Candidates for Election as 1954-55 Departmental Representatives on the CSEA Board of Directors

Below are biographical sketches and photographs submitted by candidates for election as departmental representatives in the State Division, Civil Service Employees Association. Where there are two candidates for a position, they are listed in alphabetical order. Where photographs or biographical sketches of candidates do not appear, they have not been submitted. Ballots have already been issued to all CSEA members, and voting is now in progress.

Last week’s issue of The Leader carried biographical sketches of candidates for State-wide office.

As a member of the board of directors he was elected to the charter committee and the directors committee for two years, and served on the grievance committee.

He was also instrumental in organizing a chapter in the Department of Agriculture and Markets, and has completed two years as president. He also served as a member of the ways and means committee, a member of the executive council, transportation and entertainment committees, and as chairman of the membership committee. A firm believer in adequate pay and working conditions for all State employees, he would like to see a more effective grievance machinery put into operation.

He has been a delegate three years for the Department of Civil Service chapter and has been very active in the chapter social and business activities.

In 1951, Mr. Hilton was a public administration intern in his department.

During World War II, he was a navigator in the Navy Air Force, and at the present time in a position in the Naval Reserve.

Mr. Hilton, born in NYC, has spent most of his life in Albany and has been a resident of Troy since his marriage to the former Mary Regina Penn. He is the father of three children.

He graduated from Albany High School and this past June graduated from Siena College with a business administration diploma after five and one-half years of night classes.

There is only one voting procedure.

Loyed to the State Department of Commerce in 1940 to work under June H. Todd on a newly organized women’s program, Mrs. Meskil liked it so well that she remained. She is now Albany manager of the Woman’s Program, counselling women on all phases of small business, speaking at clinics across the State and exhibiting exhibits at State and County fairs.

Mrs. Meskil has been representative of Agriculture Department members, for Commerce, and was first president of the Commerce chapter. She was chairman of the Association nominating committee, member of the committee on revision of the civil service law, the building committee and the committee on revision of the constitution. This year she proposed a modified method of CSEA voting procedure.

On the left are photographs submitted by Mrs. Meskil.

Mildred O. Meskil Candidate for Representative Department of Agriculture and Markets

Educated in Albany public and private schools, Mrs. Mildred Meskil received a bachelor of science degree from New York State College for Teachers. Her majors were in chemistry, English and art.

She has been in State service after World War II as a food machine operator, principal clerk, head clerk and junior administrative assistant under the Director of Examinations.

New Tax Laws—Public Employees

Looking Inside

By H. J. Bernard

THE OFFICIAL REGULATIONS of the Internal Revenue Bureau, which make the new tax laws applicable to public employees, have been eagerly awaited by public employees, who stand to gain much under the liberalized U.S. income tax law. It should not be too difficult to anticipate much of what these regulations will contain that is of particular interest to public employees.

Maintenance Freed of Tax

State employees who live and eat in State institutions at the instance of the employer, hence do so to suit his convenience at the expense of the employer, have to pay income tax on meals and lodgings, retroactive to January 1 last.

This is a significant gain for many thousands of employees through refund figure of course will be one total amount.

State Opens New Cancer Facility

ALBANY, Oct. 4 — Vastly expanded facilities for research into the causes and treatment of cancer are being made available by New York State with the opening of a $4,500,000 laboratory building at the Roswell Park Memorial Institute in Buffalo on October 14.

The most important emphasis is being placed on basic research in the fields of radiation, embryology and biology.

Not only basic and fundamental research will be carried on, but also every effort will be made to make the institute a balanced investigatory center. In recruiting staff members, emphasis is being placed on retaining clinicians who are not only proficient in their specialty but also trained investigators.

To qualify, applicants must have five years' experience in engineering drafting, one year of which must be in the specialized field of mechanical experience. Although education may not be substituted for the specialized experience, certain types of education may be substituted for general experience.

S. Promoted to Sanitation Clerk 5

Commissioner Andrew W. Maloney promoted eight NYC Sanitation Department employees to grade 5, at $4,076 a year. Most of the men will be assigned to headquarters, to work on the budget.

The promotions are: James O. Bancone, Sidney Cohen, William A. Grillo, Richard H. Kerbel, Julius Bernstein, James E. Linton, Anthony J. Castelli and William Jones.

ALBANY, Oct. 4 — Comptroller Raymond McGovern said that all except 5 per cent of employees entitled to non-run pay adjustments have received their checks. The date set for issuance of the checks was October 1. The checks cover amounts due for the past six months to employees whose salaries were raised, retroactive to April 1, under the State's new pay plan.

