WASHINGTON — Immediate effect of V-E Day on the Federal employees will not be drastic. No sizeable layoffs are expected immediately despite President Truman's $7,000,000,000 slash in the Federal budget and reported plan to lay off more millions from war agencies as the Pacific fighting develops.

This is informed opinion from the Federal agencies where activity is being stepped up in keeping with the President's V-E Day appeal to "Work, Work, Work" for Japanese unconditional surrender.

Although one Government official has predicted a reduction of 100,000 to 200,000 in Federal staff by the end of the month, he said the layoffs are expected to be met largely by turnover. Permanent agencies have a tre- mendous backlog of peacetime work that will absorb many people from the war agencies, in processing, filing, cataloguing, etc. Examples of these are Agriculture, Commerce and Treasury.

The Federal-employee is Veterans Administration, which has recommended order for employees that may be released by other agencies. There is a plan on foot to make such layoffs compulsory by the Veterans Administration. Continuing activities will maintain staffs in such other agencies as General Accounting Office, Navy Department, State Department, Treasury and OPA contract termination.

V-E Day Affeets Federal Employees

War Dept.

When the layoffs finally come War Department is expected to have the largest reduction in payroll through a deduction from the next appropriation. WPS is said to be ready to lay off in due time, followed by War Mobilization and Reconstruction, ODT and Office of Censorship. War Manpower Commission is expected to be one of the last war agencies to go. Cuts in Petroleum Administration for War are expected to follow closely reductions ordered for OPA. Unemployment Service may be cut to the fullest, it being largely staffed at the present time by State employees.

No Reduction Yet

Best clue to the Federal employment picture comes from U. S. Civil Service Commission, where it is reported that no great reduction in force is in prospect. This adds support to the belief that there will not be immediate cuts.

After V-E Day

However, once the Jap war is over, Federal workers will face an entirely different picture. Estimates to which Government controls will be extended will be the important factor. It is generally believed that they will have to be continued long after Jap surrender.

War agencies continue to have a heavy store of peacetime activity, with exception of such thoroughly dead items as War Production Board and War Manpower Defense, which has been already eliminated. OPA looks to be good for another year at least. WPS is reported to be actually reducing personnel, since the wartime operations of ODT were much bigger than was anticipated.

Conversion prospects appear to be much bigger than was anticipated, and War Manpower Commission is expected to be one of the last war agencies to go. Cuts in Petroleum Administration for War are expected to follow closely reductions ordered for OPA. Unemployment Service may be cut to the fullest, it being largely staffed at the present time by State employees.

NYC Considers Abolishing Grade 1 of Clerk Service

In the 194-6 Executive Budget, Mayor LaGuardia has established a minimum base salary of $1,200 a year for municipal clerical employees. However, this only applies to the July 1946 fiscal year.

The Municipal Civil Service Commission is considering a proposal to eliminate the Grade 1 in the Clerical Service. At present, the Clerical-Service, Grade 1, ranges from $600 a year to a maximum of $1,200. The Commission has on its calendar a proposal to eliminate this category and start the clerical salary scale at Grade II, $1,201 to $1,800 a year.

Following are the positions which would be affected by the change, when adopted by the Commission. At last week's meeting, action was withheld.

Addressograph operator, addressograph machine operator, Addressograph transfer clerk, typist, Addressograph tabulator operator, Addressograph inspector, Addressograph typesetter, Addressograph typeset machine operator.

Shorbo Outlines State Association's Major Objectives for Coming Year

ALBANY — Clifford C. Shorbo, president of the Association of State Civil Service Employees, this week outlined some of the major objectives of the organization in the coming year.

High on the list of objectives is liberalization of retirement provisions now in effect in the State. The Association has presented to Governor Frank C. Moore proposed an 11-point program, carefully worked out over a period of months by a Committee of the Association. This program will form the basis of the Association's campaign for new legislation. In addition, the Association's program will maintain staffs in such other agencies as General Accounting Office, Navy Department, State Department, Treasury and OPA contract termination.

Salary Adjustment

Another major objective is permanent upward salary adjustment. In line with the Association's policy of "making things even" with the administration, the Association is preparing a groundwork of facts and figures to illustrate why upward revision in salary structure is necessary.

The Association will also advocate time-and-a-half pay for overtime work, and unemployment insurance for State employees who may be ordered to lose their jobs.

A salary schedule has been prepared, which will be presented to the Governor. Employees throughout the State have expressed the desire for a more liberal program of civil service and employee activities.

Mail Carriers Become Experts On Shoe Leather

WASHINGTON—One hundred and thirteen mail carriers in Washington, D.C., have been acting as "postmen" for the last five months in testing the long-wearing qualities of shoes with treated soles.

