LEFKOWITZ BACKS EMPLOYEES’ PROTEST AGAINST PAY PENALTY WHEEL WORK WEEK WAS REDUCED

Tax Dept. Employees Show Real Team Spirit in Helping Downed Co-Worker

ALBANY, July 15—There’s real “team spirit” among state employees. For proof, just ask Joseph Rotondaro, a clerk in the State Department of Taxation and Finance.

Tough luck is Mr. Rotondaro’s middle name. On May 24th, he broke his leg in 16 places while playing shortstop on the Tax Department team in an official state softball league game.

When the accident happened, he had only been working for the state a few weeks and had no vacation or sick leave on which to draw. The result was he lost nearly five week’s salary.

Then, although he was playing ball in the official state department game, the league has no accident protection policy. And he reports:

“I was told I wasn’t eligible for workers’ compensation benefits since I had been working less than a year and a half. In my opinion this will cover only about $200 of my expenses.”

Lefkowitz Backs Employees’ Proposal to Alleviate Parking Situation

ALBANY, July 15—John F. Powers, President of the Civil Service Employees Association, Inc., stated today that the Civil Service Employees Association was gratified that the state’s new health and hospitalization program for state employees, most of whom work in institutions, against reduction in pay resulting from reduction in hours.

Mr. Leffowitz constructed two laws passed by the state legislature, one last year, the other this year.

Under the 1956 law salary adjustment payments were paid to state employees whose hours were reduced from 44 to 40 hours; or from 48 to 44 hours. Payment of these adjustments has been continued during the present 1957-58 fiscal year where the affected employees have continued to work either 40 or 44 hours.

Civil Service Employees Association Disputed this Unfavorable Interpretation

The Civil Service Employees Association disputed this unfavorable interpretation.

Mr. Lefkowitz ruled that pay-rises of the adjustments computed last year should be continued during the 1957-58 fiscal year in both types of cases, and that where working hours were reduced from 44 to 42 this year a further adjustment also should be computed and paid.

The Attorney General stated that the result which he reached accorded free and equable treatment as between an employee whose working hours were reduced last year from 40 to 44, and this year from 44 to 42, and employees whose working hours were reduced last year from 44 to 46.

Legislative Intent

He added that his conclusion with respect to computed pay adjustment this year is based on the legislative intent as expressed by two of the legislative leaders, Senator Austin W. Drewin (R., General) and Assemblyman William H. MacKenzie, R., Brantingham, on March 15, 1957, that with the cut of the work-week from 44 to 42 there would be no loss of take home pay, Mr. Edwin was State Comptroller, CSEA, Committee and Mr. MacKenzie chaired the Ways and Means Committee.

LEFKOWITZ OPINION WELCOMED BY ASSN.

John F. Powers, president of the Civil Service Employees Association, stated that the Association welcomed the clarification by Attorney General Lefkowitz.

“Too much confusion attended the early interpretation of the law which made it confusing to what extent that session which reduced the work hours of institutional employees from 48 to 44 that an official interpretation of its effect is welcome,” said Mr. Powers. "Some confusion developed as far as workers are concerned and we feel need for the interpretation of the law which the administrative authorities made with it was made more than conclusive if not a tolerable situation. The opinion of the Attorney General guarantees that the adjustment made in 1956, when the work hours were reduced from 44 to 48, will be added to the adjustment due for the employees by the State for the 1957 work hour reduction from 44 to 42 per week. We estimate that it will be several thousand of the institutional employees directly affected by the opinion of the Attorney General.”

LEWIS COUNTY HAS INSTALLATION

The installation dinner of the officers and board of directors of the Lewis County CSEA, was held recently at the Carlowden Country Club, Denmark. Goold Lamson, Social Security representative, was guest speaker.

Robert J. Lachner acted as toastmaster and installed the new officers: Lewis Weaver, president; Peter Ulrich, vice-president; William T. Beck, recording secretary; and Peter Ulrich, treasurer.

Peeter Ulrich, County Clerk, conducted his 35th birthday in April. He was given a surprise party by the Lewis County CSEA.

The Board of Supervisors unanimously voted for Social Security retroactively to cover all counties.

State Parking Committee May Be Named to Solve Albany Auto Situation

ALBANY, July 15 — State officials are studying suggestions offered by state employees on ways to alleviate tight parking conditions around state buildings in this Capitol City.

Reading the list of proposals, now under consideration by Budget and Public Works officials, is creation of a state parking committee to be appointed by Governor Harriman.

