Tax Reduction for Retired Employees inching closer

WASHINGTON, May 17—Tax reductions for retired employees inching closer last week.

The Senate Finance Committee announced that it had tentatively approved tax reductions for persons on pension. In the new administration tax reform bill. The measure has already been approved by the House of Representatives.

The House bill exempts $1,200 of the income of retired persons from taxation. The Senate committee staff is drafting an amendment making this benefit available to all, regardless of age, who have retired under any public retirement plan. This means that employees under the New York State 58-year retirement plan, policemen, teachers, firemen and others who retire before reaching age 65 would have a substantial tax exemption accorded them.

Work Doesn't Count

The House bill provides that any earnings from actual work in excess of $900 would have to be deducted from the $1,200 exemption.

The Senate committee voted to exempt persons over age 75 from that restriction.

The $1,200 exemption would apply to any income from sources other than work. This means pensions, annuities, interest, rents. If it earns that by working, then the exemption doesn't apply. The $1,200 exemption is in addition to two personal exemptions of $600 each already available to persons over 65.

On the other hand, Social Security pensions, new tax free, would have to be counted as part of the new $1,200 credits.

Medical Expenses

Another advantage to all taxpayers in the new bill is deduction of medical, dental and hospital expenses exceeding 3 per cent of income. Now such expenses may only be deducted when in excess of 5 per cent of income.

Looking Inside

By H. J. BERNARD

THE BIG THREE in NYC civil service will be the Budget Director, the Personnel Director, and the City Administrator. Top man will be the Budget Director.

While the Council bill to effectuate a master plan of salary grading, classification and allocation, every rule for administering the pay plan, and thereby determining the powers of the Budget Director was approved by the Mayor, so the Mayor approves the Budget Director being the top man.

No recommendation for change in allocation or classification, every rule for administering the pay plan, and thereby determining the powers of the Budget Director was approved by the Mayor, so the Mayor approves the Budget Director being the top man.

CHAPTER 354
1. Personnel Director to submit salary and wage plans, and plans for standardized vacation and sick leave rules, to the Mayor, the Board of Estimate, the City Civil Service Commission, the City Administrator, and the Budget Director.

2. Before new any position is created, the Board of Estimate shall notify the Budget Director. The Budget Director shall request from the Personnel Director a certificate stating the appropriate civil service title, pay, and grade. The Personnel Director requires the approval of the Commission before he can issue the certificate.

LOCAL LAW
1. No rules and regulations for administering the pay plan may become effective without the approval of the Budget Director.

2. The Budget Director may change the titles of positions in the budget for conformity to the reclassification, "any law to the contrary notwithstanding."

3. Those agencies not required to come under the reclassification, but which must change their minds later, unless the Budget Director approves. (Language of draft hazy, but seems to mean this.)

4. If there is no effective date of classification or allocation of a title, July 1 or January 1 following approval by Budget Director, may be advanced by the Budget Director if funds are appropriated.

The Draft of the Local Law
1. Personnel Director is authorized to recommend whether it is practicable to recruit at the minimum grade salary; if not, he may increase the grade minimum, effective until he reestablishes the minimum as set in the plan.

2. The Career and Salary Board of Appeals shall consist of three members, one a representative of the Budget Director.

3. No recommendation for change in allocation or classification may be made by the Agency Board without the approval of the Budget Director.

4. The Budget Director may, if the personnel Director determines that additional personnel are needed, increase the grade minimum, effective until he reestablishes the minimum as set in the plan.

PERSONNEL DIRECTOR SECONDARY
The Budget Director's primary role is clear. Every job reclassification or allocation, every rule for administering the pay plan, and every effort of an agency to pull out of the plan is volitionally accepted, in null and void without his approval.

The Personnel Director's role is secondary, as is that of the Commission, who need only distinguish between the Personnel Director and the Commission, since he will be the Commission Chairman.

No recommendation from the Personnel Director, given veto power, whereas the Budget Director has three-fold veto power.

The City Administrator is one of the agencies or official under the law passed by the Legislature, to whom the Personnel Director is to submit pay plans and proposed rules, to administer them, but the State law, a charter amendment, does not define his power. Since the Local Law implements the State law, and the Mayor largely controls the Local Law, the City Administrator's powers will be unilaterted ones, conferred on him by the Mayor.

NEW NAME
By the way, there will be two more "Municipal" Civil Service Commission after June 29, when the State law takes effect. The new name will be Civil Service Commission. Also, the membership will change, especially if the two Commissioners, other than the President, are paid on a per diem basis, a point yet unsettled.

For more than a decade the Budget Director, by authority from the Mayor, was the Budget Director's powers, and thereby determining the powers of the Budget Director were not fully defined, has had for many years exceeded the powers granted him under the Charter.

In the growth of Budget Director powers in Federal, State and local jurisdictions no state comes to mind that equals what is proposed in the draft of the Council bill.

Promotion
The following continues publication of the New York State Personnel Commission's official eligibles list for certain clerk (including mail clerk) positions and as appeared in the LEADER, June 11. There are 1,235 total eligibles.

The Civil Service Employees Association

The story of the growth and influence of the Civil Service Employees Association is a real American success story. This is so from two broad viewpoints. First, the Association has proposed and urged nearly every important change in State administrative business that has occurred in State service since 1910; secondly, it has initiated and supported every plan for improving the working conditions in civil service that has been adopted in the State since that date.

From a handful of inconceivably State employees in the city of New York in 1910, 2,000 civil servants in all classes and all parts of the State today is a tremendous growth experience for any group anywhere attempting to arouse cooperative action. The Association pioneered the idea that public employee organization should and is desirable as the unity of workers in industry, the unity of businessmen, bankers, farmers, or those engaged in the various professions.

