New Tax Law Exempts Meals and Lodging: Big Victory for CSEA

The Internal Revenue Code of 1954, passed last week by Congress and signed by the President, exempted employees of State, city, and local governments from paying Federal income tax on meals and lodging furnished for the convenience of the employer. The CSEA immediately began preparations for the contest of this new law. When its efforts to negotiate a settlement with the State Comptroller failed, the CSEA, in the words of its legal counsel, to maintain the validity of the ruling. The Internal Revenue Code of 1954 provided: "(1) that it was intended to exempt persons engaged in Federal income tax, whether meals and lodging furnished or not, and (2) that the proper test to be applied in determining if meals and lodging were furnished for the convenience of the employer is whether or not they were furnished for the convenience of the employer, i.e., whether an employee's duties required him to reside at his place of employment.

The bill has not yet been signed into law. The test case on behalf of the CSEA lost in the lower court, the case is now on appeal. If the ruling is reversed, it will have been rendered by Congress and the State Comptroller and the department heads will be immediately injunctive relief will be obtained for the CSEA in the 1954 Internal Revenue Code.

The exemption will apply to all employees of the State, including employees of the State Comptroller and the department heads, and it will be effective for the taxable year beginning after January 1, 1954. The CSEA has already begun to prepare for the contest of the new law, taking steps to assure that the exemption will be applied to employees of the State and to the employees of the State Comptroller and the department heads. The exemption will be applied to all employees of the State.
One Bill Signed Exempting Jobs from Residence Requirement; Another Dies in Committee

E. W. BERNARD

Efforts to obtain a temporary exception to the Lyonnaise Residence Law are being made in the various boroughs of the city, but, to date, only one such law has been enacted since Mayor Wagner signed the measure into law.

The law requires that an eligible person shall have been a NYC resident for at least three years immediately preceding application. For this reason, the Council would have to pass the bill exempting the employee from the law for a year. The measure was introduced by Mayor Wagner and was signed by the Mayor.

Many Employees Ask For Higher Salaries

Many State employees are planning petitions to their new salary reorganization. Appeals by employees whose titles will be downgraded are increasing. Other employees, who have not been raised sufficiently to meet inflation requirements, are also raising their voices. The new salary plan is expected to take effect August 1 for State employees.

Oswego City 1,000th Unit to Sign Up Under Social Security

ALABANY, Aug. 2—State Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern announced that the State Social Security Agency has received contract papers from the 1,000th public subdivision of the State which has provided Social Security coverage for its employees.

The City of Oswego has the honor of being the 1,000th one. Comptroller McGovern stated that since October 1, 1953, over 350,000 members have been enrolled by 1,000 subdivisions.

False Picture Given

The campaign committee at Kings Park State Hospital has sent letters to all chapters on the disposition of their respective individual contributions to the Social Security Plan. The letters state, "This past year, we raised more, was not raised enough. These include, among others, adequate medical care; security in old age; protection in case of sickness. What will happen to the contributions of the patients who are not yet old enough for Social Security?"

ACTIVITIES OF EMPLOYEES THROUGHOUT NEW YORK STATE

Public Service, Albany

THERE ARE no official meetings of the Albany Public Service class, CSEA, during the summer, but chapter officers have their eyes on the salary question and so do the taxpayers who know well enough to associate those eyes with pay raises that would make nothin' appealing.

The writer, not having been one of the lucky ones able to take in the camp meeting and end of term and due to the holidays, etc., forced to make do with a what a wonderful time was had by all. They even bought a used softball. While the other42nd Olympic games, opened a new chapter in the history of the Olympic games, not only exciting the audience, but on the business side of things.

An open meeting of Letchworth chapters, CSEA, will be held on Saturday, Aug. 5, at Kirkbride Hall at 9 P.M. August 4 in Kirkbride Hall will be held for the purpose of discussing the revised salary schedule and important matters affecting the Association’s board of directors.

President Carriere and Vice President Acrestrum are in friendliness and spirit of the meeting, order more than enough to fulfill the needs of the meetings.

