New Pay Survey May Equal Feld-Hamilton Law in Its Effect, CSEA Board Is Told

ALBANY, Sept. 21 — A survey now being made on Governor Dewey’s orders may be as important a salary-wise — as the original Feld-Hamilton law was to State employees. This starting prediction came in the course of a report by David L. Shultes, chairman of the Civil Service Employees Association salary committee, to the CSEA Board of Directors on Thursday, September 24.

Mr. Shultes sees this as being an important year for State salaries. Ten years of "temporary" and emergency raises have distorted the salary structure. A series of conferences have indicated the need for "orderly, objective procedures for adjusting salaries."

The Governor’s order to survey the entire salary picture is being taken so seriously by the Compensation Division, Mr. Shultes revealed, that employees have been working overtime to complete it in time for conferences.

Correcting Inequities

The survey assumes importance for additional reasons. Budget Department officials have said that no further general raises or freezes would be granted until existing inequities within the State salary structure are corrected. In the course of negotiations, Mr. Shultes told the Association leaders. Mr. Hood stated that a previous survey wasn’t comprehensive enough. That survey showed that State employees were about 6.7 percent deficient in pay.

New Pay Grades Possible

Mr. Shultes said he hopes the possibility of new salary grades and the chance of a new mechanism for orderly pay adjustments arising out of these. He added that the study would probably not have less undercut time if the Association had not in effect appealed to the Governor.

The CSEA case today is stronger than it was a year ago, the main committee chairman said. Since then, pay in private industry has risen an additional 3 percent. By the time of negotiations, Mr. Hurd stated that a previous survey wasn’t comprehensive enough. That survey showed that State employees were about 6.7 percent deficient in pay.

MAYOR’S SUPPORT

On August 19, the CSEA Board of Directors, in an executive session, voted to support the Mayor’s proposed mandatory increment law. The Board also supported the Mayor’s plan for the enforcement of the law. The Board also supported the Mayor’s plan for the enforcement of the law.

BUFFALO, Sept. 21 — "We must put the finishing touches on our plan to get a fair salary increase," Theodore Wenzl, speaking at a labor-management conference, said this theme. "But," Wenzl pointed out, "you’re going to pay all this money, all the money you’re going to pay this year because it is going to be "too late.""

Mr. Wenzl frequently referred to the "dramatic" salary increases that have occurred in recent years. He said that the increase in salaries has been "too late." "But," Wenzl pointed out, "you’re going to pay all this money, all the money you’re going to pay this year because it is going to be "too late.""

Grave Concern

If the survey showed that State salaries were an additional 3 percent behind pay, it would be one more indication that the State is not keeping pace with the private industry. Mr. Shultes saw this as being an important year for State salaries. Ten years of "temporary" and emergency raises have distorted the salary structure. A series of conferences have indicated the need for "orderly, objective procedures for adjusting salaries."

The Pay Window

By F. HENRY GOLPIN
Salary Research Analyst, Civil Service Employees Association

In the August issue of the "Survey of Current Business," a monthly publication of the Office of Business Economics, U.S. Department of Commerce, there is included an analysis of income payments to individuals by States, which includes some interesting data relative to per capita income. For the country as a whole, per capita income in 1952 amounted to $1,029, an increase of 4 percent over 1951. Generally speaking, regional changes in per capita income paralleled those of natural income. Except in 1951, per capita income, were relatively small.

While there is interesting information relative to total income payments to individuals for various States, it is felt that income payments are considerably more significant for our immediate purpose, since New State is the major populous State in the union, and therefore total income payment would not reflect the State's economy standing from viewpoint of living standards by various areas, as well as per capita income.

The Lucky Thirteen

There are 13 States whose per capita income in 1952 exceeded $1,000. New York ranks fourth in the nation in per capita income. It is exceeded only by Connecticut, Delaware, and Nevada. California does not lag far behind New York, with a per capita income of $2,032 as against New York's $2,260. New Jersey has also a relatively high per capita income of $2,038, based on every man, woman, and child who works lawfully.

