Social Security Mandate Sought By Westchester

"The 1957 legislature should mandate that employees of the subdivisions share with the state workers in the full benefits of Social Security supplementation," said Margaret W. Trout, President of the Westchester County Competitive Civil Service Association, at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Association held recently at White Plains, N. Y. The meeting of the Directors was called to discuss the many problems surrounding the joining of the benefits of the Employees Retirement System with those of Social Security.

"Governor Harriman, the State Comptroller, and the Legislature have publicly proclaimed their support of the full benefits of Social Security," continued Mrs. Trout. "We should join them in this because the state, like the federal government, has the fiscal means to cover social security costs. It would be in the best interest of the employees' families too. The state workers have public-trustee status, which means they are the prime beneficiaries of the Social Security Act. This is especially true of the workers who have been on the state payroll for ten or more years. By mandating the employees in New York State should be considered at one and the same time, particularly so they are all members of the same State Retirement System. All public employees in all of the Westchester municipalities are being asked by the Association to write to their legislators before the 1957 Legislature convenes, to their respective Senator and Assemblymen." Mrs. Trout declared.

Multi-million $ Campus Master Plan Is Unveiled

ALBANY, Dec. 24—A "new master plan for the development of an expanded downtown campus" was unveiled at Albany recently.

The new plan provides for some 21 office and service buildings on the 60th tract near the Washington Ave. Traffic interchange and house an estimated 20,000 state workers.

The project, which has been in the works for about ten years, is expected to take about 20 years to complete, but some of the buildings on the site, however, are now under construction and occupancy is slated for next summer by the Civil Service, Conservation and Correction Departments.

Under the new plan, buildings for the Motor Vehicle Bureau, the Tax Department and the Public Works are slated next.

Roadway Under Construction

A new road system, part of an intricate network of service roads which will eventually link up the areas to proposed downtown extensions, is also now under construction.

Governor Harriman has expressed approval of the plan, although he noted that some department heads had shown resistance to the move. Objectives have been made by Alexander A. Fark, who said he was not pleased by the forthcoming development, and Commerce Commissioner Dickson.

Original plans had called for Dickson's department to occupy one of the buildings now under construction, but the proposal was canceled and the space realigned to the Conservation Department.

Plans for the roadway, whose cost, when completed, is expected to exceed $100 million, includes a number of areas of special interest to state workers.

Less Red Tape In Welfare Dept.

Asked by Union

The co-chairmen of an action committee of the New York City Civil Service Department raises the question of reducing the amount of paper work in the field, and urged that a new position be taken by the Board of Education.

"The personnel situation in the Welfare Department," Mr. Diana said, "is a revolving-door operation." The Board makes its recommendations on the facts on which the appeal is based. A person or group entitled to the facts on which the appeal is based may appeal.

WHAT ARE the appeal requirements? The following questions and answers relate to the work of the New York City Classification Appeals Board:

DOES ONE'S JOB have to be Under the Career and Salary Plan in order to be classified? No. It is a matter of opinion.

WHO ARE EXCLUDED? C. E. Employees who are excluded from the Career and Salary Plan, or who do not otherwise qualify, Police, Firemen, sanitation workers, and employees of county agencies for functions not endowed. Employees of cultural institutions, libraries, and the like, as well as the others included under the Plan, may appeal.

ARE ALL HEARINGS public? C. E. No. Hearings in individual appeals are private. They will be recorded, on request. Hearings on a class of positions will be public and stenographically reported. A person or group entitled to a stenographic or other copy can get it, at a fee.

WILL MATTERS relating to salary be heard? F. E. R. All appeals, salary or classification, relate to salary. The Classification Board hears appeals relating to salary as affected by classification. The Classification Board does not appeal for upward reallocation of title, no title changes involved.

WILL MAXIMUM be granted? C. E. In an appeal on a title or group of titles, or in an appeal on a position which is the same for each year of civilian service, the maximum is 10.

Suppose an employee seeks a title not in the existing category? W. W. P. No. It has not recommended a new position.

