Final Report on 1951 Civil Service Legislation Shows Advance in Retirement, Salary Laws; Set Some Backs, but Overall Results 'Good'
Some Advantages Seen in Temporary DPUI Jobs

ALBANY, May 7 — This is one of the situations in Placement and Unemployment Insurance-office work of the thousands of employees on a temporary basis. All those who care to return to their assistant interviewer positions are now back at work in those positions. The Division is even recruiting Assistant Interviewers in those capacities, but on a temporary basis. All of those in those positions will be made on a permanent basis, when an individual is rehired for reappointment, he would either have to accept the appointment or lose his preferred list standing. In fact, many of the persons who appear high on the preferred list have accepted appointments, either permanent or temporary, in other State agencies, and some of them the Rent Control, Commission. Civil Service, and other temporary appointments as interviewers. Interviewers, and are content to remain there for the present. By using the devices of placing temporary appointments for as long as the law will permit, the Division is giving large coverage to the preferred list, and at the same time providing those interviewers with satisfactory employment elsewhere to remain in those positions without endangering their preferred list status.

The important thing, of course, is that those appointments are made on a temporary basis. Some employees point out that if the appointments were made on a permanent basis, when an individual is rehired for reappointment, he

Stop Charging Fees! For Exams!

The New Jersey Civil Service Department has decided that exam application fees are more of a hindrance than a help, so has moved to abolish them. It found that charging a fee for permitting a person to apply for a test hampered recruitment.

In New York State and its political divisions graduated fees are charged, depending on the pay of the position for which the candidate is applying. The same deterrent to recruitment exists in our State as certainly as it does in our sister State. It would be a splendid idea to abolish the fees altogether in all exams. The Federal government has charged, depending on the pay of the position for which the candidate is applying.

The idea to abolish the fees altogether in all exams has been more actively discussed when candidates are hard to get. Now is the eye focused on open-competitive exams, the ones to which the general public is invited; there the government’s needs conspicuously fail to be met.

Unfairness In Both Cases

The other group, consisting of promotion exams, is subject to the same hard hit. It hardly seems fair to advertise opportunities for promotion as a career incentive and then say, in effect, that you have to pay for the privilege of competing.

Promotion exams should be abolished in the same manner. Fees should be charged in the same manner. Fees should be abolished in the same manner. Fees should be abolished in the same manner. Fees should be abolished in the same manner.

THELELS, May 7—"We must know and assume our responsibilities," J. B. McFarland, president of the Employees Association, told 100 representatives of the Regional Conference at its spring meeting in Latham on April 26.

The theme of the meeting was the sometimes unhappy experience of people who have been in the civil service for a long time.

"We must keep that respect and to understand the problems of the organization and always have been," Mr. McFarland continued. "In the only way to continue to work on these problems and to be used by the people who work on them."

"Let us keep that respect and assume our responsibilities," he continued. "For the benefit of everyone who has been in the civil service for a long time."
LEADER Establishes New Community Services Awards

In an effort to stimulate greater Civil Service LEADER will launch a series of Public Service Awards of service to the community, the June first of an annual Merit to the twenty-five persons who have done the most for the public service during the past twelve months.

Each June The LEADER will select twenty-five outstanding citizens of the state -- who have been of unusual assistance to the welfare of the communities or public employees. Nomination may be made by any person, from the persons who most intimately know who does what: the employees themselves, the depart- ment heads, the thousands of readers of The LEADER who are in city, state and federal offices.

No public officials are eligible for this award. The LEADER will also select twenty-five outstanding citizens of the state -- who have been of unusual assistance to the welfare of the state government.

These are examples of the type of persons who would get consideration:

An engineer who developed a new safety device using the demands of city transit system.

A private citizen who, at a personal sacrifice, has given time and effort to a civic organization aimed at seeing that a public service remains as efficient as possible from its public service.

An architect who has done a particularly outstanding job in providing the functional public service.

Just a little while back, most of us Americans hoped we might enjoy some peace and quiet. It was quite a shock when Stalin & Co. made no bones about trying to grab the world. We got another jolt, when as a direct result of Red aggression...

prices in the U.S. went skyrocketing. And the prices of everything

Con Edison needs to make electricity were no exception. { For example, copper went to a new high of 119% over the 1940 level, lead went up 250% and rubber went up 20%.

Con Edison has held the line as long as possible. But we just can't keep on selling electricity at pre-Korean prices. We must have a moderate rate increase.

It would be the first New York City electric rate increase in Con Edison history. We wish there were some other way—but facts are facts.

Electricity would still be your best bargain!

Springstead Named
To State Milk Job
ALBANY, May 7.—Carl S. Springstead has been named by the State Agriculture Commissioner to succeed Charles D. Moos as administrative secretary of the Milk Marketing Order. Mr. Springstead, who succeeded Frank Pollack as general supervisor of the Division of Milk Control when that office was set up in 1937, later became affiliated with the State Department of Health as milk statistician. During the past three years he has been chief of the Milk and Food Branch of the State Department of Agriculture.