While salaries of State employees are relatively high compared to those in other States, it is generally conceded that both the Federal and State governments are the pay employers. As the per capita income in the State of California is $1,969, as against $2,038 in New York, it is highly probable that the ability to pay for adequate high quality government service should be relatively high.

In the last analysis, the taxpayer is the one that pays. While it follows that the ability to pay for adequate high quality government service should be relatively high, in government service, the ability to pay to is reflected by the per capita income in the State of New York is the highest in the nation, and since State employees are dependent on the revenue obtained from New York State residents, these same State employees should be on an equal plane from viewpoint of per capita income per State worker with their employer, which is, in this instance, the taxpayer.

While salaries of State employees are relatively high compared to those in other States, it is generally conceded that both the Federal and State governments are the pay employers. The per capita income in the State of California is $1,969, as against $2,038 in New York. California ranks sixth in the nation in per capita income.

Rater Can and Should be Granted

While the relationship of per capita income to State salaries is shown to be only one of the many facets that should be considered in determining the pay scale on the basis of this consideration only, the per capita income criterion is far from being a substantial upward adjustment is needed in State salaries, and can be granted.

ALBANY, Sept. 21 — The suit brought by the Civil Service Employees Association, to have maintenance excluded from U.S. income, was decided against the employees by Judge Stephen W. Brennan in U.S. District Court. In an opinion the Judge said that Federal law is broad enough to include maintenance, as compensation, and that even New York State law defines maintenance as such as part of salary. He noted that maintenance is figured as included as part of compensation for purposes of contributions to the State retirement system.

As a result of the decision, the Union said that this showed that such compensation was included in Federal law, and that under Federal law maintenance therefore does not apply.

Association's Argument

The Association's argument is that under Federal law maintenance is excluded from taxation when such maintenance is for the convenience of the employer. Most of those affected in the test case are employed in the State Department of Mental Hygiene. The plaintiffs ask for Dr. Oscar K. Diamond, a supervising psychiatrist at Willard State Hospital.

The Association showed that he was compelled by law to live on the hospital grounds, and argued that the showing that such compensation was for the convenience of the employer, since the doctor, if he had a choice, would hire a more expensive home, and taxation on maintenance therefore does not apply.

In another case, brought simultaneously by the Association, in the name of Walter Stor, the court also dismissed the complaint.

Democracy in Action
In an Employee Group

The ANNUAL election of the Civil Service Employees Association is an excellent example of democracy in action.

The nominating committee proposed a slate. Independent nominations are authorized by the constitution and by-laws. The committee did not rest on the assumption that every member of the Association knew that. It publicized and emphasized the right of nomination by petition, in fact, almost seemed to encourage it, if there were any popular ideas on nominees contrary to those in its slate.

Two candidates, as required by the constitution and by-law, must be nominated by petition, in fact, almost seemed to encourage it, if there were any popular ideas on nominees contrary to those held by the committee. Two nominations have been made independently of the committee.

For each officer post the committee nominated at least two candidates, as required by the constitution and by-laws. The Association is now considering a proposed amendment to the constitution to allow, in the future, nominations for any office that can be filled by a petition, in fact, almost seemed to encourage it, if there were any popular ideas on nominees contrary to those held by the committee. Two nominations have been made independently of the committee.

The committee does not doubt realists, as all must who study the operations of organized groups, that competition for office is a sure sign of members' interest and even enthusiasm, and to a degree portends the future of a group. Unless the ingredients of the democratic compound are in our everyday life, we cannot have or deserve real democracy. The blessing must stem from the people upward, and can not merely be filtered by the government downward.

Thanks for Thanks,
And Pardon Our Blushing!

The LEADER is deeply grateful to the Police Conference and the Association of Fire Fighters, both statewide groups, for commending us for valuable service and help to public employees. Gratitude is easier to take than to earn. We hope our efforts for public employees have been all that we intended. Perhaps we can best implement our sense of gratitude by resolving to do an even bigger and better job for public employees.

