Promotion Is Widened By Truman

By HAL J. MILLER

WASHINGTON, D. C.— President Truman has announced a liberalization of standards approved by President Roosevelt and issued today (Monday) and today (Tuesday), Albany, N. Y.

The event was the annual meeting of the Association of State Civil Service Employees and the largest organization of public employees in the nation.

The purpose of the convention was to promote the interests of those in the field, to exchange ideas, and to vote a program of objectives, including legislative action, for 1946.

Among the 67 chapters of the state associations, the New York branch was represented. They were prepared to continue their special interest meetings

The urgency of various organizations taking action, and of individual voters making up their minds on how they will vote on the veterans' preference amendment on Nov. 7, is expected to be the main feature of the Civil Service Assembly of the United States and Canada to be held in their ranks, they feel that the pay is unsound, and that instead of a total cessation of living.

Beginning last Saturday, mailers, clerks and writers who were on strike, Saturday, during a 48-hour week, received a day off during the next five working days, and on the next six, to which they were告诉记者. That is the "termination time." President, Uniformed Firemen's Association

Why is it that thousands of non-veterans have received increases in pay, but the Firemen have not had a raise in sixteen years?

Firemen are today, and have been for a long time, working 44 hours per week, without additional pay, permitting them to keep them waiting while break duty, although their discharges are put back on the list for appointment. The Federal Government faces a similar problem and legislation is pending in Congress to meet the situation.

To the Government positions in 17 titles open to non-veterans as well as veterans, the U.S. Civil Service Commission today added three jobs at excellent salaries: Radio Communications Engineer, Draftsman and Draftsman.
Civil Service Board Faces Streamlining

Board Plan Would Aid Thousands

By CHARLES SULLIVAN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16—A plan for streamlining the Civil Service Board would aid thousands of government workers, according to a study made by the Federal Civil Service Commission. This plan, which would result in a reduction of personnel, would be made possible by the Civil Service Board's policy of reinstating permanent workers who had been laid off under reductions in force.

Last week's column told how some workers had been reinstated in jobs without time delays. But there were two sides to every question, it was explained. The Government Service had two sides to every question, it was explained. The Government Service.

One reason why they were reinstated was that they had been certified to hiring registers in the order of their discharge. The other reason was that they had been certified to hiring registers in the order of their discharge. The other reason was that they had been certified to hiring registers in the order of their discharge. Senators Back Pay Rise
If Employees Are Fewer

WASHINGTON—President Truman's proposal to increase the pay of federal employees by 20 per cent was met with approval by the Senate.

The Senate's action followed a request from the President for an increase of 20 per cent in the salaries of all government employees. The President's request was based on the fact that the Department of the Treasury had determined that the cost of living had increased by 20 per cent since 1940. This was the lowest rate of increase in the cost of living since the outbreak of World War II.

The President's request was for an increase in the pay of all government employees, including those in the armed forces. The President said that the increase was necessary to maintain the morale of the armed forces and to provide a fair wage for all workers.

Appointments Delayed To Police and Fire Jobs

New appointments to the NYC Police Department are "in abeyance" according to Police Headquarters.

The Civil Service Commission is reviewing the names of all available firefighters and policemen prior to its 22nd annual examinations. Fourteen men were notified last week that they will make the appointments as soon as they have passed the examination. The newly appointed firemen will make a study of the complaints of the time lost, seriously injured, and firemen who have been killed while serving the department.

Steamfitters employed in nine NYC Departments are organizing to strike if they cannot secure an adjustment of their daily rates. The strikers have been on strike for several days and have not yet won their request. The strikers have been in contact with the city officials and are hoping to reach a settlement before the strike is prolonged.

The National Labor Relations Board has ordered a new class of firefighters to be hired according to the Civil Service Commission's new regulations. The firefighters who are employed in the new class are expected to receive a monthly salary of $100. The firefighters who are employed in the old class are expected to receive a monthly salary of $75.

The police department has received a report that the city police will be required to work four days a week. The police department is currently working five days a week. The police department is working with the city officials to try to secure a reduction in the number of days they are required to work.

UFOA Election Ballots
Should Be in by Nov. 8

GROUP CALLED "MOST VITAL" ORGANIZATION

A high New York City official who has closely observed the work of employing organizations this week remarked that he has never seen a more dedicated group of supervisory employees in the Fire Officers Association.

Prior to its second year of existence, the dynamic Uniformed Fire Officers Association must have members return ballots for the election of a Board of Directors by November 8.

The Executive Board of the UFOA consists of 9 members: Chief Officer, 3 Captains, and 3 Lieutenants. The term of office is for one year. If you have not already returned your ballot to the Executive Board, send it in a mailing envelope.

In a message to the membership, the UFOA, the Editor of the Fireman's Award, urges all members to return their ballots promptly.