The regular salary checks of October 1 did not reflect the new salary rates. Higher salaries will not show up until the October 15 checks, which will cover the first half of October, the first period for which the new rates will be paid.

The total amount of checks received by 23,000 employees is estimated at $8,000,000, or a little less than $100 average. The total cost of the pay raises could therefore be approximated and the figure arrived at was $7,000,000. The Legislature appropriated $13,000,000, but that was for employees paid from the general fund. Other employees, as in the Insurance and Banking Departments, are paid from other funds.

The possible range of raises was $250, but only a small percentage of employees got more than $250, and many, because their jobs were downgraded, got nothing. Present incumbents of downgraded jobs retain their present pay, unless they win appeals.

There was some employee dissatisfaction with the amounts. Employees knew in advance what their individual raises, if any, would be.

Engineering Draftsman

Needed on Medical Units

Applications for engineering draftsman (mechanical) at $4,200 a year are being accepted by the Armed Services Medical Procurement Agency, 64 Sands Street, Brooklyn. The vacancy is at Fort Totten.

Duties include performing specialized development design by utilizing drafting techniques in connection with medical equipment research development and testing activities of the Development Branch, developed ideal into practical working designs.

To qualify, applicants must have five years' experience in engineering drafting, one year of which must be in the specialized field of mechanical experience. Although education may not be substituted for the specialized experience, certain types of education may be substituted for general experience.

Appeal Seeks Court Order For Refund of Income Tax Paid on State Maintenance

ALBANY, Oct. 4 - A brief filed by the Commissioner of State Employees, Second Circuit, New York, plaintiffs in the present appeal, seeks a court order for the refund of income tax on the value of food and lodging services furnished to employees by the State for the resolution of this term in reference to the employment contract.

Reversal is sought on the ground that the Commissioner of Internal Revenue erred in the decision on the 1954 case and that the present decision is not in accordance with the ruling of the thirty-five-year-old exception contained in the income tax law when he ruled that, from 1949 on, employees working in the State were required to pay tax on the value of food and lodging services furnished to them by the employer's premises for his convenience.

In some instances he had been held liable, but in others he had not.

The question is whether meals furnished to an employee by his employer for his convenience would be subject to income tax, or whether such meals were exempt from income tax under the Commissioner's interpretation of the income tax law.

The so-called contract is what the Commissioner of Internal Revenue describes as a State's description of the value of meals furnished to the employee by his employer.

Salary by the State, in the construction of the employee as an employee, the Commissioner said, is entirely new.

"In other words," the Commissioner told the court, "the value of the nature of the employees' duties, the conditions under which the employee is employed, the form of the occupation, the employee's position, etc., is entirely new.

The appeal of the city's decision is brought to the court under the resolution of this term in reference to the employment contract.

The city's decision is reversed on the ground that the Commissioner of Internal Revenue has the power under the law of the city to determine the form of the occupation and the employee's position, etc., as well as the condition of the employees at the time the value of the meals furnished to them under the employment contract.

The city's decision is reversed and the case is remanded to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for further proceedings consistent with the city's decision.

AGE EQUALIZATION
TAX IN PROPOSED

Editor, The LEADER:

As NYC is looking for new revenue sources, so it can pay its employees better wages and meet other needs, it should consider enacting a wage equalization tax. This would be paid by the employer and diminish as the employee's age increases, ending entirely at some maximum age.

If the employable age limits be assumed to be 18 to 65, the tax could be $7 at age 18, $65 at age 65, and cease thereafter. The life span is constantly increasing, so are labor-saving devices that are beneficial in offsetting decreasing eyehunt and physical abilities. The tax would not make that much difference.

SANITATION GROUP
HONORS 100 DEAD

The 100 heads of community honoring 120 deceased members of the Spiritual Society of the NYC Department of Sanitation who were the victims of an explosion in the Community Center Synagogue in New York City last month is the list of speakers. Among the included Deaconess of the Community Center Synagogue is the Head of the Employees of the City of New York, Helen S. Black.

Matthew, November of Forest Hill was master of ceremonies. Rabbi Zev Ziskind delivered the main speech, and the service was attended by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, Jr., Dr. Louis. K. Littman, David Stern, and Dr. F. H. Hillman, president of the Council of Social Agencies.

Now, as NYC finds recruitment difficult in many fields, and is easing some requirements, it should take extra care that questions asked do not run far afield, nor strike too insidiously at those whom we are trying to lead and inspire.