The LEADER has done both by public employees. They do not have the full freedom of action nor recourse to urgent means enjoyed by employees in private industry, neither ease of approach nor established methods of labor relations generally. This lag behind employees of private industry is regrettable, but not beyond remedy.

One of the LEADER's resolves for the future is to fight not only for the rights of its members, and the rights of the Federal Government but State and local governments are facing this difficulty, New York State is extending an experimental plan, and making progress. But, as always, the problem of assuring objectivity, or absence of bias by the rating supervisor, remains one of the most vexing imponderables. For instance, a Congressional subcommittee has found these deviations from prescribed procedures: Grade promotions given to otherwise unqualified personnel; the granting of an extension of the rating period to guarantee protection to a supervisor with such an extension, if he is to be removed in the future. This is not an isolated instance, but rather is typical of a lag behind employees of private industry.

The LEADER is deeply grateful to the police conference for its appreciation of the LEADER and its support of the aims of the civil service employees by the publisher and the editorial staff of the Civil Service LEADER, which have contributed so much to the welfare of those employees, the New York State Fire Fighters Association at its annual convention last week in Long Beach.

The LEADER has found an energetic champion for the maintenance of the “Civil Service Leader” and the New York State Fire Fighters Association at its annual convention last week in Long Beach.

The LEADER would like to express its thanks and appreciation to the officers of the Civil Service LEADER for their cooperation and I am pleased to have this opportunity to extend my personal thanks to you.

MR. CAR OWNER! See these Pictures

May all the world be glad to see...and all the world be safe from this HIDDEN ACCIDENT in each traffic accident!...

Mr. Car Owner, Study These Pictures

See if You Can Spot the HIDDEN ACCIDENT in Each of Them...

...Before It Could Happen to You!

WHAT WOULD YOU SEE IF YOU APPLIED RAYEX NIGHT GLASSES?

Left side—As he passed the car on the right...a blind street alight...a pedestrian stepping onto the street. He would have had to stop his car...at the wrong time...with his illuminated street light...or of hitting one of the other traffic conditions.

Don’t you notice immediately, that you’re more relaxed...more confident about your driving, because you can actually see better ahead...farther...Test these glasses against the first two or three cars you pass. Pray to yourself that you can see their lights...but there is no blinding glare. After that you will be able to totally disregard the headlights of any car coming toward you on the highway. You will be able to sit back and relax—enjoy your night driving as much as you do in the day.

PROVE IT YOURSELF! MAKE THIS CONVINCING "LIGHT-BULB TEST"

When your RAYEX NIGHT GLASSES arrive put them on and look directly into the strongest headlight you have in your home. You see the light...the glare is gone! The instantly reversible design of these glasses will not cause you to fall asleep when you are driving.

If you receive this RAYEX NIGHT GLASS COUPON, you are eligible to purchase a pair of these glasses for only $20-$50.

RAYEX NIGHT GLASSES have been tested, approved by the American Optometric Association and the National Safety Council. They come in handsome safety frames for men, women and children. They are made of ground and polished optical plate glass, then shaped, quality and appearance to the finest optically applicable work. The glasses are charged with special safety filters to eliminate the hidden accident in each traffic accident.

RAYEX NIGHT GLASSES have been used by over 70,000 drivers. They are manufactured by the Rayex Optical Company. They were discovered and approved by the American Optometric Association and the National Safety Council.

Rayex Optical Company, 1925 Main St., New York 1, N. Y.

This is the last word in safety—because you see better by day...by night...and by standing still. And here is the one fact that all of these drivers agreed upon...able in the way they would affect your night driving.

The very first moment you put on your RAYEX NIGHT Driving Glasses you enter into an entirely new world of night driving. There is not the blinding glare! Instead, the headlights of every one...every street light...every window you pass, are a soft amber yellow.

You’ll notice immediately, that you’re more relaxed...more confident about your driving, because you can actually see better...farther. Test these glasses against the first two or three cars you pass. Pray to yourself that you can see their lights...but there is no blinding glare.