According to the Board of Directors, the second election would have to be postponed until 1947. Normally, the President, Vice President, and Secretary are elected to office by the 9 Members of the Board of Directors. Members are eligible for re-election once in order to succeed the current term. An ineligible member is caused by a Board member resigning, retiring, or being pensioned before the term is completed. The current Board consists of 3 full-term members and six in-term members. This was in order to start the current election. A group of supervisory employees known as the Chiefs' Committee voted not to re-elect any of the Board, or the Board, Chief Captain, and one Lieutenant, completing a full term of three years. A Board member elected to a full term of 3 years cannot run for re-election to succeed himself.

A member of the Board who has been elected to an Incomparable Type of hours worked in the Fire Department is one who has saved the citizens of the City money that the Fire Department has never had before. The knowledge that they are not forgotten.

The second election would have to be postponed until 1947.

The second election would have to be postponed until 1947.

Inflation is an ugly word. Even uglier than the word is the reality. The reality means shoddy clothing, poor and insufficient food, impossible credit terms, and high taxes on goods.

We don't want inflation in America. The public employees who work for the State of New York or for the United States or for NYC or for any other municipality in the land, have cause to fear. They have cause to worry about their manner of living or to procure something to protect themselves against inflation. Every public employee knows this from his own experience. He knows how, during the recent war, he was required to take public service enforcement and then came through with such step-down devices as "emergency bonuses" and for once the peak attained by the cost-of-living index.

Experts Say Inflation Is Here Now

Now inflation is a very real possibility in the United States, and the experts are saying so. Sylvia Porter, financial editor of the New York "Journal-American," says: "The fight against inflation is lost. The only question is how high will it go?"

What's to be done about it?

Shall we remain as if inflation never existed and then, when we are caught, we will be hit first? Shall we be so preoccupied with something that's going to happen five years from now, or even two years from now, if the financial seers know what they're talking about, the issue of inflation come up, we will be hit first. What pressure shall we put on the government to be ready to put into effect swiftly those incentives to deal with the reality of the coming inflation.

Every public employee knows this from his own experience. He knows how, during the recent war, he was required to take public service enforcement and then came through with such step-down devices as "emergency bonuses" and for once the peak attained by the cost-of-living index.

TIMELY ADVICE

In an article in the New York Times Magazine of October 7, Susan L. Lowenthal, distinguished student of economics and labor relations, has expressed some points that have become accepted truths in many employers and employees. The application of these truths at this time seems more important now than ever before.

The basic assumption that work and success are inseparable is false in human relations; that training courses be provided to aid in just promotions; a day in court for every individual with a just grievance; and that the employment of supervisors and guards of the worker have an important place, and that labor

Any study of the complex problems confronting labor in industry should impress State leadership with the desirability of exploring and developing every means for sound action in major and minor employment problems within State service now. There is a good background for success.

Of first importance, is the development of a carefully planned, well-executed program of labor relations. Such a program might include: (1) an employee group made up of personnel officers in every department and division; (2) a labor committee made up of employees, well organized in agency, their own association; (3) a State labor board.

It would seem that we have the machinery for just such a job to be done. The State Association, State Division of Public Employment, the various Federal agencies, the Civil Service Commission, the State Personnel Board, and the members of the various trade associations could pool their efforts along many lines.

It is not the function of State employees, well organized in agency to their own association, their own union, to co-operate in labor relations problems; it is the function of State employees who receive permanent appointments to the same position. For: The burden of proving the charge of misconduct is on the employee, unless he is found guilty and removed, he is entitled to a hearing on the charge; and the employee may be removed. The facts that he chose to follow the order of the appropriate Civil Service Commission to discipline him in the discharge of his duties.

As a result, the employee sued for a review of the disciplinary action. The court ruled that the employee was entitled to a hearing, and that the Civil Service Commission had not met the legal requirements for removing him. The employee was, therefore, restored to his position.

The court went on to say that the Administrative Code of the State of New York, specifically provides that "no employee shall be removed from his position without a hearing.

The court further stated that the employee was entitled to a hearing, and that the Civil Service Commission had not met the legal requirements for removing him. The employee was, therefore, restored to his position.

Shore in a Message

Thanks State Employees

ALBANY, Oct. 15—Upon leaving office as President of the Association of State Employees, Clifford C. Shoro issued a message to employees. Mr. Shoro's statement was entitled, "A new day and a new era is dawning."

I am taking the liberty of transmitting this message to you. It was read in the first annual mass meeting of the Professional Employees of the State of New York which I attended on May 19, 1944.

On May 19, 1944, I was chosen by the First Annual Convention of the Professional Employees of the State of New York to serve as your President for another year.

During the past period of a year and four months, I have tried to be of service to the Association. I hope that more such events are planned. Cooperation with Government on such matters as hospitalisation of the disabled has been attained, especially during the war years of 1943 and 1944, the groundwork for which was laid during the three previous discussions during the months preceding that session. Cooperation with the Executive, Administrative and Legislative branches of State Government has been brought to a high level of accomplishment, although much more has been done than can be reported in this statement. Many objectives remain unattained. Some are in the process of satisfactory completion. Some have met with failure. We should approach our problem with more comprehension and understanding in the future. I am convinced that the report of the Nominating Committee, which I may say is not on that list. My Association looks to its executive officer, the Department of Health professional and the personnel of Government as an officer of its executive committee.

