Suit to Free
State Workmen from Tax

Argued in U. S. Court

ALBANY, June 15 — Arguments in the case of the Civil Service Employees Association against the Federal Government, in which a Federal Court has ordered refunds from the U. S. for income tax on maintenance furnished to State employees, was argued yesterday by Assistant Attorney General Barnet of the U. S. District Court.

The representation of the claimants are Dr. Coyle S. Lougher, representing the physicians, Willard State Hospital, and Charlotte and Anna Brain, housemother and housefather, State Training School for Boys, Warwick, all three Association members. They contend that as the employees are required by their employer to live on the premises where they work, such residence is for the convenience of the employer, which, under the general rule, applies to U. S. income tax, renders such maintenance non-taxable.

Claimants' Stand Supported

No tax on such maintenance was imposed until an Internal Revenue Service ruling in 1943 held that the change which occurred in 1943 in the method of computing the salaries of institutional employees while not taxing the maintenance of such employees while not taxing the maintenance furnished to non-institutional employees was in violation of the Federal Government's obligation to the Commonwealth to tax such maintenance.

It was Commissioner Kassell's position that the change which occurred in 1943 in the method of computing the salaries of institutional employees was merely a result of a change in the Federal Government's obligation to the Commonwealth to tax such maintenance. Therefore, he contended, the change which occurred in 1943 in the method of computing the salaries of institutional employees was in violation of the Federal Government's obligation to the Commonwealth to tax such maintenance.

The case involves not indirectly a large number, impossible to estimate, of employees in other States. The claims have been made by the Treasury Department in relation to employees similarly situated in other States but the present suit is the only test case that is being decided in the present session which will determine the liabilities of the employees in the other States.

Most of the material facts were first stated in a report of U. S. Attorney and Commissioner Kassell. Two taxpayers and Mr. Brown testified that they were compelled to house their children in a building which otherwise would have been unoccupied by the employer and that it would be a place to live, particularly since he was not working as a young single man.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown testified that they were compelled to house their children in a building which otherwise would have been unoccupied by the employer and that it would be a place to live, particularly since he was not working as a young single man.

Here is that amazing story:

The experts discovered that all of the leading automobile manufacturers, such as Buick, Cadillac, Oldsmobile—theirs to be equipped with special glare-resistant windshield glasses. These experts immediately concluded that there was only one solution to this problem: find the source of this blinding glare—a piece of optical colored glass worn by the eye! They immediately took up this investigation and found that the result of this research was a series of optical glasses that actually discovered that there was only one solution to this problem: find the source of this blinding glare—a piece of optical colored glass worn by the eye! They immediately took up this investigation and found that the result of this research was a series of optical glasses that were found to be absolutely effective against headlight glare.

The experts discovered that scientists had developed such glasses for many of the leading automobile manufacturers, such as Buick, Cadillac, Oldsmobile—these special glare-resistant windshield glasses. These experts immediately discovered that there was only one solution to this problem: find the source of this blinding glare—a piece of optical colored glass worn by the eye! They immediately took up this investigation and found that the result of this research was a series of optical glasses that were found to be absolutely effective against headlight glare.

These experts discovered that scientists had developed and distributed to over 70,000 drivers a series of optical glasses that were found to be absolutely effective against headlight glare.

By the way, in the last few years over 70,000 drivers have been blinded and killed by the headlights of another man's car?

There are three of these drivers who have tested and proved an invisible optical instrument that actually makes the brightest headlight glare of any car in the world disappear. Here is that amazing story:

When you pass another car, the headlights of the other car will not blind you. You can see without them. You will not suffer from dangerous eye strain. You will not cause you to fall asleep at the wheel and ruin your tires.

This Is How Night Driving Should Be

1. WITH THESE RAYEX Night Driving GLASSES you can look directly into the brightest headlight. You will see the light, but you will not see the glare. You can pass an entire line of fifty cars and not even squint.

