STATE PUBLIC WORKS TREBLING ITS STAFF

ALBANY, Sept. 15—Commissioner Charles H. Solla, State Superintendent of Public Works, said today that it was "immediately necessary" for the department to increase its personnel, to effectuate the post-war program.

The rights to promotion differ in all departments, is protected, and the employee must be added to the personnel department. The process of these three basic processes has never been encountered before; as never been required to do and a widespread expansion contemplated in the department. Luckily, the department will be tripled in size.

Deputy Collectors Wanted; Treasury Openings Grow

Forty-seven hundred applicants are wanted right away for filling three titles in the Federal service. Zone Deputy Collectors at $2,320 call for 800 of these applicants, and Training Officer, Veterans Administration, for 500.

Cut-off Rule Limits U.S. Job Applicants

To speed up recruiting, and staff keep aboard the large Commission is adopting a "cut-off" rule. That means that future examinations will be advertised a limited number of applicants. For example, the recent announcement for Special Agent, Treasury Department, stated that only 2,800 applications would be received and only by mail. From the 2,800 applicants, about 800 appointments are expected.

The uppermost question among U.S. federal employees today is the order of retention in service, in those their layoffs are ordered.

The order of retention is established by the Federal Civil Service Commission, except as to statutory provisions for retention, and in the Commission's regulations those matters are made, the statutes and the regulations are applied.

The Commission has established a comprehensive pattern for retention—employees, non-veteran war service, and veterans, and spread

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Orders to the New York Navy Yard call for a 10 percent reduction in force, to be completed by Oct. 1. However, New York Navy Yard officials have said that normal turnover will make up most of the reduction. It is expected that Federal reductions-in-force formulas will be followed, with non-veteran war service employees being the first to go.

Walsh Backs Holding Fireman Test Soon, Cites Date Next January

Fire Commissioner Patrick Walsh came out today squarely in favor of holding the open-competition examination for Firemen (F.D.) as soon as possible.

"The Municipal Civil Service Commission can not hold the examination too soon," said Commissioner Walsh. "If we wait six weeks, 1,500 new entrants than can be obtained from the list of men in the armed forces who passed the mental test in the last examination."

"While the Civil Service Commission is working on the proposed examination, they are looking toward establishing the official notice of examination about the first of next year."

Harry W. Marsh, President of the Firemen's Association, said that the Commission had promised the members of the Association that a new test would be held prior to the publication of the official notice of examination when they would have to be held prior to the publication of the official notice of examination.

A great deal of public interest has been shown in this examination, and a large number of the candidates have applied for the examination. Many of those who are applying have not taken the examination, and they are not being discharged.

The examination will be held on Monday, March 7, at 8 a.m., and will extend until 12 noon. The examination will be held in the Firemen's Association hall, 101 W. 42nd St., Manhattan.

The advertisement was approved on July 31, 1941, Tentative key answers to the written test were last issued on January 9. The final answer papers were printed in the post office.

The announcement of the results will be made on the last Friday of the month, and the names of the successful candidates will be announced. The names of all successful candidates will be published in the New York City Fire Department Journal and in the Fire Department's weekly newspaper, the "Fireman."
The Municipal Civil Service Commission, which administers the NYC Civil Service System, has approved a plan to promote 80 inspectors to higher positions within the Department of Buildings. This decision follows a series of hearings and investigations that concluded in the approval of a comprehensive plan for the improvement of the city's construction inspectors.

The 80 inspectors, who are currently employed by the Department of Buildings, will be promoted to various positions, including supervisors, senior maintainers, and special military lists. This promotion is part of the commission's ongoing efforts to enhance the quality and effectiveness of the city's building inspection and enforcement services.

The promotion of these inspectors is expected to improve the overall efficiency and productivity of the Department of Buildings, as well as to strengthen the city's efforts to ensure compliance with building codes and regulations. The commission has taken into account the qualifications and experience of each inspector, as well as the needs of the department, in making these promotions.

The new positions will come with increased responsibilities and greater authority, allowing the inspectors to play a more significant role in the inspection and enforcement of building codes. The commission is committed to providing the necessary support and resources to enable these inspectors to perform their duties effectively.

The promotion of these inspectors is part of a broader strategy to improve the quality of the city's building inspection services. The commission is continuously evaluating and updating its policies and procedures to ensure that the department is meeting the needs of the city and its residents.

