and to the community.

Sororities that support the Inter-Sorority Council, Brubacher said, are justified because they are giving service to the College and to the community.

Sororities that support the Inter-Sorority Council, Brubacher said, are justified because they are giving service to the College and to the community.

Sororities that support the Inter-Sorority Council, Brubacher said, are justified because they are giving service to the College and to the community.
The News welcomes the honest expression of student opinion, even when it differs entirely from its own view.

The student forum

The intersorbory question

Harry Brown, '29

The author of the latest News article on Germany has expressed the feeling that the recent rise of Fascism in central and eastern Europe is the result of the failure of the revolutionary movement and the disillusionment of the masses with the aims of the Socialists. He believes that the Fascists are the direct result of the failure of the revolution.

Benjamin, '27, Studies Medicine

Mary Brown, '27, is studying medicine at the Merrill-Palmer Institute in Detroit.

Clarke Explains Catholic Reys

A talk on the Catholic Church was given by Father Clarke in the Student Forum. He explained the importance of the Church and its role in the world today.

Commercial Club to Meet

The Commercial Club will meet today at 11:45 o'clock to discuss the annual dance.

Will not announce number of failures

In accordance with the opinion stated by Professor Miller, the NEC will not announce the number of students who failed the final exam, which is the same as the number of students who passed.

Ten years ago at State College

From the files of the News for Feb. 14, 1917

The State College basketball team scored 21 to 1 in the most lopsided game in the history of the College. The game was played against a team from the city of Albany. The players from Albany were completely overpowered, and the game was stopped after the first half due to the score being so large.

College briefs

Dean Pierce will go to Texas convention

Dean Anna E. Pierce will attend the annual meeting of the National Association of State Colleges for Teachers in Dallas, Texas, next weekend. The convention will open Monday, March 1st.

To give bridge party

The Women's Club will hold a bridge party on Tuesday evening to raise money for the library fund.

Elect delegates

Hubert Leakey, '27, and Reder Will, '27, will represent the Lutheran Club at the North Atlantic regional convention in Atlantic City, New Jersey, this week. The club hopes to have more delegates at the next convention.

Pestalozzi, Educator, Died One Century Ago

One hundred years ago yesterday, on March 12, 1877, Johann Pestalozzi, the Swiss educational reformer, died. Pestalozzi's work had a profound influence on education throughout the world, especially in the United States, where his ideas were adopted by many schools.

Miss Perine describes music in Parisian church, "Captive of Triumphant Harmony"

It was thrilling just to be a part of a historic event, and I was not disappointed. The music was fantastic, and the atmosphere was electric. I felt as though I was transported back in time to the heyday of the Parisian church. The music was heavenly, and I was mesmerized by the beauty of the organs and the choir. It was a true experience that I will never forget.
VAN KLEEV WILL LEAD SESSION IN 'ONCE A BIRD, ALWAYS A BIRD' AT COLUMBIA

Edwin Van Kleeck, 27, editor-in-chief of the State College News, has been asked to head up one of the sectional meet­ings at the annual conference of the Colorado Scholastic Press association, March 11 and 12, at Colorado university, New York city.

Van Kleeck who took the regular meeting on "Nature's Life" at the convention which was to be held in Denver made the following report on the program:

As to conducting the meeting on "Once a Bird, Always a Bird," Van Kleeck said:

"SHUS ON WAY TO CHINA EXPECTING HAPPINESS"

By Dorothy M. Waite

Mrs. Charles Shus, formerly Eva Dettie, 28, sailed Wednesday from Seattle with her husband on his way to China. Mr. and Mrs. Shus are well known in this city and Mrs. Shus was very anxious to sail, and although fortune somewhat dominated the Shus family, it was full of great expectations for the future. "I do not think I shall ever be sick, she declared.

Reports of Chinese conditions are very much exaggerated, Mr. Shus, Miss Shus, and mother expressed any fear of meeting trouble in Shanghai. Both hope that they may have unusual fortune to help build the city up and West, Mrs. Shus, in leaving her old life for a totally new experience, is a strange type, people feel confident of better living there.

SHAKESPEAREAN DRAMA TO BE GIVEN FEB. 27

For the first time since its senior year, Miss Amy Putnam, now instructor in dramatics at the State College will direct a Shakespearean drama will be presented in the advanced dramatics classes. "The Merchant of Venice" will be the title of the play.

The subject of his talk was "The roll in the process of creation" and "The roll in the process of destruction." He also spoke on the roll in the process of reproduction.

