Association Rejects Pay Plan Offer by State, Holds It Doesn't Meet Needs

Legislative Leaders Hint New Proposals May Be on Way

ALBANY, Feb. 28—At press sessions, state legislative leaders indicated that their pay offer for State employees was still unsettled. The Civil Service Employees Association has been notified by the management that "a major internal survey" was underway in an effort to arrive at a plan that would be acceptable to state officials.

The management had turned down an offer of $300 or a 10 percent raise to $2,100, with a $1,000 maximum, that had been made to the Association. A meeting with Gov. Dewey was scheduled for today to arrive at a solution.

The governor's representatives have urged that the Association not ask for a "normal" plan, which would cover an additional 25c per capita for each member of the Association.

A Double Shock

The $300 increase, according to Mr. Bendel, president of the New York City Civil Service Employees Association, will do nothing to remove the inflationary effects of the pay increase. The $1,000 maximum, according to Mr. Bendel, will give the employees a raise of less than 15 percent.

Some hope was seen in state representatives that the pay raise might be the first in a series of pay raises. The Association's leaders have asked for a series of pay raises over the next year, as well as a series of pay raises for the next two years.

Exam After 5 Years on Job Asked in Bill

ALBANY, Feb. 26—A bill introduced in the Assembly by Daniel M. Kelly would give civil service employees serving in the same grade for five years, the right to respond, through the head of their agency, that a promotion examination be given. The Civil Service Commission would then be required to give such an examination within a period of one year.

Mr. Kelly stated that the primary purpose of the bill was to insure that employees have an opportunity of participating in promotion examinations while the technical subject matter in their respective fields is still comparatively fresh in their minds. The bill would also be said, possibly expedite an examination to a higher grade in that there would be a good possibility that by the time such an examination was given and a list compiled, a new employees might exist.

The bill is given little chance of passage.

Bill Widens Hearing Rights

ALBANY, Feb. 26—A bill introduced in the Legislature by Senator Manning and Assemblyman Cusick provides that all employees in the competitive class shall have the right to a hearing when charges are preferred, with the right to counsel and the right to summon witnesses. Only veterans and exempt freshmen have the right to counsel and the right to summon witnesses. Only veterans and exempt freshmen have the right to a hearing under present law. The Civil Service Employees Association drafted this measure.

Selected Workers To Get Training At State Expense

ALBANY, Feb. 26—Edward Couvar, President of the State Civil Service Commission, has asked the heads of State departments and agencies to nominate candidates for their employees for the second year of in-service training in public administration to begin July 1.

The program was developed last year to provide training opportunities for regular permanent employees equivalent to those offered through internship programs.

Mr. Couvar specified that each agency may nominate three employees who will be made from among employees under 36 years of age whose present jobs are in the C-5 or below categories. Following a Civil Service review, the minimum salary for Grade C-5 is $4,956 and the present maximum for Grade C-7 is $6,576.

Nominations are to be made to the Civil Service Department's Training Division not later than March 31.

Last year 31 employees who had shown unusual ability in administration or supervision were selected from 22 agencies. They have participated jointly with public administration interns in training institutes and seminars in various aspects of junior level administrative work. Their training will conclude June 30 of this year.

Nominations will be reviewed by Governor Thomas E. Dewey's Personnel Board and the Budget Office; the Personnel Board of Supervisors on January 22. Those selected will be notified by February 28 of their acceptance and the names of those who are rejected will be made available to them.

Those who are selected will be given the opportunity to select their own time for their regular duties and some portion of their time will be released for formal training. The types of training plans for the individual will be determined by the Civil Service Department and the trainees will be employed in the department in which the training is to be received.

Westchester Group To Be Consulted

WHITE PLAINS, Feb. 26—At a conference, Westchester County Budget Director Arthur C. DeWeese expressed to officers of the Westchester County Civil Service Association his intention of working closely with the employees' group.

Rev. John H. Burton, who is the Director John H. Burton, who is the director of Personnel Relations at the State University and Chairman of the New York State Public Authority, is chairman of the Westchester County Personnel Association.

The Budget Director referred to the Budget Office's assistance to the Westchester Personnel Association in connection with some services to the Board of Trustees and the Budget Office's cooperation with the Board of Supervisors.

This was due to the fact that the Budget Office was required to provide the employees with the opportunity to select their own time for formal training. Those selected will be notified by February 28 of their acceptance and the names of those who are rejected will be made available to them.

Upgraded Titles Listed

The Budget Director supplied a list requested by the Association of 31 titles, the salary range of which had been raised by the Board above the general formula for merging of emergency compensation into base pay on January 1, 1951.

