Coast to Coast in State-County Affair in Utica

UTICA, Aug. 28—Plans are being made for what promises to be one of the most spectacular events ever staged by the State Civil Service Employees Association members. The group consists of State and County chapters in a 100-mile radius of Utica area. There will be dinner and dancing, but "a surprise package" is a key to the event.

The 40th anniversary dinner-dance of the Utica Hotel Union, Saturday, September 16, will be attended by protest candidates running for top positions at the State Hospital.

Association Offers Plan To Place Fired Workers

There were 281 Assistant Interviewers, 6 Typists, 5 Stenographers in addition to those in the Department of Labor. These terminations were necessary by the decline in caseload, on the result of a rise in job offers and distribution of "hard goods" and devices that seem to control certain State and local activities.

The index at all times is beyond suspicion, but the reason can there be for withholding $150 of each permanent salary? You will have to satisfy your critics that your sampling for comparison is representative. You can of course adjust salaries to the changes in the living index, but don't do any good, and, besides, as soon as an employee was reached for layoff, his past record would terminate. He said that the law would have to be attended over the year limit, as was done after World War I, and that the subject would be discussed further in Albany.

No Action on Managers

At present, he added, there will be no action on Manager and Assistant Managers, pending a study of the titles by the Commissioner, especially since all the heads of the regional offices have said they are ready to back up lower ones.

Permanent Em. Temporarily

Mr. Brockway admitted that "there's a lot of grumbling" in the ranks of Assistant Interviewers who have been fired. "You can call it unrest, but it's a lot of smart calculations. And the time they have met the requirements for the two-week leave, they are laid off and up from lower ones.

Seniority Lists To Be ReReleased

The Association was represented by its regional counsel, Harold L. Herzstein. Representatives included John Files, Assistant U. I. Examiner; Martin J. Dulgo, Claims Examiner; J. M. Dorsey, Employment Interviewer; William C. Haggard, Employment Interviewer; Saul Kronenberg and Phil Insinger; Bill Robinson, Employment Examiner; John Shaw, Employment Examiner; and Robert H. Devito, who has two children in school, had to phone his employer when the hearing, or conference, took place, anybody desiring to apply for a separation of salaries into two parts — one permanent and one temporary. The personnel who have much the same advantages as those in private Industry where they'd receive some kind of red-tapeless administration efficiency and economy.

ALBANY, Aug. 28.—A three-day training course for the State’s high-level sanitary engineers and sanitarians in the sanitation supervisors, assistant supervisors and deputy supervisors was held last week at the New York State Hospital for Mental Diseases in Oneida County.

The course, sponsored by the New York State Board of Health, is designed to give the participants an understanding of the responsibilities of their positions and to enhance their knowledge of the latest developments in the field of public health sanitation.

The course covered a wide range of topics, including the history and evolution of public health sanitation, the role of the sanitation supervisor in the community, the responsibilities of the sanitation supervisor and the assistant supervisor, and the legal and ethical responsibilities of the sanitation supervisor.

The course was well-received by the participants, who found it to be both informative and practical.

The next training course is scheduled for the spring of 1951.
DPUI Layoffs Cannot Stand

If anything must be understood by the people of this State with pristine clarity, it is that the layoffs, accomplished and pending, of nearly 800 interviewers and examiners in the Division of Placement and Unemployment Insurance cannot be allowed to stand. Certainly not in these days. Any formula which permits permanent civil service employment to be dismissed in this manner, is an arbitrary formula contrary to the best interests of public service and so designed that the employees working under that formula can be dismissed so easily and so quickly is exactly the situation under the arrangement which reads: "There must be 5,000 employees for every thousand persons applying for unemployment insurance." If the number applying for unemployment insurance falls, then the employees are dismissed. If the number applying for unemployment insurance rises, then the State issues a frantic hurry-call for more workers, hires provisionally, and the Civil Service Commission must go through a long process of recruiting and examining to find people for the job. The present disruption of operations in the DPUI, the battered morale of employees, is tense evidence of the inefficiency of government. The Federal agencies which supply money to the DPUI also have responsibility and cannot with the attitude that "If State employees have to be fired, it is no concern of ours."...is certain steps which must be undertaken immediately.

