22 Changes in Civil Service Law Suggested by CSEA

ALBANY. Nov. 9—Twenty-two points of change in the State Civil Service Law have been proposed by a committee of the Civil Service Employees Association. The points have been submitted to the Pedler Commission, which is studying the State Civil Service Law.

The recommendations are:

A. In connection with open competitive examinations:

1. While non-tenured employees should be permitted to compete for positions they have filled their intention to become citizens or their "second papers", their eligibility for appointment should be suspended pending completion of such papers.

2. The prohibition against discrimination shall not be extended to those who are employed on a part-time basis.

3. Instead of being bound by competitive examinations, instead of being bound by competitive examinations, three persons eligible for promotion examinations are urged, rather than four, with the exception of the first three persons on the examination list. Service in the permanent position should be extended to all civil service employees who have filed their "second papers", and to all other government employees who have filled their "second papers".

4. The law should not be changed.

5. Instead of being bound by competitive examinations, the law should not be changed.

Subsistence, Mileage Allowance Rise Is Asked
By Special CSEA. Committee

ALBANY, Nov. 9 — An increase in subsistence allowance from $11 to $12 a day and an auto mileage allowance from 8 cents a mile to 10 cents a mile were requested by the Civil Service Workers Organization. The increases were revealed in a report of the CSEA committee on subsistence and automobile transportation to the annual meeting of the organization.

Last Increase in 1951
The CSEA committee's proposal was contained in a letter written by Jesse B. McParland, written to State Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern. The letter stated, in part:

"The last increase in mileage allowance was approved by you effective August 1, 1951, and the rate was increased from 6 1/2 cents a mile to 8 cents a mile. Our committee did not at the time then present indicate the justification for a somewhat larger increase, but they were much pleased with the help that interest shown by you and the increase which you granted.

"Since the 1951 increase, inflation has resulted in considerably higher automobile operating costs, which we estimate to be as follows:

- Insurance rates, 90 per cent.
- Purchase of new auto, 10 per cent increase.

The increased tax on auto, 10 per cent increase.

- Repair parts, 10 per cent increase.
- Gas, 4 cents a gallon.

"With respect to subsistence, the contractors have increased the cost of living, and in some cases, the parking regulations require in many instances that parking permits at parking areas where changes are made, be obtained from the Superintendent of Bridges, and in the near future the Thurway will, according to the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, the housing per hour for an automobile mechanic in New York has advanced since 1951 from $1.75 to $1.97 per hour. This is a 15 per cent increase. This increased labor cost, together with any increase in cost of materials, is reflected in repair charges to the automobile.

"We are attaching hereto Representative Arthur W. Moon and M. G. Osborne, 280 Twelfth Avenue, Room 1000, as chairman of the State Employees Association, who will be glad to discuss the matter with you."

DANMMORA, Nov. 9 — Speaking at the annual dinner of the Dannemora State Hospital chapter, held at the Elks Club, William P. McDonough, executive representative of the Civil Service Employees Association, repeated the theme which unity in all grades of employment for the attainment of improved employment conditions and complete savings and complete establishment of the Dannemora State Hospital chapter on the assumed efforts to win competitive classification for the correctional staff in conjunction with the Certification and Cooperation Division of the Central Bureau of recommending prison pay scales.

"It is inescapable that the bargaining process can only hold from lesser gain to prevent the stagnation of the public service and its value, and in the grievance process it is to the facts that the public will ever content that it cannot afford to pay fair wages for good service rendered.

"It is necessary that the bargaining process is not defeated by the discovery of new facts that bring about a further demand for an adjustment. It is necessary that the bargaining process can only hold from lesser gain to prevent the stagnation of the public service and its value, and in the grievance process it is to the facts that the public will ever content that it cannot afford to pay fair wages for good service rendered.

"We must take an increased interest in our professional organizations in the resolutions adopted by the delegates at the annual meeting of this subject as an employer program.
