CSEA Bills Call for Pension Improvements, Overtime Increment After 10 Years

ALBANY, Jan. 15 — Monday, January 5, 1953, the opening of the CSEA Legislative Program was spearheaded by the legislation of the Civil Service Employees Association's legislative program.

To be dropped into the Senate and Assembly hoppers were bills aimed at raising half-year retirement among workers having 55 with a minimum of 25 years' service. Also included in the CSEA program was a proposal for increased overtime retirement after 25 years of service for Mental Hygiene and Correction Department workers.

Another of the top aims of the Association is a bill to make permanent the legislative session, which until now has been on a part-time basis.

A bill to grant increments of pay to persons receiving a permanent pension who reach legislative desks this work week in excess of 40 hours of work per week, since salary negotiations are in progress, as reported in another story.

The Association is also sponsoring a bill calling for added increments after 15 years' service.

CSEA Study of State Job Titles Expected to Play Big Role in Pay Negotiations

ALBANY, Jan. 12 — The Civil Service Employees Association has made an exhaustive analysis of changes that have occurred in the job title structure of State service between 1946 and 1952. A similar study had been undertaken the previous year for the years 1949 and 1950.

Purpose of Study

Purpose of this analysis is to determine what changes have occurred in the pay levels of State workers by job titles. The Association feels that this is the most significant single figure that can be brought to bear in any analysis and that a fair determination can be made to recognize the possibilities of social security coverage for all employees.

The pay range for the job is $2,053-$4,889.

Down-to-Earth Pay Talks Take Place

ALBANY, Jan. 15 — Monday, January 5, 1953, the opening of the CSEA Legislative Program was spearheaded by the legislation of the Civil Service Employees Association's legislative program.

The meeting was closed and no public statement was issued.

Increment Case Won by Assn.

ALBANY, Jan 12 — The Appellate Division, Third Department, unanimously reversed the decision of the Supreme Court, Rensselaer County, in an action for specific performance of the employment interviews. The holding of the court was that Miss Rosenkranz, who had been placed in the new grade G-12, was not to receive the increments earned corresponding to the new position.

The case was brought before theSupreme Court by the employees Association. The case was taken effect immediately before the State Civil Service Commission. The case was decided by the Appellate Division on January 12, 1953.

The Two Questions

One was whether a reclassification effective on a particular date applied to employees employed on that very same date. For the purpose of these proceedings Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein admitted that there was no evidence that the decision could be made to take effect immediately.

The other was whether the provisions of the law, which—previous to the decision of the Appellate Division—had permitted the transfer of employees from grade to grade, might be considered to have taken effect immediately before the provisions of the employment interviews were announced.

But she never received prospective increments, since the state did not give them the right to receive the increments earned corresponding to the new position. This left the interviewing officers with the option of these proceedings at the state level.

Mrs. Stein stipulated that the reallocation of Miss Rosenkranz was an assistant claims examiner for more than four years, in grade G-12. The purpose of these proceedings was not for a confirmation of the interpretation of the section of the Civil Service Law, which provided that the reallocation of a higher grade must be produced by adding to the new salary the increments earned corresponding to the new position.

State Training Program

A series of training courses for State and local government employees in the New York City area was announced by the State Civil Service Training Division. These courses are given to help public employees advance in their knowledge and skill on the job.

The Attorney General's office, 97 Duane Street. NYC., under the direction of Dr. Charles T. Kline, State Director of Public Employment Training, announced the courses.

The view of the opinion, written by Associate Justice O. Byron, is that the word "shall" in section 39-b of the Civil Service Law is not to be read as requiring the State Civil Service Commission to grant the increments to transferees.

The Supreme Court's decision that Miss Rosenkranz is situated in the same class as the interviewer title and is not to receive the increments earned corresponding to the new position is plain, and that what the legislature intended was not behind the courts.

Governor's Message Has No Word on Pay Raise, But It's Not Ruled Out

Dewey Again Asks Civil Service Reorganization

ALBANY, Jan. 13 — The 1953 legislative session began last Wednesday, with a message by Governor Thomas E. Dewey that had only one section devoted to civil service — the Governor's desire for a reorganization of the Civil Service Commission.

The message said nothing about salary prospects; in fact, the Governor stated that "Whale Finances" were entering a period of greater expenditure. "Inflation" has gone to all departments that "only such budget can be sustained," a significant statement by the Governor was this one: "The only increase I shall recommend will be those necessary to the health and welfare of the people of our state or mandated by fact." Among the mandated increases are salary increments.