First, the entire State service must be canvassed to find those permanent employees who have been released. The full facilities of the State Labor Department must be utilized to find other positions which, either in Federal or local agencies or in private industry.

Second, whenever a State employee is required, the Labor Department has a responsibility to see that the proper legislation is drafted and pushed through. If any new pattern is not undertaken immediately.

How veterans get Leeway Where Age Limit is Set

In exam notices for police and fire departments, the age limit is set forth. According to the regulations of the Civil Service Commission, a candidate must reach a specified age in order to be eligible for examination or appointment. This age limit is established by statute.

In the case of the police department in New York City, the age limit is 35 years for the majority of positions, but in a few cases the limit is 30 years. For the fire department, the age limit is 40 years for most positions, but in a few cases it is 35 years.

In both departments, the age limit is set by law, and the Civil Service Commission has no authority to change it. However, in determining whether an applicant meets the age requirement for examination or appointment, the Commission must consider the candidate's military service, if any, and in some cases, even the candidate's education. The Commission also takes into account the candidate's work experience and other factors in deciding whether the candidate is eligible for examination or appointment.

In the case of veterans, the age limit is more relaxed. According to the Federal Civil Service Act, veterans who served in the military during World War II are eligible for examination and appointment regardless of their age.

In summary, the age limit for examination and appointment in the police and fire departments is determined by statute, and the Civil Service Commission has no authority to change it. However, in determining whether an applicant meets the age requirement, the Commission must consider a variety of factors, including the candidate's military service, education, work experience, and other qualifications.

Fuld's Dissenting Opinion in Vet Preference Case

ALBANY, Aug. 28 -- Associate Justice William D. Fuld of the Court of Appeals has delivered a vigorous dissenting opinion dismissing the decision of the majority of the court that veterans over 35 years of age are entitled to receive a preference of one per cent on the basis of their war service. Associate Justice John J. Dowling, in a concurring opinion, voted for the finding, appointed, or promoted on the basis of priority of filing for examination or appointment.

In a 3 to 2 decision, the court in a prior case, Matter of Reinke v. Civil Service Commission, had decided that a person's war service entitled him to preference in any examination or appointment. In a separate decision, the court decided that a person's war service entitled him to preference in any examination or appointment.

In the present case, the court decided that a person's war service entitled him to preference in any examination or appointment. In a separate decision, the court decided that a person's war service entitled him to preference in any examination or appointment.

Justice Fuld wrote in his opinion: "The court, in my view, has failed to give adequate weight to the fact that the present case is not one in which it is necessary to determine the eligibility of veterans for appointment to a particular position. The question here is whether the court, in its determination of the eligibility of veterans for appointment to a particular position, has erred in its application of the law as set forth in the prior cases."

Justice Fuld went on to critique the majority's approach, which he felt was too narrow and focused on the specific circumstances of the case at hand.

Justice Fuld concluded his opinion by stating: "I dissent from the majority's decision because I believe that the court has failed to give adequate weight to the fact that the present case is not one in which it is necessary to determine the eligibility of veterans for appointment to a particular position. The question here is whether the court, in its determination of the eligibility of veterans for appointment to a particular position, has erred in its application of the law as set forth in the prior cases."

Justice Fuld's dissenting opinion has been highly regarded by legal scholars and has been cited in future cases involving the question of veteran's preference in civil service exams.

Deferrment Policies for Reservists, National Guard

These are the policies for occupation necessary to a highly military service. In the Department of Defense as it concerns their respective reserve components.

Deferrals are in all cases to be made on an individual basis and may be granted as a result of the necessity because of the military condition of the service, and the individual's dependent at time of need. Their status, therefore, is different from that of men called to serve under the Selective Service System; however, the military departments to give preference to hardship cases.

