U.S. TO DROP THOUSANDS OF UNEMPLOYED
—and Halt Recruitment—State and NYC Will Hire

The news of Japan’s surrender offer produced an immediate and divergent effect on the Federal, State and NYC civil service.

In the Federal Government plans for reduction in force, which had been begun long previously, were advanced toward rapid accomplishment. In fact, the move got started as soon as the secret of the atomic bomb was out.

The almost total destruction of Hiroshima by the first such bomb dropped was taken as a signal for preparing to get back on a normal basis of operation. There are nearly 3,000,000 Federal employees now; normally, a little under 1,000,000.

In the State civil service the prospect was for considerable shifting of personnel, with many duration problems delaying the breaking of the freeze on hiring.

In NYC the first word was that the heads of departments should canvass their personnel needs, so that existing shortage of manpower may be overcome as rapidly as possible.

New York's municipal employees, with a little over 17,000 of its employees in the armed forces, unlike the Federal government which faced demands for large layoffs, and unlike the State, which may offer relatively few new openings, will probably be able to absorb the prophecies of thousands of job vacancies that occurred during the war.

The Federal Government is expecting to have less recruitment than during the war, because the Government which faced demands for large layoffs is in the peak of its recruiting season and is now preparing to get back on a normal basis of operation. The U.S. Government has released more than 7,000,000 men from military service in the last six months.

There is a considerable amount of friction between the Federal Office of Personnel Management and the various War Departments, which cannot be found in the State Civil Service, which has a much larger number of employees and a much larger number of civilian personnel than the Federal Government.

N.Y. State Loses First Place on U.S. Job List

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—New York State ranks second in the number of Federal employees, losing its former lead, the U.S. Civil Service Commission reported today. New York has 297,800 workers. California jumped as of April 30 last.

One Million Veterans to Get U.S. Jobs

By C. F. J. CARTER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Even though under the National Defense Act of July 25, 1945, there are 1.7 million veterans of this war on Federal Civil Service, with about half being placed during the next year, the commission estimates completed today by Government departments and agencies. There are more than 2,000,000 men and women.

The U. S. Civil Service Commission's preference for veterans was emphasized on the present plan provides for 464,000 Federal Civil Service jobs by July 1 next. There must be one veteran hire placements a month. The number of personnel in Federal Civil Service Commission it also, charged with looking after veterans, is not to be changed during the period of the war.

The Commission has declared that the hiring of veterans is not to be affected by the Civil Service Commission. After July 1, veteran jobs will be closed to the Federal Civil Service Commission. The Veterans Administration itself, charged with looking after veterans, is not to be changed during the period of the war.

A transcript would be kept of each person a copy of the finding, such hearings and of the findings. A transcript would be kept of each hearing.

The subordination of the efficiency rating is sought. During discussions in the Civil Service Labor-Management Committee, U.S. Senator Mondale expressed concern that the efficiency rating should be prohibited. Pot of Gold for Ex-employees in Prison Camps

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—A pot of gold is waiting at the end of the rainbow for Government workers now being liberated from enemy prisoners of war camps.

The pot is a money order for the amounts of $2,500 to $5,000, which is being distributed to former employees who served overseas and have been held as prisoners of war.

All a released internee has to do is turn to the nearest post office in the area where he was held and request the money order. The money order is to be mailed to the veteran at his home address.

Bill Seeks Hearings on Dismissals and Protections for Court Review

By CHARLES SULLIVAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Federal Civil Service employees and applicants should be given broad protection, including the right of court review not now existing, in specified cases of dismissal on charges or denial of eligibility in a bill introduced by Senator Sheridan Downey. He is chairman of the Senate Civil Service Committee and co-chairman of the 1945-46 Civil Service Employment.

The U. S. Civil Service Commission, committee members said today, has approved the general terms of the bill.

In reverse seniority back as sole basis of layoff

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Seniority is being stressed by employees organizations as the principal basis of retention when layoffs are ordered, and the United Federal Workers of America (CIO) today cited the 1945 Federal Employees Pay Bill in support of that aim.

The subordination of the efficiency rating is sought. The PWA issued the following statement:

"During discussions in the Civil Service Labor-Management Committee, U.S. Senator Mondale expressed concern that the efficiency rating should be prohibited. Further, the Commission is to be divided in such manner that the employee will receive a financial loss if he does not comply with the regulations of the Civil Service Labor-Management Committee."

