Reorganization By Truman Seen As Reducing Jobs

BY HAL MILLER
Special to The Leader
WASHINGTON, July 31—President Truman is expected to start his promised reorganization of Government when he returns from Potsdam. He can use his authority under the War Powers Act, without waiting for Congress, to act on reorganization bills introduced on his request.

In the past, Congress could not act in the manner Truman is expected to. Congress would later be asked to approve changes, which otherwise would be only temporary. Congress could then modify, or in some cases, reject that action. Monopolistic groups might be exempted.

One of his first acts may be to move reconstruction to the Office of Reorganization, and will be ready for the public to act on reorganization bills introduced on his request.

The number is expected to increase very sharply. Now about 55,000 men of the 107,000 disability veterans are on eligible lists today after qualifying as special military examinations. These special military exams soon will be open to all veterans, who have passed, and will be ready for the public to act on reorganization bills introduced on his request.

More Information Is Ordered Put In U.S. Exam Notices

WASHINGTON, July 31—All announcements of examination issued by the Civil Service Commission on or before July 2, 1945, are affected by a general amendment just released. All examination announcements incorporate the amendments.

The subjects covered are basic pay and overtime, veteran preferences, as well as WMC regulations, certificates of residence and maximum age.

Basic Pay and Overtime

The increase in the basic pay for the standard workweek is shown in a comparative table. Salaries included are those covered in open competitive examinations.

For the 23 listed salary levels the table shows that the increased pay is effective for work beyond 40 hours per week. The old rate was for a 48-hour week. From present new rates the employee will receive 50 percent of this rate. The table is of considerable additional value to classified Federal employees because it shows the original level of pay for each of the new rates.

Salary Changes by Grade Under Pay Act

In open competitive examinations the following table shows how the new rate for the standard workweek of 40 hours is supplemented by additional compensation for all time worked beyond the regular rate, and how overtime is computed.

NYC Boats: Sign Protest

"Protest" signatures on the NYC payrolls for July 15, tallied today, indicate widespread dissatisfaction of the men employed by the city. The pay for July 15, 1944, was payable Friday.

The mayor's promise to vote for a raise could not be met. But the employees, who have been on strike for almost a year, feel that they are being penalized by a loss of the bonus.

While no figures were made public, a strike committee of several hundred employees suffered a setback this week. The employees, who met January 1, 1944, and dropped out of the bonus distribution, with the explanation that there was to be no duplication of bonus plus increase.

Many of the employees, however, have lost upon checking this Friday after having been promised a bonus, that they feel that they are being penalized by a loss of the bonus.

Department personnel officers expressed the belief that there was very little likelihood that the employees had the bonus distribution as a result of the employees' organizations had previously protested that the bonus distribution, without success.

Clerk, Grade 2, Filing May Be Reopened Soon

The examination for Clerk, Grade 2, may be reopened by the Civil Service Commission for a week. A special application has been filed.

The examination is to be held on October 6. The examination is to be held on preferential treatment for the employees who have been on strike for almost a year.

Retirements Are Normal

Reports of mass retirement of NYC employees in view of the coming bonus do not seem to be confirmed. On January 1, 1944, there were 12,000 employees.

The Retirement Boards has joined the list of organizations that were different from those of the fire-fighters. The budget people object because the promotion cost money.

Charles E. McHale, 59-30 41 Avenue, Rego Park, L. I., one of the most widely known and popular members of the NYC Welfare Department staff, died at the Allan Naval Hospital. He was 52 years of age and was appointed to the staff of the department on August 1, 1919 as an Investigator. Some years later he was assigned to the Bureau of Inquiry and Investigation, in which he continued until illness forced him to relinquish his post on December 18, 1944. As the Receptionist assigned to the main entrance of the Department's Central Office at 920 Broadway, he was familiar to thousands who frequented the building, and his unfailing courtesy and helpfulness were widely respected.

Mr. McHale was a First Lieutenant in the Quartermaster's Corps in the First World War. His death was unexpected and occurred on May 21, 1919, and was in various Army hospitals from May 19 to November 21, 1919. As a member of the American Legion, he was particularly well known.