Social Investigator Study for Oct. 28 Test

By HERBERT M. BENON

McCaswen experience with the court as a judge of modern faults. Faults, P. M. Malcolm,Supervising one, is any, in his treatment with its administration. Individualized approach to effort is the ideal to be achieved, contemporaneous with the experience of welfare agencies, pub- report the validity of the social and political follow-up and eligibility.

Clower has a definite place in the work of modern relief. Duties to compete in promotion tests. But, its limitations should not be overlooked. Individualized approach evolved in sociology should be devoted toward problems in the giving and with-avocacy regular duties.

The investigator needs to be familiarized in handling the diffi- culties of the individual relief client. Such undertaking is valuable in gaining the cooperation of other social agencies in bringing about his return to work.

As defined by law, the investig- ator's job is the giving and with-drawing of aid. A difficult duty when cases are encountered at first hand, this job devotes undue attention to the client's economic status and to the personal problems, for in doing so it is the giving of aid. The client has not been discovered where eligibility has not been a foregone conclusion. The client has not been discovered where eligibility has not been a foregone conclusion. The client has not been discovered where eligibility has not been a foregone conclusion.

Social investigators are designed to evolve principally two considerations: (1) to help the client stand up for the needs and problems of the families, and (2) to work out a plan of treatment adapted to the individual's physical, personal, and emotional problems. NYC Patrolman Eligible List Be Out Early in '51

The new Patrolman (P. D.) eligibles list will be out effective early in 1950. The 500 appointments of NYC Patrolmen from the present list on which nearly 900 names were scheduled for October 1, but at present it was "still under consideration to see when the new list will be issued" due to the Commission's decision that the Patrolman list is still legal effect; only promulgation will make it official.

The list may be published, even this year, before it is made official. The new list will consist of 6,072 names.

Patterson Roots for More Pay
For a Professional Group

An unusual conference will be held on Tuesday, September 5. AFL officials will discuss with Budget Director Thomas J. Patterson salary upgrading of professional group in the NYC Department of Education to have higher salaries, which are now in the Bureau of School Lunches.

Civil Service Commission. The Commission has decided as a matter of policy not to grant applications which in effect result in covering in employment of men who didn't pass a competitive examination, or, in fact, any exam.

The usual departmental method is to ask to have the job put in the exempt class, in which case competitive class, and have been of Education to have two positions, which are now in the civil service, and which would be upset if not appointed.

Employee organizations opposed Board's request and so did Mrs. Katharine Broome, former Commissioner, and the Civil Service Reform Association, which objects to new appointments. President James S. Watson and Commissioner Robert F. Brennan voted in the negative, but Commissioner Paul A. Fino voted in the affirmative.

Drive Seeks Public Support for Uniformed Forces' Goals

An intensive campaign is on to acquaint the public with a major event in the history of television conducted by the Uniformed Fire Officers Association in conjunction with the other line organizations of the Fire and Police Departments of the City of New York. This is the first time in the history of television that an appeal has been made not only to the officials of NYC but also to the general public for support in revising the pension system and for a general raise.

How'd you like to be an of- ficer of the Police Department Auxiliary Corps or a member of the Fire Department Auxiliary Corps?

Those groups, adding to the regular uniformed forces, would play an important part in the protection of life and property and the prevention of injury and damage in case of any emergency. Right now nothing is being done except to receive the names and addresses of those seeking to reg- ister. A change in the State law is necessary before other auxiliaries have any legal standing, but both departments have been officially informed. But the appeals go on and on for both men and women.

What Women Would Do

The only formal enrollment of female auxiliary members will begin on Tuesday, August 14. Women who wish to register will apply to the Fire Department Auxiliary or the Police Department Auxiliary at the respective stations. Women registered will receive the names and addresses of those seeking to register, and will be asked to notify the committees of any women that they know who would be interested in working in the auxiliary. Women will be registered for auxiliary work and assigned to communication and transportation service.

The councils and the women's auxiliary have many problems to face. Right now nothing is being done except to receive the names and addresses of those seeking to register. A change in the State law is necessary before other auxiliaries have any legal standing, but both departments have been officially informed. But the appeals go on and on for both men and women.
