NYC Police Sergeant Test to Be Held Soon

Sergeant of the NYC Police Department, Wallander, wants the other department promotion tests to be questioned, and which Budget Commissioner Thomas J. Patterson has approved. The Municipal Civil Service Commission has expressed a readiness to go along with the Commissioner, as far as and as fast as practicable.

The reasons for desiring the police officers to be included in the test are that the appointments to be made from the new Patrolman list will require a considerable increase in the number of Sergeants and that the current Sergeant list expires on November 24 next.

Eligibility Requirements

There are 20 Sergeant vacancies at present. Salary is $4,000, including bonus. Eligibility to the examination is accorded to all Patrolmen with one year's service or more, but five years' service are required.

Promotion examinations were held by Director Patterson in the Police and Fire Departments.

Assistant Foreman

The NYC Health Department has advertised for the position of Assistant Foreman. The examination will be held on a nation-wide basis, including the Second Civil Service Region, which comprises the States of New York and New Jersey.

The draft of a bill to broaden seniority credits to veterans for time spent in the armed forces, has been submitted by President John F. Kennedy to the Congress. The bill, which would grant seniority to veterans for time spent in the armed forces, has been introduced in both Houses of Congress.

Fireman Physical Sept. 26

Medical examinations are now in progress at the NYC Civil Service Commission's Medical and Physical Bureau, headed by Paul M. Brown, Commissioner. Cards are mailed to the candidates on the basis of the school in which they took the written examination, one school at a time, notifying them when to appear for their medical test. Those who have not yet been notified have no cause to worry, as the medical tests will be held on a nation-wide basis, including the Second Civil Service Region, which comprises the States of New York and New Jersey.

It is expected that the examination will be held in the New York-New Jersey area at the end of the month. The bill will be allowed to candidates to get their applications on file.

Expectant Dad is Denied Leave

The NYC Health Department has denied a request for a leave of absence because of the expected birth of a child. The expectation of a child has caused a number of problems for the employee, as it has interfered with his duties. The Department has stated that it will not grant leave in such cases unless there is compelling reason.

As far as and as fast as practicable, the Department will keep the employee on the payroll until the child arrives, at which time he will be given a leave of absence.

NYC Health Inspector Exam Being Rushed

The Municipal Civil Service Commission, following approval of the examination by the Budget Director as reported in last week's LEADER, has ordered full speed ahead, and an open-competitive examination for Health Inspector is to be held on November 24, with bonus.

Commissioner Israel J. G. Steinhardt of the Health Department has expressed a readiness to go along with the Commissioner, as far as and as fast as practicable.

The exam will be held on a nation-wide basis, including the Second Civil Service Region, which comprises the States of New York and New Jersey.

It is expected that the examination will be held in the New York-New Jersey area at the end of the month. The bill will be allowed to candidates to get their applications on file.

Hospital Administration, Course To Begin Sept. 26, Dr. MacCurdy Announces

Special to The Leader

ALBANY, Sept. 16—A course in hospital administration and management, with major emphasis on modern methods of organization and improvement, will be conducted by Dr. Frederick MacCurdy, Professor of Business Administration at the State University of New York at Albany, for the following purposes:

1. To train hospital administrators.

2. To improve the standards of mental hospital administration to levels comparable with those of the best modern general hospitals.

3. To stimulate efforts toward raising the standards of mental hospital administration to levels comparable with those of the best general hospitals.

Dr. MacCurdy said:

"I am very much pleased to announce the inauguration of this course in hospital administration. As with our resident training program in neuropsychiatry, I am hopeful that this course will deal with the principles of dietetics and food service; with business office procedures; with some of the more important functions of hospital management in order to coordinate and assist in-service training."

Dr. MacCurdy, who has been engaged in the field of mental hygiene for many years, announced the program to the officers and faculty of the State University of New York at Albany, the New York State Institute for Public Administration, and the Department of Commerce.

"The program is designed to acquaint professionals in the field of mental hygiene with modern management techniques. It will provide them with an opportunity to study the principles of modern management of hospital in order to coordinate and assist in-service training."

