The News Board feels that the campaign is not only a matter of conscience but of necessity. France "thought about it tomorrow" and now she thinks no more. How long will it take the American people to realize that they must act now, in a way that the French people were forced to act? The American people have been told to think about it tomorrow, and now she thinks no more. The campaign to give defense stamps instead of coupons for food was not specifically as the atonement for this publication, but the NEWS is wholeheartedly behind it. This is important as an campaign because it signifies that at least more of our disinclined to see that there are some people that may have to fight. We believe that this is a necessary and important step in our national defense. We urge all our readers to support this campaign.

Blackhead in a Blackout
By Bob Adams
The campus blackout was not something that was expected, but it did happen. The lights went out at 11:00 PM, and it continued for the next few hours. It was a difficult time for everyone, but we all had to stay calm and support each other.

The Weekly Bulletin

Welcome to the latest edition of The Weekly Bulletin! This week, we have some exciting news to share with you.

The War Fronts

With the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, the United States was drawn into World War II. The war fronts were long and the battles were intense. Here are some of the key events that shaped the course of the war:

- May 8, 1945: Germany surrendered, ending World War II in Europe.
- September 2, 1945: Japan surrendered, ending World War II in Asia.

The Victory Weekend

This weekend, the country is celebrating Victory Weekend, a time to honor our veterans and remember those who lost their lives in the war. It is a time for reflection and gratitude. Let's take this opportunity to express our thanks to all those who have served our country.

Just a Shot in the Dark

This series of photographs show the execution of a problem in the direction center by the Field Artillery Battery of Virginia Military Institute. All guns are equipped with double charges of smoke weapons. The 'Spastic' took place indoors on an uncontrolled point range. All problems are similar to those based on the actual fight and the solutions give valuable information to those cadets who will enter Officer's Candidate School in May.

1 . . . Jimmy Dischinger loads Bishop battery as Jack Parrish receives fire direction center's direct command.

2 . . . D. D. Dennis, serving as combined vertical control observer, turns his rounds as the larger ranges the center directed which ships are being hit. Corrections are made from these observations.

3 . . . Lt. Col. R. S. Roebuck, in charge of field artillery, directs observer in direction center to move winds and direct firing of batteries below.

4 . . . Changing position during problem, Buzz Vandevanter and Bill McKamy take over battery to fire from information taken from maps made by them before leaving the direction center.

5 . . . After completion of problem, infantry troops direct their fire from the horizontal control operator on each ship to hit every ship in the pack.

Twin Team-Tommy and George Peters. This bracketed unit of Army ROTC at Virginia Military Institute, W. C. Rank team held steady position in the entire event with a Conference scoring.

Pinned: A quarter-nelson and catch hold of all the men. The team was the only team to throw the pin in the tournament. The pin was thrown under the eagle eye of Steve Tilton. Former intramural champion.

Dating by Coupon

The meritorious final blow to bar College, the playshop, was played on the campus of the University of Oregon where a new, effective system of reducing scholarships and cutting down on social life was inaugurated. Self-imposed by the students, the little pot plants with curls on the same bent as temp, gratings etc., were the pride of the trip to the dormitory. The idea selected to be developed, was adopted for the entire campus and now is spreading to other campuses.

Here's how it works: An "office of date administration" is set up with all the mechanism to carry on a rigid system of rationing dates. Every student is required to register, his record and a specified number of coupons according to his academic standing. Books and all dating privileges are handed out in the form of coupons. The coupons are presented to a representative in each house who clips a coupon before the bearer is allowed to leave on a date. The willingness subject for their practice is Don Jones, Sigma Chi star of the De Pauw cagers.

A Man is Legal under Ration Rules

Fred Treadgold, Phi Gamma Delta, displays his "C" card to prove he is "perfectly well," according to State College rules. Like most rationing, there is plenty of red tape involved, which causes delays. The willing subject for their practice is Don Jones, Sigma Chi star of the De Pauw cagers.

Books Are Weapons of War

Books are weapons of war and to emphasize the fact to students, Thomas B. Smith has assembled a special section of Colgate University on the theme: "We Are Fighting for Peace." A special section is presented to a representative in each house who clips a coupon before the bearer is allowed to leave on a date. The willing subject for their practice is Don Jones, Sigma Chi star of the De Pauw cagers.

A Girl for Engineers

All of the instruments known to engineers were brought into play when the Tech Tussle was initiated. Self-imposed by the students, the idea puts dates with coeds on the same basis as sugar, gasoline, etc. . . . rationed. The idea started on the campus of the University of Oregon where a "office of date administration" was set up with all the mechanism to carry on a rigid system of rationing dates. It's a cruel world for "A" date card holders. They haven't a chance in competition with collectible "B" cards and "C" cards. Books and other privileges are handed out in the form of coupons. $33,000 in War Stamps and Bonds

The goal set by students at the University of Wyoming, in order to aid in financing the war effort, has been reached. The goal of $33,000 in War Stamps and Bonds has been超额.

One Man's Family

The Vacant Chair

Is there a vacant chair in your classroom today? A chair that was occupied by a classmate who is now in the armed forces? You know what he is doing? What are you doing to bring a speedy Victory?

Dogwood

It looks good, but so far as Roland Ray, Drake University, is concerned these five inches are just as good for the function as for the dance. Says Ray, "We've got Victory, but sadness at the same time."

Informal

This scene was photographed by the campus photographer and shows the activities of the student body during the off hours. The students are shown in various activities, such as playing frisbee, studying, and socializing.

Flowers for the Queen

Flowers are presented to the Queen of the University of North Carolina, as a symbol of appreciation for her service. The flowers are arranged in a beautiful display, and are presented to her by the faculty and students.

Go East, young men, go East . . .

Dr. John L. Plyler, president of Furman University, has announced that the University will be closed for the duration of the war. This is the only formal announcement that has been made by any college or university in the nation.

Flowers for the Queen

Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, and here's how they plan to use them. After the war they plan to convert the bonds into a college chapel.

Man Made Matter

Leonard Bernal, mechanical engineering student at Rutgers University, has designed and built a two-cylinder gasoline engine. He personally used and machined all parts after designing the engine.

Flowers for the Queen

A disgruntled student at State College, Harry, still recovers from his injuries, which caused him to miss the recent War Bond drive. He states, "The war bond drive is a joke, and the government is just out to make money."

The Vacant Chair

A vacant chair in a classroom is shown, with a note on the desk that was occupied by a classmate who is now in the armed forces. The note reads, "We've got Victory, but sadness at the same time."

Aboard the Good Ship Hunter College - Rear Admiral Randall Jacobs, chief of staff, met with a group of students at the university to discuss the impact of women in industry. He highlighted the need for more women to enter the workforce and encouraged them to pursue higher education. Jacobs also stressed the importance of equality and diversity in the workplace.

The campus was buzzing with activity as students prepared for the upcoming semester. The administration was busy with preparations for the upcoming academic year, and the faculty and staff were hard at work ensuring a smooth start to the school year.

The football team was training hard, preparing for the upcoming season. Students were also busy with extracurricular activities, including the newly formed Women's Basketball Team. The team was practicing for the upcoming season, and the players were determined to bring home the championship trophy.

The campus was also abuzz with excitement as the State College News announced its annual competition for the best student journalist. Students were encouraged to submit their best work, and the winners would be announced in the upcoming issue of the newspaper.

Overall, the campus was a hub of activity, with students, faculty, and staff all working together to ensure a successful academic year. The future looked bright for Hunter College, and everyone was excited to see what the next year would bring.