"SHUS ON WAY TO CHINA EXPECTING HAPPINESS"

By Dorothy M. Waite

Mrs. Charles Shus, formerly Eva Dettie, 28, sailed Wednesday from Seattle with her husband on his way to China. Mr. and Mrs. Shus are well known in this city and Mrs. Shus was very anxious to sail, and although fortune somewhat dominated the Shus family, it was full of great expectations for the future. "I do not think I shall ever be sick, she declared.

Reports of Chinese conditions are very much exaggerated, Mr. Shus, Miss Shus, and mother expressed any fear of meeting trouble in Shanghai. Both hope that they may have unusual fortune to help build the city up and West, Mrs. Shus, in leaving her old life for a totally new experience, is a strange type, people feel confident of better living there.

SHAKESPEAREAN DRAMA TO BE GIVEN FEB. 27

For the first time since its senior year, Miss Amy Putnam, now instructor in dramatics at the State College will direct a Shakespearean drama will be presented in the advanced dramatics classes. "The Merchant of Venice" will be the title of the play.

The subject of his talk was "The roll in the process of creation" and "The roll in the process of destruction." He also spoke on the roll in the process of reproduction.

"SHUS ON WAY TO CHINA EXPECTING HAPPINESS"

By Dorothy M. Waite

Mrs. Charles Shus, formerly Eva Dettie, 28, sailed Wednesday from Seattle with her husband on his way to China. Mr. and Mrs. Shus are well known in this city and Mrs. Shus was very anxious to sail, and although fortune somewhat dominated the Shus family, it was full of great expectations for the future. "I do not think I shall ever be sick, she declared.

Reports of Chinese conditions are very much exaggerated, Mr. Shus, Miss Shus, and mother expressed any fear of meeting trouble in Shanghai. Both hope that they may have unusual fortune to help build the city up and West, Mrs. Shus, in leaving her old life for a totally new experience, is a strange type, people feel confident of better living there.

SHAKESPEAREAN DRAMA TO BE GIVEN FEB. 27

For the first time since its senior year, Miss Amy Putnam, now instructor in dramatics at the State College will direct a Shakespearean drama will be presented in the advanced dramatics classes. "The Merchant of Venice" will be the title of the play.

The subject of his talk was "The roll in the process of creation" and "The roll in the process of destruction." He also spoke on the roll in the process of reproduction.

"SHUS ON WAY TO CHINA EXPECTING HAPPINESS"

By Dorothy M. Waite

Mrs. Charles Shus, formerly Eva Dettie, 28, sailed Wednesday from Seattle with her husband on his way to China. Mr. and Mrs. Shus are well known in this city and Mrs. Shus was very anxious to sail, and although fortune somewhat dominated the Shus family, it was full of great expectations for the future. "I do not think I shall ever be sick, she declared.

Reports of Chinese conditions are very much exaggerated, Mr. Shus, Miss Shus, and mother expressed any fear of meeting trouble in Shanghai. Both hope that they may have unusual fortune to help build the city up and West, Mrs. Shus, in leaving her old life for a totally new experience, is a strange type, people feel confident of better living there.

SHAKESPEAREAN DRAMA TO BE GIVEN FEB. 27

For the first time since its senior year, Miss Amy Putnam, now instructor in dramatics at the State College will direct a Shakespearean drama will be presented in the advanced dramatics classes. "The Merchant of Venice" will be the title of the play.

The subject of his talk was "The roll in the process of creation" and "The roll in the process of destruction." He also spoke on the roll in the process of reproduction.

"SHUS ON WAY TO CHINA EXPECTING HAPPINESS"

By Dorothy M. Waite

Mrs. Charles Shus, formerly Eva Dettie, 28, sailed Wednesday from Seattle with her husband on his way to China. Mr. and Mrs. Shus are well known in this city and Mrs. Shus was very anxious to sail, and although fortune somewhat dominated the Shus family, it was full of great expectations for the future. "I do not think I shall ever be sick, she declared.

Reports of Chinese conditions are very much exaggerated, Mr. Shus, Miss Shus, and mother expressed any fear of meeting trouble in Shanghai. Both hope that they may have unusual fortune to help build the city up and West, Mrs. Shus, in leaving her old life for a totally new experience, is a strange type, people feel confident of better living there.

SHAKESPEAREAN DRAMA TO BE GIVEN FEB. 27

For the first time since its senior year, Miss Amy Putnam, now instructor in dramatics at the State College will direct a Shakespearean drama will be presented in the advanced dramatics classes. "The Merchant of Venice" will be the title of the play.

The subject of his talk was "The roll in the process of creation" and "The roll in the process of destruction." He also spoke on the roll in the process of reproduction.

