Promotional opportunities for thousands of New York City employees are tied up because of a dispute between the City Labor Director, Thomas J. Patterson, and the Municipal Civil Service Commissioners.

The Budget Bureau wants a two-year-experience requirement for all municipal promotion examinations. The Commissioners want to retain the 1-2-3 year eligibility in the clerical service, according to the members of the respective bodies. The meeting of the Executive Committee of the Association of State Civil Service Employees, which will aid in streamlining the process of building toward this goal. Meanwhile, records of the Commission have generally required one year's service.

While extra eligibles were certified, it was expected the usual pull of making promotions down the list would be followed. Here are the names certified:

Downey Backs Pay Rise to Aton for Loss of Overtime

By CHARLES SYLJAN
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Another Federal pay raise, to compensate for less overtime earnings of Federal workers because of the 40-hour week to begin Oct. 1, had been recommended by Senator Sheridan Downey (Dem., N. Y.)

He has pledged his support to any measure which would fully compensate Federal employees for lost overtime pay, as it would, he believes, help to keep Federal employees within the Government.

More Leisure, Less Money

If the recommendation of Senator Downey is accepted, Federal employees would receive an increase in pay, but the ultimate effect would be to reduce overtime pay. The new pay scale would bring about a decrease in the number of Federal hours worked, and would thus reduce the number of Federal employees.

More leisure time would be provided, but the amount of money received would be less. The new pay scale would provide for a reduction in the number of Federal hours worked, and would thus reduce the amount of money received.

V. A. Day by Day

Staffs at 346 Broadway, NYC, have been talking about Chief Her- bert Gifford who left for the Army last week. As Chief, Mr. Gifford will return to the Chief to feeling important.

Chief Joyce and Chief Paul are very busy these days for a new job. Frank J. Hoesch, Chief of Police, is still coming back.

Leaders Join in Demand for Unemployment Pay

By HEL MILLER
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Approval of unemployment legislation by President Truman in the form of a $100 per week for those who are now employed in Federal services, was reported on the Senate Finance Committee.

Speaker of the House said the measure would place its employees in a better position than the Senate Finance Committee.

Truman Asks終

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Another Federal pay raise, to compensate for losses in overtime pay, is advocated by the Civil Service Commission.

It is advocated that the Administration should be encouraged to adopt a 40-hour work week, which would result in a reduction in the work week from 48 and 44 hours a week to 40 hours a week.

The Civil Service Commission warns that if the Administration does not act, it will not be able to adopt a 40-hour work week, which would result in a reduction in the work week from 48 and 44 hours a week to 40 hours a week.

Waste No Sudden Step

In a letter to the President of the United States, the President of the American Federation of Government Employees, the President of the American Federation of Labor, and the President of the American Federation of Teachers, the Secretary of Labor, said: "Your attention is particularly called to the statement of the Department of Labor that the broad base of insurance, power on which the existing unemployment and work-time statutes rest has not been terminated in the interest of the public welfare."

Another group of statutes which have been made effective in 'time of war,' during the present war, will be made generally effective and will now be made applicable by appropriate government action.

Fire Commissioner Patrick Walsh said today that he was happy to announce that the first step towards restoring the 3-Platoon system in the Fire Department had been taken, beginning next Monday, September 11, 1945.

The move, which is expected to result in a reduction of working hours for some 75% of the Fire Department, is the first step towards the resumption of the 3-Platoon system throughout the department.

Junior Officers

"There are sufficient junior officers in the Fire Department to have a 3-Platoon system. The captains and associate captains will be the nucleus of the 3-Platoon system. All captains and associate captains have already been notified and have been instructed to proceed with this direction. Because of this, I have decided to request the approval of the Board of Police Commissioners and the city council to start the 3-Platoon System in the Fire Department. This will result in a reduction of working hours for some 75% of the Fire Department."

I am happy to announce that the order is effective September 15.

The Lieutenant Captains and officers have been instructed to proceed with this direction. Because of this, I have decided to request the approval of the Board of Police Commissioners and the city council to start the 3-Platoon System in the Fire Department. This will result in a reduction of working hours for some 75% of the Fire Department.

Platoon System

The Uniformed Fire Officers Association, one short year ago, took the first initiative in opposing the Fire Department's 84-hour week. Now the association has moved to a 58.8-hour week.

The move was made to restore the 3-Platoon system, much to my personal regret, I had to revert to the 2-Platoon system. The 2-Platoon system is under the 2-Platoon System.

The principles laid down at the outset: complete unity, representation of all employees, and the development of employee relations. Would be a full one, even for an old soldier like me.

Insurers were introduced in the City of New York in 1945.