The tests were begun with the cooperation of the Postoffice Department as part of the postmen quality conservation program being conducted by WPB. The sole treatment materials being tested are oil, wax, an asphalt composition, and a nitrile-cellophane composition.

Each postman was one shoe with a treated sole and one with a sole that had not been treated by the WPB. The treated soles varied in treatment from the first five months to the last five months. When the untreated sole had worn through, both soles were removed and a new pair of shoes purchased.

Men with engineering degrees or skilled and craftsman employees are opportunities open only to those who are prepared in the grades of the grades.

Test results on the combination of the four grades and the seven, the six, and the eight, with a total of nine different types of shoes, show a far greater wearing ability of the treated soles than the untreated soles.

Previous tests of this nature have shown that the life of the treated soles is often three times as long as that of the untreated soles. WPB said.

West Coast Navy Jobs for Civil Employees

The need for civilian workers for Navy construction is acute. A hundred and twelve thousand men and women are needed in all types of naval vessels due to the Navy's drive to build more ships.

McKreynolds' Resignation Found Disturbing

WASHINGTON—Career people in government are somewhat preoccupied by the White House announcement that William H. McKinley, Jr., assistant administrator of the President's staff, has resigned his post.

Among the agencies which are recruiting electrical engineers are the Army Signal Corps, Navy Bureau of Ships and the Rural Electrification Administration.

McKreynolds, outstanding earner man, in Federal service, has a record on behalf of the Federal employment. He fought hard to keep the position of the Federal service and is a Civil Service man in that position. The President's action is being released by George J. Schoppman of Interstate Railway.

Service Rating Changes Once Again Held Up

Another hitch developed in the procedures of Mayor LaGuardia's Committee on the Simplification of Procedures last week. The Committee, which had just completed a 70-page report on the improvement of service rating procedures, had no choice but to consider a 70-page report on the improvement of service rating procedures. However, many members of the Committee had already indicated that although more than 200 proposals had been made for improvements, the committee was not willing to hold off for another three weeks and forward it to Mayor LaGuardia. The Committee's dissatisfaction was expressed by the following letter to the Mayor:

"Dear Mayor LaGuardia,

We have been working on the Service Rating Changes proposal for several weeks. We believe that our proposals will greatly improve the current system. However, we have been faced with several setbacks that have delayed our work. We are currently working on the following changes:

1. Simplifying the process of filling vacancies
2. Establishing a clear hierarchy for promotions
3. Implementing a more effective training program

We believe that these changes will greatly improve the efficiency and fairness of the current system. We urge you to consider our proposals and to take action to implement them.

Sincerely,

Study Aid for Coming Clerk Grade 2 Promotion

The ability of the New York State governments to function effectively depends in large part on the efficiency of the people who keep the accounts of the various departments. One of the many people who have charge of this task is the City Clerk. To help the City Clerk in this task, the Board of Estimate and Apportionment has created the Office of City Clerk. The office is responsible for maintaining accurate records of all financial transactions of the city. The office is also responsible for preparing and maintaining the City's financial reports.

Effective City Clerk: A person who can perform the duties of the City Clerk must be able to do the following:

1. Maintain accurate records of all financial transactions of the city.
2. Prepare and maintain the City's financial reports.
3. Ensure that all financial transactions are recorded accurately and timely.
5. Work well with others to ensure that the City's financial needs are met.

Requirements for the City Clerk:

1. A high school diploma or equivalent.
2. At least two years of experience in a similar position.
3. Excellent written and verbal communication skills.
4. Ability to work well under pressure.
5. Strong attention to detail.

Salary:

The salary for the City Clerk position is determined by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and is based on the employee's education, experience, and performance.

Benefits:

The City Clerk position offers excellent benefits, including health insurance, retirement plans, and paid time off.

The New York City government is an equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, gender, sexual orientation, or national origin.

If you are interested in applying for the City Clerk position, please visit the City of New York website for more information and to apply online.

Welfare Investigators To Sue for Back Pay

A group of social workers in the NYC Welfare Department, including some who served in the department back in 1939, are planning a suit against the City to recover back pay on what happened in 1939. According to the suit, the City in the ungraded service at that time, and in which the employees were placed in the competition, was allowed a starting salary of $1,809 a year, advancing to $2,381 by four annual increments of $120. However, in September 1939, large numbers of individual increases were granted to the investigators through—several cases, as much as $300. But they have proceeded to offset these increases by crediting the extra salary against the schedule incre-tives. The investigators contend that the increases got individuals, for merit, shouldn't have been cancelled by depriving them of their increments.

