Key Answers to Fireman Test

By ROGER L. MEADOWS

The Federal government intends to open large-scale examinations in the metropolitan area in the fall, and may not hold any new exams at all until then. James F. Russell, Director of the Second Region, U. S. Civil Service Commission, so stated today.

"For the next 120 days," he said, "vacancies will be filled from the pool of eligible former employees whom reduction in force affected."

State Exams

Charles L. Campbell, Administrative Director, State Civil Service Department, said in Albany that new open-competitive examinations will be held in the fall, when a series of specialized examinations will be announced. Meanwhile promotion examinations are being held.

NYC Exams

The NYC Civil Service Commission has no comprehensive schedule of open-competitive examinations, but will also release them in the fall.

All three branches of civil service feel that open-competitive tests do not afford a broad enough recruitment base when so many people are on vacation, and the U. S. Civil Service Commission has the additional point of taking care of former employees who have classified competitive status.

U. S. Health Bill Backed

SPECIAL TO THE LEADER

WASHINGTON, July 16—The Randolph Health Bill to provide checks for Federal workers has been recommended by the Senate, and it is expected to pass the Senate by a large majority. The Health Bill is a part of the Civil Service Commission. The measure has been approved by the House of Representatives.

The State Employee

By Frank L. Tolman
President, The Association of State Civil Service Employees

IS BUREAUCRACY A NECESSARY EVIL?

BUREAUCRACY, as popularly used, is not properly an idea, but a process. It is a technique, a means of doing a task, a way of defining a fact or a situation but a method of confining, precluding and designating in the public mind the political and social aspects of the situation.

Bureaucracy is a technique, designed to gain assent without reason. And its comment on civil service.

The problems of bureaucracy, as they appear in business, schools, required procedures, laws and red tape, dump in all the propaganda narrow legalism and precedent. Possibly a main need is, as the brochure suggests, better understanding and closer relationships between the government and the citizens.

Of Grading Candidates in Stenographic Test

In order to merit a rating of zero, a candidate in a civil service examination was required. Papers of the written examination were statistically determined on the relative difficulty of the two sections in order that an arrangement will be given in these subdivisions in order that the examination was the skill of the candidate with 80 words wrong in order to merit a zero rating. It was determined he had failed Regulation V dealing with notice of examination clearly demands it. This point is that what the commission said "about the number of positions for Court Stenographer who make at least 400 words per minute will receive equivalent credit for experience and advancement under Federal Civil Service regulations.

The House of Representatives accepted an amendment, adopted by the Senate in disagreement with the last turn of the Civil Service to the Senate.

In preparation of such a move, the Illinois Commission on labor contracts has made arrangements to interpret the employees who have been hired, or promoted, while the civil service examinations were for the best interest of the taxpayer and the employee. By Theodore Becker

Court Upholds State Civil Service Commission's Method Of Grading Candidates in Stenographic Test

The written examination was a test of the candidate's accuracy, and 0 shall represent 0.

The Candidate's Objections

As part of the written examination, the "Testimony" was divided into three parts. The "Testimony" were multiplied by 1.9, and then the resulting ratings were averaged. The candidate's subsequent rating of 11. DR. MARY KIRKBRIDE RETIRES
AFTER 32 YEARS' STATE SERVICE

Editorial Note:

ALBANY—July 16—Dr. Mary Butler Kirkbride, 314 State Street, Albany, retired as Associate Director of the Division of Laboratories and Research after 32 years in the State Health Department.

Dr. Kirkbride began her scientific career at the University of Pennsylvania, and was associated with the Philadelphia Polyclinic and College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia in New York City, engaging in research in immunology, bacteriology, then in charge of the American Public Health Laboratories, and later as Assistant Director of the Division of Laboratories.

Her immunologic studies are of fundamental importance and have noted value in the production of hyperimmune sera, which have been widely used as a member of the committee of the American Public Health Association, and as one of the geococcal meningitis of the Wassermann test. A gold intradermal test was presented to her by the Public Health Laboratories when she turned over her functions to Public Health Laboratories of which she had been instrumental in its organization, Dr. Edward H. Hoffer, Commissioner, commented that Dr. Kirkbride came to the Division in 1914 and shared in the development of the State laboratories throughout Dr. Kirkbride's long service, first as bacteriologist, then in charge of the American Public Health Laboratories, and later as Assistant Director of the Division of Laboratories, and Research.

