Miss Meek urged that applications be sent to the State Civil Service Commission, Civil Service Employment Agency office, followed by receipt of nominations August 14.

More Cains to Increase Pensions Of Widows Who Husbands Are Killed on Duty

Strong arguments by representatives of the Firemen's and policemen, who pointed to the Board of Estimate to lay over until the upcoming session, to re-examine the pension benefits of widows of firemen and policemen who were killed in line of duty, after the Board in an extraordinary session had voted the proposal down.

At present the widows receive one-half of the final average pay as an annuity. At this rate the City pays for the widow who received 80 points, the same as those of men in the highest grade.

At present the widows receive one-half of the final average pay as an annuity. A bill passed by the City Council provides that one-half of the top-grade pay shall apply in all cases. A Higher Morality From Public Servants:

A N ELECTION campaign is coming up. The public employee, traditionally a political scapegoat and a target, will be subjected to perhaps a greater barrage of vituperation than ever before. Some sober words have been spoken by Miss Frances Perkins, U. S. Civil Service Commissioner. They come at a propitious moment as the public is aware of the inadequate salaries of public employees, in their heat and their emotion, will pay no attention to such words as these; they do, however, offer counsel to the civil servants and their friends who should be ready to answer every unjust attack.

The remainder of this editorial is a quotation from Miss Perkins:

"We expect a higher sense of morality and propriety of millions of our public servants than we do of associates in the business world. This is only right. However, it must be borne in mind that the public servant, under self-government, is bound to be part of society, just as those in the business and commercial life of the country and are part of the society which constitute self-government. Under self-government we cannot condone, we cannot remain passive about our own actions, we cannot speak of a separate code of ethics for our public servants while the rest of society violates the ancient code designed to guide us all."

The Breach That Causes Trouble

"So long as we are part and parcel of a society which lives by the swirls which it sees at its own shortcomings, which worships at the shrine of the quick dollar, we are not training perfect public servants. Example and public attitude are the climate in which we raise our public servants."

Miss Perkins goes on to say: "If we wish to train perfect public servants if we are not indiscriminate and vicious in our attacks on the many for the sins of the few who are spectacularly guilty. Criticism and correction are our duty under self-government, but we must not lose sight of the general.

In noting the unusual, on which we always place our heavy emphasis, we must not lose sight of the usual; in exposing a corrupt spot, we must not destroy the faith of millions, in case the appropriation doesn't come, Congress delays appropriation bills; employees of husbands killed in the line of duty. Even though more passed by the Council to provide one-half of maximum pay of the policeman and fireman guides to the widows of the men who were a little bit less than perfect, the other two-thirds of the men were a little bit less than perfect, the run-of-the-mill, and a few cutrags, anyway. The whole team seemed irresistibly attractive, and the noise they made would have been just ordinary.

The recurring threats to Federal payrolls are inexorable. Congress delays appropriation bills; employees of husbands killed in the line of duty. Even though more passed by the Council to provide one-half of maximum pay of the policeman and fireman guides to the widows of the men who were a little bit less than perfect, the other two-thirds of the men were a little bit less than perfect, the run-of-the-mill, and a few cutrags, anyway. The whole team seemed irresistibly attractive, and the noise they made would have been just ordinary.

The NYC Board of Estimate should approve the bill passed by the Council to provide one-half of maximum pay of the policeman and fireman guides to the widows of the men who were a little bit less than perfect. Even though more than actual salary could figure in the pension computation, the awards would be equalized. Surely the fate was equal. The cost is negligible. The Board should hesitate no longer, when the resolution comes up for a vote in September.

The NYC Civil Service Commission decided last week to hold an exam exclusively for filling clerk jobs in hospitals at $2,355 a year. After the first year applicants get one-half the bonus, or $125, plus a $120 increment, bringing pay to $2,355. After the second year the second half of the bonus is allowed and a new increment takes effect, making the salary $2,600 or $50 a week.

Pushed Ahead of Others

Samuel H. Galston, director of examinations, said the exam was given precedence over the regular clerk test because there are more than 500 vacancies in the clerk jobs in hospitals and the Department of Hospitals is anxious to fill them as quickly as possible. Also, Mr. Galston added, the exam offers an excellent opportunity to those beyond the age limit of private industry, which for men is 50 and for women even less, whereas the City imposes no age limits. There will be no educational or experience requirements, either. Mr. Galston added.

Since speed is desired, and a large eligible list is hoped for, the Commission will be a step further than usual and make the written test so easy as to be consistent with better acceptable workers. There were no difficult questions in NYC clerk exams in the past, but it is not conceivable that there will be any in the exam for filling the jobs in hospitals.

