CSEA Delegates Vote Drive for 40-Hour Week With Pay Reduction in Institutions; Reject Optional 40 Hours at Straight Time

ALBANY, Dec. 14 — One hundred and twenty-eight delegates representing New York State employees in institutions and civil service departments, gathered in Albany for a two-day convention of the CSEA, to make an all-out effort for the 40-hour-week in the present 48-hour work week.

It was a meeting that came after a dramatic four-month series of meetings in Albany, at meetings of the Civil Service Employees Association on Monday, December 14. The delegates represented employees of Mental Hygiene, Correction, Social Welfare and Health. The resolution, on which they acted, was:

Resolved, that the issue of employment for institutional employees in the 48-hour week be dropped and that the basic salaried employees and employees who do not receive the present 48-hour pay for each be declared the basic pay for the 48-hour week.

Officers were elected to a team toward implementation of this resolution.

The delegates also passed a resolution approving a series of meetings with CSEA counsel, John T. DeGraff, chief counsel, and John E. Tolman, Bliss-Harris, associate counsel, with respect to 40-hour proposals and to answer questions.

Called to Give Views

They were called in executive session, together in order to present the various proposals for a 48-hour week, and for 40 hours with the 40-hour proposal and to answer questions.

Why Are Other People So Long-Winded?

As we read the mass of material that crosses our desks we sometimes wish, "If only he would cut it down!" It frustrates us and is fatiguing.

Often, in a public report, much writing in Government is long-winded. Ten words often used where five would express an idea more clearly. Such writing wastes our time and trims our patience. But what about our own writing?

Let's write for others as we would have them write for us. We can save their time.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. In private industry and in public service, with the 48-hour work week, it is necessary to cut down to essentials. Each word should carry its meaning freely.

2. In your communication, your message should be clearly stated, and it should be done so in the language of everyday conversation. Don't write what you think your reader will understand; write what you know he will understand.

CSEA Gives Basic Wage Facts to State Negotiators as Salary Parleys Make Gain

ALBANY, Dec. 14 — Normal salary negotiations by the Civil Service Employees Association have begun. The Association has laid its basic case before Budget Director T. Norman Hurd, asking that present gross pay scales be increased by at least 12 percent, and that the new pay be made base pay in a schedule of statutory salary grades.

The first conference was held Saturday, December 5. The second will be held on Saturday, December 12.

The State is conducting a salary survey, the results of which have not been made known to the Association. Before any action is taken by the State Administration on recommendations, if any, that the Association submits, the Association has asked to be consulted.

John Powers, president of the CSEA, wrote Mr. Hurd a letter saying that the Association is not ready to make demands; however, it will make a demand when the Association has studied the results of the survey. The Association also requests a meeting with the Commissioner of Labor, Herman E. Hilleboe.

Patrolman applicants

Of the 1,337 men composing the New Eligible List for Patrolmen, 1,083 are Delehanty Graduates. A total of 12,000 men have filed applications. Possibly 1,000 to 1,500 of these are not qualified medically. And on the basis of previous tests, another 2,000 will fail to qualify for the written exam.

7 WEEKS REMAIN FOR PREPARATION

Those who seriously desire to secure one of these desirable positions have 7 weeks left in which by conscientious study they may practically assure themselves of passing the written exam to be held Jan. 30th.

The Delehanty course

Each applicant is examined without charge by our staff physicians. If found medically fit, he may enroll and attend classes three times weekly, either in Manhattan or Jamaica at hours to suit his convenience.

In addition, be provided with extensive and carefully prepared home study material and benefits also by written classroom tests.

The fee for the course is reasonable and may be paid in installments.

Government Should Give Broad Counseling Service

The need for a counseling service for public employees is reaffirmed by the considerable duties of this nature performed by the New York State Personnel Relations Board. Unfortunately, its good work in counseling, through the efforts of Janet Macfarlane, the Board is hampered by a restrictive and hard-to-operate law in other particulars.

The Federal Government should institute counseling. Local governments need it. Public employees have not only transfer, assignment, reinstatement, and similar job problems, but confidential ones not related to their jobs. An employer deeply interested in the welfare and morale of his employees will extend himself a bit, to give employees the benefit of the experience and sound judgment of a counselor. There is no better employee than a happy one.

The excellent results in New York State should be assurance enough that a government jurisdiction will not be courting disaster or inviting informal risks if it gives due recognition to the broader aspects of counseling. Public employees are a type of public service unhampered by narrow limits, and government should always be eager to avoid being done out. It is supposed to lead, anyway, rather than follow.

The New York City Housing Authority, founded in 1937, is the principal component of the New York City Housing Authority. It is responsible for the development and operation of public housing projects, private real estate firms, and related projects. This plan will be extended eventually to all New York City public housing projects. The Authority has thus far issued more than 25,000 leases to New York City Housing Authority tenants. These leases have so far included the moral of the housing authority. Exhibit 5 shows the distribution of these leases to tenant.

Employees must, under this plan, agree to turn over the management of all new buildings to the early 1970s, to the New York City Housing Authority. The Authority has thus far issued more than 25,000 leases to New York City Housing Authority tenants.

