Large Increase In State Exempt Jobs Criticized

The Civil Service Reform Association today criticized the decision of the State Civil Service Commission since January 1, 1943, as "unwarranted," the Association's Executive Committee had considered a report of its special committee which made a comparative study and analysis of exemptions of positions from competitive examination. The Association asked to reconsider their civil service classification with a view to placing them in the competitive class where practicable.

The letter states that the Executive Committee had considered a report of its special committee which made a comparative study and analysis of exemptions of positions from competitive examinations in the State departments (exclusive of State courts and institutions). The Association requested a review of exemptions of positions added or reduced in the State Civil Service Commission (Continued on Page 8).

Fireman Filing Will Last Only Two Weeks

The period for the receipt of applications for the expedited and annual examinations is expected to last only two weeks. After that time, the examination will be held as quickly as possible.

The positions are open to veterans only. The Commission held that the positions would be out in a week or so, but must be announced on May 16 at the annual luncheon meeting of the Civil Service Reform Association.

Mr. Edward C. Moore, who handles the accident and sickness insurance for the Association, is receiving many "get-well-quick" messages after he opened the last week of this month and left through the first week in May. Thus, he is expected to be out in a week or so, but must take a long rest, on his doctor's orders.

Foreign Officer Posts for Vets Pay Up to $3,860

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The period for the receipt of applications for Foreign Service Officer has been opened by the State Department and will close on June 17. These positions pay from $2,870 to $3,860. They are open to veterans only.

A college degree is required or three years of college. If the college course was interrupted by military service, then two years of college are required.

Requirements include American citizenship for 15 years, ability to read French, German or Spanish, and, if married, one wife must be an American citizen.

Bright Prospects

All who passed the last examination will be appointed the State Department revealed, and therefore the prospects of candidates in the new examination are extremely bright. Travel boards have been organized to interview the eighteen thousand who written examination and will start work on May 1.

Applications should be filed with the Foreign Service Office, State Department, Washington 15, D. C.

No special applications for additional examination will be accepted.

An Opportunity

This is one of the best opportunities for a career service with the Government. The State Department offers unprecedented opportunities for advancement, beginning with word comforts for foreign service and other advantages not found in the run-of-the-mill Federal jobs.

Former Aides Return To Supervise Bosses

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Complaints have been received by the Association's Committee of Investigation of the House from employees who complained with old line agencies that they are suffering the consequences of not having been transferred to war agencies in which salary raises were frequent and automatic.

The complaints say that in many instances persons whom they used to supervise now report to them. Employees transferred from old line agencies to war agencies as CAP-6 who returned to their former positions as CAP-13.

In its broader sense, cancer has long been a major concern of the American Cancer Society,

which has its origin in the National Council for the Study of Cancer and its precursors. The work of the American Cancer Society began in the United States in 1913.

In 1926, the state Institute of

the American Cancer Society

was founded in Buffalo,

New York, and the headquarters of the Association moved to Buffalo in 1931. Since then, the American Cancer Society has developed into a national organization with headquarters in New York City and affiliates in every state.

Cancer, in many respects,

has become a national problem.

It is estimated that there are more than 1,000,000 cases of cancer in this country, and in all, it is estimated, the number will exceed 1,000,000 cases a year.

In addition to its major func-of patients referred by physicians, cancers, from all over the State, the Institute engages in research in the biology, chemistry, physics

both in vitro and in vivo.

A number of laboratories have

Albany, April 16—The Department of Veterans Affairs'

Recruiting Branch has been moved to the Capitol, where it is under the jurisdiction of the Division of Veterans Affairs.

The move was made necessary

because the recruiting branch had outgrown its quarters.

The tasks of the recruiting branch are to provide information to veterans and their families, to assist them in obtaining benefits, and to help them in obtaining employment.

The new office is located at 233rd Street, and veterans and their families are invited to visit it.

The office hours are from 9:00 to 5:00.

The work of the recruiting branch is important, and the chanciers have been working hard to meet the needs of veterans and their

Hudson's Shab Ambassador: Conservation Dept. Did It

The run of shad increased each year. In 1944, the reported catch was 1,617,423 pounds and in 1945 it was 2,147,546 pounds. The annual report of the Interior Department reported that 5,000,000 pounds were taken in the whole Hudson area in 1944. New Jersey fishermen claim that the restoration activities in New York State have been a factor in this increase.

NYC Evolving 5-Year Plan For Civil Service Needs

The O'Dwyer administration in NYC is speeding the conduct of the important, large examinations at a faster rate than could have been reasonably expected.

