Transfer from U.S. to State Presents Many Problems To Rent Control Employees

Albany, April 16—Representatives of The Civil Service Employees Association have made several requests over a three month period for a conference with the Civil Service Commission on the subject of the status of nearly 600 employees of the State Rent Control Office.

Grades and salaries for these employees, located mainly in the New York City offices, were reached at the Commission meeting in March, and checks based upon the decisions of the Division of Classification and Compensation for employment from April 1 will be received by these employees this week.

Grades Differ

The current salaries and grades, at great variance from those in force when the department was transferred from Federal to State direction last May 1, are still expected to be subject to change, and in many cases may yet be upgraded. In a few instances the difference between former Federal salary and current State rates is as much as $2,000 annually. Final decision on the whole Rent Control employees situation is expected to be reached at the Commission meetings this week.

The CESAE representatives have expressed hope that the conference they have requested can be held during the coming monthly session of the Commission.

40 Rehired To Lost DPW Jobs

Albany, April 16—Latest reports are that 40 additional employees have been rehired by the DPW, mostly assistant claim examiner and New York City employees. This brings total of employees who have been rehired in the past ten days to a total of 146. The positions are temporary.

Changes

The State Comptroller and some of his top aides of study, is a strong selling asset in the library of the Department of Audit and Comptroller. The book explains the value of the non-dollar rate businesses in Albany. The Accountant has been taking many, extending over a 13-week period, each Wednesday morning, to learn more about their job. In addition to Comptroller J. Raymond McGavern, who is the extreme right of the group, Deputy Comptroller William Brampty in the middle and the left of State Treasurer Charles T. Steele (left) in months.

Rosemary is an employee of the NYC Board of Transportation. No, she doesn't drive a subway train; she is finding that the tight manpower market is causing certain State pay rates to inch upward.

Tight Manpower Situation Causing Certain State Pay Rates to Inch Upward

ALBANY, April 16—The State is finding that the tight manpower situation is compelling it to pull up certain salaries.

The Division of Classification and Compensation last week made known to all State appointing officers to determine if this would be necessary.

Newburgh Economy Plan Called Danger

NEWBURGH, April 16—The changes proposed in the Newburgh Tax Commission to "improve efficiency in the City government" must be taken by employees as a warning that if the plan goes through, reduction in the number of employees and the number of jobs will follow, Charles L. Culver, field representative of The Civil Service Employees Association. He addressed a group of City employees and induced many of them to join the Orange County chapter of the Association as their best means of self-protection.

"The report is in the handwriting on the table," Mr. Culver warned. "If employees of the City don't get together, they may find themselves facing serious trouble." Most of those whom Mr. Culver addressed were non-teaching members of the Board of Education. Several said they'd received no pay since in their departments, and all but one had been excluded when the 17 per cent pay increase went into effect.

Bills Signed by Dewey

Albany, April 16—Governor Thomas R. Dewey wound up the 100-day period after having signed into law five civil service and 10 other bills, as well as the State pay increase bill, and the Armory employees bill. One pension measure allows minimum alimony for divorced ex-service men and their dependents.

The Assembly also passed veterans' civil service bills and seven retirement bills.

The Armory bill covers several positions beginning with the $2,125-$3,200 armorer and going up to $4,000.

Tight Manpower Situation Causing Certain State Pay Rates to Inch Upward

ALBANY, April 16—The State Civil Service Commission plans to go slow in applying the newly-enacted "security" law and postpone the removal of transfer of public employees considered to be of "doubtful trust." It applies not only to State employees, but to county, city and all other local employees as well.

At the present time, the Commission does not plan to undertake the compilation of a list of "security positions" and to determine the removal of such employees as are found to be of "doubtful trust." A list of these employees, as determined by the Commission, will be sent to the Governor, who will in turn undertake to determine whether a particular position is a "security position" or a particular organization or group is a subversive organization only when the actual need for such a determination arises by reason of an impending specific case coming to the attention of the Commission.

NYC Vets in State Service Take New Tack on Pension

The Committee on Revision of the Military Law, headed by Assemblyman Fred W. Peetor of Queens, is to be asked to recom- mend amendment of the law that veterans transferring from NYC service to State service must get military pension credit. Such credit is given by the State where the transfer is in the opposite di- rection. A link in the law, however, on which NYC Corporation Counsel John P. McGrath has rendered an opinion, has so far prevented the City from extending the same benefit.