It was explained that these titles were among more than 100 requests received for higher pay allocations. About 30 of the requests have been acted upon in further consideration.

RECENTLY a pensioner was in- tended to attend a small function at Willard State Hospital. In the course of the conversation she was asked how she was getting along and replied that, whereas her pension amounted to $35 a month, it was quite apparent she wasn't hav- ing a good time. However, she was engaging along it was particularly hard, but she was paying $15 a month and another $5 for room, for which she paid $35 a month for rent, it was quite apparent she wasn't hav- ing a good time. However, she was pane dovina in the park, and she had nothing with which to give little presents to her many neighbors and nieces.

Cheerful L.I. Cemetery
Appeals to Young Couples
PINE LAWN, L. I., Feb. 27.—The young people are buying more and more of the family plots in our public cemeteries. Mrs. Frank Locke, president of Pine Lawn, expressed the opinion private cemetery, said today.

Mr. Locke attributed the increase to the family feeling young couples to three factors:

1. Young couples are attracted by the park-like setting and the set level with the lawn dignity that the nature lends to the park-like setting. Shrubs, flowers and lawns.

3. There is a growing desire among young couples to establish a family memorial now, which savings and expenditures will find pleasant to visit.

The present low purchase price of $10 for a four-year family plot and Pine Lawn's Convenient Payment Plan are among rea- sons for selecting a memorial now.

Wesling of Pensions
A Necessary Measure

The Legislature has been asked, in a measure recently introduced, to permit "vesting of pensions." This means that any member who leaves the service after five years for any reason except discharge may leave his retirement contributions on deposit and have pension credit "vested" to produce a retirement allowance for him at age 55 or age 60, depending on which plan he had elected. A second measure would grant the same privilege to those with 20 years of service. Both bills, drawn by the Civil Service Employees Association, were introduced by Senator Halpern and Assemblyman Noonan.

Under present law, a member of the State Retirement System voluntarily leaves the service before reaching retirement age receives nothing but his accumulated contributions, except those whose contributions are added to their retirement pay. A vested pension credit which he has earned by his years of service. Even worse is the plight of the employee whose position is abolished through no fault of his own. He, too, loses his pension unless he can qualify for the restricted "continuous service" benefits now in law.

The injustice of this measure is made evident by the many recent dismissals in the Division of Placement and Unemployment Insurance, resulting not only in loss of jobs but of retirement allowances as well; and of employees in Schenectady who last year lost their jobs—and their retirement security—when a new political administration took power. The Opposition members of the Senate and Assembly sought to have the bills defeated by the Legislature after August 1. These are unusual days; no one can foresee what it is likely to happen. The bills offer a necessary protection to employees, and cost the unit of government nothing. The five-year vesting bill (S. Intro. 517, A. Intro. 687) should be passed.

Veterans' Rights in Exams

The State Civil Service Department's new enrollment in "Veterans' Rights in Civil Service Examinations," which the subject is entitled to receive test credit in examinations for:

Q. When do the new amendments take effect?

A. Under the old Constitutional provisions, the State Civil Service Department is the leader in the field of examination methods. It was found that the examiners are fit and meritorious by the Court of Appeals in the case of Balcom v. Mosher, 163 N. Y. 32.

Q. Are the qualifications for additional credits in examinations the same as those for ordinary credits in examinations?

A. No, the qualifications for additional credits in examinations are different from those for ordinary credits in examinations. The qualifications for additional credits are more stringent than those for ordinary credits in examinations. The qualifications for additional credits include a detailed examination of the veteran's employment records and a review of the veteran's military service records. The qualifications for ordinary credits in examinations are less stringent than those for additional credits in examinations. The qualifications for ordinary credits in examinations are based on the veteran's service in the military and the nature of the veteran's employment.

Q. What is the time limit for applying for additional credits in examinations?

A. The time limit for applying for additional credits in examinations is five years from the date of discharge from the military. If the veteran fails to meet the time limit, he will not be eligible for additional credits in examinations.

Q. Does the Mitchell Amendment provide for additional credits in examinations for veterans in the State Civil Service?

A. Yes, the Mitchell Amendment provides for additional credits in examinations for veterans in the State Civil Service. The Mitchell Amendment was passed in 1941 and it has been in effect since that time. The Mitchell Amendment allows veterans to receive additional credits in examinations for their military service.

Q. What is the current status of the Mitchell Amendment?

A. The Mitchell Amendment is currently in effect and is being enforced by the Civil Service Department. The Department has determined that the veterans are entitled to additional credits in examinations for their military service. The Department has also determined that the veterans are entitled to additional credits in examinations for their military service in the current fiscal year.

