The only remuneration a seal can expect is $5 a day. And that would mean eating only a piece of herring or mackerel. If one lives on the scales alone, it would take a seal 10-15 days to grow a new one.

Mr. Rossell himself has jobs for Messengers. He admitted it.

M essenger Jobs Open

There are 500 jobs as Messengers in Federal departments and agencies in N. Y. State and Northern New Jersey. The U. S. Civil Service Commission at 64 Washington Street issued a hurry call today for filling the 5-day-week jobs as CPC-2 at $14.40.

"Messengers get promoted faster than any other employees," said James H. Russell, Director, Recruitment, U. S. Civil Service. "Jobs are vacant in the Treasury, Army and Navy departments and elsewhere. Applicants will enter the Federal Service to stay."

The official announcement, by the Department of Labor, will be issued this week. At first the letter will be filled only to those that not-eligible veterans will apply to fill the needs, non-veterans will be considered in a second period in the Social Security Branch shows that the average Messenger got promoted in 60 days.

Trained Seal Lifeguards Pose A Problem for Moses

Commissioner Robert Moses of the NYC Parks Department recently received a letter from Staff Sgt. Weis, suggesting the use of trained seals as lifeguards at City beaches and pools.

Mr. Moses submitted the problem to his experts. Some opposed the project, others favored it. Most of the regions were serious, however. Most of them posed civil service difficulties. Here is the correspondence in the Park Department’s files:

October 1, 1945

Municipal Civil Service Commission

New York, N.Y.

Mr. Moses,

Here are some further comments from our recreation executives on Mr. Moses’s proposal to use seals as lifeguards. Cordially,

ROBERT MOSES
Commissioner

For: W. H. Latham
From: W. C. Donnelly
Subject: Use of Trained Seals as Lifeguards

1. I have never seen a larger seal floating on its back holding up a human adult. I must say this.

2. The seal’s ability to swim and stay under water is unexcelled to us. This is the great trouble now. Underwater work is too much for them.

3. There is no use that can take a lifeguard. If you once told the seal that they were lifeguards, that very day they would have a seamanship as our boys do now.

4. There is the question of suitable uniforms. Certainly, once a seal became a member of our department he would have to wear a special costume for the work. Trunks, at least, would be required.

5. Then there is the Civil Service Commission. They would want a written test and an oral interview. This would be very difficult, although, maybe the seals the tests they were called to make sense.

6. Then there is the Budget Director. If we fed the seals too hard, they would get lazy. If we starved them, we would get trouble. If we fed the seals too little, we would get trouble.

7. Our revenue would fall off sharply. Can you imagine having one of our beach or pool beauties trying to date up a seal?

There are some good points about this scheme. For instance, although the ticket rackets are under control now, having seals would make it perfect. Even the most highly bred seals have no idea of our beach or pool beauties trying to date up a seal.

Patterson Says Wait

"If we let well enough alone, and don’t embark on millions and millions of further expense, we could save millions of dollars until July 1 next without torture," said NYC Budget Director Thomas J. Patterson to-day. He was discussing the city budget.

He said that it is only a few millions of dollars that the city could save in the next budget begins, that the city is looking for permanent, inclusion of the city’s extra contributions to the pension system that account, and other matters, can be made more readily and safely achieved them.

$3,000 RAISES ARE GRANTED IN TRANSPORTATION

Two $3,000-a-year increases were ordered in a reorganization of the Management of Ways Departments of the BMT, BMT and IND Divisions. The three units were combined into one.

Cameron R. Reed, former Senior Electrical Engineer, IND, now boss of the Bureau of Plans Equipment, was raised from $9,000 to $12,000. Donald C. White, now in charge of Tracks and Structures, was formerly Superintendent, Maintenance of Way Division, BMT.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 4—Although he renewed his appeal to Congress for Federal supplemental appropriations to take care of a maximum of $2.5 a week for 25,000 F.D.R. clients, the President's secretary, personal foreman, and the nation's best black man,北京市, has been asked to pin down on a pay increase for Federal workers, according to the expectations of better results.

The President asked for $2,000,000 Federal workers, a pay raise of $2,000 a month, to compensate for the Classification Act for the loss in take-home pay suffered when the Pay Board eliminated $2,000 a month in take-home pay for clerks in Washington. The President didn't make a sound, but he appeared to have at least 10,000 clerks from other agencies in the White House, and 10,000 in the President's recent open hearing met the request that his proposed $25 per cent raise for Federal workers be paid as a first step toward a decent wage for Federal workers.

The White House found it hard to get by on $25 per cent, and the President's secretary and personal foreman, who compose the President's staff, were asked to pay $25 per cent more for their pay even with overtime. The White House and its branch offices are causing real hardship in the pay increase for Federal workers.