In 1935 a testimonial dinner was given for Dr. Kirkbride in recognition of her years of service.

During the war period in her appointment as Director of the Public Health Laboratories of the Department, in 1935 a testimonial dinner was given for Dr. Kirkbride in recognition of her years of service.

Editorial Comment:

Dr. Kirkbride and her husband have been and still are members of the leading scientific societies. She is an honorary member of the American Public Health Laboratory Association.

The excellence of Dr. Kirkbride's work was not confined to the laboratories of the Department. She shared in the development of the State laboratories throughout Dr. Kirkbride's long service, first as bacteriologist, then in charge of the American Public Health Laboratories, and later as Assistant Director of the Division of Laboratories, and Research.

After 32 years of state service, Dr. Mary Kirkbride retires.

She was educated at the Philadelphia Polyclinic and College for Graduates in Medicine, at Harvard and Cornell Universities.

Merit Man States and Cities Increase Courses For Employees

WASHINGTON, D.C., June 10—New York State and New York City have planned 270 community service training activities, under the leadership of the State Personnel Commission, of which Mary Gould Kron is chairman. Mrs. Kron, who has recently returned from a trip to Europe, said that the training programs are being established as a result of the demand by veterans for general instruction in the various fields of public service and business. The programs are designed to provide the training necessary to enable veterans to enter public service and to equip them with the knowledge and skills required for successful employment. The training includes courses in shorthand, typing, bookkeeping, and other related subjects. The programs are open to all veterans, regardless of age or background, and are offered at a variety of locations throughout the state. The classes are taught by experienced instructors, and the programs are supported by state and local funding. The training is designed to provide veterans with the skills and knowledge necessary to succeed in public service, and to help them find employment in related fields. The programs are intended to be a stepping stone to successful careers in the public service and other related fields.

Estimate Board to Act On Clerk Promotions

The NYC Board of Transportation has requested permission of the Municipal Civil Service Commission to create two new deputy commissioner positions in the subways division. According to calendar pages of last week’s meeting of the Civil Service Commission, the Municipal Civil Service Commission had made two requests. Two more requests are expected to come before the Board of Estimate for approval at the next meeting, on Thursday, July 16.

Under the new setup, made necessary by the request of the Board of Estimate for transit operations, such changes were made through budget modification by the Budget Director in previous years.

At press time, the employees of the Board of Estimate were informed that all figures were not available. However, it is expected that several hundred promotions will be made since the regular mid-year promotions on January 1, 1946 were skipped. Included in the personnel promotions are employees in the clerical, administrative and accounting services.

Phoenix Adopts Retirement System

Phoenix, Arizona, adopted a charter amendment establishing a retirement system, which will cover all city employees except police officers and firefighters, and employees covered under the Arizona State Retirement System.

Employee benefits derived from the system will be in the amount of 5% of each employee's salary, based on the employee's pay in most cases, based on the employee's years of service, and on the employee's age at the time of retirement.

There will be many forms of Employee benefits derived from the system, including medical, dental, and other benefits.

To assist veterans in qualifying for the retirement system, the Board of Education, in charge of the course, will be in charge of the course, and will be assisted in the work.

There will be approximately 3,000 veterans in charge of the course, and will be assisted in the work.

SOCIAL WELFARE CHAPTER HOLDS A MERRY PICNIC

Social Welfare Chapter of the Association of State Civil Service Employees held a Department picnic at Emerald Inn, Merrick. The weather was perfect, the refreshments plentiful, the attendance excellent. Commissioner Robert I. Lonesomet, Chapter Chairman, and her Committee of arrangements were congratulated on their successful efforts to make the picnic a day to be longingly remembers. Charles Davis, Chairman, President, could not attend, being at Camp Smith. Music was furnished by Fred Cor, Jesse MacFarland and Roy Curran, all of the department. The Picnic Committee included Mickey Piski, Rose Duff, Gladys Brown, Joe Landregen, and Charles Terman.