And so I extend my sincere thanks to those who have endorsed your president and gave me your support, in order to carry the duties of this high office on in all its activities. Edward Kilmer, president of the College of Forestry, is also heartily welcomed, after being away from us for practically two years. Mr. Shoro has deeply appreciated his interest in its affairs.

Robert W. Johnson was discharged from the Army for practically two years. He has been on a fishing trip recently underwent a major surgical operation.

St. John's L. Schoomfeld and Mrs. Carl Hogan, deputy commissioner, attended the meeting at Gowanda.

Along with Mrs. Ende, R.N., are planning to attend the Nurses' Convention in Decatur, Ill. The Chapter extends best cooperation and the same as is done in the Professional Employees of the State of New York.

STANFORD CHAPTER

Laurence J. Hollister, the newly-appointed Field Representative of the School of Health Service Employees, was the guest at the monthly meeting of the Stanford Chapter, at the Old New York Public Library, Oct. 12.

A special joint meeting of the Stanford and Los Angeles Chapters of the Professional Employees of the State of New York was called to order. As a result, the Stanford Chapter has been formed, with Mrs. M. C. Mary King, chairman, and Miss Betty Hanks, secretary.

An announcement was made of the following proposal to be adopted and presented to the Legislature, the same as is done in the Professional Employees of the State of New York.

Robert W. Pollard, secretary, reported his interest in its affairs.

The employees of the Taxation Department have been accorded the right to a union. The Chapter has endorsed that action.

Clifford C. Shoro, leaving his post as President of the Association of State Employees, has expressed his appreciation to all those who have worked with him to improve the conditions of State employees and those in the Health Department presented his acceptance of remuneration, said that he would remain available for active service in behalf of the workers.

New Group Is Formed to Improved Care of Mental Patients

Suggests Higher Pay for Hospital Workers

A new organization has been formed, lacking backing in high places, which proposes to suggest improvements in mental hospitals. The group, which has taken the name of The People's Committee for Mental Hygiene, has among its active participants State Senator Dwight B. Brown. A statement from the Committee says that Dwight B. Brown, Commissioner of Mental Hygiene, has been invited to attend meetings, study recommendations and work with the Committee and Department.

It is expected that the new organization will shortly announce a number of additional "famous" sponsors. In a first public statement, the Committee has come out for higher pay or parole to attendants. For this reason, and because their interests are closely affected, it has been suggested by offices of the Association of State Civil Service Employees, that employees of the Department watch carefully the direction which the new group will take, and be prepared to act as "matter" and "set it properly."

An additional goal which the group hopes to establish is the establishment of a mental hospital in the city of New York. The group has been formed to establish "hospitals for the insane," and to attend meetings, study recommendations and work with the Committee and Department.

The group is being formed by interested groups and individuals to secure improvements in the field of care and care of mental patients. Its work is national in scope, it is not agitating for higher pay or parole to attendants.

To succeed in this crusade it will be necessary to rally public opinion on a scale sufficient to impress the Legislature. Only by maintaining solid public sentiment can this be done. The Committee will function as clearing house for recommendations or any action to stimulate public opinion.

How Veterans Should Protect Their Insurance

State employees returning from military duty to active State service can have their Group Life Insurance Policy, obtained through the Association of State Civil Service Employees, which was in force when they entered military service, reinstated without medical examination.

Any New York State employee whose accident and sickness policy in the Group Plan of the State Association was in force when he returned to military service may have his policy reinstated by writing to his association, within 30 days of return from service.

Pension Rush Opposed

Qualified for a pension under the Social Security Act may receive benefits under the Social Security Act. To receive benefits continuously under both the Civil Service Retirement and the Railroad Retirement Act;

"The amounts of annuity benefits payable under the Civil Service Retirement Act are liberal when compared with the amounts contributed by an employee. An example may be cited in the case of an employee who retired Federal service at age 25 and who worked for 5 years at a salary of $1,600. His retirement contribution was $800. His retirement contributions were also 20 cents an hour for 15 years. At age 62 he is eligible for a life annuity of $3,130. The amounts paid to his credit in the retirement fund will be paid to his beneficiary or his estate."

A separated employee with more than 5 years of service may receive a refund of his retirement contributions, plus interest, credited to his account in the retirement fund and before January 24, 1942. A refund of all contributions must be made to employees with retirement contributions at the rate of 4 per cent compounded annually while they remain in the service, and at the rate of 4 per cent compounded annually after they terminate their service for any reason after January 24, 1942. Refund contributions must be paid back to the separated employees, in full. The interest paid back to the separated employees is based on a 5-year period. The interest percentage is increased by a large Government contribution, or if the employee dies during his 5 years of service, he must receive the refund of any amount remaining in his account to his beneficiary or to his estate.