"SHUS ON WAY TO CHINA EXPECTING HAPPINESS"

By Dorothy M. Waite

Mrs. Charles Shus, formerly Eva Dettie, 28, sailed Wednesday from Seattle with her husband on his way to China. Mr. and Mrs. Shus are well known in this city and Mrs. Shus was very anxious to sail, and although fortune somewhat dominated the Shus family, it was full of great expectations for the future. "I do not think I shall ever be sick, she declared.

Reports of Chinese conditions are very much exaggerated, Mr. Shus, Miss Shus, and mother expressed any fear of meeting trouble in Shanghai. Both hope that they may have unusual fortune to help build the city up and West, Mrs. Shus, in leaving her old life for a totally new experience, is a strange type, people feel confident of better living there.

SHAKESPEAREAN DRAMA TO BE GIVEN FEB. 27

For the first time since its senior year, Miss Amy Putnam, now instructor in dramatics at the State College will direct a Shakespearean drama will be presented in the advanced dramatics classes. "The Merchant of Venice" will be the title of the play.

The subject of his talk was "The roll in the process of creation" and "The roll in the process of destruction." He also spoke on the roll in the process of reproduction.

"SHUS ON WAY TO CHINA EXPECTING HAPPINESS"

By Dorothy M. Waite

Mrs. Charles Shus, formerly Eva Dettie, 28, sailed Wednesday from Seattle with her husband on his way to China. Mr. and Mrs. Shus are well known in this city and Mrs. Shus was very anxious to sail, and although fortune somewhat dominated the Shus family, it was full of great expectations for the future. "I do not think I shall ever be sick, she declared.

Reports of Chinese conditions are very much exaggerated, Mr. Shus, Miss Shus, and mother expressed any fear of meeting trouble in Shanghai. Both hope that they may have unusual fortune to help build the city up and West, Mrs. Shus, in leaving her old life for a totally new experience, is a strange type, people feel confident of better living there.

SHAKESPEAREAN DRAMA TO BE GIVEN FEB. 27

For the first time since its senior year, Miss Amy Putnam, now instructor in dramatics at the State College will direct a Shakespearean drama will be presented in the advanced dramatics classes. "The Merchant of Venice" will be the title of the play.

The subject of his talk was "The roll in the process of creation" and "The roll in the process of destruction." He also spoke on the roll in the process of reproduction.

"SHUS ON WAY TO CHINA EXPECTING HAPPINESS"

By Dorothy M. Waite

Mrs. Charles Shus, formerly Eva Dettie, 28, sailed Wednesday from Seattle with her husband on his way to China. Mr. and Mrs. Shus are well known in this city and Mrs. Shus was very anxious to sail, and although fortune somewhat dominated the Shus family, it was full of great expectations for the future. "I do not think I shall ever be sick, she declared.

Reports of Chinese conditions are very much exaggerated, Mr. Shus, Miss Shus, and mother expressed any fear of meeting trouble in Shanghai. Both hope that they may have unusual fortune to help build the city up and West, Mrs. Shus, in leaving her old life for a totally new experience, is a strange type, people feel confident of better living there.
Approximately five hundred school news men and women in the secondary schools of the Capital District and adjoining counties are expected to attend the titned annual meeting to be held at President A. R. Buckley for Saturday, March 26. The conference meeting will be held in the College.

Members of the education department, State college faculty and students of every college, university or high school in the State will be charge of the meeting. Other speakers may attend from Vassar, New York university, and the Lawrence school, New York city.

The program will begin at 10 o'clock.

LELAND
HOME OF FILM CLASSICS
C. H. BUCKLEY, Owner

300-165 \ 15 RECORD
The varsity basketball team, which won St. Michael's college in the gymnasium tomorrow night, has out-scored its opponents thus far season 290 to 169, as a result of three out-of-town contests. The team also scored its second victory in the Capital City, Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute, 25 to 26, and from St. Stephen's, 29, on Friday night. A total score of 290 to 169 has been recorded so far. The varsity basketball team will play the first Parish Reformed church, will play at the Y. W. C. A. reggae services Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the sun in the Rotunda, Miss Mary Finn, of Albany, will sing.

Gusty Lorey 91 STATE STREET

Quality Shoe Repairing
81 Robin One block Street from the College

James H. Murray
Confectionery
We Supply Candy to The Co-op, Fresh Daily
96 Madison Avenue
Cor. Franklin St.
Phone Main 1571-J

THE COLLEGE PHARMACY
Prescriptions Our Business
CANDY - As we say from New York, Department Store Goods
Telephone West 1959 and 3951
Prominent attention given to phone and telegrams, delivery everywhere.
50 STATE STREET
ALBANY, N. Y.

NEW YORK STATE NATIONAL BANK
60 STATE STREET
ALBANY, N. Y.