Surviving are his wife, Barbara McHale; his mother, Mary McHale; two sisters, Margaret and Agnes, and two brothers, James and William.

The funeral services were held in the Ascension Church, Rego Park.

dr. stebbins back from italy; old favors for employee

The return of Italy of NYC Health Commissioner Ernesto Cattini to the city by g.t. good tidings to a number of the Department's employees today.

For instance, Mike Glatz, elevator operator at 1219 Worth St., learned that his 69-year-old mother and his 56-year-old wife were in good health, although their home was 500 yards from the bomb site. The Commissioner, in a special trip to the little town, said he would visit the family, at Mr. Glatz's request.

Another who got good news was Ada Shaw, an auto-ensanmele. He had given Commissioner Stobbe a six-inch pen to be delivered to his brother, a priest in a small Italian town, and the Commissioner was able to report "mission accomplished."

Place uniforma

Dr. Stebbins, 59-30 41 Avenue, Rego Park, L. I., has been back from Italy for several months overseeing the Army on problems of public health in Italy. The Army medical qualification for the position was given to the Acting Commissioner, Dr. Frank A. Caddle, First Deputy Commissioner.

However, in a number of cases, Dr. Stebbins has been able to locate families who were suffering under the effects of their war experiences with the Germans. In one instance he found a woman who had sold her experience with the Germans, and the Commissioner arranged for her to go to America to see her son, who was stationed in the School of Tropical Medicine.
Lyons Asks City To Stop Refusing Tests to Vets

Borough President Lyons of the Bronx today offered a resolution for adoption by the Board of Estimate to insure that veterans will be given the part open competitive examination that they missed because of illness or injury. The State Military Law requires that the missed examinations be given in promotion, but does not require them to be given in open competitive tests. Mr. Lyons makes the point regarding the open tests that, "there is no law that prohibits promotions in examinations."

Most cases the candidate must have passed one part of an examination, however, to make the test. The request is often for promotion to the next grade, but the whole grade cannot be given. President Lyons was moved by the case of Sgt. Marvin Altshuler of the Bronx. He was the veteran whom Civil Service Commissioner Esther Bromley wrote reportedly that the requested examination could not be given. He appeared in full in The Leader last week.

Mr. Lyons wrote to the Board of Estimate, and Commissioner Bromley took a competitive examination for Fireman and Police, and went to enter his entry into military services because he had the opportunity to take the examination. He was advised on August 15, 1944, that if he could not re-pass the examination, on May 30, 1941, he would be given the opportunity to take a second examination. He was advised that if he could not re-pass on August 15, 1944, that then he would be given the opportunity to take a second examination. He was advised that if he could not re-pass on August 15, 1944, that then he would be given the opportunity to take a second examination.

The Bronx D. A. V. is expected to discuss the subject, as other veteran organizations. Robert, Queen, was recently Command of the Bronx D. A. V. The opportunity to take a second examination could not be obtained locally. It is expected that when the application is received, it will be requested to include a tentative appointment. The Military Law in the agenda of the Special Legislative session due to be held in September, though not yet called. The main reason for the session is State Welfare reorganization.

A complete remaking of the Mandatory Increment Law for NYC employees was endorsed today by majority members of the Council's Committee on Finance.

Under proposed legislation, the competitive employees' increment would be increased from $120 to $150 per year, and up to $1,800 a year. At present, the mandatory increments stop when the employee reaches $1,800 a year.

For Labor Class employees the bill provides annual salary increments of $150 for each employee in the labor class as follows:

- For each such employee who on or before July 1, 1944, served one year or more there shall be paid, received, from such January 1, 1945, to the last regular pay period
- For such employees whose annual increments are now not more than $150 the new salary may be increased by $750.00.

For such employees who are salaried employees, the salary is increased by $750.

A salary amounting to $400 above the employee's then actual salary shall have been reached or received, the annual salary of $750.00 shall be increased by $750.00 above the amount of $2,280 plus a bonus of $150 for 200 working days.

In addition to this compensation of $750, all leave and vacations with pay benefits, are considered in the overall compensation for postwar security.

The Council's Committee on Finance, representing employees belonging to the NYC Municipal Civil Service Commission, has every reason to hope that the labor movement will support the measure.

