ALBANY, April 9—The number of temporary appointments made in the competitive class filled on a temporary basis has been made known to the public by the Civil Service Commission. Such appointments include clerk, account clerk, typist positions, as of October 15, 1950, though numerous examinations for temporary positions have been held in March 1948 and April 1949 for the same positions.

The Civil Service Commission and the last feature represents about 15 per cent of all examinations, as of October 15, 1950, provisional appointments are in various examination positions, and of those, 10,510 filled positions in the competitive class are "encumbered." This means that the permanent employee who holds the position is on leave of absence and promised to return to his position pending a promotion examination, or is otherwise absent from his regular assignment. In such cases, his permanent position is held for him and may be filled by a temporary appointment.

About 17 per cent of the temporary appointments now in effect where position cannot be permanently because they are "encumbered." This means that the permanent employees who holds the position is on leave of absence and promised to return to his position pending a promotion examination, or is otherwise absent from his regular assignment. In such cases, his permanent position is held for him and may be filled by a temporary appointment.

Following a definite period of temporary appointments in these limited positions, which are required for short duration and for which a limited period.

"In addition, matters relating to the retirement system and membership are excluded from the formal procedures.

"What's the Truth?"

Later this month, there will roll from the press a brochure entitled "What's the Truth?" which will explain in detail the procedures and machinery of the new personnel relations board.

In answer to another question, Mr. Hubbard stated that as of the Executive Commission, a panel of experts has been presented to the Board through the entire state of the United States which has the Board received any appeals from the presentation of appeals following the presentation of appeals fall within the jurisdiction of the Personnel Relations Board.

The requests for higher salary were held in June 1946, June 1947, and February 1948. Additional examinations for temporary positions held in March 1948 and April 1949 for the same positions.

Mr. Conway said the latter figure represents about 15 per cent of all examinations, as of October 15, 1950, provisional appointments are in various examination positions, and of those, 10,510 filled positions in the competitive class are "encumbered." Assn. Membership Increases by 1,120; More Gains Near ALBANY, April 9—The board of directors of The Civil Service Employees Association received reports from the co-chairmen of the Association membership committee, showing that the paid-up membership is 1,120 ahead of this time last year.

Charles D. Methe of Mary State Hospital, reporting for the State Division, gave the figures for that group as 37,772 new, compared to 35,244 last year.

Mwibei'ship is 1,120 ahead of this year last year.

Association Weighs Blanket Bonding of Chapter Treasurers

ALBANY, April 9—The idea of having a blanket bond for chapter treasurers was considered by The Civil Service Employees Association. At present individual bonds for chapters is practiced, although some chapters that have been bonded for new chapters was adopted do not rush to bond. This rule was adopted before the creation of the Civil Service Employees Association headquarters in Albany, is expected to show a further membership increase. Since the report was rendered the 46,883 total has exceeded substantially.

Mahoney Amendment Backers Weigh Drive To Get Support of Voters

ALBANY, April 9—The Mahoney amendment, to permit increased provisions for persons already retired who are receiving annuities below the subsistence level, will be one of eight amendments to the State Constitution to be voted on at the polls on November 2.

It is expected that the State Administration will let the project take its own course. Although the last-minute opposition to the measure came from representatives of the Administration, and got a state backing, elsewhere, the climax final defeat, and the existence of popular support, have made opponents of the measure feel that it would be impolitic to continue the onslaught.

Plan Information Approach

The backers of the amendment have formulated a plan that would hope to make a means of encouragement of an affirmative vote. They recognize that any proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State is likely to get a negative vote of a few hundred thousand, judging by what happened in the past. If so, therefore, an informational campaign is expected to be waged. The public at large, they feel, must be made aware of the serious and human import of the proposed amendment which, if adopted at the polls, will finally become law.