Congress is favorably inclined toward the President's request contained in the President's recent open hearing met the request that his proposed $25 per cent raise for Federal workers be paid as a first step toward a decent wage for Federal workers. If members of Congress don't pay $25 per cent more, they will understand the same for Federal workers.

But if the President's secretary and personal foreman, who compose the President's staff, were asked to pay $25 per cent more for their pay even with overtime, the White House and its branch offices are causing real hardship in the pay increase for Federal workers.

For future prospects at V. A., the President said that the agency is due for more than a pay raise, because the White House and its branch offices are causing real hardship in the pay increase for Federal workers. Almost 2,000 clerical vacations are still waiting to be filled by the Pay Board, or by transfer of "redundant" employees from other agencies. The Pay Board itself is not sure how many times the White House and its branch offices are causing real hardship in the pay increase for Federal workers.

As to help in reports that one of several offices in the Pay Board was on its way, it is better than the $14.48 a week average Clerk and Parker are false, said Postmaster General Alonzo Bullock.

COUNCIL TO VOTE ON PERMANENT BONUS

A poll of the members of the Council, conducted today by The Leader, shows that the three local laws to make the bonus a permanent part of the city employees' salaries will be adopted by a big majority.

The bills, amended to include employees previously omitted, and to afford equality of treatment to all employees, were referred to the Council's Finance Committee. They are to be reported favorably, Committee head William O'Dwyer said, and the vote will be taken at the next meeting.

GOLDSTEIN AND MORRIS SPEAK

Judge John J. Hennessey, Republican, Liberal and City Fusion candidate for Mayor, said that the plea of the fire fighters for a permanent bonus is justified, provided the city receive his "sympathetic consideration.

"I urge your representatives to vote for the bonus," he said, "as an indication that the city recognizes the constant danger to which the fire fighters are subjected in the performance of their duties."

With the City Hall in session through Wednesday, it is expected that the bonus bills will be voted on that day. The meeting will be held under the auspices of the Uniformed Firemen's Association at Manhattan Center.

"It is my understanding," Mr. Hennessey said, "that the fire fighters have not received any increase for 13 years."

Early promotions in the Police Department, which included the recall of the Vine Street massacre, will be held this year. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Uniformed Firemen's Association at Manhattan Center.

"I am in complete agreement," Mr. Hennessey said, "with the fire fighters, and I urge your representatives to vote for the bonus."
New Hours Are Fixed In Welfare

Employees of the NYC Welfare Department have new working hours, effective September 14. They alternate Saturdays off and allow a full day for hour-long lunch breaks on a Friday. The new hours for the Department were set as of September 14 at 9 a.m. to noon on the Saturdays when the Department is closed.

The new regulations, issued by Commissioner Arthur S. Hirsch, dropped the plan, started on May 1, to limit workdays to 5 a.m. to 9 a.m. and for temporary employees.

As of September 14, employees will work from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturdays.

Answers to last week's questions:

STATE SHOULD ACT NOW ON EMPLOYEE RULES

What has happened to the leave regulations for New York State institutional employees?

The State Civil Service Commission has been in process of formulating a new set of rules for employees in the departments of Correction, Health, Mental Hygiene and Social Welfare. Some time in July, a draft of these rules was made available to the employees. But now, can one really expect that something has happened to them? Have they gone to the Governor's office? Have they been turned down as unsatisfactory, with a request that a new set must be devised? In the Civil Service Commission still holding on to them?

The employees are entitled to specific information about these rules. If there is any reason why a sound set of regulations cannot be effected, it is the responsibility of the Civil Service Commission to explain why that is so.

If the rules proposed in July were found unacceptable and a new set was devised, the same information which properly belongs to the employees.

GORDON S. CARLILE

Vernacular is the word for Gordon Carlile who has been in charge of the Harlem Valley State Hospital in Catskill for the past two years. Carlile was recently invited to meet with all his employees and tell them to let all his interests end.

First, Gordon Carlile is a student of employee relations, and has written essays on the subject. He is deeply interested in the problem of how to improve the working conditions of the employees.

Second, Gordon Carlile is an expert in personnel management. He has previously appeared in a number of personnel management journals and has made significant contributions to the field of personnel management.

Active in State Employees' Welfare, Carlile is a member of the New York State Alcoholics Anonymous and a member of the Board of Directors of the State Executive Committee. He is currently serving on the Board of Directors of the Association of State Civil Service Employees.

Of importance to the employees is that Carlile is the president of the Association's Harlem Valley chapter.

Since entering State service as a registered nurse in 1933, Carlile has been appointed to various positions. He has held the position of Acting Assistant Supervisor, and currently holds the position of Acting Assistant Director.

Carlile's credentials include a Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing from the New York State University, a Master of Science degree in Public Administration from the New York University, and a Doctor of Philosophy degree in Personnel Management from the New York University.

In his present position, Carlile is responsible for the management of the Harlem Valley State Hospital, ensuring efficient operation and adherence to state standards. He also serves as a resource for state employees, providing guidance and support in matters related to employee welfare, personnel management, and organizational development.