A memorandum on the situation will be submitted to the Governor. It may also include proposals to build multi-tier parking facilities near the Capitol and the use of chartered buses to ferry workers from parking lots on the outskirts of the city to their place of work.

The suggestion the Governor appoint a committee to study the parking situation was made at a recent meeting between a delegation of state employees and Budget and Public Works officials.

Aides At Meeting

At the meeting were Carl W. Larson, state architect; John Tieler, chief of engineering units in the Budget Division and Howard Miller, deputy budget director.

Representing state workers were Joseph McCann, Public Works, Russell Taylor, of the Civil Service Employees Association; Eugene Halsey, Jr., State Association of Highway Engineers; Robert H. Peterson and Leon Smith, both of Public Works Department.

If a state parking committee is established, it was urged that the "initial emphasis" be on the acute parking situation in Albany, but that the committee eventually be expanded to cooperate with other cities on a statewide basis.

DONELLY HOSPITALIZED

A Joseph Donnelly, Field Representative for The Civil Service Employees Association, is in the Veterans Hospital in Albany. He entered the hospital on June 26 and has been underging a series of diagnostic tests for a digestive ailment.

SPEED EXCEPTIONS

ALBANY, July 15 — Two new amendments to the State Vehicle and Traffic Law, effective July 1, give "the blue light" to fire-fighting services in New York and exempt fire officials from speed limits — under certain conditions.

Questions answered on civil service by Supervisor: E. C. Smith, Syracuse.
Pensioners May Return To Work Qualify For Social Security Coverage

Present Employees, Even if Over Age 70, May Stay, Says Lefkovitz

ALBANY, July 15—The provision of a law passed by the special session of the Legislature, suspending compulsory retirement of employees at age 65 or more, so employees who are 50 to 70 may continue in service beyond that age, by obtaining an extension of service by a special act of the New York State Pension Commission. For New York City employees it would be the Board of Estimate.

3. Pensioners who remain such may fill temporary, seasonal, or occasional employment until age 70, if pay does not exceed $1,000 a year, no time limit prescribed.

THERE IS NO EXCEPTION TO THE rule that mandatory retirements are to be effective on August 31, which coincides with the end of the school year. The ob- jection of age 70- years of age or more. I understand of the suspensions is that after July 1, when the minimum salary in the New York State Employees' Retirement System, is attained, with June 30, 1958, the outside date for such suspensions.

First of all, you'd want to redact the gas and electric meters. They're Con Edison employees who are calling for an end of meter reading by their uniforms, flashlights and the worried expressions they wear.
Correction Group Holds Annual Conference with McHugh; Powers and Lochner at Session

The State Correction Conference, representing employees of all state correctional institutions, met in Albany on June 24-25 to discuss various employee problems at State Correction Commissioner Thomas J. McHugh and his staff.

The meeting opened with a luncheon attended by Commissioner McHugh; his executive assistant, William Flanigan; John W. Powers, president of the Civil Service Employees Association, and Joseph Lochner, CSEA Executive Director.

Delegates from every institution were present, and the luncheon was presided over by President Albert Foster of Dannemora State Hospital.

Other Conference officers are: Peter Walsh of Wallkill Prison, vice president; and Cornell Bush of Greenhaven Prison, secretary. Employee problems were discussed at the luncheon meeting, and Commissioner McHugh assured the delegates of his Department's full cooperation in working towards a solution of the various problems.

Following the luncheon meeting, the delegates met with Mr. Lochner and with P. Henry Galpin, Salary Research Analyst of CSEA.

Joint Appeal Planned

The Correction Conference and CSEA will jointly assist in preparation of a salary appeal for Grade 14 for State Correction officers. The appeal will include Criminal Hospital Attendants and Matrons. The title of Prison Guard was changed to Correction Officer just recently. The type of relief officers are found in New York State prisons at present requires a higher qualified and higher quality of Correction Officers, and the delegates felt that an appeal for higher salary must be warranted. A high percentage of the Correction Officers have been forced to seek additional outside employment.

Until the end.

Gov. Harriman Urges State Employees in NYC to Register Now

ALBANY, July 15 — Governor Averell Harriman urged all State employees in New York City to get their names on the permanent personal registration rolls during the central registration period, which opened May 1 and runs through August 28.