Those who fail to pass a test, or who fail to attend it, may well find themselves faced with the necessity of retesting to meet the new requirements.

The new Congress is expected to take action on recommendations by the Kaplan committee on improved and streamlined pension benefits in the Federal service. Various reports submitted by the committee are now being reviewed by the Senate, and by candidates for Senate seats to be contested in November. One of the problems in the NYC cafeteria (P.D.) is that candidates who flunked one or more of the last three tests will be competing again in the November written test.

A HIRING POOL forstenographer, grade 2, will be held by NYC at 260 Broadway on Thursday, October 14. There are 193 exits, continuing their employment at the rate of 187 jobs for the job—total 390 and are distributed among 34 departments and agencies, thus showing that NYC really does need stenographers, and must keep hiring without us to fill those empty seats. The test is expected to take place by October 16. The test that is candidates who flunked one or more of the last three tests will be competing again in the November written test.

Legislative Aides

Hand in Mickey

STRANGE are the ways of politicians.

By what incredible legion of illogic have the legislative leaders decided to nullify pay raises to employees of the Legislature and the Judiciary?

The Legislature who mercifully enacted unanimously, legislation providing such pay increases, and appropriating $150,000 for the purpose. The number of employees involved is small, and the percentage of increase of that sum would permit is certainly not munificent.

The leaders have been, in secret meeting, and without any formal announcement, take it upon themselves to cancel the authorization.

The leaders have acted unwisely. They should reconsider at once. They may well find themselves faced with court action on an issue that could become explosive.

And in an election year, too!
Story of a Steam Fireman Who Switched Jobs and Did Pretty Well in the Deal

The tale of a steam fireman in the State institutional service was being heard among State employees this week. It seems that after two years of service, a steam fireman was working six days a week at $9.80 a week, 63½ hours per week. He then was given a raise, and State institutions are not included in this law.

Blinzy Named Asst. Commissioner Of Mental Hygiene

ALBANY, Oct. — Dr. Robert C. Binzley has been appointed Assistant Commissioner of Mental Hygiene at $13,000 a year for two years. He succeeds Dr. Robert C. Hunt, recently named head of the State Mental Hygiene Department’s new Community Mental Health Service. He is the first to hold this rank.

In addition to his duties as Assistant Commissioner, Dr. Binzley will serve as executive director of the Syracuse Psychopathic Hospital. He has been with the department since 1939 when he joined the staff of Pilgrim State Hospital as an assistant physician.

Credit Union Offices to Be Open Longer

The office of the New York State Employes Federal Credit Union in the State Education Department will open at 8:00 A.M. rather than 9:00 A.M. for the first time beginning Monday, October 15.

As present one girl divides her time between the two offices, one at the other State office building, 178 Church St., opening October 18, the hours at the Center Street Building, beginning October 18, the hours at the Center Street Building will be open at 8:00 A.M. and closed at 4:00 P.M. and as such will no longer be at the Center Street Building.

The credit union’s shares have been steadily increasing.

Chapter Presidents Meet, Set Up Ways of Assuring More Effective Operation

HOME, Oct. 4 — The Chapter presidents of the Central Conference met in special session to discuss problems of chapter operation as part of their Fall meeting at the Beeches, Rome, N. Y., on Saturday, September 25. Raymond O. Castle, Conference vice-president and chairmen of the State Education Committee, acted as Chairman and discussion leader.

The session was attended by Conference officers, in cooperation with the State Education Committee, to present a forum for chapter presidents to consider mutual problems: exchange ideas on successful chapter operation, and uncover elements of strength and weakness of chapter operation in relation to members, the Conference and the State Association.

Idea’s Discussed

Among the ideas discussed were chapter operation: methods of keeping chapter members informed about all aspects of chapter and Civil Service functions; the planning of interesting and successful meetings; purposeful committee operation; chapter bulletins; training for Chapter Officers; effective use of the Civil Service LEADER; closer co-operation with the Conference and the State Association.

In opening the session Chairman Castle stated that this first meeting was intended to be exploratory in nature and designed to obtain the reactions of all chapter presidents, so that the main purpose of the operation and functioning could be uncovered with basic facts on which to operate, the Conference and the State Education Committee could then bring their best minds to bear on the need to attract assistance in Club operation and then make practical planning feasible to obtain the desired results. It was clearly evident that all participants from each of the four sections representing three chapters from the Rochester, Syracuse, Utica and Albany areas will meet with the State Education Committee to discuss the broader aspects of leadership. Fifteen chapter presidents from the state Education Committee, plus the state conference presidents will be available to take part in these issues. The session was intended to be and will be of the kind that similar meetings can be arranged for other Committees.