The program of activities consisted of the following:

1. Pointed out that it is hazardous to allow the courts to construe the law of Pennsylvania. The Pennsylvania Supreme Court has held that the city of New York is not bound by the Pennsylvania law.

2. Working out a new schedule whereby the firemen may work 84 hours a week.

3. Advising its members in April that the board of police commissioners had not accepted the examinations as submitted. The examinations were a general improvement, that would be somewhat greater than the present conditions of the 2-Platoon System.

4. Questioned the right of the police commissioner to order an extra duty period for the firemen. The police commissioner must be assisted in this by the city council.

5. Determined to bring this about. The other joint union will hold its next regular meeting on Thursday, September 15, 1945, at 8 p.m. at the Terminal Restaurant, 47 Vesey Street, Manhattan.

6. Questioned the right of the police commissioner to order an extra duty period for the firemen. The police commissioner must be assisted in this by the city council.

The order is effective September 15, 1945.

ESTIMATE BOARD SHOULD BACK THE COUNCIL'S INCREMENT BILLS

The Board of Estimate should approve the bill passed by the Council to provide a minimum of $150 a year in increments for city employees getting more than $1,800 a year. The Board should also vote for the bill to be on the ballot in the next municipal election. The Council passed the bill on July 24, when the mayor was on the other side of the river. The mayor has yet to see the bill, and the only votes on it have come from the councilmen. The mayor's position will be decided after the Board of Estimate votes on the bill. This week, the mayor will be in Washington and the councilmen are meeting in New York City. A vote by the Board of Estimate is possible this week. The mayor's vote will be the deciding factor.

What Patterson Will Report

The Budget Director will report on the immediate and ultimate cost of the proposed extension of increments to employees in higher brackets. The final cost will not be discussed in detail until the Board of Estimate has met, but the figure will be presented in the near future.

The principle of increments is to be continued, although the Board of Estimate may see fit to modify it. The principle of increments has been in effect in New York City for many years and has been a great success. The Board of Estimate will discuss the principle in detail and may make some changes.

The final vote is certain

The bill may now go to the Board of Estimate this week, but the principle it involves is sound and the benefits it extends are extended. An employee pool can claim what is due to him without waiting for the Board of Estimate to act. The Board of Estimate cannot override the power of the Board of Estimate to grant increments.

Final Victory Is Certain

The Board of Estimate will not pass the bill to grant increments. The Board of Estimate is not a legislative body and cannot override the power of the Board of Estimate to grant increments. The Board of Estimate has no power to grant increments. The Board of Estimate cannot override the power of the Board of Estimate to grant increments.

McDonough and Aides To Visit Agencies of State in Week's Trip

State Assn. Executive Sift Plans

President, The Association of State Civil Service Employees

MERIT SYSTEM FOR NEW AND OLD

STATE employees have by no means stood still during the war period. Actual expansion has occurred through the creation of a new Department of State government—The Department of Commerce, the reorganization and expansion of some existing departments, the establishment of the Labor School at Cornell University, the addition of veterans and facilities, increased activity of the Civil Service Department and the creation of the Division of Salary Standardization and Personnel Council within that Department. All of these promise increased accomplishment. Many employees in all classes of service have worked strenuously to maintain the old and build worthy new services.

It is vital to continue progress along every path of State endeavor that the principles of the merit system be observed and that civil employees be recruited on the basis of merit and fitness attained through competitive examinations. New and reorganized agencies as well as established agencies are required by the Constitution to adhere to the merit system of recruitment and promotion of personnel.

This chapter enters the report for the Association’s special services provided by the Association’s history.

The answers are:

1—If the examination were taken before the bill is voted upon and the provisions of the bill affect the examination list?
2—If any veteran is qualified for a position, let him take the examination.
3—If the examination were taken before the bill is voted upon and the provisions of the bill affect the examination list?

The lack of eligible lists, the existence of various temporary rules covering appointments for the duration of the war, and a building of jurisdictional classification case pending over a number of years and involving such large groups places more responsibility on the Civil Service employees who have not prevailed, and a very large number of positions here and there throughout the service which obviously should be in the competitive class, are cumulative instances that need attention. The need offers exceptional opportunities for a very broad and thorough application of merit system principles to the civil service of the state with consequent improvement of the services to the people. The task, therefore, is a happy challenge to personnel administration.

ELIGIBLE LISTS AND VETERANS’ PREFERENCES

Some recent questions received from members direct attention to the fact that the preference to all veterans in promotion and open-competitive eligible lists, as provided in the Dowrey-Sherman constitutional amendment proposal which did not carry in the election, must be given to all veterans and their dependents.

