55-Year Retirement Bill Is Introduced; New Measure Allows Pension Vesting

ALBANY, Jan. 26 — All New York employees covered by the New York State Retirement System will push in the 1953 State Legislature for the right to vest in their annuity an age 55 upon payment of the necessary contributions.

A second bill also proposed by Senator Haiprion and Assemblyman John O'Brien of Middletown provides that members of the retired employees' group will be entitled to an annuity based upon present age service and that any employee who elects to vest in his annuity shall not receive any further contributions.

This bill is proposed in line with a State civil service employee to elect a retirement date of his choosing in the age 55 upon payment of the necessary contributions.

Mental Hygiene Employees will push in the 1953 State Legislature for the right to vest in their annuity an age 55 upon payment of the necessary contributions.

Bill Seeks More Equitable Benefits in Upgradings

ALBANY, Jan. 26 — SenatorJoseph F. Periconi (R.) of the Bronx and Assemblyman Malcolm Wilson (R.), Westchester, are sponsoring identical bills to correct an inequality whereby State employees upon upward reallocation, do not get the corresponding salary benefit that should go with such upward reallocation and, instead, employees with short service records get bigger raises than those who have been in the job much longer.

The measure would amend Section 3393 of the Civil Service Law, which sets forth the method for reallocation of titles, but contains some ambiguous language that the employees feel is being inequitable in its application.

Widespread Effect

Solicitor General of Brooklyn, an employee of the Division of Alcoholic Beverage Control, has been obtaining support for the bill. He helped to prepare the measure for the Civil Service Employees Association. He is departmental representative on the Association’s board of directors.

The bill provides that, upon upward reallocation, the occupant of a title thus raised would go to the corresponding salary step in the new grade. Those at the top of the old grade would go to the top of the new grade. Those in between steps would occupy a corresponding step immediately.

Operation Explained

"I believe," Mr. Mosher added, "it would be just and proper at least to have the old-timers step up in the maximum of their old grade immediately. He would want benefits made retroactive.

Operation Explained

The effect of decision by the Budget Director. Mr. Mosher continues:

"If the Budget Director approves an upward reallocation, to be effective on the following April 1st, persons who were at the maximum of the old grade receive one annual increment on April 1 and another annual increment on each April 1st until they reach the new ceiling. Those persons who were below the new minimum would go on, next April 1st, to the new minimum, regardless of how many increments it may require to accomplish this.

Persons who on next April 1st would be below the new minimum and the old maximum, continue to go upward to regular increment after they reach the next maximum, receiving no additional money benefit from the reallocation."

If the Budget Director had elected to make the reallocation before last April 1st, all those below the new minimum would immediately to the minimum; all those who did not get an increment last April 1st, because they were at the maximum, would get an increment immediately, and the others would get nothing except a new cut-off to work towards.

"That, I believe, creates a grossly inequitable situation."

"It is only fair that when a reallocation is approved that the increments of the position should give the corresponding salary step."

Hungerford, of the State Retirement System (he's at the far right, with the glasses). Midtownt Group Protests Raise Rejection

MIDDLETOWN, Jan. 26 — Vigorous protest was heard on the refusal of the Budget Director T. Norman Ruff to approve a 16 percent salary increase for State employees who were registered at a meeting of the Middletown chapter C.B.E.A. held yesterday to the following three changes in the law: 1. The Budget Director must decide whether an employee deemed a "bad risk" in his present position should be moved to a "sensitive" position. 2. Any employee who may be caught up in the loyalty bill must receive due process. 3. A "sensitive" employee is to be informed of his status.

MISSOURI has the highest (travel) allowance, $11.25 a day, and employs 12,925 state employees. The next, New York, is not far behind in giving their own allowances raised, because the allowance doesn't overact actual expenses. TAXPAYERS will do well to put a little time aside to consider their income tax. Owing to the small amount of time in which nearly all instances will be able to be completed, the burdens may be considerable. The Internal Revenue Service, on Page 3 of various deductions, particularly in the case of individuals or property owners, are the only instances on which any savings may be achieved. In the case of a small family, the savings may run around $500.

Reason for Work for Less?

A recent study made at Northwestern University points out that approximately one in five employed by industry at $3,600 and more; employers can't get them for less. Yet the State of New York tries to recruit graduates for public jobs at levels as low as $5,100.

Why Should People Work for Less?

A President Truman left office last week, he issued a statement which makes a fine editorial, it said, in part:

"I have great faith and confidence in our civil servants. During the almost eight years of my Administration, I have found in them a loyal and reliable force, always that great asset will subside. . . ."

VITAL STATISTICS.

The fourth question asks: "One has to be an act of good faith, and at least for review and forwarded."

The answers to the second and third questions are ambiguous as to being misleading. It can be seen, however, that in some cases a little more detail will make the question perfect. Those for the fifth and sixth questions are ambiguous as to puzzle fans than they are to civil servants. But the answer to the fourth question is not there. The question asks: "Is there a measure of the word?" is patently false!