From Maine to California, organized public workers have indicated their respect for the great New York State Association. Governors, legislators, employees have praised its objectives and its methods.

The Association was persuaded to review in brief its history from 1910 to the present time in the columns of the Civil Service LEADER.

This success story is a revelation of progressive action by thousands of men and women who have a part in the moral, social, and economic well-being of the citizens of a government devoted to freedom and human service. The authors of the history—William M. McDonough and Joseph D. Lochner—have been constantly active in the Association for over twenty years.

A brief chronological review of portions of the activities and events in the history of the Civil Service Employees Association 1910 to 1954 inclusive.

The Association organized as the New York State Association of Civil Service Employees of the State of New York, October 17, 1910. Objectives stated in first Constitution: 1910-1913: to promote knowledge and appreciation of the principle of merit and fitness in public employment, to increase salaries and promote efficiency in public service, and to secure the maintenance of a proper status for all civil service employees.

William M. Thomas, State Department of Labor, was chosen the first President of the Association.

Urged definite plans upon success to the first officers for improvement of civil service salaries, promotions, salary tenure, adequate salaries, adequate insurance, workmen's compensation, etc. Charles E. Heggie, Governor, appointed Dr. Robert W. Remington, Compensation Commissioner, to the position. Mr. Heggie was Governor October, 1910 to January 15, 1911; John A. Day, Governor, 1911-1913; William B. Colman, Governor, 1913-1915; William A. E. Smith, Governor, 1915-1916; William L. White, Governor, October 17, 1916; Martin H. Glynn, Governor, 1916-1919; Alfred E. Smith, Governor, 1919-1923; and Herbert H. Lehman, Governor, 1923-1933.

Sought and obtained moderate salaries and working conditions and prices; urged price stabilization.

Alfred R. Smith, Governor, 1919-1923.

1921. A new constitution for the state employees' association adopted, Chapter 761, S. L. R. N. Y.

Commission Aides Pay Called Low

Discussions on pay increases for Municipal Civil Service Commission employees have been held with key officials during the past week.

The salary increase talks were for investigators, examiners and clerks. The officials concerned were Paul P. Brennan, president of the Civil Service Commission, and William F. Shea, Assistant Director of the Budget. The discussions were with representatives of City Employees Local 237, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, APL.

The officials concerning the tense legislative battle over the Civil Service Commission, described the history of the alterations of opinion as to what form effect in New York State, Mr. Brennan said.

Despite changes, the well-known and respected Commissioner added that protections have been maintained by the Commission politics never entered the time to start preparing for Official Exam (Based on Salary Adjustment Now Being Made)

15 Civil Servants to Play In Queens County Concert With Noted Piano Team

Fifteen public employees will be playing in a concert of the 80-piece Queens Symphony Orchestra on Friday evenings, May 21, at the Forest Hills High School. The orchestra, one of the best amateur musical organizations in the United States, is presenting a program of unique appeal, Vera Appleton and Michael Field, a duet-piano team which has won national-wide acclaim for the verve and quality of their musicianship, will be soloists. They will play the breathtaking double-piano concerto by Francis Poulenc and the Mozart concerto for two pianos, Brahms Tragic Overture, the Western Rode by Elie Steinmeister, and Ravel's lovely Pavanne complete the program.

Civil Servants Invited

Civil service employees and others are invited to attend the concert. There is no admission charge. The Forest Hills High School is at 1317 White Oak and 67th Road, Queens.

Miss Appleton, whose brilliant piano work with Mr. Field has been such an inspiration to many, is known to offer to be a Powers model in order to tour in the two-piano teamwork. She has been called the most beautiful of all concert pianists.

Halpern & Sponder

The Queens Symphony, founded and conducted by David Katz, was organized in 1943 and quickly achieved an outstanding reputation. The chairman of the board of sponsors is State Senator Heyward Halpern, widely known as a civil service employee, and former chairman of the State Senate Civil Service Committee. Senator Halpern will be present at the concert.

Falk Tells Of Changes in Civil Service

Changes are coming in the structure of civil service commissions, but there is much difference of opinion as to what form the changes will take. Alexander A. Falk, State Civil Service Commissioner, described some of the changes in an address to the Civil Service Commission's eastern regional meeting, held in New York City on Saturday, May 8. Mr. Falk described the history of the alterations in the New York State civil service commission structure, describing the tense legislative battle that preceded it.

Despite changes, the well-known Commissioner added that protection and extension of the merit system still remains the greatest challenge facing civil service executives.

The Civil Service Commissioner added that protections have been maintained by the Commission. Mr. Falk answered that "in the seven years I have been on the Commission politics never entered the picture."

The chairman of the Commission noted at his own experience indicates that a good sense dictated. If anything, the Commission has access to a team attempting to perform a difficult, job conscientiously and well.

Recognition for Public Servants

THE LEADER takes pleasure in saluting the mental health workers, who won awards from the American Mental Health Association for their selfless, devoted, and often unsparing efforts in behalf of their patients. Names are recorded elsewhere in this issue. Such recognition comes too rarely to public employees. The public's work to criticize the civil servant, is too infrequently aware of the work he does, the services he performs, the hazards he endures, and the measure of devotion he usually gives to his job.

The Attitude
On Pay Raises

I N DISCUSSING the need for new taxes, Mayor Wagner last week said "We wanted to do something for our employees and teachers." The Mayor went on to point out that the employees are underpaid, and that low pay makes recruiting for new employees exceedingly difficult. We'd like to make this comment: Public officials must realize that government has an obligation to pay public servants a living wage. The public, quick to criticize the civil servant, is less likely to argue that too great a budgetary control will adversely affect the operation of the pay plan. This is one of the crucial controversies over the new proposal.