Two of the investigators have retained David A. Savage to repre-
t the suit in a Court fight for the back pay which, comes to about $500 in cases. It is expected that papers will be served at the Budget Bureau and Council's of-Fice in the near future.

Unless You Want a Divorce

The Loven Law requires three years residence in New York City before a citizen can be placed in any judicial position. An employee must reside in the City after appointment.

Last week, three important questions on this matter came before the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

1. A soldier's wife has New York City residence. Does the law apply to her living out of the State and in the Army during her husband's active service?
Answer: No.

2. If a New York City resident establishes another residence out of state for divorce purposes, is New York City residence lost thereby?
Answer: Yes.

What Civil Jobs for Enlisted Men?

Five thousand typical civilian occupations are now open to Navy men and women who may want to continue in private life after discharge as limited military service.

The listing is now being published and will be available shortly as a 400-page volume in various series titled “Special Aids for Placing Military Personnel in Civilian Jobs.” This volume will be similar to a “Special Aids” counseling and placement volume included in the recent return of army personnel entitled to civilian jobs.

The list of civilian occupations is now being revised, and the Navy “Special Aids” specifically indicates how the training and experience of enlisted personnel can be applied to such occupations as those in the Coast Guard and other federal agencies and in the private sector.

United States Maritime Service and the Women’s Reserve Service were given points of similarity in the Navy’s new “Special Aids.” Also included are the various occupations available to enlisted personnel who have served in the Army and Marine Corps.

CIVIL SERVICE LEADER

Jerry Slesigar, Publisher;ide R. Morley, Editor; Bernard J. Bradley, Editorial Board; E. W. Beatty,

From the foregoing events, it is apparent that the way to a better world is not through a direct appeal to the masses but through the gradual education of the individual. The individual must learn to recognize the necessity for change and must then act upon this recognition. The individual must also learn to recognize the importance of his own contribution to society and must be willing to make this contribution.

But it is not enough to simply recognize the need for change and to make a contribution. The individual must also be willing to sacrifice and to be willing to take risks. Change is not easy and it often involves sacrifice and risk. But it is necessary if we are to create a better world.

In conclusion, it is clear that the way to a better world is not through a direct appeal to the masses. The individual must take the lead in this effort. The individual must learn to recognize the necessity for change, make a contribution, and be willing to sacrifice and to take risks. Only then can we create a better world.
The State Employee
by CLIFFORD C. SHORE
President, The Association

In writing "The State Employee" as a regular weekly feature of The LEADER, Clifford C. Shore discusses all and any matters of interest to employees of the State of New York. This is his column with complete facility to express his own views.

Health Leave
The administration's announcement last week of vacation last week and changes in leave regulations is a step in the right direction. It is gratifying to see that efficiency depends on good health. Good health depends on many things, including the assurance of making change over a proper period from exacting daily duties performed in an atmosphere of stress.

Employees are still waiting patiently for statement of full rules to govern the new policy. It is an indication of the institutions where the hours do not conform with those in the administration's rules. There may be recognition of the fact that they are not included in the workmen's compensation act. The number of leave days will not be required to work beyond the regular week period of other office workers. The leave day is the number of days that will be granted for religious observance. The different states have been working out leave days to add a certain number of days to the total vacation period and permit employees to use their days as and when they like.

Retirement Legislation
No special concern of the Association has ever faced a more difficult job than our Retirement Liberalization Committee headed by Charles Doherty. Amendments have been made to the State Retirement System law during the twenty-three years since it came into being. But no more comprehensive duty or more illuminating recommendations for its liberalization were ever made by any group of those of Mr. Doherty's committee.

The Association sought through conferences to enlist the active support of Comptroller Moore as he prepared the 1944 budget of the state. We made a good case on each of the eleven proposals for liberalization of the Retirement System which will bring us a little closer to the soundness of any changes in the system which will bring the Retirement System to a sound condition and that it never repudiates a promise made.

Of State Agencies
State Labor Department regulations, made by the New York State Welfare Commission, will go before the various boards of the state for final approval. The board of the State's Employment Service has already given its approval.

One thousand employees of the Department are scheduled to begin their vacation on a 3-day week basis this week.

This time cannot be extended by compelling your appointing officer for reinstatement, except in the case of a removal or demotion. If you file suit, you may be permitted to file suit by written order to the State Civil Service Commission within sixty days of the determination of the Classification Board or by written order of a State official who is employed is permitted to sue. The employee commenced negotiations for reinstatement which ended in the case of a removal or demotion. In the case of a removal or demotion, the employee may have been on State service for many years. There complete set of rules and regulations of all State agencies for the Government. The Public Service Commission has been asked to control in the first two volumes of the compilation, make three more to come—one for Labor Department orders and rules; and two for the Public Service Commission.