METROPOLITAN CONFERENCE

A study of the attendance rules at State institutions is to be made by a special committee of the Metropolitan Conference of the Civil Service Employees Association. Chairman Robert Wheeler appointed the committee at the recent quarterly meeting, held at Brooklyn State Hospital. The committee consists of Mrs. Julia E. Ross, president of the Pennsylvania State chapter and Arnold Moses, president of the Brooklyn State Hospital chapter, who was the Conference's host.

The question was brought before the meeting by Mrs. Eino.

Chairman Alexander read from a report made to the Association by Mr. W. Roper, chairman of the Association's attendance committee. The report recommended:

1. Institution office employees should be given a raise of 10 percent.
2. Unused vacation credits to be carried over.
3. Four holidays a year.
4. Unused vacation credits to be carried over.

Chairman Alexander recommended that the Conference legislative committee, appointed by the Governor, be given the authority to make rules for the conference of State institutions. The conference would have to be held before the end of the month.

The question was brought before the meeting by Mrs. Eino.

Legislation Discussed

Senator Thomas H. Conklin of Brooklyn presented the Conference legislative committee, appointed by the Governor, with a report that the conference's rules were to be made by the Conference legislative committee. The conference would be held on June 11 at the State Capitol in Albany.

Discussion was reached by J. Earl Kelly, Classification and Compensation Board director.  The salary program for State employees also was covered by Mr.
Cuiper and it was emphasically noted that only through the Association's efforts was an additional increase in salary gained.

Mr. Cuiper stressed the duty of each member to get a new mem-dent, stated he received word from the CRRTA executive secretary, Joseph D. Loehrle, that no decision as yet on the laundry employees' salary appeal, had reached by J. Earl Kelly, Classification and Compensation Board director. Maintenance men in all trades are stunned by the recent decision of the Classification and Compensation Board to reject their salary appeal. However, many of the maintenance men feel that as they have received no official word from Mr. Kelly, they don't know when their 60 days to appel start. All maintenance men are strongly urged to appeal from the decision of the Classification and Compensation Division to the Salary Appeal Board and request a hearing. A regular meeting of the chap-ber will be held on April 18 at 4:30 P.M. in the fire house lecture hall. All members are urged to attend.

The Budget Office Exercises a Veto

STATE Budget Director T. Norman Herr has exercised his prerogative to veto the action of another State agency, the Classification and Compensation. In this case, Mr. Herr turned down the recommendation of Earl Kelly, Classification chief, for increases in the pay of certain skilled workers, physicians, therapists, and others.

Important questions arise here: if the State, via its classification and compensation machinery, determines that certain groups of employees are entitled to some baselines of ascertainable facts—are entitled to pay increases, should the Budget Director have the absolute power to negate the recommendation based on facts? Does not then the Director of Classification and Compensation in effect take over the duties of the Classification Division? Does not then the Director of Classification and Compensation become merely a tail to the Budget Director’s kite? Isn’t it true that the classification staff would tend more and more to become little more than a budget officer?

The classification machinery of the State, while it suffers from certain faults, represents one of the great forward advances in the handling of salary data and in the mature relationship between employees and management. This operation ought not to become progressively less useful through unintended vetoes by the Budget office.

Correction Conferees Plan Social Studies for Prisoners

ALBANY, April 9—State correctional officers are to be held up in an attempt to open wide the competition from private industry, especially to the huge numbers of correction officers now in demand. The State Department of Corrections. The difficulty of recruiting and retaining employees is now acute. New small communities are growing, the industries are booming, and residents are making them the gift of public funds is prohibited by the State Constitution.

The effect of the draft on recruitment is yet to be felt by the State. The first evidence of the trend to the particular college series fell off heavily. Many in college expected to be called to military service, so salaries offered by private industry are now being accepted. The salaries offered by private industry are higher than those offered by the State, in many instances, but the State is relying on the argument that State jobs offer better security.

CIVIL SERVICE LEADER

Editor, The LEADER

For years New York City employees have been waiting for legislation to enable them to give the same attention to their retirement and college savings plans as they do to their grade employees. After passing from the Board of Estimate and the 15 to 30-year apprenticeship, these employees are at last provided with the opportunity of financial advancement by enrolling in the Federal Government's retirement program where you can receive a promotion.