The credit involved in assumption by the City of the annuity contribution for the period of military service. However, a substantial equivalent would be deemed satisfactory, veterans have stated, such as doubling the an- nuity benefit for the military ser- vice period, without increased an- nuity contribution by the em-

court refuses to halt dpui examination

albany, april 16—The state supreme court last week refused to halt the holding of an open-competitive examination for the position of assistant unemployment insurance examiner.

day after day, in a legal action begun almost a year ago to compel the civil service commission to hold a promotion examination for the post, instead of an open competitive examination, justice Taylor stated in his opinion: "The determination of the civil service commission is not subject to judicial review. The court cannot, therefore, direct the commission to hold an examination for the position of assistant unemployment insurance examiner."

in the original action, miss marlin, represented by benett, a. ron, broome county attorney, and in which the civil service employees association, representing all employees in the "field of the court," an order was asked to compel the civil service commission to hold the examination scheduled to be held the last saturday in june of this year, was denied, although at the time it was presented, the association urged that no eligible lists would be established until the civil service commission completed the result of the examination until the determination at the entire issue.

How Illogical Can They Get?

You may, it seems, be entirely fit to supervise a job that you aren’t capable of filling. Or, put it this way: you may not have enough training or experience to hold a certain position; but you can supervise it! You’re not good enough to hold the job yourself, but you are perfectly acceptable to tell others how to do it.

That’s how illogical civil service can sometimes get.

The State Civil Service Department has recently announced promotion examinations for the positions of Employment Security Manager and Assistant Employment Security Manager in the Division of Placement and Unemployment Insurance.

Only two weeks ago, the Department had ruled that permanent service as an Assistant Claims Examiner would not fit the incumbent for appointment to the position of Employment Interviewer, even on a temporary basis. Nevertheless, the Civil Service Department has declared eligible for promotion to Assistant Employment Security Manager permanent Assistant Claims Examiners as well as permanent Employment Interviewers.

The position of Assistant Employment Security Manager is administrative and supervisory, the duties of which require supervision and knowledge of both previous positions—Assistant Claims Examiner and Employment Interviewer.

This action acknowledges the fact that permanent service as an Assistant Claims Examiner qualifies the incumbent for promotion to the higher title of Assistant Employment Security Manager, supervising the same employment Interviewer title which the candidate was not considered fit to fill.

We find no fault with the eligibility of the Assistant Claims Examiners and the Employment Interviewers for the promotion to Assistant Employment Security Manager, but definitely it is repugnant to us and infinitely the fact that permanent service as Assistant Claims Examiner does not fit the incumbent Employment Interviewer.

How They Promote In the Post Office

An unusual step has been taken by a group of U. S. postal clerks to force introduction of a merit system in Post Office promotions.

All newly-inducted officers of the New York Federation of Post Office Clerks, local 18, have taken an oath not to accept supervisory positions in the department until a system of merit promotions is established. A bill in Congress, introduced by Senator Langer and Congressman Christopher McGrath, would end the long-standing practice of promotion by seniority instead of ability. The regulation would establish an examination procedure with credit for years of service.

The ways in which the present system can be, and has been, misused are obvious. Selection by the democratic principle that the best shall have the higher jobs is frequently a whim in the Post Office. The man to get promoted is not unlikely to be the one who has made a fetish of keeping in the good graces of his superior, who is politically on the right side, or whose promotions can be in some way useful to the higher authorities.

The general public will condemn the strong stand taken by the New York Postal Clerks. We hope they succeed in bringing merit to the Post Office.

Niagara County Employees Want To Be Heard on on Pay Rises

NiAGARA, April 16—The recent court request for Niagara County employees for a general wage increase to compensate for the rising cost of living was refuted in a communication to the Board of Supervisors from William A. McNair, president of the Niagara County Employees’ Association.

The letter cited that while the Association members have read in the newspapers that their requests for a $200 wage increase had been rejected, they had failed to receive a written notice from the Board of Supervisors.

Declaring that it was no longer possible for the employees to continue to provide for their families and live in the manner in which county employees are accustomed, the employees asked the Supervisors to at least give them an opportunity to appear and present their side of the case.

$120 Raise Already Offset

The $120 increase granted on January 1 has been offset by a group of authorities by a group of authorities.

Increases granted by private industry as well as the $120 increase to county employees have already been offset by a group of authorities.

"What is being done is not to the advantage and the good of those in private industry. He mentioned existing conditions and the cost of living.

Board of Transportation Jobs
Called Best Career Opportunity

Only promotion exams are on the list of those to be opened next year in the operating division. As for exempt jobs, there are none in this division, excepting those of the Commissioners.

Many observers have remarked that the operating jobs in the Board offer the best career opportunities in City service.