2. WHEN THESE RAYEX night Driving GLASSES your eyes will be protected against any intensity of glare. They will not have to adjust themselves to constant flashes of light. You will actually be able to see better, cleaner.

3. AND further with them on than you could see without them. You will see dark objects more clearly. You will save water quickly to the pedestrians who dart out of a side street, to the dark hump in the road that runs your tires.

4. SINCE THESE RAYEX Night Driving GLASSES PROTECT YOUR EYES AGAINST STRAIN, you will not suffer from dangerous eye driving. You will be able to drive as much as 400 miles in a single night without feeling the slightest strain.

5. You will not be tired after short rides.

6. And, above all, strained eyes will not cause you to fall asleep at the wheel. You may make even the longest trips with absolute confidence.

Sample Questions to Help One Pass Exams

A sample test in spatial relations, published in the May 26 issue of LEADER, showed the standard a cube, with each of three sides measuring either a whole number or a small fraction of an inch or a small or large fraction of an inch. There are four marked errors in the test for which the correct answers are:

Part I, B. says the cube would be a right triangle that is cut in half. The answer, B. is correct, because if the standard were cut in half, the triangle would be at right angles to the cut, and the gap between the two pieces would be a right angle.

Part II, B. says a cube that has three sides of equal length is an acceptable figure for the required 70 per cent pass mark.

Part III, A. says the answer is 20. The correct answer is 40, because the standard requires a 70 per cent pass mark.

Part IV, B. says the answer is 10. The correct answer is 20, because the standard requires a 70 per cent pass mark.

Part V, B. says the answer is 3. The correct answer is 4, because the standard requires a 70 per cent pass mark.

Part VI, B. says the answer is 20. The correct answer is 40, because the standard requires a 70 per cent pass mark.

Part VII, A. says the answer is 5. The correct answer is 10, because the standard requires a 70 per cent pass mark.

Part VIII, B. says the answer is 3. The correct answer is 4, because the standard requires a 70 per cent pass mark.

Part IX, B. says the answer is 0. The correct answer is 1, because the standard requires a 70 per cent pass mark.

Part X, B. says the answer is 10. The correct answer is 20, because the standard requires a 70 per cent pass mark.

Examining the 10 New Tests Ordered
The NYC Civil Service Commission recently took the first step toward standardizing the exam, by ordering 10 new tests. These tests are designed to measure the applicant's knowledge in various areas.

The new tests will be given to applicants for a variety of positions, including clerical, technical, and professional jobs. The tests will be administered in four parts, with each part containing 25 questions. The overall pass mark required is 70 per cent.

The new tests are designed to help the civil service system function more efficiently and effectively, by providing a standardized and fair way to evaluate the qualifications of applicants.

In Part I, B. says there were 50 people. The correct answer is 50, because there were 50 people.

In Part II, B. says the answer is 20. The correct answer is 40, because the standard requires a 70 per cent pass mark.

In Part III, A. says the answer is 5. The correct answer is 10, because the standard requires a 70 per cent pass mark.

In Part IV, B. says the answer is 20. The correct answer is 40, because the standard requires a 70 per cent pass mark.

In Part V, B. says the answer is 3. The correct answer is 4, because the standard requires a 70 per cent pass mark.

The public is voting at the second annual art show of the Metropolitan Conference, Civil Service Employees Association, to determine its own choice of the best exhibit in the whole show. A jury of expert judges made its own choice. It was a sculpture by Miss. Claudia Gilbert, of the Employment Service, who was awarded a $10 bond. Besides, there were cash prizes and merit awards in five separate groups: arts, ceramics, black and white, sculpture and water colors. The names of the winners were published in last week's LEADER. Herman Jumper won a merit certificate for an oil painting exhibit. His name was inadvertently omitted from the list published last week.

The show ends on Friday, June 19. It is being held at the Riverside Museum, 103rd Street and Riverside Drive, NYC. Exhibitors in the show must pick up their exhibits on Saturday, June 20, between 1 and 5 P.M.
