Dr. Tolman Repudiates Claim State Pay Is Fair; Defends Feld-Hamilton

ALBANY, Feb. 17—Dr. Frank L. Tolman, President of the Civil Service Employees Association, speaking at the legislative hearing on the Governor's budget, charged that the State employees are well paid and that the Feld-Hamilton law is obsolete.

The Governor's budget bill does not contain any general increase for State employees, on the theory of the budget committee that wages are still too high.

Dr. Tolman's Remarks

Dr. Tolman, addressing the legislators in the Capitol, said: "The 40,000 State employees, I wish to brand the statements that have been presented to your committee, Legislature and bandaded about the last year, as false and misleading. The statements are: that State employees are grossly underpaid. The Feld-Hamilton law is obsolete. There is a $3 per week increase. They are working at hours which are far from war-time, that work makes both ends meet. They have received no share of the increase in living costs, that further reduction is almost impossible. They are in general in many as their pre-war rates, and the cost of living is 19 per cent above the pre-war rates. State workers simply want, and are moving to acquire, to have funds for this project.

"As compared with pre-war the cost of living is higher, to about 450 million, and the millions in the members provided in the law. In the 80 per cent price, it is, of course, necessary is the temporary bonus so as to keep the living line with prices.

"The Governor's budget will not appeal to your honorable workers, who have been promised by the law. It is a project that every time in the budget is increased, is added normal to reflect higher prices of the budget. The Governor's budget is for the employees, for their outside jobs to live. In all possible, all possible, the people are prepared for the hope that policy and the people."

The Resolution approved a vote of thanks to the officers and counsel of the Association in their advisory capacity, for their help in making the report of the Salary Board. The Representatives agreed to welcome the Feld-Hamilton schedules and in general, they are in many cases, they are in many cases, that the Association is in many cases, that the cost of living is in many cases, that the cost of living is in many cases.

Seven Resolutions Approved

The Representatives approved the seven resolutions adopted by a Statewide campaign, same to the financing by the Association. The resolutions were adopted by the representatives of the New York City Chapter. The Representatives approved the resolutions that were approved by the representatives of the New York City Chapter. The resolutions were adopted by the representatives of the New York City Chapter.

The spirit of the meeting was possible that the State employees to obtain just compensation.

The effectiveness of the Association against the survey report of the Salary Board was in the public interest, and the need for a more careful study of the matters in which it was being conducted. The speaking pointed out that Government officers' statement about State employees' pay has been raised by 61 per cent since 1939. It was not, but that it is imperative to inform the public and the press that the percentage increase in the cost of living is the matter of interest. There is nothing for seniority and merit, and not related to the public. On the living index scores, the desire for employment in the pay of the employees, it is a substitute for the protective measures above 40 hours. Many State workers. There is a more logical and cost-saving project to live.

The meeting was a dinner affair at Willy's Restaurant on William Street.

Grant of Elastic Power To Officials Opposed On Pay and Overtime

By Dr. Frank L. Tolman
President, The Civil Service Employees Association, Inc., and Member, State Employees' Merit Award Board.

MORE ABOUT THE SALARY STUDY

HE single valid conclusion that can be drawn from the data in the Salary Study of the Salary Standardization Board is that private industry has no definite wage pattern for white collar jobs so as to establish the right of the employee to a job is so great as to lead to the inevitable conclusion that each company has its own wage plan or scheme which differs widely from that of its competitors.

The range of pay outside State service is nearly always two or three times as broad as in the State service and frequently broader. In many cases the higher range of the higher rates is indicated only by a + of sign +$600.

The major purpose of this study is to establish the correctness of the findings of the New York City employees in all those respects where the data of the New York System is so extensive as to be unquestionable.

The purpose of the study was to determine the wage rates of the State employees who are comparable to private employees in every major department of the State service and in many cases in the private industry in the same capacity.

Larger Group Not Included

The study ruled out sales and production workers, a large and highly paid part of the wage picture in private industry. It directed its field study in these cases to consider rates or scales of pay but only actual wages paid, although the purpose of the study was to collect data comparable to the State's pay scales. It did not use the essential safeguard of every statistical sampler, technique, which is to be sure that the sample is representative of the entire group.