A group of maintenance men in the NYC Hospitals indignantly turned down an offer of the Comptroller to the thin wage claims on the basis of 55 cents an hour. The city, they said, is entitled to the prevailing rate of $1.00 or more. The unions will petition the Board to raise the rate to $1.00 and above.

Welfare Has New Rule on Promotions

Elimination of promotion on the basis of units, in the NYC Welfare Department was announced by the Municipal Civil Service Commission today.

In the future, all promotion late on the competitive civil service list will be published as a single list for the entire department.

Tracing the development of promotional units in the department, the Commission explained that this development had been divided into two stages. One stage is known as Grade 1, the other as Grade 2. On May 21, 1941, the Commission created a new Grade 3 Division of Aid to Dependent Children.

Since then, however, all functions of the Department have been carried on in line with the policies of the Commission as published as a single list for the entire department.

Has it not been necessary to continue to recognize the specialized activities of each Division of the Department.

The bill, which reduces the minimum office salary of $1,800, is being considered by the Board of Estimate.

Appointment of Captains and Battalion Chiefs

Illegal, Kaplan Finds

Following is a study requested of H. Eliot Kaplan, attorney and civil service authority, as to its implications for the administration of the Fire and Police Departments, and obtained from him today:

In his study, Mr. Kaplan found that:

1. As the validation of the appointment of 25 Fire Captains as "Acting Battalion Chiefs", this appointment is illegal. For validation of the appointment of 25 Lieutenants to Captain from the recently expired list, the Personnel Director pursuant to the Terms and Conditions of the 1943-44 Examinations, revised the budget lines for the purpose of the number of Battalion Chiefs by the establishment of new places of "Acting Battalion Chief" positions, with approval by the Budget Director and Personnel Committee. These new places of "Acting Battalion Chief" were thereafter designated as "Acting Battalion Chiefs" with continuing pay as Captains. This procedure is available to the City officials, created so many "vacancies" in the rank of Captain.

2. The next step was to appoint a Captain to the vacant position for Captain. This position is actually paid for the $5,000 a year post of the "Acting Battalion Chief".

POLICE CALLS

Questions on Promised Legislation Planned for Next PBA Meeting

Members of the Patrolmen's Enforcement Association, especially delegates who are lined up on the anti-Pat Harnedy side of the room, were preparing today to make the August 17 PBA meeting a real test of the firmness with which it will stand on the road against the need for “an informed and efficient membership” in any way being passed around among the delegates.

One change favored by many is to vote on policy-making matters by a secret ballot of the entire membership. In the past, about the only ballot that a member could be given was to be given the opportunity to sign a petition which had been drafted by the whole of the delegates of the PBA. Many of the PBA delegates are said to work within the organization’s affairs.

Notice of Appeal Filed in Firemen’s Suit

The NYC Firemen are continuing their court battle for overtime pay. Despite their setback in the Supreme Court, it was learned yesterday that David Sargent, administrator of the John C. Prentice, president of the Firemen’s Protective Association, and for Fireman John pizzas, in whose name the suit was brought, has served notice of appeal which will be filed.

It is expected that the appeal will come before the Appellate Division later this Fall.

RECONVERSION, the biggest domestic problem, after the war, is to shape an over-all program to handle the war surplus and to secure the necessary growth of our nation's economy. The problem is not an easy one, and will be made even more difficult by the shrinking of a responsibility, because it postpones for two months action on vital economic measures. The recession will be voted before Congress, and whenever the atomic bomb, as it is now, will not be set aside.

Corporations with post-war plans for hundreds of millions in dollars of creation of Government contracts. Both the Federal and the executive branches of Government must set an unparalleled example of teamwork to accomplish the admittedly difficult, but by no means impossible, result of enough jobs at good wages, to go around.

Grant Opening Impends

The fact that examinations for Patrolman (P.D.), Fireman (F.D.), and Junior Civil Service employees by NYC once a year indicates that the Civil Service Commission is in for a hard winter. It also shows what many have ever been doing, whatever the reasons for postwar unemployment, the need for supplying lists from which recruitment can be made. The increasing number of army discharges, the beginning of cutbacks in private industry and Federal Government and the signs of early relaxation of manpower controls, will support the argument in favor of holding the examinations, especially in view of the Japanese situation.