Long Preparation

At the Conference on Social Administration, held in New York City last month, Dr. MacCurdy addressed the audience on the subject of the importance of professional training in hospital administration. He stressed the need for a course of study that would prepare hospital administrators to meet the challenges of modern hospital management. He also emphasized the importance of providing continuing education for hospital administrators.

Dr. MacCurdy is a well-known expert in the field of hospital administration and has been actively involved in the development of educational programs for hospital administrators. He is a member of the American Hospital Association and the American Public Health Association. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of the American Public Health Association and the American Hospital Association.

Dr. MacCurdy was recently awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Science by the State University of New York at Albany in recognition of his contributions to the field of hospital administration.

State Eligibles

In order to be eligible for admission to the course, applicants must have a Bachelor's degree or equivalent. They must also have a minimum of two years of experience in hospital administration or a related field. Additional eligibility criteria may be required by the course director.

Alfred University

Expansion Approved

The Board of Trustees of Alfred University has approved the expansion of the School of Architecture and Planning to include a new building. The new building will be constructed to accommodate the increased enrollment and provide modern facilities for the students. The building will include classrooms, laboratories, and studios for the instruction of students in architecture and design. It will also provide space for research and design studios. The new building will be completed by the fall of 1947.

Experts to Teach

Lectures and discussions will be given by experts in the field of architecture and design, both within and without the State. The course will focus on the practical aspects of hospital administration, including personnel management, budgeting, and financial planning. The course will also provide an opportunity for students to gain practical experience in hospital administration through internships and other forms of experiential learning.

Inter-departmental Committee to Enlarge In-Service Training

Special to The Leader

The Committee on In-Service Training has been established by the Department of Public Welfare to develop and implement an in-service training program for workers in public welfare agencies. The committee will be comprised of representatives from various public welfare agencies and will be chaired by Dr. Charles H. Bowers, the Assistant Commissioner of Public Welfare. The committee has the following members:

Dr. Charles H. Bowers, the Assistant Commissioner of Public Welfare; Dr. J. B. H. S. Johnson, the Commissioner of Social Security; Dr. J. B. H. S. Johnson, the Commissioner of Public Welfare; and Dr. J. B. H. S. Johnson, the Commissioner of Public Welfare.

The new division in the Civil Service Commission is intended to provide a broad-based training program for workers in the field of public welfare. The program will include training in the areas of personnel management, budgeting, and financial planning. The program will also provide opportunities for workers to gain practical experience in the field through internships and other forms of experiential learning.
The State Retirement System

Our Retirement System
The State Retirement System serves chiefly to the employees. The State Retirement System is the result of the efforts of the present and past administrations, and those who have been members of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors has been instrumental in making improvements in the procedure and publications of the Retirement Board.

Among the measures proposed are the following:

1. Provisional Credit Limited by Law
   An amendment to Section 16 of the Civil Service Law, passed during the 1944 Legislative session, provides that a civil service employee shall not be granted credit for time served as a provisional appointee in a position in which promotion is denied to any employee of the operator's licenses and the financial stability of the system. Every member must feel confident that he will, on retirement, receive the retirement allowance to which he is entitled. The Association of State Civil Service Employees has presented its plans for liberalization of the Retirement System to the Comptroller and the Board of Directors. It is hoped that the Board of Directors will act on these proposals. All of them will cost money. The real problem is how the added cost is to be absorbed in the most economical manner for the State and the participating municipalities.

The first and essential interest of the employee is in the soundness of the plan. To make this possible, Mr. Moore plans many improvements in the procedure and publications of the Retirement System and the State and the participating municipalities.

3. New Drivers' License in 4 1/2 Minutes
   Employees of the State Motor Vehicle Bureau are hiring their drivers' licenses in 4 1/2 minutes, and in exactly four and one half minutes through an automatically controlled printing machine.

Saratoga, Sept. 19—The Republican party is pledged to increase salary ranges; liberalization of the system of promotion; the reclassification of all base wages, and reduction of the salary grade, he retains his old salary. Although the appointment or promotion of such an employee takes place on or after April 1, he will be eligible to receive an increment on April 1, provided his employment in such position or occupation in the State's service started prior to October.