The bill, which was introduced by Councilman Louis Cohen, was referred to the Committee on Finance, to take effect January 1, 1945.

Blacksmiths Pay Put On Per-Annunus Basis

New York City blacksmiths might be assigned fewer working days than before, it was developed at a conference of the City Budget Director and representatives of the blacksmiths. The object of the conference was to find some means of avoiding hardship of the men.

An agreement was finally arrived at, concurred in, by Morris Feuston, representing the AFL blacksmiths, and George Feuston, representing employees belonging to the Civil Service. The agreement provides for the employment of blacksmiths accepting the terms and conditions, at the annual salary of $2,280 plus a bonus of $150 for 200 working days.

In addition to this compensation, all leave and vacations with pay benefits, are considered in the overall compensation for postwar security. The job is considered a skilled trade and prevailing rates are paid.

Also announced was a test for promotion to Examiner, Grade 4, Teachers' Retirement System.

NYC Still Needs Horseshorseshes; Plans a Test

Employees, according to Ellis Ranen, can help themselves by taking the last City promotion which he reported favorably the departments.

He took the last City promotion to Clerk, Grade 2, and received a July 1 promotion to Clerk, Grade 3 at a base pay of $1,440 to $1,680, with the cost-of-living bonus. His job remains the same and so does his pay.

A reader wants to know what is meant by "inverse seniority" and how it is applied. Well, inverse seniority is the same as direct seniority. Let me explain. If a person has a right to the retention of a job because of the rule of inverse seniority, then it is the reverse of otherwise, and the same result will follow in either case. When we say that a person has a right to the retention of a job because of the rule of inverse seniority, it means that the person is qualified for the job and has not been dismissed. It is not necessarily true that a person has a right to the retention of a job because of the rule of inverse seniority. If we ask the applicability of the rule, it is possible that the answer might be no. Many authorities state that in industry will remain numerous just as long as industries remain numerous.

The State Employee

by CLIFFORD C. SHORO

President, The Association of State Civil Service Employees

In writing "The State Employee" as a regular weekly feature of The New York Times, Clifford C. Shoro discusses all and any matters of interest to employees of the State of New York. He is writing this column with complete liberty to express his own views.

OCCUPATIONAL INSTRUCTORS

THE OCCUPATIONAL INSTRUCTORS form a group of employees who have been patiently awaiting classification and approval for promotion to the Classified Employment Grade. The Classification Division of the Department of Civil Service, in recommending the approval for this group is complex in many particulars. The work being performed by these employees in the various hospitals of the State differs in the emphasis placed upon therapy and upon instruction of the patient or pupil, leading to the production of work or to training for independent living.

Some are assigned to the classification Division of the Department of Civil Service.

The Department of Mental Hygiene is directing more specifically to the therapeutic value of its programs and the programs of the State school under the jurisdiction of the Mental Hygiene Department. Some are engaged in occupational therapy or in training a group of patients for employment.

The program is directed more specifically to the therapeutic value of the occupation.

In still other cases there is a combination of occupational work. In some instances there is a combination of hospital and occupational work. In other instances the problem is bending every effort to acquaint discharged veterans with the provisions of the law.

Duration Vacancies

The Association is concerned with a reported tendency on the part of the Department of Civil Service to extend over its vacancies. The employees in the matter of duration promotions to positions made vacant, are not given the required time to respond to notices of vacancy, absence, etc. For example, where positions in the principal grades become vacant, Council action is taken on a request for a temporary appointment. In such cases it is natural that the assistant who is unoccupied, whom he may be located, is a temporary appointment.

in finding urgently needed help.
The following positions must be filled to keep the work of the department up to date:

must be able to take dictation at the rate of 100 words a minute.

words a minute. For these jobs apply to Miss Wales, personnel

All of these jobs are on a temporary basis, but may last for a considerable time. Working condi-

No wonder they call it
"GREATER" New York!

A great war production city. Very few people know it—but New York has been one humming arsenal all through the war.
Sub-chasers made in the Bronx
... Airplanes in Queens ...
Bomb sights in Brooklyn ...
Radar equipment in Manhattan.
The complete list is endless, astounding.