Q. How do you apply for additional credits in examinations?

A. To apply for additional credits in examinations, the veteran must complete an application form and submit it to the Civil Service Department. The application form can be obtained from the Civil Service Department or from the nearest State Civil Service Office. The veteran must also provide evidence of his military service, such as a copy of his discharge papers, to support his application for additional credits in examinations.

Assn. to Meet

In Albany

The executive committee of the Montana State Hospital Assn. has announced that its annual meeting will be held at the Delta Hotel, Albany, on Thursday, February 27, 1935.

A salary increase for employees of the Department of Mental Hygiene has been the major issue for the past few months. The next move will be a reclassification of titles and salaries for positions in this department. The committee feels that the present system is on the program, together with other necessary improvements for the betterment of the Health workers. So far as I know, this is a well balanced group.

The Mental Hygiene Assn. will be held at a five-week seminar given by Dr. Charles Methe, secretary of the Association:

...the importance of mental hygiene has been the major issue for employees in future, for the improvements are hoped for in the Mental Hygiene; the fine care of patients in hospitals...

4. Members of the armed forces of any country who have served during a war or military conflict receive points based on the duration and type of service. There are specific points assigned for each year of service and for the type of service.
STATE TAXES for a public purpose are deductible from the U. S. Income tax. The city and county tax, like the county tax on gasoline (4 cents a gallon and the state tax on gasoline is 10 cents a gallon), is deductible from the U. S. Income tax. Thus, if one used 1,000 gallons of gasoline in 1966 the deduction from one's income would be $40. If one smoked a pack of cigarettes a day the deduction would be $30 per pack.

Local sales taxes are also deductible. In Provincetown the sales tax in 1965 was 2 per cent. Per personal purchases these sales taxes are considered deductible. If one bought say costly items, such as an automobile or a television set, the sales tax deduction should be stated separately and additionally for these. That may be done on a line, as "Auto bought, $40; come tax itself, also the State tax come under the U. S. Income tax be $40. If one smoked a pack of cigarettes a day the deduction would be $30 per pack.

Auto Plates Deductible

Also deductible is the cost of auto license plates. The plates and the gasoline may be included on a line, if desired e.g. "Auto plates and gas, $55," for 1,000 gallons and $215 for plates.

Real Estate Taxes

Taxes on real estate also may be deducted. If you own and occupy a one-family house the deduction is made on Page 3 of the 1960 form as: "Real Estate Taxes. The plates and gas, $55." (For 1,000 gallons and $215 for plates.)

Subject to deduction even when the owner, in fact, does not occupy the house is a tenant. The house is considered a tenant occupied residence if the owner is not in the landlord position. If the owner of the residence is a corporation, and the corporation is rented to another, and such corporation is considered a tenant. The corporation of rents is defined as the owner taxable income. The deduction of such rent is 100 per cent of the rent and the rent that is considered taxable income. The deduction of such rent is 100 per cent of the rent and the rent that is considered taxable income. The deduction of such rent is 100 per cent of the rent and the rent that is considered taxable income. The deduction of such rent is 100 per cent of the rent and the rent that is considered taxable income. The deduction of such rent is 100 per cent of the rent and the rent that is considered taxable income.

What the Benefit Is

The deductions referred to above are very important. The benefit to the property owner is considerable. The deduction allowed on property from which there is no taxable income is considered the tax benefit of the property owner. For higher income brackets the tax benefit rises to 17.4 per cent of the deduction, where there is no taxable income. The deduction possibilities only rise, never shrink, the owner of rented property should be careful not to apply any proportionate reduction. For higher income brackets the tax benefit is greater.

Still Time to Apply for U. S. Correction Officer Jobs

The U. S. Bureau of Prisons needs correctional officers for duty in Federal prisons. Applications may be obtained from Federal reformatories, correctional institutions, prisons, and rehabilitation camps located throughout the United States. The U. S. Income tax for employment as a correctional officer is deductible at a rate of 17.4 per cent of the income earned. In the Department of Justice the Correctional Officer is an employee of the Bureau of Prisons. The Correctional Officer's duties may be assigned to any one of the Bureau of Prisons' correctional institutions, prisons, or rehabilitation camps.

Bill Helps Widows On Pensions

ALBANY, Feb. 26—A bill introduced in the Legislature by Assemblyman Composto would benefit widows of former NYC employees, now prevented by the constitutional provision on pensions of earning $1,800 or more a year.

As the law now reads, the $1,800 limit written into the pension of his or her beneficiary, on compensation to the widow, is not applicable to any of the counties of Greater New York. The proposed change would restrict the limitation only to an employee of the City, or to his or her beneficiaries of his or her own prior employment by the City or any agency," received a NYC pension.