A promotion exam now open for filling position of Inspector (Group A, Light Maintainer) and next promotion test will be opened in June for filling jobs as Bus Maintainer, Group B, Light Maintainer (Group A), for which there will be only one promotion for a position in the Board, particularly for bus operators.

A Record Exam

The fact that the public is at least partly aware of the opportunities in the Board is shown by the large response to the exam for Railroad Porter, held March 25, which attracted 138,234 applicants, of whom 11,000 passed, to constitute the largest clerical list in the history of N.C.W. However, failure to show up at the appointed time or failure to pass the medical, is expected to result in a list of about 8,900. The reason for the response is not far to seek: the pay is $1,15 an hour for 48-hour week, or $65 a week. A year, with promotion opportunities, by passing exams, for jobs paying $71 a week, or about what an engineer gets when he starts his professional career, after graduation from college.

The Railroad Porter job, paying $312 a year, to start, compared to the $3,120 a year, with promotion, for the median new clerk that he starts his professional career, after graduation from college (Grade 4. The Board is expected to be announced next October.

The turnover in the Board is high, because of the nature of the two private companies, the present and the N.R.T., in which that was 13 years ago and the turnover will continue high until the average age is reduced by retirement. The Board of Directors accorded the former employees of the private companies full retirement benefits, at no extra cost, to encourage retirements of those non-retired 60 years old. It is 13 years since the average age is expected to result in substantial for several years. Meanwhile the retirements increase the job opportunities for entrants and also the promotion opportunities for present and future employees.

New Retirement Laws For NYC Analyzed

By M. J. BERNARD

THE NYC EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT Board which was reorganized last year, has recently signed a $450,000 bill which applies to all employees of the City of New York, including the Bridge and Tunnel Department.

The number has to increase his annuity account accordingly.

Since the City's pension contributions are not based on the annuity account, the amount contributed is simply a dollar for dollar contribution, and the employee is responsible for the additional annuity figure by which the amount is increased.

The bill signed by Governor Dewey, which took effect July 1, 1950, raises the amounts of the NYC bonus annuity and the NYC City Departmental Supplement annuity.

The bonus annuity is based on the gross compensation of the employee and the number of years of service. The retirement allowance is equal to the present value of the annuity account.

Employees under the prevailing rates, as well as most employees in the City Department, are not being insured, but no one has been heard of receiving no bonuses.

Loan Insurance Laws

Annuity benefits under Governor Dewey's act are loanable, and in the case of NYC employees, the System provides, for the first time in a print, so far as we have heard, the amounts frozen and the amounts added to the NYC System, on the annuity account.

The amounts frozen reduce the annuity part, and the NYC System, on the number of years of service, and the pension part, and he does it for himself, or his beneficiary.

The benefits are calculated as follows:

The following table gives, for the first time in a print, the rate of interest on the amount that is frozen or, if there has been a reduction of benefits, the amount that is frozen.

The numbers appear in the table of interest rates. The interest is calculated as a percentage of the base pay as of the first day of service. The interest is charged, at no expense to the employee, up to $2,000, not effective until 30 days after making the loan.

The Pension Fund is for the selected five consecutive terms, and the interest rate is 6%. The employee, at the end of the term, is to be notified of the fact that the loan has been paid off.

The only examples when the employee has to pay the amount of the loan, and if there has been a reduction of benefits, the amount that is frozen.

The amounts frozen reduce the annuity part, and he does it for himself, or his beneficiary.

Palestin Lashes NYC Liberal Party in Contesting the Need for a Sales Tax Increase, Budget Figures, and Argues That It Would Result in Baroinal Indulgence by Many Departments of City Government

"The administration hopes to liberalize promotion rules so that, in general, all Department appointments will be required before the employee can be promoted or made a permanent employee."

"On the subject of pay increases," Mr. Paleslin said, "It is discerning to witness manipulation of the budget of our public employees in the efforts to saddle all of the people, and their businesses, with 20 percent increase in the sales tax.

"This many specialists is not by the intention of the Ai of the employees of this city to employ a raise of $200,000,000 in the meeting in today's budget."

"Total cost of financing this reorganization, financed in City employees is approximately 25 million dollars, exclusive of the approximate 3 million dollars in City funds necessary to provide living increases to New York employees."

"What Prompt?"

"The administration hopes to procure an additional $10 million dollars by increasing the sale tax one cent. What does it propose to do with the huge balance of this original? City employees to regard in the employee's additional savings in the budget."

"Money departmental increases, pension payments, such as for civil defense, could be financed out of the savings that would result from an elimination of wasteful provisions scattered throughout the budget."