The absence of any word about pay raises does not mean that present negotiations are fruitless. But it is a signal that the Governor himself instituted a study of State salaries; and that study, which indicated that State employees are below those in private industry by a substantial percentage, in terms of pay increases, the Governor's words were: "It is time that we provided a decent wage for all employees."

Legislature Meets—No Pay Plan Yet

The Legislature is already in session. The Governor's message, delivered last week, said nothing about the necessity of upward salary revision for State employees, even though the Governor had initiated conferences on this subject. Talks have been begun between representatives of the employees and the State Budget Director. The State had prepared a salary survey showing that State employees are about six percent below employees in private industry in terms of wage-changes in recent years. Turning to the legislators at the harrowing time, The Civil Service Employees Association had developed its facts and figures long in advance, hoping to get the unbalanced salary situation corrected, and a solution agreed upon early.

But the issue has dragged into the session. The salary revision made by the Legislative body has been the subject of pertinent criticism. In every direction, the employee groups as a declaration that there would be no general raise for New York City employees for the present. The Board of Estimate for instance agreed upon early.

The omission struck leaders of employee groups as a declaration that the Board was favorably disposed to "public employees are beginning to introduce their case with more force and determination." It raised thousands of questions—such as, how will they make ends meet while they are waiting for a decision? The Board of Estimate for instance agreed upon early. No Pay Plan Yet

Immediate Hiring Follows Passing of New Postal Test

For the first time in history a civil service exam given on one day to 10,000 in the New York, N. Y. post office will be followed the very next day. The exam is for clerks and carriers to be employed by NYC to attend a training school which will be held daily. A staff of examiners will rate papers on the night of the same day when the exam was given, and within 48 hours a list of successful candidates will be published on a consolidated basis for each of the 15 eligible groups, with final grades.

The training school is for filling jobs on an indefinite basis, but whoever is hired will remain until higher-rated employees of the post office are expelled or resign. There is a good possibility of eligibles remaining on the list indefinitely as permanent employees as well.

The test will be a 6-hour exam. The fee for each test is $1.61, an hour, which equals $2.00.

Bates Tells of Changes in State Income Tax

ALBANY, Jan. 12—President E. Stephenson of the State Tax Commission called public attention last week to a new law that gives claimants unlimited exemptions from heads of family and increases the minimum installment payments under the State Income Tax Law.

Under the law the first four members of a family were entitled to $2,500 exemption, plus $400 for each dependent. Now the exemption is still $2,500, but the fourth member of a family, where there was one dependent, is entitled to $1,500; it is $2,000; where there was two dependent, it is $2,500; and for three dependent, it is $2,900, etc.

Applications for married couples with dependents remain unchanged.

Where installment payments of income taxes are not made, the minimum of $5 has been raised to $10.

The exemption applies only to those who pay the income tax in the state effective January 1, 1953.

The law was passed by the Legislature this session, and will take effect January 15, 1953.

The exemptions for married persons are $1,500; for single, the tax is $2,000. The exemption remains $3,000 for families with five or more members.

The exemptions for unmarried persons are $1,500; for families with five or more members, the tax is $2,000. The exemption remains $3,000 for families with five or more members.

Police Emergency Service
Found Curbed: Study Urges
Using Fire Dept. Facilities

The official NYC police survey, made by the Institute of Public Administration, found that the Emergency Service Division, which is more vices and conflict with fire departm ent by the Institute is published of the activities now performed

"They are not effectively subordinated to preeminent commanders, they are not furnished with division for which they are purposed, and separation field rescue operations. Hence any apparent compliance with the precepts to which they are subjected is for their own initiative and decision. A properly defined command and an agreed-upon goal must be provided for confusion.

Confusion reflected in activity records. Only some one per cent of the radio telegrams par patrols are on active lines at any time, each patrol having a complement of about 160 men. During the first eleven months of 1911, they responded to over 85 per cent of the emergency calls, but they could not get out aid from the truck crews held in reserve just for the purpose of answering the more heavily manned emergency calls. This led to 92 per cent of their time being consumed by the police units themselves, which had to keep themselves available for service either over the telephone or in person.

This is not a state of affairs that must hold itself available for service, or that should not avoid taking action that may result in a probable or probable appearance of resources, or in court. Except for the routine display of the passing and running radio emergency patrols, which is infrequent in the areas that they cover, these patrols are not wanted, and there is no maintaining public order and in crime and accident control.