Suppose the Classification Board gives departments a list of titles it would like to see used? W. W. P. It makes recommendations to the Board of Estimate, the Classification Appeals Board's recommendations go to the Personnel Director and the Civil Service Commission.

The government finds jobs hard to fill. What are the appeal requirements? W. W. P. The appeals will be heard, and the decision will be known within a year. The appeals will be heard, and the decision will be known within a year.
The 35 and 40-Hour Week

During the last Presidential campaign, Vice-President Nixon in a speech said that American workers would soon work on a 38-hour work week. From another source, we learn that a bill will be introduced in the next Congressmen and Senators to consider opening a sanitation examination early next year.

The pay prospects will be brighter. After a year’s service the appointment to get $4,500 instead of $4,250; after two, $4,970 instead of $4,530, and after three, $5,650, instead of $4,940. Thus in three years a man will earn more than $6,500.

Syracuse Annual Looms as Big Event

SYRACUSE, Dec. 24—A record turnout is expected at the 20th anniversary dinner-dance of the Syracuse chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, to be held Saturday, Feb. 2, at the Hotel Commons ballroom, Syracuse.

The announcement was made this week by the president of the Syracuse chapter, Thomas W. Rager, a staff member of the State University of New York College of Forestry at Syracuse University.

Tickets for the 20th anniversary dinner-dance are obtainable by writing to Mayor F. W. Moller, general chairman, Workmen’s Compensation Board, 214 South Warren St., Syracuse, or from Irene Kastenberg, ticket chairman, Department of the Empire, Empire Building, Syracuse.

SPICE

The New York City government decided not to apply for permission to appeal from the order of Supreme Court Justice Owen H. McGovern holding that laborers actually engaged in the construction and maintenance of public works are entitled to the prevailing rates.

A suit was brought by Local 237 of the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations against a wait of up to five months for a Labor Board determination of what that is rate in local private industry, a single rate, a rate determined on the assumption that the stronger rate is one that is rate in local private industry, a single rate, a rate determined on the assumption that the stronger rate.

Three A & C AIDES ON PROMOTION LIST

The expected basis of discussion is to relate to the types of laborer duties that actually come under the heading of public works.

FACTS NOT IN DOUBT

The attorneys for the laborers agreed to a request by the Pavers Council for a postponement of the time granted the City to answer the suit. The dis- positon of that request is to consent to any further postponement, if the City does not come up with an acceptable proposition.

It is expected that agreement will be reached on the type of laborers to be included. Thus all excluded would come under the Carver and Salary Plan, in which the laborers are excluded, by grades, and the laborers little fitted into a grade. The prevailing rate is the rate of 40 cents an hour, determined on the basis of what is the rate to be paid in private industry, a rate that is the rate from time to time, as private industry pay for labor.

While Justice McGovern’s order was based on a proposition stated the law as supporting the petitioners’ contention. He said the facts in this case are as stated in the petition.

There can be no doubt about the facts,” said Morris Weissberg, attorney for Local 237. "The case involves what amounts to an agreed rate of scale."
Politics Is Waning In Civil Service Abroad, UN Director Reports

ALBANY, Dec. 24—The success of the British and French civil service systems through several changes of administrative installation has been cited as an example of the recent advances in public administration abroad.

Frederick J. Tichnor, director of the public administration division of the United Nations Technical Assistance Administration, discussed the program in public administration at a gathering in Albany.

Mr. Tichnor formerly was director of training and education at the British civil service.

In most part of the world, said Mr. Tichnor, the development of civil service administration abroad is of a civil service of well-trained officers, administratively competent but politically neutral, including the very highest appointments.

Old Foul: In United Kingdom

In France this idea has been strengthened, by legislation aimed at maintaining the freedom of the public service from political influence and by the creation of a National School of Administration.

"In the United Kingdom the principle of a service independent of politics has long been maintained and was successfully reasserted when the first Labor Gov-ernment came into power after the war," he said.

"The fear that so great a political change in government would lead to a series of resignations among top civil servants have thus proved to be entirely groundless."

