State and local government employees who can dream up an "ideal" label for food, clothing, or household equipment are eligible for cash and appliance prizes. The Consumer Council of New York is especially interested in consumer, but the Consumer Council is interested in the opinions of their members. Are they durable? Are they more aesthetic and diplomatic? In their appearance at chapter and conferences, do they get around to other chapter meetings, do they speak the opinions of their members? Are they for equality or just cause, are they aggressive but diplomatic in their approach?

Investigators Form Society To Promote Standards And Ethics of the Profession

Joseph Kaitz, Special Assistant to the State Senate Majority Leader, has been chosen first president of a new organization of Professional Investigators.

Purpose of the Society, which was formed to investigate American Bar Association is to raise the standards of those engaged in the field of professional investigation and the establishment of a rigid code of ethics for the profession.

Mr. Kaitz was formerly chief investigator for the State Crime Commission and is director of investigation, for the Waterfront Commission, and was a deputy commissioner of the ARC Board.

Other offices serving with the experienced investigator through a term ending November 1956, are Arthur A. Charnley, the board's Thomas J. Jones, secretary, and Michael J. Moun, treasurer.

The offense in the state in countaining the high standards and ethics of the men engaged in investigation that the public felt the fight against crime and criminals is in the hands of those who have no interest in upholding the law. The fight to organize the professions in Queens County Court.

The professions will work with similar groups of young officers and wayward minors, helping to lead them to their own rehabilitation.

The professions are accepting applications through Wednesday, to be held Saturday, at the office of 270 Broadway. To accomplish our goal, the Kaitz alliance included the following objectives and aims in our Society's Constitution:

1. To collate and advance knowledge of the science and techniques of professional  investigation.
2. To devise and maintain high standards of ethics for the profession.
3. To promote efficiency of the investigations to the public in the performance of their duties.
4. To preserve the memory of the investigations to the public in the performance of their duties.
5. To encourage, foster and develop relations with the professions of a spirit of mutual understanding of their respective problems, duties and obligations as professional investigators.

Every parole program of vocational guidance, training and placement will be offered in every institution of the Department of Correction, and it will include training seminars for parole and probation personnel throughout the State. The program will be initiated; however, through two intensive training seminars covering Emiria Renterorv, the New York State Vocational Education and Rehabilitation Commission.

The new reemployment rights program for Federal employees was inaugurated on August 8, 1955, the effective date. Important Job-Security Rules for U. S. Employees Effective on August 1. Public employees, including the thousands of Federal employees who have been granted job security, remain as permanent employees during the probationary period. The new program, pointed out, makes special provision for employees entering new positions under the present system during the six months period. Un- der the new system, these employees cannot now use these rights unless affected by a reduc- tion in force, and the Commission does not expect any such reductions to be made. Employees will have these rights back to their old jobs since they have permanent tenure in their new positions. Many are serving at grades higher than the grade of the old job to which they were transferred.

Increased job security will be granted by thousands of Federal workers on a six-month probationary period expiring on August 1. These are the people in jobs to which other employees have had to be transferred because of their new duties. Although they had already applied for transfer and been granted them, they were transferred because of the opening of new positions.

The new regulation sets up a hearing procedure, where the candidate or new job-holder can rebut claims against his character or qualifications. It provides for the Board's consideration of the matter and its decision, and an appeal to the Appeals Board.

The new rule states:

"Many of these former public employees are in need of medical care and at least a fair and just annuity. Now in our present retirement act. Now in our present day economy are there hundreds of thousands of retired federal employees who must know the serious effect the high cost of living has had on the paychecks of their retired workers. Lifetime Careers Open To NYC Men and Women: No Experience Needed

PAYROLL DEDUCTION OF DUES

The payroll deduction plan for collecting the dues of the state members of the Association is fast becoming a fact. It is being planned to begin the deduction during the month of October. The date which will be chosen will be dictated by the necessity of dividing the dues evenly during the State’s payroll period. This will probably work out that during the first year, each member agreeing to cooperate will sign authorization cards for 25 pay periods. However, before the deduction starts, there are several things which must be done.

Employers Must Authorize Deductions

The deductions will not be made unless the members authorize the controller to do so. That means that each and every State member must sign an authorization card which must be transmitted through the chapter to the Association headquarters. The Association will then send all of the cards to the controller.

During the month of August, the Association is going to distribute payroll deduction authorization cards to each chapter president. It is hoped that the president will in turn distribute them to each member. The members will sign the cards and return them to the chapter president, who in turn will send them to the Association headquarters. This method of distribution and collection will call for a complete organization of the membership committee within each chapter to ensure through distribution and collection of the cards to all members and potential members. The staff of the Association will work with the State chapter presidents on this.

An Aid to Efficiency

It is important that all of the signed cards be in Association headquarters by the end of August. There will be a great deal of mechanical work to do before the payroll collection of dues can start. The signing of the authorization cards is voluntary; the member is not required to do it, but he does promptly. No deductions can be made from the payroll without it.

The Federal Government and the controller for granting permission to have the dues deduction authorized. In this manner, it is anticipated that about 300 cards will be sent to the chapter president and 300 card submitters will be made during the month of August.