Should Be Abandoned

A great deal of this confusion, thorough has fault and should be abandoned. A fresh start is needed if the system is to succeed. The Army, in its own situation, is forced to continue its evacuation of metropolitan centers, and the Council should have to vote to continue this evacuation of services.

1. Transfer 17 of the 25 emergency sectional patrol officers to the radio service, and let them be the one single radio officer for the entire city.

2. Retain three trucks, with full crew, and have the radio dispatcher control the trucks and send them in the critical spots covered by the emergency service and mobilization plans.

Using Fire Dept. Facilities

The firemen are now in a position to use the radio service of the emergency service, and it is needed to be made an important part of the radio service. To increase the radio service beyond the needs of the emergency service would be a waste of resources, as is the use of the emergency service for non-emergency service.

Some indications are that the N.Y. firemen would be willing to use such a radio service, and the increase from fourteen to forty men is not too great.

Thus one supplementary check would account for eight months of benefits for each fireman. In addition, there would be a reduction of $3,000, for which the firemen would be entitled to their full retirement allowance, and the increase from fourteen to forty men would be sent. And that would mean a reduction of $25,000, which would be an extension for the city, and the additional amount would be sent. The recreation leader develops the recreation program, which is a major part of the work of the recreation division. It is the leader's responsibility to carry out the program as planned, with the assistance of the recreation workers. The recreation leader is responsible for the welfare of the recreation workers, and for the proper efficiency of the recreation program.

Many Overseas Jobs

A concentrated recruitment drive for recreation leaders to serve in the various overseas commands is being conducted by the Office of the Secretary of the Army, Overseas Command, 464 Broadway, New York, N.Y., under the direction of the Army, Overseas Command, 464 Broadway, New York, N.Y., under the direction of the Army. The leaders will be appointed to work with American citizens, as well as with other nationalities, and will be trained in the principles and methods of recreation and education. The leaders will be responsible for the development of recreation programs and activities, and for the supervision of recreation workers.

NYC Provisions Reduced

The number of NYC provisions was reduced by 3,969 during the year ended December 31, 1953, the Municipal Civil Service Commission reported. There were 11,067 provisions in permanent vacancies, compared to 15,026 a year previously.

Reduced Hours in Prospect For Hospital Employees

Reducing protests by employee organizations that the Department of Health has given them a fair trial in reduction of hours, Budget Director Mr. Cartly has assigned John Cartly, one of his principal examiners, to investigate the complaints completely.

It is reported that Mr. Cartly has become convinced that some way must be found to provide comparable benefits for employees of the Department. Employee groups are confidently awaiting an announcement that the Budget Director is prepared to make recommendations that are, to a considerable extent, required by the provisions of the City Charter.

Wurf Sees Beam

One of the groups which has been striving to have the long hours in the department brought more in line with the hours in the other City departments,-except Police and Fire-is the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL. Jerry Wulf, general representative of that group, has held several conferences with Mr. Beane. The first one was held after Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri, to whom the union addressed its complaint, referred the same to the Budget Director.

The union claimed that paper benefits were not enough for the City, willing to offer at first, whereby valuable men were off one day a month for working either 10 hours a day, or sick leave were figured as "reductions in hours when the work week looked like 44 hours, on paper, but the number of hours worked remained practically unchanged. When the plan was contrasted by nurses, hospital helpers, stenographers, ward clerks and members of professional staff generally, as well as others, with the bonus-reduction in hours in case to the Budget Director.

Firemen Failures To Be Told Next Month

The written papers in the fireman's physical test, which failed to be held in Van Cortlandt Park, will begin early in March. The results will be sent out after the completion of the physical test, to be held in Van Cortlandt Park.

WHITHE HOUSE is not expected to do anything to prevent the President from conducting his plan's resolution, setting up a new key committee on Federal employment on February 15. The incoming Eisenhower administration will have three weeks in which to stop the sweep of the new policy, which is effective immediately, and which was announced by Mr. Whittaker Chambers, the White House correspondent, December 18, 1952.

Arthur B. Flemming, former U. S. Civil Service Commissioner, was now president of Ohio State University, had told a series of stories to General Eisenhower's committee on civil service reform, and had said that certain regulations had been changed in favor of those plans that would make it easier for the new administration to succeed.