Greater in manufacturing than any other city.
A lot of people are surprised at that statement, too! They think of New York mainly as a city of stores and offices.
New York City leads America in manufacturing. Nearly 60% greater than the next city—Chicago. Two and a half times the peacetime manufacturing output of either Philadelphia or Detroit. (No disrespect to those cities!)

We’re lucky in New York—our huge production facilities are distributed among many thousands of plants. Activity doesn’t depend on one industry alone—or even two or three.
That’s a big reason why returning servicemen will find New York business ready with the opportunities they want. (Local plants recently surveyed tell us they expect to employ 37% more people after the war than they did before.) Hence all the stuff of which good times are made exists here: tremendous manufacturing facilities; a pent-up demand for goods; business eager to launch new and improved products ... and—under enterprising private management—an abundance of dependable electric power to make those plans practical.

CONSOLIDATED EDISON
Jobs in Industry Still Plentiful

Conditions in the fluctuating labor market are of importance as the postwar era, under the new system of the War Manpower Commission, made public today, show the changing trend in employment.

Two full months after V-E Day, demands for workers in New York and non-ferrous metal plants continued to drop because of lowered demand for building and construction work.

Glass, lumber, iron, and steel plants, and sharply rising de-mands for the substantial total increase of migrant laborers and workers for the revision of standards and the unforeseen effect, and one of the quickest measures on experimental work was the substitution of a division of service, including one or more employees, to an approximately the same basic qualification as required.

Two job opportunities: jobs that can be obtained at the company cafeteria, bar, or accommodation cost of $1.20 an hour; Pipe Fitters, Welders, Burners, and Joiners, $1.30 to $1.50 an hour; Carpenters and Laborers...

Mayor's Veto Denies Higher Pay Ceiling to Playground Directors

The situation of long-time employees in the NYC Parks Department was overlooked by Mayor LaGuardia in his recent request to raise the pay of the playground range of Playground Directors, said Councilman Louis Cohen (Dem., Bronx), in a statement issued here today.

"There is no reason for this bill. The position of Playground Director in the Parks Department is already a permanent job to be held up to the age of 65, and certainly cannot be considered an entry wage job," said Councilman Cohen.

The statement was issued after LaGuardia vetoed the bill yesterday, saying that the public school teachers should be the ones to get a raise instead of the playground directors.

Councilman Cohen pointed out that the bill would have also raised the salary of the playground directors, who are already paid $1,500 per year.

The bill was introduced by Councilman J. P. McDaid (Dem., Brooklyn) and sponsored by Councilman P. A. L. St Johns (Dem., Manhattan).

The bill would have raised the salary of the playground directors to $1,750 per year.

Councilman Cohen said that the playground directors had to be paid more because of the increased responsibilities of the job. He said that the same entrance wage brackets should also be given to the playground directors.

Councilman Cohen also said that the bill would have been an unfair discrimination against the playground directors, who are already paid $1,500 per year.

The bill was introduced by Councilman J. P. McDaid (Dem., Brooklyn) and sponsored by Councilman P. A. L. St Johns (Dem., Manhattan).

Welfare Staff Loses 25 More

Each succeeding work year continues to show a drop in the number of employees in the New York City Welfare Department and in the Municipal Employees Service. The personnel office for the period between July 1, 1945, and this year is listing an existing staff of 1,000.

Formerly the school had functions limited to the veterans' administration, but during the past year, the Department of Community Education had placed the administration of the Department of Community Education.

Parma's mission had been accomplished. M. J. Devine, director of the institute, said: 'I am so glad I could do something for them.' The mission had been approved by the veteran's administration, and the organization had been incorporated as a separate legal entity, with the Department of Community Education as the agent of the institute, and contact of each school which they have served, is due in a part of the efforts to protect the interests of the veterans.
Plea Withdrawn To Freeze Spargo In $15,000 Job

A request from the NYC Tunnel Authority to change the exemption status of its chief engineers to the Competitive Class from the Technical Class of civil service is the subject of a new lawsuit. Spargo, the former chief engineer, is suing the city for $15,000. The suit was filed in the Supreme Court of the City of New York.

However, the request was acted upon. The position is now considered a job held by George Spargo, former Chief Engineer, at the city's executive level. At $15,000.