"Thus, the formerly set a $1,800 limit.

In two cases, law dates were restored amounts received because their own income exceeded $1,200. One was the widow of a sanitation department employee and the other the widow of a police officer.

"I believe this bill is of vital importance to many widows," said Assemblyman Composto.

More State Aid for NYC Fails in Albany

ALBANY, Feb. 26—The chance of New York City getting more State aid was lost last Tuesday, when a Democratic effort to alter the Democratic budget was defeated. The Democrats sought an increased of $500,000 to go from $565,875 to $57,875 for the New York City Transit Authority.

Under the proposal, there would be an increase of $500,000 in the full amount for the Transit Authority, plus an increase of $50,000 for the City to pay the cost of a tax on sales at a sliding scale of 1 percent for the budget year ending Dec. 31, 1951.

The defeat cost the City a portion of their share of $2,900,000 in State aid, which the City will receive under the new law. The defeat could cost the City $500,000 in increased State aid for the budget year ending Dec. 31, 1951.

THE COMMISSION was today notified, by the Clerk of the Court of Claims, that a petition had been filed by the New York City Comptroller for a new trial in the case of the City of New York v. The Comptroller of the City of New York, et al. The petition is a new trial motion in the case of the City of New York v. The Comptroller of the City of New York, et al., in which the City of New York sought to recover the sum of $300,000, which it had paid to the Comptroller as a settlement of a dispute over the authority of the Comptroller to pay certain claims.

The petition, which was filed by the New York City Comptroller, alleges that the decision of the Court of Claims in favor of the City of New York was erroneous and that the Comptroller acted in an arbitrary and capricious manner in making the payment. The petition seeks a new trial on the issue of whether the Comptroller had the authority to make the payment.

The City of New York has been notified of the filing of the petition and will have the opportunity to respond to the allegations made by the Comptroller. The matter is now pending in the Court of Claims and a hearing date has not yet been set.

The City of New York has a long history of disputes with the Comptroller over the payment of claims. In recent years, the City has sought to recover millions of dollars from the Comptroller, alleging that he had improperly paid out funds. The Comptroller has consistently denied these allegations, arguing that he had acted within his authority.

The outcome of the current matter will likely have significant implications for the relationship between the City and the Comptroller, as well as for the broader issue of the City's authority to pay claims. It remains to be seen how the Court of Claims will rule on the petition for a new trial.
Edward Corsi, State Industrial Commissioner, congratulates four of his aides after presenting them with pins honoring them for long service to the State. Left to right: Arthur R. Farrell, Director of Industrial Safety; Peter Doyle, Chief, Bureau of Public Works; William Quinn, Director of Bedding; Thomas Halpin, Administrative Director. The four are all civil service career men, and each has been in State service at least 25 years.

114 More to Lose Jobs in DPUI

The Division of Placement and Unemployment Insurance, State Department of Labor, is compelled by the drop in the case-load to let out 114 more employees, Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi announced.

Since January 1 the number of employees laid off in the insurance office was 263, soon to rise to 377. High demand for workers in defense industries has resulted in a large and continuing drop in claimants for unemployment insurance, the DPUI explained, and Federal funds for payrolls are geared to the case-load. Employee defenses proceeded the lay-offs and asked that assistant unemployment insurance claim examiners be qualified by the Civil Service Department for assistant interviewer jobs in the thriving placement offices.

Employee delegations protested the lay-offs and asked that assistant unemployment insurance claims examiners be qualified by the Civil Service Department for assistant interviewer jobs in the thriving placement offices.

Sick Leave Bill Backed By Engineers

The Municipal Operating Engineers of the City of New York have indorsed a bill, introduced by Senator Seymour Halpern in the State Legislature, providing that all classified civil service employees of the State or its political divisions, shall be entitled to sick leave, with pay, of 18 working days a year. The method of payment would be unmaterial. Accumulation would be permitted, up to 150 days.

Memorandum would upset the finances of the retirement system; we suppose it would. But we do know that some retired employees are suffering real hardship, and the power to do anything about it seems to be lacking. A local government of school board may budget for reimbursement of present services. But when it comes to doing justice to retired pensioners not now performing services it runs into a legal share, on the ground that this would be a government gift to an individual. The problem also arises as to teachers still in service, and so long in service that they deserve special generosity from the community, but who cannot endure retirement now on the pension they will receive. One escape device is to increase salary beyond schedule in the last few years before retirement in order to bring up the average pension. But this is certainly not the healthy way to do business.

However it is to be accomplished, some way should be found to take care of these pension hardship cases among retired state and local employees, and to do it promptly, for the need is instant. In this matter the aged pensioners have a better argument than the actuaries for our sympathetic consideration.