The Municipal Civil Service Commission will also be provided for men still in the armed forces. The discharges will continue certainly for months, possibly for years. It is necessary to comply with the requirement to reserve opportunities for service men and women who will be discharged in the future. The two considerations are not mutually exclusive.

The new examinations, to fill exhausted lists, and renewable for three, four, even five years, will lift interest in NYC and State civil service jobs. The candidate base will be widened generally and the quality of recruitment increased. The two considerations are not mutually exclusive.

When State Social Welfare Commission recently appointed Lee C. Dowling, President of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, to the position of Commissioner, he explained, "because I'm not too hard way—to learn what is sec-the act of the Maintenance Department, to carry on the work of the State Department of Welfare. The act of the Maintenance Department will be in effect, just as the minimum was paid at least 20 cents an hour. The difference in the salary, to keep up to just below the eye level.

The State Personnel Council is to make complaints that are personal with the commission, otherwise complaints, too, not too much, but to the employees benefited, also headed.

TOM: Why is that egg so hard-boiled?

SHERI: Because they're in hot water so much of the time.

Veteran organizations, while appreciating the fact that NYC granted preferences to 15 out of 100 veterans, where many-manager, have made it clear that veterans won't want 10, but 18.

The new program plan in the NYC Department of Welfare looks all right, but what about the way in which the men, who are working, whose wages have been cut, have to work?" That is the plan that promotes everybody, and often.

5-Day Week Issue Dead
But Have Blissful Days

ALBANY, Aug. 14.—The five-day week is a dead issue.

The Civil Service Retirement Board, which had no depart dments, other than the three which had already inaugu rated a five-day week, contemplated a work-week, contemplating on the shorter period.

The memorandum of J. Edward Conway, President of the Com mittee, having been referred by the Governor to the Board, effectively put the brakes upon the movement, the Board would probably put the schedule into effect.

Reasons for Protections

The memorandum of the Board referred to employees from outside the Civil Service Retirement Board, which has not been favored in the same manner as the shorter period.

Conflict of Rulings Held Menace to Jobs for Vets

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 14—Employers are out on a limb because of conflict in the nationally-applicable rulings on the rehiring of dischargees from the armed forces, Col. James S. Erwin said today. He is president of the Tri-State Industrial Association.

"The director of Selective Service and the Department of Labor each have issued diametrically opposed interpretations of the act that provides for the re-employment of discharged veterans. This situation is bad enough for both the veterans and the wartime worker, but it is intolerable for the employer. No matter what he does in a disputed case he may be taken before the War Labor Board or the courts and charged with violating either a contract or the Selective Service Act.

"Section 8 of the Selective Service Act provides that the veteran must be restored to his old position or to a position of like seniority, status and pay, if he meets certain conditions as having been honorably discharged and applies for his job within ninety days, and it is humanly possible for his employer to rehire him.

"An employer cannot, without just cause, discharge such an employee within one year. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service Director, has ruled that it means just that, absolute restoration to a job without regard to relative seniority. Retention Preference

"However, the Department of Labor has said this provision of the act merely guarantees the veteran his place on the seniority list of the company where he formerly worked, with accrued seniority credit for time spent in the armed forces, but does not guarantee a job if it means letting out a worker with greater seniority.

"Furthermore, the Department of Labor contends a veteran once reinstated in his job is to be given no preferential treatment in respect to layoffs or anything else makes it necessary to release him."

You can afford accident insurance with Allstate. It's a money-saving way to protect yourself and your family. And you can afford it because Allstate policyholders have saved so much in dividends. When you have been with us five consecutive years, you can have your policy reinstated without incurring any extra premiums. And you can afford it because Allstate policyholders are paying for an insurance policy on a basis that is designed to provide the greatest amount of protection at the least possible cost.

How Veterans Should Protect Insurance

State employees returning from military duty to active State Civil Service, may need their Group Life Insurance Policy, obtained through the Association of State Civil Service Employees, which was in force when they entered military service, reinstalled without medical examination.

All that is necessary is to make application to the Association within 90 days of return to State service.

Any New York State employee who is out of the service, and in a new job, may apply for reinstatement of the policy at any time, at his or her present salary, without any new medical examination.

Recruitment Ends For These Jobs

The following is listing to be published in the Classified Section of the New York Times, for which the circulation is 1,500,000 copies.