The current Patrolman examination now under way is being followed up by another for the same job, and in between, though in number of expected applicants or vacancies. This does not fully meet all requirements, it is freely admitted, and there may yet emerge a five-year plan without any ideologico-implications. Planning is one thing NYC civil service can do, safely. Many positions in the area of public health are being filled by an alert and aggressive administrative. The attention being given these areas by authorities is a feature of the planning, since the normal tendency is to delay such unduly, in the press of events of greater numerical magnitude.

What can not be postponed must not be delayed.

A Much-Needed Reform In Mental Hygiene

Great hospitals for mental patients are a costly relative failure and are on the way out. They should be largely superseded by regional psychiatric service on such the same basis as public health is administered. Since millions of dollars of Federal money are probably to be made available for a nation-wide study and survey, should not brave plans now be formulated to prevent insanity and to give early service commission. It is our belief that such an agency should be established to function as a coordinating authority for all State and Federal agencies and the place of the city. It would not be ward-centered but instead would be community-centered. The ward of the mental hospital would be then only one adjunct of service rather the beginning and the end. The future psychiatric function of the State's largest department should aim to relieve its citizens of a higher measure of mental health. There is good classification, good therapy, good occupation, and good recreation; but it is ward-centered.

The psychiatric service of a State as it exists today is at best a ward-centered system of high-class asylums. There is good classification, good therapy, good occupation, and good recreation; but it is ward-centered.

When the appointing authority's requirements meet the following criteria there is complete satisfaction of all requirements:

State Fair

State employees in the building at 86 Centre Street are working on a new project. The State Fair, which was expected to keep the present-day firemen on the ball, has been a conspicuous lack of daily coverage in the recent current events on employees' desks.

One of the NYC daily newspapers has a desk in the City Hall, but little cooperation is indicated. The reasons are not clear.

Most of the candidates in the NYC Clerk, Grade 2 promotion examination, the list for which was promulgated on April 1, may get a refund of their filling fee. The Municipal Civil Service Commission is considering returning the fees through the abolition of Grade 1 of the Clerical and Commercial Group, which was established in 1946-1947. Mayor O'Dwyer had the list made up for the most candidates. However, the fee for Grade 2 isn't official until the budget goes into effect. A small group of candidates in the examination, Grade 2 Attendants, eligible to take the test for transfer to the clerical service, for them, it was a change-of-title examination and the list was made up as far as they are concerned. Meanwhile, the list is good for any promotions that may be approved by the Budget Bureau between now and the date when the new budget goes into effect.

Five NYC Special Patrolmen were shifted to transportation. Five new fee waivers were promulgated on April 1, 1963, June 11, 1962, December 2, 1963, and January 29, 1964. The first waiver included $2,100 in railroad commissions. The second was $2,000 in railroad commissions. The third was $2,000 in railroad commissions. The fourth was $2,000 in railroad commissions. The fifth was $2,000 in railroad commissions.

How to Improve Strength For Patrmanian Physical

To practice this test you will either have to get somebody to hold your ankles for you, or else carry some weight. You will have to use some kind of an inclined plane or a little platform under which you can put your body.

Get a book or brick or any other object of similar weight, lie down on the floor with your legs extended straight out at your sides and your feet together. If you have no one to hold your ankles, place the book under a couch as shown in the diagram. Place the weight behind your neck and graspe the object with both hands. Now raise the upper half of your body by bending your waist, and assume a sitting position. Do not bend your knees. Then slowly kick back to your prone, starting position. Repeat this exercise until you tire. Count the number of times you do it and try to increase daily. Practice with this weight for four weeks.

At the end of the week you had better go up to a gymnasium where a barbell is available, unless you can use one up at home. Increase the weight of the barbell gradually up to thirty pounds. Each time you practice, take with smaller weights and build up to the greatest.

Don't attempt to raise more weight than you can do comfortably. Practice diligently. It is wise to do the abdominal limbering exercises on an inclined plane or a little platform. Work with plenty of practice until you can lift the weight with ease.

POLICE DISABILITY BILL IS VETOED BY DEWEY

Special to The Leader

ALBANY, April 12. Governor Dewey vetoed the bill for Assemblyman Frank A. Zuma (D, Ontand), which would have permitted pros- licences in a municipality or spe- cial district to be issued to a police department or force, who would be disabled as a result of the performance of police duty, to receive compensation from the municipality or county. In his memorandum, con- cerning the bill, Governor Dewey said Frank A. Moore, State Com- missioner, had written a letter that the bill still contained no qualification as to the extent of the disability to the police man who was not disabled from performing his regular police duties. Also under the terms of the bill, any police man would draw both from his local pension fund and from the State Retirement sys- tem. The measure also would have provided that the police pension in the event of permanent disability would exceed bill salary.