Police and Firemen Seek Time Off

Policemen and firemen have asked Mayor Robert F. Wagner to grant them the same time-off concessions that other city employees are getting for the week of Christmas and New Year's Day.

The men were represented by their respective unions, the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association and the Uniformed Firemen's Association.

Compensatory time-off was suggested by the Mayor, but the men never received it.

Pay of Promoted Goes On While Appeal Is Staged

Supreme Court Justice Samuel Gold modified his order, in the case in which he ruled that promotions made without competitive examination were illegal, to permit the two who had been thus promoted to continue to be paid, and at their present rate.

The promotions were also benefited by the State Education Department because of the City's employees joined in state audits made by the Personnel Department.

The New York City government has decided to appeal the case.

Justice Gold's indulgence on the matter of pay regarding pay holds until a final order is entered. Appeal to the Court of Appeals would be likely, and ordinarily would stay the execution of the original order until the State's highest court renders its decision.

Whether the employees who get the higher pay would have to refund it if the appeal resulted in their former salary has not been officially decided, but officials gave no indication that employees need fear that they will have to make refunds.

The number of State and local government employees who are getting Social Security through some plan of combining benefits with those of their public employee retirement systems is steadily increasing. The number now exceeds 2,500,000 and is bound to rise sharply next year.

Several states no doubt will affirm their employees' duality of benefits, New York included. What the effective vote is in favor of coverage will be required to accept Social Security even if the general vote is not. Vigor, about the advisability of combining benefits, may concentrate on the method of tie-in they prefer.

The Department of Justice has condemned public employee retirement systems. The pension aspect of Social Security is not one which the Federal Government and consist almost exclusively of life insurance, perhaps half a year's salary; in the New York City government, a full year's pay.

The debate that still goes on, though with diminished vigor, about the advisability of combining benefits, New York included, what the effective dates will be, and to what extent retroactive Social Security benefits will be afforded, will not be known until state legislation is enacted. In New York, as elsewhere, the employees will vote on acceptance or rejection, but in New York, New Orleans, and Hawaii, no employees will be required to accept Social Security even if the government in favor of coverage is in favor of it for itself.

Demand for Social Security coverage springs mainly from appreciation of the benefits to survivors. Such benefits are underwritten by public employee retirement systems and consist almost exclusively of life insurance, perhaps half a year's salary; in the New York City government, a full year's pay.

Low Police Pay Harmful to City, Carton Declares

President John K. Carton of the Patrolman's Benevolent Association amplified his argument in favor of a substantial pay increase for patrolmen.

He said that there are not enough eligibles on the existing patrolman eligible list to fill the 700 vacancies. The present list is less than a year old, he added, and the forthcoming group of appointments will exhaust it. A new list to be established, would be used next, but the number of eligibles on it may not be able to satisfy future needs of the service because of retirements, deaths and resignations, he declared.

"The City must face the fact that it is in competition with private industry and with other government units," Mr. Carton said.

Most Provide Incentive

"There is little incentive for the above-average youth men to accept lower pay in the police department instead of higher pay in private industry and government, in which the requirements are not nearly as high as in the character, physical and intellectual tests of the patrolman's examination."

Patrolman entrance salary is now $4,000 a year, plus $200 for overtime. Mr. Carton said the pay must be raised adequately, and without delay.

REQUESTS FOR ADDITIONAL

The annual Health Department Christmas Party was held on December 19 at the new Health Department Building on the corner of Main and Elm. This party, which has proved so successful since its inception, brought out a large group of employees in recognition of their most valuable asset—its work force.

We find that his related duties may also include driving truck-patrol, moving sand, caring for winter buses, farming, an ice removal crew. He would expect an insulating ground "trouble shooter" to handle.

Desirable qualifications the state would like of groundsmen applicants are:

1. he have experience in the care of lawns, shrubs, and flower beds.
2. he be able to secure cooperation of working patients.
3. be in good physical condition.

We feel that this is an imposing fact. We should modernize our personnel program In recognition of its most valuable asset.