Chautauqua

AT THE recent meeting of the Chautauqua chapter, CSEA, minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, followed by a report on membership growth. Wage freeze, and vacation and sick leave were the subjects under discussion. The vacation and sick leave quotas of the Highway Association were read, and the vacation time revised to read 12 days. Mr. Solinger, president of the group, suggested that the proposals be thoroughly checked before it was submitted to the supervisors.

George M. Stiles, chapter president, mentioned that a suggestion had been made to have refreshments or a dinner at each meeting. Roy Bolling proposed that money be set aside for that purpose. Mr. Solinger made the motion that the suggestion be as much as possible of the price of tickets for the annual dinner meeting. The motion was seconded by L. Van Honte and approved.

A letter from CSEA president John R. McPherson asking for any membership, was read. Mr. Stiles urged everyone to help in increasing the number of members of the organization.

George Munger said that some employees were under the impression that passing a civil service examination automatically made them members of the chapter. This matter was cleared up and reasons for active participation explained. Mr. Solinger pointed out that the CSEA is the only recognized employee's unit.

A member of the highway department suggested that the chapter have a family picnic. Plans will be made later.

Newark State School

THE MEMBERSHIP of Newark State School chapter, CSEA, is gradually increasing. Latest report shows 425 members. This exceeds the membership of this chapter at this date.

Newark State chapter, CSEA, is glad to see Mrs. Van Honte in the death of her father. George Dorey, who was retired last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Clark of Willowbrook were renewing old acquaintances around the School last week.

Social Welfare, Albany

DR. ROBERT AXEL, associate director of the Bureau of Research of the Social Welfare, was honored upon his retirement, after 21 years of State service, at a party held in the State Capital Building offices. About 150 present and former employees of the Department attended the festivities.

Dr. Axel on his retirement and praising his record in the Department was made by Commissioner Robert T. Lampa. Dr. Lampa praised, among others, Byron T. Huplo, Jr., and Research Director Dr. David M. Schneider. Dr. Schneider presented a watch and a fountain pen and pencil set given to Dr. Axel as gifts from his associates.

An official farewell luncheon was held at the party. Commissioner Lampa stated the following comments on Dr. Axel's record in the Research Bureau:

"Your impending retirement from State service after 21 years of association with the research program of this Department leaves a gap that will be hard to fill. You have been one of the pioneers in the application of research methods to the public welfare.

"During your years of service, you have been a leader in many programs of research which have grown both in scope and complexity, requiring greater emphasis in the systematic collection and interpretation of facts pertinent to our operations. The high quality of your work, your dedication to duty, and your understanding of the work of your fellow workers represent the highest standards of public service which we have ever reached.

"This legacy of performance will be a future inspiration to all of us who have had the pleasure of working with you."

Dr. Axel indicated that he plans to continue in New York City after retirement, but, despite many friendly invitations, he maintained a discreet distance as to his future occupation other than a "pensioned" retired bachelor.

J. N. Adam Memorial Hospital

ON MONDAY, January 5, severely illness, John N. Adam, CSEA chapter, died. He was 63 years of age. Adam was a member of the Chapter's board of directors. He was a former employee of the State Department of Social Welfare and had been a member since 1938. He was a member of the National Civil Service League and had been active in its work.

The Chapter's membership, under the direction of the late John N. Adam, has grown steadily. At the time of his death, the membership had reached a record high of 425 members.

The Chapter conducted a memorial service in his honor on January 9, attended by many of his friends and associates. A resolution was adopted expressing the Chapter's deep sense of loss and offering its sympathy to the family of John N. Adam.

Psychiatric Institute

NEWS ITEMS from the Psychiatric Institute show that a new program for the treatment of mental illness has been inaugurated. The program, known as "psychotherapy," involves the use of group meetings and individual counseling to help patients cope with the problems they face.

The program is supervised by a team of experienced professionals, including psychologists, social workers, and nurses. Patients are encouraged to participate actively in their own treatment, with the goal of improving their emotional well-being and reducing the risk of relapse.

The program has been well received by patients and staff alike, with many reporting significant improvements in their mood, energy levels, and sense of accomplishment.

New Plan to Reorganize State Civil Service Commission Takes Shape; Drafted to Meet Objections Which Defeated 1952 Measure

ALBANY, Jan. 26 — Arguing that State salaries have "outrun the increase in productivity," Budget Director Fred Hurd proposed today that State Civil Service Commission take steps to hold down pay in private industry. State Budget Director Hurd, in his eighth year on the job, has been described as a firm, no-nonsense budget officer who has been held in high esteem by his colleagues in government and in private industry.

Budget Director Hurd had only one point to make in his address, and that was to emphasize the need for a careful examination of State salaries. He said that the State Civil Service Commission had a responsibility to the taxpayers of the State to ensure that State salaries were kept as low as possible.

The Budget Director also made the point that State salaries are higher than those in private industry, and that this is not necessarily the case. He said that the State Civil Service Commission should be able to hold down pay in private industry, and that this would be to the benefit of the taxpayers of the State.

Budget Director Hurd's comments were well received, and there was general agreement that the State Civil Service Commission should be able to hold down pay in private industry.