The resolutions waiving this requirement are designed to allow in each of the jobs and to permit the reinstatement of employees who are separated from the service for more than four months after October 1, 1943.

This is the final report of the season. Several teams have requested to report the last few weeks so it is necessary to publish these games. In spite of the late and difficulties in getting the report, the popular league has gained in interest. The local league great interest has prevailed.

For the Big Event

The play-off, meeting and dinner will be held Saturday, May 12th at the Monument Recreation Center, Mounds, N.Y., which is a short distance from Albany. Registration scheduled for 1 o'clock, bowling and games at 2 o'clock. At 4:30 p.m. Business meeting, election of officers and formation of league for 1945-46. Dinner at 6 o'clock.

Business Meeting

Teams are urged to bring suggestions and resolutions prepared in advance so that the resolution committee may examine them before the meeting. Leo F. Curry says a team is necessary this season next year. You know the boy is in the league, drop him a line urging him to come May 19th. Curry also asks to help organize a basketball game. A certain number interested to come the meeting Saturday, May 12th.

A special dinner has been arranged. The menu is hops and the location ideal. Music and a floor show following the dinner. Each team that is paid up will receive five dinner tickets without charge. Additional tickets will sell for $2.00. This promises to be the banner event of the year.

Mr. Gerhardt (George) German, President of the American Bowling Congress, will be guest of honor and principal speaker. Mr. Leo Bliss, member of the A.B.C. executive committee, will also be a guest of honor.

*You’re right. When a fellow wants a glass of beer with a lip-smacking flavor— he just naturally says “Make Mine Ruppert.”

You see, Ruppert isn’t just beer—it’s the SLOW AGED BEER that’s brewed on the principle that there’s no substitute for time.

And, because Ruppert has such tremendous aging facilities—the largest in the entire East—every drop of this mellow light brew comes to you SLOW AGED and full-flavored.

No wonder so many people say “Make Mine Ruppert.” You couldn’t ask for better beer.

Yets Can Get Aid from U. S. Civil Service

James E. Bossell, Regional Director of the Civil Service Commission, stated last week that his office is now processing 2,000 claims for employment in service in New York and New Jersey at the rate of 100 a day. These figures do not include veterans of the Korean conflict who have received their transportation to help process their claims.

27 Old-Timers Given OK to Remain on Jobs

Another group of old-timers in the NYC Civil Service last week received permission of the Board of another group of old-timers to remain in jobs.

The 7 who are staying at work to help process veterans' claims have been given four months' severance pay.

Names of the men and women who are to receive the extra pay and the offices in which they will be employed are:

- Bernard A. Mott, 102 Truck; Bernard F. Purcell, 102 Truck.
- Robert Barbier, Hq's.; Joseph LaFontaine, Hq's.
- Thomas F. Knorr, 71, for an important war plant in New York City.
- Henry T. Purcell, 111, for an important war plant in New York City.

Post-War Re-Employment Plan Is Proposed

The United Federal Workers of America last week proposed to the Civil Service Commission a re-employment plan for surplus employees. The proposal is to give government workers who have served faithfully in the Federal service an absolute preference for jobs in expanding peace-time services during the next year.

The plan proposes the setting up of a national clearing house to receive all lists of discharged or discharged federal employees and World War II veterans who have known claims to re-employment. It recommends a bonus on all hiring and recommends that these registers be utilized by the re-employment services, and the aims of the plans are to give deserved preference to continued service.

Bill Would Allow Political Jobs To U.S. Employees

WASHINGTON—Restrictions on political activity of federal employees would be ended under a bill introduced in the house by Representative William H. Bauer, Democrat of Maryland. The bill would allow any federal employee to serve as election judge or to hold any other current law barring them from federal service.

Incidentally, Supreme Court has held that a federal employee is a public employee and that he can be disqualified from a position by the Civil Service Commission on grounds that his political activity disqualifies him. There is no incompatibility between the two positions, but to keep the employee from the political publicity, the law, which prohibits political activity of federal employees, is applied without regard to his situation, and disqualifies workers on the basis of his political activity.

The Bauer bill was referred to the house committee on civil service examination and investigation. It provides that nothing in the bill shall be construed to prevent or prohibit any public employee from taking part in any lawful legislative or judicial branch of the government, or the taking of an oath by a judge or clerk of any election, unless such service is in conflict with a primary, special, or general election.