A Significant Victory

A letter more than a decade of energetic campaigning during which many hours looked dark, public employees and pensioners have at last won U.S. income tax exemption of their pensions, at least for the first $1,200. This is a significant victory. It is a credit to President Eisenhower and Congress that the exemption has been voted. All that remains is for the President to sign the tax bill. Since it is one of his six major measures, his signature is forthcoming.

The amendment introduces an element of justice, where injustice was inflicted too often and too long in the lives of the public employees that have been employed by the federal government for many years. The amendment gives an opportunity to these individuals to have the money that they have saved during their working years, without having it taxed like other people's income.

The amendment also corrects a long-standing inequity in the tax laws, which have not been changed for a long time. The amendment will allow the public employees to have the same tax advantages as other people who have saved money during their working years.

While the exemption is general, its application to public employees in local government is systems special. The general minimum age for application of the benefit is 65, for public employee pensioners there is no minimum age, as all of their retirement income is exempt.

Under the new law the maximum benefit is $240 a year. Added to the $600 personal exemption ($1,200 for individuals), the total benefit is $840. This is a significant increase, and it will help many public employees who have retired or who are about to retire.

The amendment also provides for a lump sum payment of $3,000 to retired employees who have been employed for at least 10 years. This is a significant provision, and it will help many public employees who have retired or who are about to retire.

The amendment also provides for a one-time payment of $3,000 to employees who have been employed for at least 20 years. This is a significant provision, and it will help many public employees who have retired or who are about to retire.

The amendment also provides for a one-time payment of $3,000 to employees who have been employed for at least 30 years. This is a significant provision, and it will help many public employees who have retired or who are about to retire.

The amendment also provides for a one-time payment of $3,000 to employees who have been employed for at least 40 years. This is a significant provision, and it will help many public employees who have retired or who are about to retire.

The amendment also provides for a one-time payment of $3,000 to employees who have been employed for at least 50 years. This is a significant provision, and it will help many public employees who have retired or who are about to retire.

The amendment also provides for a one-time payment of $3,000 to employees who have been employed for at least 60 years. This is a significant provision, and it will help many public employees who have retired or who are about to retire.

The amendment also provides for a one-time payment of $3,000 to employees who have been employed for at least 70 years. This is a significant provision, and it will help many public employees who have retired or who are about to retire.

SIDELIGHTS

THE NEW Department of Personnel in NYC has issued a timely and comprehensive progress report on current and future exams. If the department doesn’t watch out, it may become popular with candidates.

THE U. S. GOVERNMENT can deny pensions for this and that reason, and current and future exams. If the department doesn’t watch closely, it may succumb to the temptation of issuing a timely and comprehensive progress report on the exams. (2)

POLLEN SURVEY ON
Private Industry Pay Rates Must Not Be Ignored

A new form being distributed by the State, for use by employees seeking upward salary reallocation under the law passed this year, contains a disturbing warning for those in private industry. Just how far such rates are not to be considered in eliminating inequities in State pay as not a suitable standard of comparison is objectively present. Certainly the State competitors within private industry, as well as with other government jurisdictions, for the best qualified employees. State pay must therefore be competitive also with private industry’s, unless the State is considered to be following a policy of accepting inferior employees.

1. duties and responsibilities of the job and capabilities of the incumbent; 2, the pay in private industry for the same or comparable job. 3. the cost of the State’s ability to pay. There is no reason to depart from this logical and compelling formula.

Binghamton

MRS. FLORENCE A. BREW, secretary of Binghamton chapter, CSEA, and her husband have just celebrated a wedding anniversary in the Delta Queen, a river steamer, on the Ohio River, the Tennessee River and Kentucky Lake, with stop-overs at Louisville, Ky., Evansville, Ind., and Paducah, Ky. Mr. and Mrs. Brew are now touring through Georgia to Charleston, then to Sandy Pond Lake Ontario, for a fishing trip.

“We're having such a fine time, though some of the fine people State would like to know about this cruise,” Mrs. Brew writes. “We're the only people board from New York.”

Dr. Herman B. Snow, 3rd vice president, CSEA, and her husband have just celebrated a wedding anniversary.