For these reasons, it might be wise to have the same plan and included the Mitchell Plan of the New York City Housing Authority. The Authority has thus far issued more than 25,000 leases to New York City Housing Authority tenants.

WANTS MINIMUM POLICE PAY SURED

Editor, The Leader:

I read your news article, about the low pay, the one reason many men stay the NYPD, the argument that they are not in a profession. The police pay is not that much less than the pension pay.

The New York City Police Department has a minimum monthly retirement benefit of $450, which is to be increased to $550 in 1960. The current NYC police exam attracted 3,000 candidates, less than the number of candidates for 1952, the police said, and the minimum age was lowered from 21 to 18.

SUSIE (SUSAN) COUPON, Dec. 15, 1953

So many readers have asked to meet her, that once again, the Civil Serviceman LEADER has gone out and found "Susie." She is a little girl with a heart — 2 feet tall and an ideal companion for your favorite little friend. Last Christmas, you may remember, the circulation staff of the Civil Service LEADER made a special arrangement with a manufacturer to obtain a doll for Christmas giving for our readers. This year, we found SUSIE.

★ She is over two feet tall.

★ With a non-breakable plastic head.

★ Flexible latex arms and legs.

★ Genuine saran wig which can be washed, combed and curled.

★ A beautiful designed costume.

★ And of course a patented heartbeat.

You can have SUSIE for $4.50 plus 25c for mailing and handling and two Dolly coupons from the LEADER, or the label from your wrapper. You would have to pay almost twice as much for her if you bought her through regular channels. Use the mailing coupon at right for your convenience.

BY world-famous PARKER

Frenchie Is Popular Toy Poodle

There is still time for readers of the Civil Service LEADER to obtain dashing, debonair, dashing "Frenchie the Poodle," the soft, cuddly little dog which wins everyone's heart.

"Frenchie" is 18 inches tall, is grey or black, has a red French beret with roguish pom-pom, and is wired so he can sit, stand or lie down—just like a real poodle.

He is obtainable by LEADER readers, by special arrangement, for $3.75 (less than half the retail value), plus 25 cents for mailing charges, and either two "Doggie" coupons (on pages 2 and 13) or one wrapper label, for subscribers.

Activities of Employees in State

Kings Park State Hospital

A MEETING of the Kings Park chapter executive council, with State Senator J. Westworth Horan and Assemblyman Edmund Lupton, was held December 11 at the Perkins Hotel, Riverhead, to discuss resolutions adopted at the CSEA annual meeting, primarily those that relate to salary adjustments.

At the same time, Ben Adams, chairman of the hospital security committee, was attending a special meeting in Albany, to discuss details of the 40-hour week resolutions.

Kings Park is trying to make its chapter strong and active. Each member can do his part by showing interest in employee problems and by getting co-workers to join the CSEA. Try to recruit one new member this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Kostalnik, of the occupational therapy department, recently held a housewarming at their Port Jefferson home. All had a good time.

Ivan Mandon, supervisor of making 93 Miso, returned from an upstate hunting trip with a "tune-up" book.

Get well to Mrs. Robert McNeill, attendant at Group 4, who is hospitalised in Huntington.

Welcome to Dr. Joseph Gornick and Dr. Gillis, new hospital physicians.

Employment, NYC

PAYROLL Examiners of the Field Audit Section, District 8, Lone Island City Office, honoured Lillian Cleary, stenographer in the office for the past 12 years, at a retirement party last week. Miss Cleary will leave State service January 1.

Central Islip State Hospital

PRESIDENT Thomas Purcell has appointed the following committee, to meet with the local Assemblyman on a salary increase: Michael Murphy, chairman; Walter Kowalewski and Mrs. Kleinman.

During the past week, five claims for sickness and accident insurance have been satisfied. The claimants were advised by chapter officers.

Speedy recovery to Mrs. Bridget O’Keeffe, retired employee, and to all those in the infirmary. Mr. Purcell met with the chapter’s salary committee in Riverhead, and closed before Senator Lupton, the need for a salary increase for all state employees. He reports the Senator expressed sympathy in the matter.

Pay your dues to your members committee or chapter officers.

The chapter wishes all the hospital employees a happy Christmas and joyful New Year.

The membership committees of the Civil Service Employees Association's 100 chapters throughout the State are working diligently and are breaking all previous records. The Albany head- quarters of the Association indicates that if the momentum of the drive continues the chapter membership committees will achieve substantial increase over the Association's total membership at the end of its last fiscal year of $3,960.

The membership committees of the State Division chapters of CSEA located in the Western Conference follow:

Buffalo — Albert C. Kiillian, president. Helen Loneran, Workmen's Compensation Board; chairman: Charles Hamilton and Nor- man Geiler, Audit and Control; Ethel Ditt and Gloria Robinson, Taxation and Finance; Frank Leavens and Catherine Burnett, Motor Vehicles Bureau; Elaine Sherman and Gerald Miller, Personnel; Blanche Snyder and De- brae Jablonski, Health Department; Harry Lupa and John Kennedy, A.B.C. Board; Agnes Cassidy and Tene Weiler, Law.