Police-Sanitation Ball Game July 30

Despite his position as an ex-officione, Mayor O'Brien will try to maintain executive impartiality at the baseball game between the nations of the Police and Sanitation Department at Yankee Stadium on Tuesday, July 30. After the game takes out the sphere to start the try, he will be at the request of the management Commissioner William J. Powell's smartphones. Later in the same week, he will join the voters for the P.D. mind of Commissioner Arthur W. Wallander.

U. S. Civil Service Asks Seniority Case Ruling

A major question in the Fuchs case was whether a lay-off is a discharge. The court held that it would be later to be discharged or to operate a seniority system when he entered the armed forces. He would not have been discharged and unable to get his job back, and that if he were called back, his work would be restored, therefore, no work was available. Thus, discharging of work necessitating lay-off is not dismissal or discharge in any normal sense. U.S. Civil Service has asked the Attorney General for an opinion whether this decision has the effect of putting veterans who have not served for one year following their return from the armed services and all other veterans, in the same class for discharge and lay-off requirements.

The Commission is notifying interested veterans in this action and advising that pending receipt of the opinion of the Attorney General, when permanent war veterans who may be discharged will be subject to separation by reason of age, in cases of lay-off, should be forwarded and not separated, to preserve their status for future determination.

Court to Decide Right of Police To Exhort Mayor

The right of a member of the NYC Police Department to speak to the recent action taken by the city (against the "pay rule" of their department) will be the subject of a Supreme Court hearing in Queens today, on a motion to restrain the Department from investigating the activities of Lieutenant David Fay as President of the Police Pension Forum.

The organization is composed largely of younger members of the department, who united in an effort to obtain a lower rate of pension contributions for police who have come into the department since 1940.

Lieutenant Fay, LEADER Men's Man, and himself an attorney, had sent a telegram to Mayor O'Dwyer on June 15, protesting against the assignment of police to an 84 hour week during strikes.

Investigation Ordered

Lieutenant Fay was threatened with departmental penalties for having wired the Mayor without having previously notified the Department of his intention to do so and was sentenced for a hearing before Inspector George Muller of the Third Division.

Lieutenant Fay then applied to the Queens Supreme Court for an order to restrain the Department from investigating his organizational activities.

The Patrolmen's Benevolent Association will be represented at the hearing by Walter A. Caddell, counsel, and the American Civil Liberties Union has declared its intention in participating in the litigation.

EMPLOYEES GET NEW SCALE

The California State Personnel Board recently acted to make the $58-$80 emergency salary adjustment part of basic pay scales and approved a $10 increase in all State pay ranges, except those with minimum salaries of $400 or more a month.

Herbert S. Bauch states that the ability of a ping-pong champion and the vocal mannerisms of a topstick help him in his present capacity as vice-president of the Independent Association of Competitive Employees of the NYC Sanitation Department.

He believes that the city employees should be active and even vociferous in their efforts for better conditions, and he's among the first to raise his voice when he feels that the clerical workers are getting less than their just due.

Recently discharged from military service, he stepped right back into the swing when he returned to his clerical post in the Bureau of Finance and Supply.

In addition to his enthusiasm for the employee organization, he's taken an active part in the affairs of Sanitation Post 1118, American Legion. He is a member of the Executive Committee of the Post and is co-editor of its monthly bulletin.

He was regimental supply sergeant with the 361st Engineers and won a battle star during the Battle of the Bulge before moving back war around the world to Japan.

His favorite pastime is ping-pong and before the war he represented Sanitation in the City Employees Table Tennis League. Also, he was regimental champion at that sport.

A veteran of 17 years' service with the city, he formerly worked for the Board of Water Supply, the Triboro Bridge Authority and Board of Transportation.

Welfare Asks 334 Promotions

For Clerks, Stenos

The NYC Welfare Department has requested 334 promotions from the Budget Bureau in the July 1 promotions in the clerical and accounting groups.

Among the promotions asked for are 19 to Clerk, Grade 4; 32 to Clerk, Grade 3; 41 to Stenographer, Grade 3, and 42 to Junior Accountants.

However, last month the department asked for the promotion of 84 investigators in assistant supervisory positions, was granted only 20 promotions.