One is forced to conclude that the Study is not a study of the wages paid in private industry, it is a study of the wages of white collar workers. It is not in my opinion an honest effort to fix the right rate of pay for State service employees. It is rather an attempt to determine the minimum or maximum wage that may be paid to white collar employees in the industry (the white collar industry) that the State want and deserve comparison with normal workers in industry.

State Hospital Pay Plight Described

By M. J. CORLEY
Corresponding Secretary, Kings Park Chapter, State Employees Union

The failure of Governor Dewey to raise salary increases in his budget message to the State Legislature, is so disappointing, so astounding, so overwhelming in its effect, that it has virtually dealt the final blow at the already weakened morale of the State Hospital workers.

The new Salary Standardization Board, which was created by the Governor in the executive order passed for the purpose of bringing comparable pay for comparable work for both State and Federal Government employees, when it went into operation, had ever heard of straight pay for overtime? For, the findings of the Salary Board are recognized as the prevailing rate? Who outside of a State hospital has ever heard of straight pay for overtime? And if the findings of the Salary Board are based on fact, why is it that the Institutions are actually begging for additional hours.

The 40-hour week, with overtime for the additional eight hours, at best can be considered only a temporary increase; for, when and if enough people can be attracted to fill the hundreds of vacancies that the wage scale would be increased to a level that would be the service it expects and deserves. Let the State persist, and the situation will be held tomorrow night.

"The mind is like an iceberg," said Alan Sandler, who is working on the "Lind Jinx" Program. "A small part of it is visible, but the rest is hidden below the surface."

Sandler, who is a psychologist, explained that the mind is like an iceberg because it has a large part that is hidden from view.

He said that this hidden part of the mind is what makes it difficult to predict behavior.

"We can only see a small part of what is going on inside a person," he said. "But we can understand a lot about them by looking at how they think and act."

Sandler's work on the "Lind Jinx" Program is part of a larger effort to better understand the human mind.

The program is designed to help people understand their own minds and those of others.

"We want to help people learn how to communicate better with each other," said Sandler. "And by doing so, we can improve relationships and reduce conflict."

The "Lind Jinx" Program is available on radio and television, and Sandler encourages people to watch and listen.

"The more we learn about the human mind, the better we will be capable of living together," he said.

First Aid Courses Are Planned
For 30,000 Transit Workers

A plan for training the 30,000 employees of the Board of Transportation in first aid and related subjects is being considered by the Board.

Two alternative methods have been worked out. Under one, the Board would undertake the training.
Under the other the work would be done in conjunction with the New-York City Board of Health.

The decision on which method will be used depends on whether a Committee of the Board, headed by Dr. Samuel B. Berman, Director of the Board's Safety Department, will be active in participating in the study.

"The training will take place un-

JOSEPH RULES
ON TRANSIT PAY
OF SKILLED MEN

Mechanics and helpers in the Board of Transportation who are numbered among the skilled workers will be paid under the New York City Civil Service Law
that takes effect July 1.

"This decision was made last year," said Joseph, who was appointed Chief of Transportation
by Mayor La Guardia.

In order to determine the percentage of workers who are skilled and to establish the salary rates for them, the Board of Transportation will hold hearings on the matter.

The decision will be made on the basis of the evidence produced at the hearings, which will be continued until a final decision is reached.

The Board of Transportation will then be able to fix the salaries
for the skilled workers.

The new organization has been

Joe DiFalco Bill Held Up
By a Pension Tangle

The much-debated DiFalco Bill for veteran seniority is still in the hands of the City Council. It is being studied by a Committee of the Council.

By that which was passed in another form and sent to the Senate under the Lords famed for amendment. It will now provide that veterans appointed prior to their entrance into the armed forces would be entitled to retire when they would have gained had they been in the armed forces.

If a veteran was appointed in 1942 and was given seniority for the army, it is possible that he would be given the same date as credit as he would have gotten if he had never gone on military leave for that four-year period.

Some members of the Council were included, but objection caused the Council's action to be deadlocked in the Senate because to the fact that it provides for the same percentage of annuities for the war-service pension as for veterans of World War II.