March 16th, 1951 a bill was introduced in the City Council by Councilman Benjamin A. Viertel, the miniature directory containing 1,060 pages, or more than 16 times more than the largest edition of the Directory of Visitors of Letchworth Village, the miniature directory containing 10 pages, is ruled in an editorial in last week's issue.

PLIA FOR INCREMENTS FOR GRADE 5 CLERKS

According to the NYC budget for 1951-52, Grade 4 clerks will be given two new increments to be paid in the form of a $120 each. This is fine and adequate, but we believe the grade clerks make less effective the efforts of those employed by the Federal Government.

Recommended for Grade 3 clerks. Why were they not also given the same amount, if not more? Why? These recommendations for increases are made largely on the basis of favoritism. We believe that Grade 5 clerks can get increases in the same amount as Grade 3 clerks.

Grade 4 clerks, at the top of the pay scale, are given nothing, while Grade 5 clerks who are getting the mini- mum only get $120. We believe theGrade 5 clerks are at the minimum.

Women Sought as Army Stenos, Typists in Far East and Alaska

The Department of Army, Civilian Personnel Division has issued an urgent call for women to assist in the prosecution of war in the Territory of Alaska. Most of the jobs will be in Anchorage, the largest town in Alaska with a population of about 7,000 people.

On-the-spot hiring by the Army is being conducted in New York City. Women are being interviewed by persons representing the Army at the Employment Service, 154 Nassau Street, New York City. Interviews are being held through Friday, April 30, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

These young women are essential to the war effort, and the Department of Army is now recruiting women with stenographic and typewriting abilities for the Army's Eastern Service Centers.

Mr. Brandebury, who is responsible for hiring personnel for the U. S. Government in Alaska, reports a great demand for typists and stenographers in Japan, Alaska, and the Aleutian Islands.

John S. Russell, representative at the Employment Service, 154 Nassau Street, New York City, states that a number of eligible lists are open for typists and stenographers. Applicants who are not planning to take job exams in New York will be considered for admission to the eligible list.

U. S. Eligible List

Nearing Expiration

The Second Regional Office of the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Grand Central Palace, New York City, certifies the eligibility of all women who were issued registrations, or entered the qualified application pool, between March 1 and 30, 1942, to file for examinations for the period ending March 31, 1942. Applications must be filed at the employment office where the examination was announced soon. Also, renewed examinations are announced.

There are 200 vacancies for women in Alaska. The salary range for these positions is from $3,312.50 to $8,000.

NYC Patrolman List

Expected This Month;
500 Early Jobs Seen

An all-out effort is being made by the NYC Civil Service Commission to establish the new Pa-tralman List by this month.

The Police Department has reported that the list will be out by the end of March.

The Police Department has wanted the list out by now as quickly as possible. It will be useful in determining the number of new officers that will be needed.

The list will be made up of the 500 highest scorer's names on the exam, followed by the next 2,500 candidates who scored highest.

In order to maintain the quality of the list, the examiners have developed a new method of scoring.

The new method is based on the ranking of candidates who scored highest on the written test and who were selected for the oral test.

There were 2,500 candidates who scored highest on the written test, but only 500 were selected for the oral test.

The examiners wanted to keep the list as fair and just clear as possible.

Opponents of the Council bill to require 30-day notice by all members of the uniform force of the NYC Fire Department, before the establishment of a retirement plan for police surgeons, discovered that the Finance Committee had recommended passage of the bill favorably. It was too late, they suggested, to discover that the Finance Committee had recommended a bill which was not favorable. The 30-day notice bill was reported to be applicable to all members of the uniform force of the Fire Department.