The Association has been called upon by both the Dowrey-Sherman constitutional proposal and the Downey-Sherman constitutional proposal. They receive many letters asking for an answer to these questions and their answers are:

1—The Dowrey-Sherman proposal, presenting an amendment to the Constitution to adhere to the merit plan of recruitment and promotion from existing eligible lists, will, if approved by the people of the State, apply to all State service employees present and those who may be employed in the future.

2—If an examination were taken before the bill is voted upon and the provisions of the bill affect the examination list?
3—If a veteran is qualified for a position, let him take the examination.

VETERANS UNDERSTAND FALLACY OF PREFERENCE

Mr. Steven Dowrey, a veteran of the Spanish-American War, has never asked for or received any preference and I am a State employee.

The Bill is the product of the First World War and he has never asked for any preference.

The task, therefore, is a happy challenge to personnel administration.

The GREATEST manufacturing city in America is
NEW YORK

We’ve dressed
the Army & Navy

Now
we’ll dress the world

...and every “dress” means more opportunity for New Yorkers!

Before the war, more than 250,000 people earned their living here in apparel industries!
But that alone wouldn’t justify our headline.

New York is a printing and publishing center,
a paper products center, a paint-and-varnish center, a food processing center—just to mention a few industries. In New York’s 27,000 plants are turned out everything from A-brasives to Z-ippers... From A-conditions to Z-inc Alloys.

Returning servicemen will look primarily to business for jobs. The very variety of New York’s manufacturing is the best promise of industrial health... more and more jobs at good pay.

Add to this a pent-up demand for goods;
business with ambitious plans for postwar expansion... and (under alert private management) an abundance of dependable electric power to carry out those plans.

* Local plants recently surveyed tell us they expect to employ 37% more people than they did before the war.
Trained Personnel Are Wanted by Employers

Experts in the field of personnel placement advise that now more than ever, the call of private industry and government services is for trained workers. Many persons now have a chance to study for a new or better job.

Future war workers are advised to invest some of their wartime savings to provide for a more peaceful future. The former GI or Joe or Jane can study under the GI Bill of Rights. High School students who have been in war work are advised to go back in the classroom in the interests of their country.

Many fields today have openings for trained workers. Doctors and hospitals need skilled x-ray and laboratory Technician-Technologist offers many good openings.

The fields of radio and electronics offer many jobs to former war workers and ex-Signal Corps communications experts.

Wanted by Employers

"The reason for this," Mr. O'Brien stated, "is that young men and women, who have been employed in important positions in industry, government, and in the armed forces, are now available for training.

"However," he added, "it is significant to remember that training in many fields is an inevitable result of post-war reconstruction. In the near end of the war, utilization of this trained labor for essential purposes will qualify them for permanent employment. The rehabilitation program that has been followed by veterans of World War II is a relaxation of performance standards in the fields of personal service may be overshadowed by the increased interest in training as new jobs become available for former war workers."

"The demand for trained workers is tremendous. This," he concluded, "is a greater stimulus than ever before; and that is why, I believe, increasing numbers of young people, returning veterans, and former war workers are doing their part to avail themselves of specialized, individualized training in the hope of gaining jobs in their particular interest now, as well as in the future."

Business Schools Report Larger Fall Enrolment

Business schools in this area are reporting greater numbers of inquiries and registrations for day and evening training this fall than during any period since the war, according to a recent statement by T. O. O'Brien, Inc., President, Drake Business Schools.

The latest O'Brien survey showed that the general objective of wanting a job or better job or course in the professions in those same fields are always competitive. That is why, in any period, the rank of the unemployed in large proportion, is the result of co-related unemployment. People realize this," he concluded, "is a greater stimulus than ever before; and that is why, I believe, increasing numbers of young people, returning veterans, and former war workers are doing their part to avail themselves of specialized, individualized training in the hope of gaining jobs in their particular interest now, as well as in the future."

Vets' Pension Rights
In U.S. Jobs Explained

A very valuable and timely explanation of the retirement rights of Federal employees on military furlough was made recently by Lewis E. Pfeffer, former retirement Division, U. S. Civil Service Commission, Mr. Pfeffer said:

"There is no provision of law which limits the allowance of service credit in cases of military furlough to six months in every calendar year. Military service is creditable for retirement purposes, but made no headway with G.O.P. Republican leaders say that Herlands is not the man for a winning job in politics, is no likely founder. With department commissioners have his ear these days Tresca, the anti-Fascist editor, probably never expected that the sky could exercise a third option, that he might find himself in a world of Black Magicians who inhabit those mysterious reaches of the non-magical universe. While the material alchemy, the layman is beginning to realize that he may be studied and compared by the engineer, the physicist, the mathematician or the mathematician reigns but made no headway with G.O.P.