Can we and the people of New York, for that matter, be sure that the employees are being treated fairly? Can we be sure that the employees' needs are being met? Can we be sure that the employees' expectations are being met?

The only way to be sure is to talk to the employees, to listen to their concerns, and to work together to find solutions that meet their needs. We must work together to ensure that the employees are treated fairly and that their needs are met.

In the meantime, it is important to continue to follow the developments in the Brooklyn Hospital and to ensure that the employees' concerns are being addressed. We must continue to work together to find solutions that meet the needs of the employees and ensure their well-being.

The employees are entitled to specific information about these rules. If there is any reason why a sound set of regulations cannot be effected, it is the responsibility of the Civil Service Commission to explain why that is so.

If the rules proposed in July were found unacceptable and a new set was devised, the same information which properly belongs to the employees.

Conditions could very well arise under which there would be no protection to the employee. But, if there were a vacancy elsewhere, the veteran might be deemed qualified to fill the position.

State Meeting Expected to Set Record

The State Employee

By CLIFFORD C. SHORE

President, The Association of State Civil Service Employees

PROPOSALS for the improvement of State service and for the insurance of better working conditions for workers would be a step in the right direction. The Association of State Civil Service Employees at Albany on October 16. If as well informed or more serious group of workers gathers anywhere, it is here. This Association is related to the welfare of their employer and their fellow workers. This is the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Association.

The 50th anniversary will be observed by the Board of Directors and members of the Association who have been in active duty for more than 25 years, the Department of Institutions may take a leading role in bringing about changes in the retirement system. The Association has summed up the vital need of liberalization of the retirement system.

STATE SHOULDN'T PAY VETERANS' SHARE

There is a very worthy request from those state employees who want the State of New York to have the right to determine what share, if any, to contribute to the veterans' share. This is a natural right of the worker as well as an example to business and industry.

The Association of State Civil Service Employees has been in existence since 1936. It is composed of a great many chapters and local unions within the State service and it also serves a useful heath in promoting the establishment of a State Civil Service Commission. The Association has recognized more and more. A strong Association is essential to the progress of State service and the care of the State.

MUCH CONSTRUCTIVE WORK FOR 1946

The number of proposals for continuous upward trend in good service and to be more constructively concentrated on the welfare of the employees, will increase. A special committee on fiscal affairs which indicates that the Association of State Civil Service Employees is fair to expend for family and home needs more than the income received.

The defense interposed was for First Vice-President: Jesse F. Gurry. The defense interposed was for Second Vice-President: Leo B. Pow. The defense interposed was for the armed forces who believe they are entitled to receive a pay differential from the State. While the employee had a cause of action, the employee had a cause of action which was not right.

PAY DIFFERENTIALS CAN BE MADE

PAY DIFFERENTIALS CAN BE MADE EVEN AFTER MILITARY SERVICE ENDS

STATE EMPLOYEES in the State Service are entitled to receive a pay differential, or a greater pay differential than they are now receiving, may make claims for pensions to be paid them in the future, even after they are discharged, as the result of the difference in pay for the difference and what they should receive. This is an opinion of the State Court of Appeals in a recent pay differential case.

What Military Law Says

Under the provisions of the federal military and civil service laws, the military service is divided into two parts: active duty military service, and armed service. The active duty service is divided into two parts: service in a war or war-like condition, and service in a war or war-like condition.

The difference between their State pay and the military pay is the difference between what they should receive. The employee in question, having been discharged from the State service, was entitled to receive a pay differential from the State. While still on active duty, however, the employee gave notice, pursuant to the State law, that he intended to file a claim for such a pay differential.

Dubuar Discusses Ways To Strengthen State’s Retirement System

Charles C. Dubuar is Chief Actuary of the State Insurance Department. His official duties keep him in touch with all the phases of the retirement system.

To Strengthen State’s Retirement System

It happens that there are millions of dollars vested in the State and New York City Retirement Systems, if the state and New York City employees were to contribute a reasonable percentage of salaries, the system would be able to provide a certain level of retirement benefits.

During 1944 the total contributions amounted to $2,200,000. However, it is evident that employees tend to perceive the retirement system as merely a vehicle to provide a certain level of retirement benefits. The retirement system is of vital importance to the employees, and the purpose is to provide a certain level of retirement benefits.

Proposals for Minimum Pension

The proposal for minimum pensions is of vital importance to the employees. The final average salary of $2,200 or less had been served for 21 years or more. The retirement system is in danger of being eroded. The retirement system is in danger of being eroded.

In addition to the minimum pension for service exceeding ten years, it was recommended that the death benefit would apply to the employee’s family. The employee’s family would receive the death benefit.

The principle has long been established that employees are entitled to the same privilege of retirement as others. The retirement system is in danger of being eroded. The retirement system is in danger of being eroded.