The State Civil Service Commission has already prepared its list of the duration of the period, and is ready to announce those who are entitled to the benefits of any of the positions advertised. The following positions have been notified to the Commission:

Under Secretary, Offices of the Attorney General, New York City.

Farm Foreman, Employment Service, New York City.

George C. Goodfellow, New York.

The positions are filled on a competitive basis, and the Commission is prepared to issue certificates to those who are eligible.

General Instructions

All positions are filled on a competitive basis, and the Commission is prepared to issue certificates to those who are eligible.

On the more cheerful side of the picture — from the Federal Governement point of view — is the fact that the creation of hostilities doesn’t mean an immediate heavy slash in the Federal employment rolls. Some of the war services will continue for many months; some, such as the Veteran Administration, will continue long into the post-war era along its present lines.

Some of the civil-service positions will be increased, while the number of those who have completed a period of non-competitive employment for their military training will be reduced by the end of the war.

Many Veterans' Service Employees will have little to look forward to in the months ahead. One hopes for them the industry that now supports the transition period to a new life.

One question on the minds of many veterans is: "What will happen to me when the Federal Government goes back to peace-time employment?" The answer of the Commission is: "We will see to it that your opportunities are not limited.

The STATE

A fairly large number of State employees are now in the military services and may be unable to return to their jobs until the end of the war. However, it is hoped that in the near future there will be an immediate release from all State employment, and the State government will mean immediate. These are the employees who now hold positions in various appointments.

The number varies from State to State, and the State is unable to secure the necessary personnel. The State government is unable to secure the necessary personnel.

Scholarships Offered by the Forces

The U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps is seeking 60,000 more student nurses. Of these, 30,000 are required to make up shortfalls in schools that train nurses to the maximum of their capacity, and the Corps offers all-expense scholarships for women between the ages of 18 and 35 who want to prepare for the profession. Cadet Nurses enrolled 90 days before the formal end of the war may complete their education under these scholarships. Address the Federal Security Agency, U. S. Department of Labor, 215 Public Service Building, Washington, D. C., to which corpsmen are transferred for training.

YOU, TOO, CAN SERVE IN THE DEFENSE FORCES

If You Are 36 to 45 Years Old, 17 Years Old or Draft Deferred

THE NEW YORK GUARD NEEDS MEN

As more and more Federal troops are sent out of the United States and those remaining are being trained for overseas service, the State Guards of the various States become of greater and greater importance. They are the first line of interior defense against any disaster, be it man-made or an act of nature.

The New York Guard has already supplied the Federal armed services with innumerable officers and large numbers of men who have been trained to speak and understand the military language. It is a proven fact that members of the Guard on entering the Federal service reach non-commissioned and commissioned grade much faster than any other.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, by recent legislation, has decreed that members of the New York Guard employed by State agencies or municipalities will lose no pay or vacation time because of time spent in the service of the State through the Guard up to thirty days a year. It is the earnest desire that all employers within the State voluntarily adopt such a ruling.

It is understood that there are some 300,000 civil service employees in the New York State area. It is earnestly hoped that that great force will supply the Guard with a substantial number of members.

Army's 'Maximum Assistance' Policy Puts It First
In Giving Civilian Jobs to Veterans

The Army is putting in a major move for the welfare of those veterans who seek employment. The program is called the "maximum assistance" policy, and it has been applied in the War Department to veterans employed in the military service, and to speed the hiring of veterans who want civilian jobs in that department.

The program is designed to provide maximum assistance to veterans in finding jobs, including those who have been discharged from the military service. The program includes the following:

1. The War Department will cooperate with the Civil Service Commission to ensure that veterans who are eligible for federal jobs are given priority.
2. Veterans will be given preference in hiring for civilian jobs with the War Department.
3. The War Department will assist veterans in obtaining employment training and education.
4. Veterans who have been discharged from the military service will be given priority in hiring for civilian jobs.

The program is being implemented by the War Department's Division of Civilian Personnel, Second Service Command, the office responsible for employment policy within the department.

The policy is being carried out through a combination of voluntary and mandatory procedures. Veterans who are eligible for federal jobs will be given priority in hiring for those positions. Veterans who are not eligible for federal jobs will be given priority in hiring for civilian jobs with the War Department.

The program is expected to increase the employment of veterans in both the military and civilian sectors. The War Department is committed to providing maximum assistance to veterans in finding jobs.