The Councilmen, by and large, were reported to be backing the position of Mayor Impellitteri in their attitude toward the proposed legislation. Mayor Impellitteri signed the bill affecting police pensions, after a public hearing, and opponents of the measure affecting the Fire Department realized that if the bill passed the public hearing would take the same stand regarding that amendment.

The age-63 provision affecting the uniform force of the Police Department must retire when they reach age 63. The amendment under consideration is a compromise between the compulsory retirement those who wish to retire, and the recommendation that those who wish to retire, without amendment. These matters are often very service much later in life than 60 pension, therefore many now over age 62 would not have their 20 years service, and would have to retire.

Fire Department Next

The surgeons have a uniform force "assimilated" rank of Inspector. They also have uniforms, although the rank of Inspector, and the same service much. The age-63 provision affecting the uniform force of the Police Department was revised, followed by similar legislation concerning the Fire Department.

The act is on youth in the race for public service jobs. It is part of the work of the NYC Civil Service Commission, and is a reflection of a trend in city civil service that has been evident for years. This trend is towards more thorough and fair examinations for bridge officer positions.

Previously the jobs were filled by the so-called "Bridge Officer Test". This test was supposed to be designed to test the candidate's intelligence and ability. However, it was not always successful in this respect.

The new act, which is an outgrowth of a proposal made by Councilman Earl Brown, is designed to improve the selection of bridge officers. Under this new act, all applicants will be thoroughly examined, and only those who meet the required qualifications will be considered for the position.

The act also provides for the establishment of a Civil Service Board, which will be responsible for the examination of applicants for bridge officer positions. This board will consist of members appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the city council.

The act also provides for the payment of a salary of $500 per month for the bridge officer position, and for the construction of a new bridge officer training school.

McCarthy Inherits Hilliard's Welfare Headaches on May 1

Henry L. McCarthy, administrator of the NYC Welfare Commission, will inherit the welfare headaches left by his predecessor, Commissioner Raymond M. Hilliard. The board has been dissolved by Commissioner Hilliard, and the new commissioner will have to start from scratch.

The welfare board was a private agency, and its dissolution means that McCarthy will have to establish a new agency to handle welfare cases. This will be a major task, as the welfare board handled a large number of cases, and McCarthy will have to find a way to handle them efficiently.

The new commissioner will also have to deal with the problem of finding funds to operate the new agency. The welfare board was supported by the city budget, and McCarthy will have to find other sources of funding.

Seek Probe of NYC Labor Relations

Investigation of labor-management relations between NYC officials and employees is the gist of a resolution to be introduced in the New York City Council by Councilmen George Tamm and Sidney M. Stern. The resolution is sponsored by the Government and the Employees Organizations Committee, and is designed to improve labor-management relations in the city.

The resolution calls for the appointment of a special investigator to look into the labor-management relations in the city. This investigator will be charged with the task of looking into the grievances of employees and the complaints of management, and will be empowered to make recommendations for the improvement of labor-management relations.

The resolution is supported by a number of labor and management organizations, and is expected to be adopted by the city council.

NYC Creates Clearing House For Veterans

A service men's clearing house has been established by the NYC Civil Service Commission so that quick action can be given to veterans, under their military rights, when they return to civilian life. The men and women concerned are on NYC eligible lists.

Soldier at Front Seeks Exam News

The idea was originated by the Commission's secretary, Dr. Frank A. Schaefer, in charge of the unit at Ridgewood, N.Y. The ordnance expert and chairman of the committee on laws and rules, the two-fold object is a greater uniformity and faster re- quests. One of the problems that the Commission feels it has solved is the identification of veterans. To facilitate this, letters are sent to them, answering queries, and are to be shown by their return, or referred to by them.

Mail Continues Heavy

Dr. Schaefer said that the mail from service men continues to be heavy. Not only present eligibles but also prospective candidates are asking questions. One soldier at the fighting front in Korea asked us to point out a certain open-competitive exam that was going to be held.

The commissioner of the Cuningham Post, American Legion, in Queens, is a member of the Civil Service Commission, and is also a former Army Major.