Government has a penchant for setting up commissions. Let a hurricane come along; 17 juvenile delinquents get out of hand; let a road program bog down and "Bingo" a commission is set up to study, evaluate and plan for this, and the other thing.

As long as Government gets such seeming delight out of forming commissions, we have a suggestion for a commission of really worthwhile purpose—one that would study a means to alleviate the pressure of increased living costs on public employees while waiting for the cumbersome machinery of the State to grant needed pay raises.

At this writing the steel industry is on strike. No one needs to be reminded that any moored steel workers are passed on to the public in the form of increased steel prices. And as steel prices go, so go the prices of everything else.

Here is a situation that can be seen well in advances of its completion. The strike will be settled, increases will be granted and a round of price increases will result.

And still higher prices.

What will happen to the civil servant?

In New York State he was recently granted a $300 pay increase. That $300 hardly brought the wages of many of our civil service employees up to par with those in private industry. Wages were absorbed by higher living costs before it was granted.

Now, further living cost increases are on the way and the public employee is again faced with his old problem: trying to live on a salary that was geared to lower living costs.

We therefore suggest that Governor Harriman appoint a Commission to Anticipate the Definite Salary Needs of Public Employees and Device Means of Keeping Wages on a Current Basis. The public employee will not forever stand the humiliation of being the last consideration of the Government.

In his third oration against Catiline in the Roman Senate, Cicero asked, "To what length will you abuse our credulity?" A critical factor is the length of time that salary increase is delayed.

There have been many articles written on the subject of retirement, and many more questions asked pertaining to it. Exact answers, to state employees, as to amounts of pension received are not readily known until the actual time of retirement is at hand. How do you budget your income against expenses? Can you, and where will the money come from? AN OLD-TIMER HAS A COMPLAINT

Editor, The LEADER: What recourse do civil servants have against political appointees placed in charge of offices merely for belonging to a party—people who spend little time at the office, and who spend the balance of the time playing golf, attending conventions and picnics, etc.

What I mean is this—we must stand perseverance by these political hacks when we take legislation that the people—time we have accumulated and to which we are entitled. I am one case and I know of at least two of our own service employees who have been employed many years and with advancing years probably have more to offer than they did earlier, but who are talked about and discussed and accused of reprehensible acts because they act sick more often than when younger.

Where can we write? What will be accomplished? Do we just have to stand this treatment? ANGRY EMPLOYEE

To assist Mrs. S. in conducting Junior Club Program for New York State. Background preferred and a genuine interest in the girls. All Tours Include Everything But Meals Except New York. Your Tour Includes Transportation and the Career and Salary Plan fails easily, for we are convinced that it is now or never for us, and we feel that this action on the part of the Board is the same as a statement of our promotion rights.

The age-old differential between grades of $655 has now grown to its present position of $1,410. We feel that this action on the part of the Career and Salary Plan fails to take into account the scope and the responsibilities of the duties that we are called upon to perform.

It is now or never for us, and we are all aware of the desperation inherent in our plight. Why should we not alter the condition in the least, but would a heavy stop-gap measure designed to quiet a noisy minority in a crucial election year. We cannot be silenced so easily, for we are convinced that we have justice, logic and fairness on our side.

"I CAN'T AFFORD TO RETIRE!"

By NORMAN D. FORD

If you have a small income, you can't afford to retire. In traveling up and down this country I've found that many retired men may think they can afford to retire. I've found there are many retired men who aren't retired at all.

Do You Prefer the Southwest?

Do you know the best retirement spot in all the Southwest for those who are on a limited income? This doesn't mean a glitzy retirement center because many of these retired men are still working. But it is a location where you can retire for a small amount of money. It is a place where you can enjoy a retirement with all the satisfactions of nature and the community get to together.

Do You Know Where to Find These Best Retirement Values in the U. S. 7?

If You Like an Island

Which is the New England state of the year? That wonderful Maine island which is not only a retirement center because living costs are so low that they attract many other retirees, too. But you can also find in New England, for its 10-inch 10-year winters are clean air and mountains. The climate in the New England state of the year is pleasantest on a small income.

Do You Prefer to Retire from the Music and Theatre?

Which town do people call the most "cultural" small town on the East Coast? In North Carolina with a cosmopolitan retired population, Civil War buffs, and of course, the Grand Opera. The town is Greensboro. This town has the best time of any small town.

How State Returns Expenses Paid Out of Aides’ Pockets

(Continued from Page 1) — The evidence of a traveler’s case against the traveler’s view. The vouchers are then thoroughly audited and canceled before they are picked up in order of state traveler.

“If the voucher has been prepared properly and no essential information is lacking, it is approved by the audit clerk and entered in a record that has been given authority to certify the amount for payment,” Mr. Burgess said.

From this point the voucher is forwarded to the Accounts Receivable Department where it is processed as a simple schedule for processing and checks prepared. The checks are then signed by employees in charge of different departments, or the case of local departments, picked up by departmental head for his examination and signature. Any short cuts

“Each step described is taken for a particular necessary purpose and no short cut is taken. We have no short cut, but constant efforts are made to streamline the payment process through the accounts of the compensating means of elimination—consideration of the immediate need with other needs and the employee’s standpoint.