Leadership Development

Chairman Castle said the session set a precedent in the Central Conference and it is hoped that similar meetings can be arranged for other Committees.

Conference President Charles Mote participated in the discussions and congratulated the State Education Committee on its interest in chapter operations, and in particular for taking positive action. Past Conference President Helen Musto also took part in the meeting, indicating methods of chapter committee operation that would be in line with Conference and State Association programs. It is envisaged that the entire meeting observed its enjoyment of the session.

SAVINGS ON APPLIANCES, AIR CONDITIONERS, TOYS, DRUGS, GIFTWARE, NYLONS
ernments, are discussed by the Social Security Act, as affecting employees who are under existing retirement systems.

Social Security is intended to provide protection for them under the program as State employees. The 1954 amendments permit the State to continue the State's old-age and survivors insurance programs, and local government employees may participate in the program. The State will continue to receive the wages of employees under the program as State employees.

WHEN:

1. Generally, the coverage of State and local government employees under old-age and survivors insurance can begin at any time during or after the year in which the State-Federal agreement is signed, or before 1951, if the State-Federal agreement was signed before September 15, 1954. States may opt out when any option to whom coverage is made available. (Next column)

2. Employees engaged in work projects.

3. Patients or interns working in hospital institutions.

4. Transportation work. The later the group vote in favor of old-age and survivors insurance is made available:

   a. The year the group vote is taken
   b. The year the agreement was signed
   c. The group vote was taken

   States may opt out when any option to whom coverage is made available. (Next column)

5. Cost Study to Be Proposed

An amendment to the Federal law liberalizes the coverage of members under the retirement system. The family benefits under Social Security, absent from State-Federal coverage, are attractive to many others. It is expected that many States will be prepared to meet these aggregate State-Federal expenses. The matter of survivors' benefits under Social Security is left to the discretion of the States, which will fit the system to the State's needs.

There is being also another development, in which the Social Security system is included as an employee retirement system after the Social Security amendments of 1956.

Legislative Leaders, Meeting Secretly, Decide to Deny Pay Rise to Employees Of Judiciary; Legislature, Protest Made

We cannot understand how legislative leaders can uproot a salary increase bill that has been authorized by all the members of the Legislature, and the Governor can inform that the Court of Appeals has held that such an exercise of administrative authority by legislative leaders is entirely unconstitutional.

Under the terms of the law this increase was directed to be paid commencing October 1. The employees of the Legislature and the Judiciary have been notified of the increase. However, the Governor should not be further delayed in taking action.

Because of the large amount of space devoted to biographical sketches and photographs of departmental candidates for the CSEA board of directors, a list of newsmen has been omitted from this issue of THE LEADER. They are scheduled for publication next week.

The benefit was all right while It lasted but it did not last long enough, nor was there any sound reason for the sudden cessation. If 2 percent represented interest on his money, there was no good reason in law to benefit to stop at all, since part of his retirement allowance continued to represent interest on his annuity account. A reappraisal of the whole U.S. income tax structure required a better basis of benefit to contributors toward their own allowances. This Congress accomplished by dividing the total annuity account into the number of years of life expectancy following retirement, and allowing that quotient to be deducted during each of the remaining years of one's life. If one lived beyond the life expectancy period, the benefit would be in all instances of retirement allowance large enough

If you are a pensioner of a public employee system, your retirement income is $3,480 a year, and with a life expectancy, say, of 12 years, you would have a $200-a-year benefit for the remainder of your life. Joint and survivorship annuities pose a problem that the regulations no doubt will solve.

The $1,200 exemption is not applied, to the extent permitted, and the life expectancy benefit superseded upon it, provided any amount is left for "un taxing." If the retirement allowance is small, e.g., $1,200, it could equal a year and one-half, the life expectancy benefit could not be applied. However, if the added income reduces the benefits sufficiently below $1,240 to let the life expectancy benefit apply, the dual benefit will be realized, as it would be in all instances of retirement allowance large enough and income added small enough.

Some of Importance

Among the benefits not exclusively applicable to public employees are some of importance.

As the current law, health payments or refunds received under a formal sickness-accident plan were freed from tax. Blue Cross, Blue Shield, Health Insurance Plan, and Civil Service Employees Association's group life and hospitalization non-accident plans, were among those that came under the beneficial rules, and still do.