To practice this test you will either have to get somebody to hold your ankles for you, or else carry some weight. You will have to use some kind of an inclined plane or a little platform under which you can put your body.

Get a book or brick or any other object of similar weight, lie down on the floor with your legs extended straight out at your sides and your feet together. If you have no one to hold your ankles, place the book under a couch as shown in the diagram. Place the weight behind your neck and graspe the object with both hands. Now raise the upper half of your body by bending your waist, and assume a sitting position. Do not bend your knees. Then slowly kick back to your prone, starting position. Repeat this exercise until you tire. Count the number of times you do it and try to increase daily. Practice with this weight for four weeks.

At the end of the week you had better go up to a gymnasium where a barbell is available, unless you can use one up at home. Increase the weight of the barbell gradually up to thirty pounds. Each time you practice, take with smaller weights and build up to the greatest.

Don't attempt to raise more weight than you can do comfortably. Practice diligently. It is wise to do the abdominal limbering exercises on an inclined plane or a little platform. Work with plenty of practice until you can lift the weight with ease.

In New U. S. Order

WASHINGTON, April 16—The requirement that employees of the federal government be given 30 days' notice in termination-deforce cases is being 40 days, it was disclosed, a survey showed. Complaints made of non-observance of the 40-day period by numerous agencies, have practically ceased.

The employee is entitled to 40 days, but as a matter of administrative expediency, the department may give notice on a non-paid basis.

For purposes of determining the expiration of annual leave and sick leave, however, the notice of separation has been given more than 90 days, when transfer is effective. Effective yesterday was the first notice for which the period specified under the 40-day rule was not available.

Proposed Rule For Vacations and Sick Leave

The new provision on vacations and sick leave of employees of the Civil Service Commission is in response to a survey of Federal agencies, which show that the practice of combining annual and sick leave in the past has been prevalent in Federal work, and in many instances employees have been able to take no more than twenty days' vacation a year.

The new rule, which is intended to improve the situation, is based on a survey of Federal agencies, which show that the practice of combining annual and sick leave in the past has been prevalent in Federal work, and in many instances employees have been able to take no more than twenty days' vacation a year.

July 1 promotions in NYC will be made on the basis of promotion efficiency, even if the promotions involve pay increases.

“We are following the same policy as before,” Budget Director Thomas J. Patterson said today, “but will go as much farther as is reasonable without being silly. We will promote for efficiency and not because an employee’s name is on a promotion list. We will make as many promotions as are necessary and possible. The pay increases will be granted. They do not represent any material increase in personnel cost.”

The reference to “the same policy as before” was taken to mean that efficiency will be the rule, but the decision is expected to be in promotions not being practiced. War's major promotion is to those already at the top of the grade from which they are not eligible. To promote maximum grade employees costs the city $1 a year. To promote others costs the $1 plus the difference between the seniority’s pay and the top salary of the grade.

VET PREFERENCE BILL SIGNED

Special to The Leader

ALBANY—Governor Dewey signed the Ostertag bill which created a preference in appointment and promotion for veterans and disabled veterans.

The preference was created to apply to positions in the public service of the state of New York, and to various classes of cities therein, constituting chapter two of title nineteen of the laws of nineteen hundred thirteen, as hereafter amended, and shall be in the order of their respective dates of application.

The Governor’s memorandum

“Vet preference, in the legislature by Assemblymaning Section 21. It was Introduced Veterans, in appointment, promotion and retention for disabled veterans. The bill is the product of careful study and deliberation by many groups interested in the Civil Service. It places the privilege to be accorded to war veterans on the same footing as that of various groups was for the most part, due, in appropriate case, to one another and with agreement among all parties in proportion of the measures to be adopted.

Other things, the following:
1. It provides a language of the constitutional amendments necessary to the preference in appointment and promotion for veterans and disabled veterans applies only for a five-year period.
2. It corrects the obvious error in the bill which with regard to the preference in veterans and disabled veterans. Its Senate counterpart would drop first regardless of age or disability in the abolishment.
3. It is the bill included by the phrase “time of war” in the Constitution of the state of the Then, 1941 to and including the first day of April, nineteen hundred forty-one, as the phrase includes all hostilities which the United States of America is engaged in the making of claims, avoid litigation, and administration of government.

This is the position of the American Legion for the consideration of different groups, if it involves them. It includes persons with children for which the obligation forces or to perform the duties of the position.