Adjustments for Leave Levels
It should be remembered that while a reinstatement after a resignation that takes place on or after October 1, 1944, in the same does not hold true for cases of reinstatement after a leave of absence.

If the leave has been for the purpose of performing military duty, then the employee is deemed to have been on the job for current purposes. His reinstatement within the 90-day period following his discharge need not be broken to him for him to be eligible for an increment on or after April 1, 1944. If the employee's appointment or promotion to the new position or occupation in the State's service started prior to October 1,

The State Police was a non-military leave and the employee served for a partial increment was earned with pay on the job.

Three State Parties Include Planks on Civil Service

The Republican party has assembled, and is preparing to present for enactment the principle of merit and fitness in public service. The Republican party is to stand for the principle of merit and fitness in public service. This, in itself, is some job.

Full-time jobs in Washington Drop

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27—Paid Federal jobs in the Washington, D.C. Metropolitan area shrank almost the same as reported at Washington, D.C., last week. Full-time employment decreased while part-time employment increased.

There were 129,969 persons employed full-time at the end of July, 9,308 fewer than at July 31, 1945, for the Washington metropolitan area. The number of persons employed part-time was 10,462 for the entire country.

Men full-time employees totaled 14,420,000, or 12,710,000, effective during the month.国有企业
Employees, Patients Share Plight In State Hospitals, Say Attendant

By M. J. Conley
Kings County State Hospital

We cannot agree that existing conditions in State hospitals are generally good. The statement is based on the findings of an investigation by the National Committee on Public Information. The committee's report, which was released last week, indicates that conditions in State hospitals are generally poor. The report states that the facilities are inadequate, the staff is undertrained, and the care provided is substandard. The committee also found that the conditions in State hospitals vary widely, with some facilities providing better care than others. The report recommends improvements in funding, staffing, and training to improve the quality of care provided in State hospitals. The report calls for increased funding for mental health services, including hiring more staff and improving facilities. The report also recommends increased training for staff, including nurses and mental health professionals. Overall, the report highlights the need for significant improvements in the care provided in State hospitals.

NYC Board Reports
On Own Ineptitude

HODGE-Podge has just been published under the title, "Municipal Civil Service Commission, The City of New York, 59th Report, July 1, 1943, to June 30, 1945." It concerns the New York City Civil Service Commission, which was established by the state of New York in 1868 for the purpose of regulating and supervising the civil service of the city. The report discusses the events and activities that took place during the period covered by the report, from July 1, 1943, to June 30, 1945.

The report starts with an introduction that provides an overview of the commission's activities during the previous year. It highlights the challenges and opportunities faced by the commission during the period, and provides a summary of the key events and developments that took place.

The report then goes on to discuss the various functions and responsibilities of the commission, including the regulation of the civil service, the recruitment and examination of candidates, and the promotion and assignment of employees.

The report also includes a detailed analysis of the commission's budget and financial activities, as well as a review of its personnel and administrative operations.

The report concludes with a summary of the commission's achievements and accomplishments during the period covered by the report, and provides a forecast of its future activities and priorities.

The report is an important resource for anyone interested in the history and operations of the New York City Civil Service Commission, and provides a comprehensive overview of its activities during the period covered by the report.

DORIS LEFAYER

"While a student in high school, I took my first civil service exam," says Doris Lefayer, "and it was the beginning of my career as an active part in Association affairs.

One of the challenges facing any large organization is obtaining the support of all its employees to make it successful. This is particularly true for the Civil Service Commission, which is responsible for the recruitment and examination of candidates for city jobs, as well as the promotion and assignment of employees.

In the past, the commission has faced several challenges, including the need for more efficient and effective recruitment and examination processes, as well as the need to address concerns about the fairness and impartiality of the examination process.

The commission has made significant progress in addressing these challenges in recent years, but there is always room for improvement. The commission continues to work towards making the civil service examination process as fair and impartial as possible.