In conclusion, the promotion of 80 inspectors to higher positions within the Department of Buildings is a positive development that will enhance the effectiveness of the city's building inspection services. The commission is committed to providing the necessary support and resources to enable these inspectors to perform their duties effectively, and to ensure that the city's buildings are safe and compliant with all regulations.

WELFARE, PROMOTION OF,
NYC Civil Service Board
Should Assert Its Authority

The people of the City of New York are being treated as if they don't have the right to a job or to the welfare of their families. This is the implication, to the Mayor. That situation arises in the dispute over qualifications to be required of a candidate in promotion examinations, particularly as to the minimum length of service in a grade. Neither the Mayor nor his Budget Director can cite any law that confers rating authority upon them. The only putative support that they can find for their actions is of a fiscal nature, that the civil service examiners are to be maintained. The Mayor and his Budget Director must hold upon examinations, whether for entrance into the city service or for promotion, be converted into an unwelcome imposition on the taxpayers.

A Continuing Flaw

The identities of the members of the commission as that body is now constituted are not important, because the authority is a cumbersome device, the word civil in its title was two-thirds different than it is now. The public's concern is for the future, the quality of service over the coming years. If there are more changes than three months there will be a new administration, and one that, it is hoped, will be more sensitive to the distinctions of authority of members appointed by the governor, to the maintaining of law and respectful precedent. But within that brief period, the civil service will become worse. Unless action is taken promptly, the new administration will hand the position of abdication of one of their primary functions by the Mayor, their duty under the statute not to enter into the law and respectable precedent. They are civil service commissioners. Temporizing with rules on right to transfer, as I noticed in the dark.

War Service Layoffs

DO war service appointees have the privilege of participation in partisan politics? Are war service appointees, veterans, discharged before the period of separation. Acceptance of employment in an agency other than the one in which the employee was previously engaged will break the chain of reemployment and cause the employee to be laid off by the new agency. The layoff of such an employee who has been new, never had a mark of discharge in his actual or impending separation from active duty, and who is not to be reassigned to a position of like or less grade under the option of a Civil Service Examinations Board. The layoff of such an employee will break the chain of reemployment and cause the employee to be laid off by the new agency.

Selection of Delegates By Employees Urged As Salary Board Rule

By GORDON B. CARLILE, Harlem Valley State Hospital

ABSENT any law as a basis for the Civil Service Administration and the Feld-Hamilton Career Law is no exception. Administrators of the Board of Civil Service are left to fill a void in the field of personnel relations.

Some imperfections exist that could be corrected. For instance, employees should be allowed to elect their own representative to sit on the Salary Board as appointed.

The board must be properly guided by job factors and not by the pecuniary interests of the employee.

Some means should be found to stimulate ideas from the employees on how to improve the State Service. Recommendations could be made of the Board with respect to the Service Rating Record to be used in upgrading the employee's temporary or special bonus. This would help to maintain the interest of the employee in the personnel field.

Employees should be given a voice to the extent that allows them to express ideas to the Board. This would be a factor in the personnel field.

As Salary Board Rule

The first question is handled by the Salary Classification Board. It is a matter of salaries and titles ascribed proper job titles

How much is the work worth? Which job is it worth? The first question is handled by the Salary Classification Board. It is a matter of salaries and titles ascribed proper job titles

Human Factor Applied

The second question is clarified by the Salary Standardization Board. The question is: "What will be the amount of the increase to employees in the State's Service?" The Board will examine the entire salary schedule, adjust it to the current market value.

Stronger Merit System

Since the law went into effect, promotions have been made on a merit basis. The merit system has a future. It is the only way to improve the services of the State.

CIVIL SERVICE LEADER

You are a partner in a business employing 190,000 workers

These workers perform indispensable services. They:

- educate you young;
- care for the physically and mentally ill;
- provide for the homeless, dependent, delinquent and aged;
- protect you and your property, often at the risk of their lives;
- inspect your food and operate your water system;
- clean your streets and control sanitation;
- educate consumers; staff our libraries;
- run our transportation systems; regulate traffic;
- inspect the buildings in which we live and work;
- supervise our parks and playgrounds;

They, in short, control the environment in which we shape our lives.

Many of these employees of the city are shamefully underpaid. 28,000 receive a base pay of from $960 to $1500 a year, another 27,000 between $1501 and $2000. The average for these 55,000 workers is only $1240.

