Lowenstein Stresses Grassroots Movement

by Digby Hamer

The New York Times (April 15) reviewed the the "demand" of the "grassroots" movement for the "social change" the President must make. This was a reference to Stein's bill.

The President's Bill Challenges Vietnam War Legality

by Bob Wator

The President's Bill challenges the legality of the Vietnam war. This is a reference to the Stein bill. It is impossible to get laws on many issues, including the draft. It was called "red herring" since the real issue was the Stein bill.

In conclusion, the student volunteers will be on hand to deal with crisis experienced by students. The Congressman said the "basic question" of the Vietnam war is the "reality" of Vietnam. He said that he has not heard any other issues involved in the war issue. He noted that the Student volunteers will be on hand to deal with crisis experienced by students.

"The concept of the earth MUST end. Man, equipped with a technology and a way of life, daily consumes and depletes the sphere upon which all life depends. We must learn to live within the finite Earth, an earth finite in resources, limited in tolerance to pollution and capable of supporting only a finite population."

The earth is finite. We must slow the infinite conquest of the earth, beginning with the earth's finite resources. We must then 1) slow the population growth to prevent the earth from being overpopulated and 2) slow the consumption of the earth's resources to prevent the earth from being over-exploited.

A Woodstock Sermon on the Mount.

by John Baptist and Cardinal Huguenin

Reform with the heavy sounds of important papers in hand, preceded by spade-kneed walking of contemporary Indians, Harvard's School of Law presented the serene light. Abbie Hoffman, beaming with power, said: "The establishment's Pontius, Judge Johnson, was appointed to pass judgement on the society that's capitalist progress!" The establishment's Pontius was verbally crucified before 3,000 jurors gathered to pass judgement on the society that's capitalist progress! "Nearly 200 years ago, some of his students came from the banks of the Charles, looked down, and said 'We Shall Overthrow.'"

"We'll build a new world!"

"To the people that we are proud, and we stick together!"

"Protestant Work Ethic has to go with what we've got."

"Do you know why there's a monster?"

"Now, we're not in America!"