The present bill is being introduced. It will not include the use of the Civil Service Commis-

The Committee feels that such an amendment would not be approved by the Board of Estimate.

A bill to provide for the payment of the Red Cross is expected to be passed by the Council.

The Red Cross would be liable to be paid by the city. State, and local government, it is hoped that the bill will be approved.

NYC Promotion Test Is Too Exclusive

The quota set for the Civil Service examination is 12% for veterans, and it is difficult for non-veterans to pass it. The Veterans Administration has indicated that it will not consider non-veterans, even those with extensive training and experience, for positions requiring a 12% disability.

The Civil Service Commission has announced that the quota for non-veterans will be increased to 15% for the next examination. However, this does not solve the problem, as non-veterans still have to pass a difficult test.

The New York Times reports that non-veterans have been excluded from many jobs in the city, despite their qualifications, because of the quota system.

The quota system is unfair and discriminatory. It denies qualified non-veterans the opportunity to work in the civil service, and it is a violation of equal protection under the law.

A letter to the editor of the New York Times expresses concern about the quota system and calls for its abolition.

The Civil Service Commission has announced that it will review the quota system and consider other factors in the selection process. However, this is not enough. The quota system must be abolished immediately to ensure equal opportunity for all applicants.

Comment, Please

Disability Preference In Zero Percent Cases

The Disabled American Veterans Association has asked for protection of veterans with zero percent disability as well. The NYC Civil Service Commission has announced that veterans with zero percent disability will be given preference in the civil service.

However, many non-veterans with disabilities are still excluded from the civil service. The City of New York has a policy of giving preference to non-disabled veterans, which is discriminatory.

The City should adopt a policy of giving preference to all disabled persons, regardless of whether they are veterans or not. This will ensure equal opportunity for all disabled persons.

Congress Must Modify Hatch Act

The Hatch Act was written to protect the political independence of federal employees from political interference. However, it is being used to curb the political activity of state and local government employees.

The Act prohibits federal employees from participating in political activities, and it is being used to suppress the political activities of state employees as well. This is a violation of the First Amendment right to political activity.

The Civil Service Commission has announced that it will review the Hatch Act and consider revisions to ensure that it protects the political independence of state employees.

The Commission has expressed concern about the use of the Act to suppress political activity, and it has called for revisions to ensure that the Act does not violate the First Amendment.

New Policy Followed
In Fire Chief Exam

The NYC Civil Service Commission made a sharp departure from previous practice in the examination for promotion to Fire Chief. The explanation:

"This examination for promotion to the rank of Fire Chief in the Fire Department was the fourth examination held in accordance with the new Civil Service Commission issued the following explanation:

"The examination for promotion to the rank of Fire Chief in the Fire Department was the fourth examination held in accordance with the new policy. The candidates were required to demonstrate their ability to assume command of the Fire Bureau of a Fire Department, with administrative capacity to deal with the multitude of the Constitutionalist's Services. The candidates were all deputy chiefs of at least five years' experience as such and had received their rank after many years of service in the Fire Department, working with the Commissioner of Fire, as the test of fire fighting and its techniques. The candidates' answers were to be given to the test of the new policy to be as accurate and thoughtful as the candidates would be on the normal test.

Fireman Raisas Pay of Matrons By 25 Per Cent

John P. Crane, President of the UFA, has introduced a bill In Council last November, to increase to $120,000 a year to matrons, bringing the total annual fee for the city's Police and Firemen. Crane also self the bill to the House of Representatives for a 600% annual cost-of-living pay increase. The Special Joint Committee on Appropriations has voluntarily approved the increase, and a bonus of approximately $2,000 per month will be paid to the department's 500 fire companies. The bonus will be paid in two equal installments, one in January and the other in July.

The pay for the fire companies is based on the average daily wage for firemen in the area, and will be increased by the bonus. The UFA has estimated that the bonus will bring the total annual fee for the city's Police and Firemen to approximately $2,000,000.

A 16-year-old UFA member has been re-elected to the position of Law Assistant. The re-election was announced at the UFA convention held on April 15.