After tax and pension deductions and many voluntary and involuntary "contributions", the take-home pay of thousands of heads of families is less than what the Department of Welfare allows a needy family of four.

The LIBERAL PARTY POINTS THE WAY

1. Develop adequate machinery for the adjustment of grievances, collective negotiation, and a real merit system.

2. Establish a minimum entrance salary in the city employment of $1500 a year.

3. Include present war-time bonus as a permanent part of the basic pay of all city workers.

Merchant Marine Officer Jobs Open; Plants Seek Inexperienced Workers

Veterans of any age have an opportunity to become seamen in the Merchant Marine, and all applicants, veterans or otherwise, are welcome to apply for commissions as Trainee Machine Operators.

Opportunities were among the many made public today by the War Manpower Commission. All information contained in the war current was supplied by the Commission. Jobs in private industry, such as in plants manufacturing war supplies, where there is a demand for trained men, are available for veterans.

Apprentice Seamen

Apprentice seamen aged 17 and 18, will be trained for service in the American Merchant Marine. The training period lasts from 18 months to 2 years. Upon successful completion of the training period, the applicant will receive a certificate as an ordinary seaman or a wiper. Men accepted will make an agreement to seek employment for one year on vessels of the Merchant Marine after completion of the training period.

Those under 27 years of age with exceptional background will have the opportunity to compete for admission to the Officers' Trainee for machine operation, are included. There are openings for disabled veterans and non-disabled veterans who will be accepted will make an agreement to seek employment for one year on vessels of the Merchant Marine after completion of the training period.

Men and women help in light factory jobs, such as assembling parts, packing, and inspection work, are needed in the Queens, Brooklyn and Long Island plants. Wages from 50 to 75 cents an hour. Some firms pay for part-time work.

There is a training period, with possibilities for higher earnings. Employment is immediate.

Ordinary seamen start at $82.50 per month and wipers at $87.50 a month, plus a bonus of 25 per cent to 100 per cent. The Portable Battery Company, 172 Main St., Bridgeport, Conn., will pay $250 for each man who completes the training period.

Women, 18 years of age and over, are needed to pack cosmetics in a L. I. City factory. This is light work, mostly pasting and sticking. The work is for 40, 45 or 50 hours a week, with a starting rate of pay of 55 cents an hour.

Every year thousands of city housewives and secretaries demonstrate the value of their work by specializing in vocational and technical courses. Many of them have been able to make the jump into the so-called white-collar work of the office, by a Jamaica, L. I., instrument plant. No previous experience is needed. The work is for 55 days, 40 hours a day, and the earnings average $350 a month. The training period is four months.

Mrs. Herbert Hutson appears to have been a working mother who made the right decision. She was in charge of Secretarial Unlimited, a company that employs about 150 secretaries, and she is described as a very efficient businesswoman.

Johnston Discusses Jobs for Veterans

"Employment Opportunities in the Federal Government," by John Johnston, President of the National Employment Representatives, was the subject of a luncheon discussion at World War II at 296 Madison Avenue. The meetings of the American Women's Employment Representatives were held in the presence of all women in the metropolitan area.

The meeting was attended by a large number of veterans who have been employed by the government in various capacities. The Veterans Administration of the Department of Labor is one of the few agencies that have been successful in finding employment for veterans.

30-Hour Week Bill Gets OK. of Employee Groups

By CLARENCE FORSHAW

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—Federal workers are intrigued with the proposal of Senator Pat McCarran (Dem., Nev.) that the Federal work week be cut to 30 hours without cutting pay, but were not enthusiastic over the latest appeal for a 30-hour work week.

The immediate object of the bill was to provide relief for wartime Government employees by spreading the work around, rather than hiring more workers rather than to pay higher wages to the existing employees.

Federal worker unions were not elated over the latest appeal for a shorter work week when they were in previous sections of the Federal Government and President Truman's message containing an appeal for a shorter work week.

The Warner Bros. film "Pride of the Marines" which deals with the post-war problems of returning servicemen, holds for another week at the New York Strand Theatre. John Garfield portrays the part of Richard, the real life hero of Grand Rapids. The story of the film is a true one of a returning Marine with a Specials Board. He requisitioned a star, is setting a 1945 War Bond record for the country. On stage the Andrews Sisters and Bing Crosby and his orchestra are the stellar attractions. The latest Deanna Durbin film, "On a Train," is a fast moving comedy mystery, with charming vocalizing from Miss Durbin. The plans for the City's Orchestras.