The report concludes by thanking the employees of the commission for their dedication and hard work, and by encouraging them to continue working towards making the civil service examination process as fair and impartial as possible.

Unpaid Extension Of 30-Day Notice Is Held Illegal

Special to The Leader
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10—Complaint General James Warren held that when proper notice of separation is given to an employee, it would be incorrect to offend the date of separation for an additional thirty days.

The 90-day notice now being given to laid-off employees is illegal, according to the new ruling. That is to make it harder for war-service appointments to get new jobs.

Effect on Salaries
In effect, the employee may now appeal to the Federal service and its personnel director for a certain date, and hours of leave would not extend to July 15, or the new pay base becomes effective. The employee's time may be taken into account salary increases made as of that date, the ruling holds.

If all requirements for within-grade salary advancement are met, such advance may be given in the computation of the bump-up leave payment for accrued service.

Veterans in U.S. Jobs
Doubled in Two Years

Noted for the most part to large reductions in force after the end of the war and the problem of readjusting veterans to civilian positions in the Federal service.

The grand total of veterans in Federal employment on July 31, 1946, was 679,621, a recent report of the Veterans Administration shows. This represented an increase of 77,062, or 13 per cent, from the total veteran population of 502,559 at the end of September, 1945, according to the latest available figures.

Of the 502,559 veterans employed in Federal civil service in the continental United States, according to statistics compiled by the Civil Service Commission, 551,400, or about 60 per cent, were in the Federal service. The veteran population represents about 40 per cent of the total 1,316,000 veterans of World War II on July 31, 1945, as reported by the Veterans Administration.

Of the 112,830 veterans employed in the Federal Government is given as greater than the number of all other veterans employed in the Government.

Of the 679,621 veterans employed in the continental United States, on July 31, 1946, 649,459 had 3-year veteran preference, and 130,242 had 10-year veteran preference, and 97,583 had not established veteran preference for appointment to positions in the Federal service with 3-year or 10-year veteran preference represented 51 per cent of the total veterans employed in the Federal service. Of this group, the majority 11,000 were disabled veterans, who had been 64 per cent of all veterans employed in the Federal service. The number of veterans employed in the Civil Service Commission effective on or after August 15, 1946, has increased by 378,391 during recent months, the total number of non-disabled veterans employment was increased by more than one million during the last five months.

The number of veterans employed in the Federal service has increased by 254,568 on July 31, 1944, to 649,459, or 15 per cent of all Federal civilian employees in the continental United States, compared with about 13 per cent one year previously.

Special to The Leader
CLEVELAND, Sept. 10—Senator James M. Mead, Democratic candidate for Secretary-Treasurer of the Federal Employees, said in an address at the convention of the National Federation of Federal Employees: "It is the responsibility of Congress to create a Federal service which will attract and hold the most qualified personnel capable of carrying out the Federal service."

"Every American citizen wants an efficient Federal service which will provide a balanced budget. These laudable objectives can be accomplished by reducing the government by wholesale, ill-advised legislation," he said. Mead added that the "plain duty of Congress is to provide for a Federal service with the most qualified personnel capable of carrying out the Federal service, the most efficient Federal service in which the people of this Nation can have confidence."

He said that the United States has a responsibility to act now and at home and abroad.

"Let us try out these two tasks properly," he declared. "Only if we are ready, efficient Fed-

Bridge Painters Ask
More Work, More Pay
And a 'Decent Break'

By AUSTIN LEBRECH

I glanced at a fellow who passed a mile long, then stood on a swaying scaffold to get the Bridge Painters' side of the controversy over pay.

The Bridge Painters are a group of men with big muscles.

It all started back in Mayor O'Keeffe's administration when, for reasons of economy, the men were cut down to four and five days a week, the men were earning $14 a day.

Then when the LaGuardia administration came in, the men protested their payrolls as not in keeping with the prevailing rate of pay.

The Bridge Painters are a group of skilled workers who have been prepared for the following groups of craftsmen: Painters and Psychiatrists, Ship Carpenters, Harness Makers and Core Drill Operators.