New Pay Plan Submitted
For Westchester Employees

A report on a survey of Westchester County salaries conducted by Harrington Associates, a consulting firm, was submitted to the Westchester County Board of Supervisors on July 14, stating that an average of 12 percent increase in the total present compensation of County employees was required. The report comments that the present $4,350, including $240 emergency compensation, was found to be less "filling," and that employees are "seriously underpaid." In the area of competitive salary levels maintained by other organizations, the County is paying lower minimums and some are $250 below average in this regard with the differences progressively increasing. The report recommends that the pay plan into operation the county adopt a policy that the total earnings of an employee shall be reduced as a result of the adoption of the salary structure and any new allocation of positions; that employees presently on the new scale step salaries be paid the corresponding step in the new scale salary, except that this provision shall not result in an employee's total compensation being less than $300. The report states that as to future benefits the County is about average in this regard with some organizations having greater benefits and some less. The report recommends that in the lowest salary group, the County minimum salary should be increased to $2,100, including $240 emergency compensation, and that the County maximum in this group is lowered to $4,350, including $240 E. C. Some comparable minimums and some are lower while practically all the existing maximums are lower by $200 to $500, and are paid by the County at the group level. The minimum salaries are progressive; the maximum salaries are progressive, however; the average of the minimums is lower by $300 to $700. In these groups the Westchester maximums are shown to be from $100 to $1,500 below the maximum being paid by the average of the other organizations surveyed. Above Group XV (from $700 to $900 in minimums) and up Westchester County salaries are shown to average $600 higher than the average on the outside, with the difference progressively greater.

The changes in the group salary scales are as follows: Group I - Min. $50, Max. $290; Group II - Min. $220, Max. $710; Group III - Min. $800, Max. $2,100; Group IV - Min. $1,150, Max. $2,900; Group V - Min. $1,800, Max. $3,500; Group VI - Min. $2,100, Max. $3,600; Group VII - Min. $3,000, Max. $4,500; Group VIII - Min. $4,000, Max. $5,000; Group IX - Min. $5,500, Max. $8,000; Group X - Min. $7,500, Max. $11,000; Group XI - Min. $12,500, Max. $17,000; Group XII - Min. $18,000, Max. $24,000; Group XIII - Min. $28,000, Max. $40,000; Group XIV - Min. $40,000, Max. $50,000; Group XV - Min. $57,000, Max. $75,000; Group XVI - Min. $72,000, Max. $100,000; Group XVII - Min. $100,000, Max. $125,000; Group XVIII - Min. $125,000, Max. $150,000. In groups above XIX, equalizing figures will be forwarded to James D. Hoppin, chairman of the Committee on Budget and Finance.

The report recommends that the new scale (this includes present emergency compensation) be pegged to the complex report might be fully analyzed. An important proposal was that the Board immediately adopt legislation making the salary scales in the report effective as of July 1, 1953, regardless of the time spent now in making possible reviews. A CSEA Council to Appear

A hearing has been set for 11:00 a.m. on Wednesday, July 21, before the Committee on Budget and Appropriations of the Board of Supervisors when Association representatives will present the Association's views on salary adjustment for the employees. Expected to appear to present the case of the Westchester employees is John T. DeGruf, counsel to the Civil Service Employees Association and 1 member of the State Board of Law Examiners, and John E. Holt-Marris, Jr., assistant counsel to the Association and a law partner of Mr. DeGruf. Also present with supporting data will be Henry E. Galpin, salary analyst of the Civil Service Employees Association, and J. Allyn Stein, 2nd vice president, Civil Service Employees Association. (Continued on page 11)

Board Votes Back Pay And Bonus to Laborers

NYC laborers get the bonus. This decision was made last week by the Board of Estimate. The bonus is a product of the long struggle for a living wage.

Formerly there was no bonus for laborers. There was to be none for dock workers, but the dock workers voted for that agreement because they felt that they could do better for 1952-53 by negotiation. However, the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL, which negotiated the bonus, and expressed hope that it would be adopted, abandoned all hope when the bonus, negotiation would prevail, according to William Evans, general counsel of the AFSCME.

However, the AFSCME has indicated that it will continue to negotiate for the bonus. The bonus is to be paid to all laborers employed by the City and the employees voted for that agreement. The Board of Estimate approved the agreement, providing that it be paid to all laborers employed by the City.

Wants Election Held
Mr. Evans asked some assurance that there would be no re-organization of the labor movement in the City, and the employers voted for that agreement. The Board of Estimate has indicated that it will continue to negotiate for the bonus. The bonus is to be paid to all laborers employed by the City and the employees voted for that agreement.

State Labor, Law, which would have adopted the bonus for a private industry, would not have been adopted by the Board of Estimate. The Board of Estimate has indicated that it will continue to negotiate for the bonus. The bonus is to be paid to all laborers employed by the City and the employees voted for that agreement.