More Pay Recommended
For 7 Skilled Trades

The claims of seven groups of NYC employees for adjustments of their pay rates under the State Labor Law which guarantees "mechanics, workmen and laborers" the same rate of pay as is standard for their type of work in private industry are nearing final settlement.

Reports of higher wage standards for the following groups of skilled workers have been made by investigators under the supervisory control of the Division of Labor Law, of the Board of Regents, and have been submitted to Mr. Joseph, for submission to the Board.

These men are skilled and well trained, and seek only to be paid as their type of work is $12.00 an hour. Granted that rate and a two-week vacation with pay, they'd be satisfied, but they're afraid that when the higher rate is established—as they are sure it will be—it'll be cut down in working hours to $3,850 a year.

The bridge which is sheltered from the elements, so that they can work right through the year, and almost did in years gone by.

"Electricals and so called men on the bridge," they say, "work right through the year, but they retired at 250 days a year. All we want is what the other men in similar categories are getting. That includes weather excuse is a joke.

Today they state that they're earning just about $35 a week less than they were in 1942, and can't use any logic in that. At present they have filed claims for a re-adaptation of their payrolls under the prevailing wage law.

The bridge is the reason for the claims.

Lionel Haywood is the winner of a cash award for a suggestion to improve operation of the War Department Office of Defense.

Mr. Haywood, employed in the Government Services Insurance Division of the ODB, suggested a simplified procedure for identifying all claim accounts to be discontinued.

The suggestion eliminates the transcribing of the urban renewal number from the paper to the claim anted on the computer. When adopted, it time-saver as well as a means of eliminating the possibility of error in transcription.

The city's appropriation of $626,000, based on the search report. When adopted, it proved a time-saver as well as a means of eliminating the possibility of error in transcription.

It is worth measured by the workload of the mechanics, workmen and laborers. The new $12.00 an hour rate is estimated to cover the old $3,850 a year rate.

Mr. Haywood lives at 318 Convent Avenue, NYC.

Sanitation Dept Briefs

Dr. Samuel Mufson, spokesman for the Department of Sanitation, said that many of the complaints that come to him were cleared up by the Department.

The most common complaint is the removal of vitiated air from working areas. The Department has found that in many cases the air is not being removed adequately, due to insufficient ventilation.

Another frequent complaint is the lack of safety equipment. The Department is working on installing more safety equipment in the next few months.

The Department is also working on improving the efficiency of the garbage collection system. They are looking into the possibility of using more automated garbage collection methods.

In conclusion, the Department is working hard to improve the sanitation conditions in the city. They are constantly looking for ways to improve the system and make the city a cleaner place to live.
Burns Represents Pilots On Fire Pension Board

William Burns, a NYC Fire Department pilot and President of the NYC Fire Officers Association, has been appointed to a position on the Firemen's Pension Board of the department. The DiPaco bill, which was signed by Mayor O'Dwyer, in addition to newly granting board representation to the NYC Fire Officers Association, established the new board to represent the interests of firefighters. The plan was cited as one of the most important improvements made in the firemen's pension system in recent years.

Few Survive Some Exams For Promotion in NYC

A prevailing complaint of NYC Fire Department officials is that too many eligible candidates for promotion fail to pass the examinations given by the Municipal Civil Service Commission. The board, which has been criticized for not setting high enough qualifications for promotions, is planning to institute new tests to assess the abilities of candidate firefighters. The new tests are expected to better reflect the knowledge, skills, and abilities required for promotion in the NYC Fire Department.

In Setting Up World Standards

Every Wednesday morning, Dr. William Brody, Personnel Officer of the Department, introduces each new staff member to the Commissioner as an open door to the entire work of the Department since 1849, and now departmental policies are based on earlier works of the NYC Commissioner.

The Commissioner stressed the importance of the Department in carrying on the work of the Department and the need for the entire work to be based on the principles of the Department. He particularly noted the importance of the Department in bringing discrimination against men and women together.

The Commissioner emphasized the need for the Department to be open to all persons with whom the public comes in contact, and that the Department is the largest and most important distributor of health services in the world and that the Department's service is designed to bring discrimination against men and women together.