In a letter to Alexander A. Park, President of the State Civil Service Commission, the Governor stated: "In order to make the transition from the annual registration system to the permanent system as smooth as possible, I urge every State employee residing in New York City to register during the central registration period, instead of waiting for the local registration period in the fall. This will simplify and expedite the huge task facing the Board of Elections, and will equally prove convenient to those who take advantage of this opportunity.

May I ask that you arrange for the personal offices of all State agencies with offices in New York City to make available information on central registration to all eligible employees.

The system of permanent personal registration is being established in New York City for the first time this year. PPR will now away with an extra trip to the polling place during the regular registration, and prevents loss of votes by over looking set registration dates.

New York City residents may register for PPR at borough offices of the Board of Elections on Mondays through Fridays from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. and on Saturdays from 9 A.M. to noon. Branch offices are open from Monday through Friday from 9 A.M. to 10 P.M.

Those who do not register during the central registration period will have to do so at their regular poll days during a limited period in the fall.

Avoiding a Boomerang

THE SLOWNESS with which government acts, to meet the current salary demands put upon it in a competitive market, has been a damaging shortcoming. The result of not offering high enough pay is that not enough candidates for government examinations can be obtained, and the quality of the candidates is low, or both factors may act, so no more bargains in workers than can in steel, coal and iron. But at least it is slowly learning that fact.

The Federal government authorizes the U.S. Civil Service Commission to raise salaries directly, to meet the needs of the agencies involved and with the consent of Congress. Thus the U.S. is able to act, and does act, more quickly than do State and local governments. Naturally, there must be some means for any level of government to cope with such a difficulty, but the least time wasted, the better.

A heating Example

New York City has decided to offer to candidates the minimum of a grade one step higher, or a higher increment step of present grade in other cases, along the same lines on which the Federal and State governments operate. Most recently Personnel Director Joseph Schechter has recommended the first increment step for positions with the Youth Board. That Board performs important functions, one of which is the prevention and cure of juvenile delinquency. It would be shocking to find that any government would fail to staff its operating agency properly, and thus contribute toward the spread or perpetuation of juvenile delinquency. It is always a case of public interest and when public servants are not of the highest calibre and when an agency is understaffed.

Youth Board jobs, from program review assistant up to assistant director, are to have higher starting pay, ranging from $4,790 for the lowest to $7,400 for the highest, and when an agency is understaffed.

More Speed, Better Service

New York has, but just won, a key legal victory. The Administrative Law Judge, who earlier had ruled against the Civil Service Employees Association, issued a decision. The petitioners, seasonal barge operators, sought to be allowed to re-designate a salaried surface line operator. On April 21st, Judge McDowell held that the Civil Service Employees Association had no right to file a petition. The court cannot usurp this function.

The court held that the police commissioner did not act arbitrarily in dismissing the report of the Police Department. The case is limited in the exercise of its discretion.

The appeal lies to the Board of Education. The Board meets usually every two weeks, so no serious delay need result, but the recommendations for coping with exigencies of a hiring problem could have been carried out faster, if the public servants of New York City.

A suggestion is that those who have the recommendatory powers to be even more alert.

Question, Please

ADVISE when to send in the application fee. Should it be when one seeks for the application, or when it returns, if it is not filled out?

When sending in the filled-out application, send it by priority mail. The minimum amount for government employees is $500 for applications for a sustained superior performance rating, a $1,000 for applications for a sustained superior performance rating. A sustained superior performance rating is determined in the exercise of its discretion. The determination is final. The appeal lies to the Board of Education. The Board meets usually every two weeks, so no serious delay need result, but the recommendations for coping with exigencies of a hiring problem could have been carried out faster.

to notify the Social Security Administration immediately. This rule applies even if you have not worked since you filed your application.

MY FATHER is receiving old-age insurance benefits based on his employment under Social Security. He also receives old-age assistance from the Department of Welfare. These Welfare payments began before the Social Security benefits, but were reduced by the amount of the Social Security payments. Why was this done? Aren't the Social Security payments made without restrictions based on other payments? P.L.E.

Old-age insurance benefits are payable regardless of the amount of any other payments you may receive, since they are based on rights established through work. Welfare payments are based on your need for funds, and therefore must be reduced by the amount of other income you receive. If the Social Security payments had been larger than the Welfare payments, the Welfare benefits would have stopped. But your father's total payments would have been larger.

PLEASE distinguish between pensioners of a retirement system of State or local government who seek retroactive Social Security coverage for a period they did not work for the government, and those who return under to work, to obtain coverage, under the law passed by the special session of the State Legislature.

Those who are now retired can not get retroactive coverage unless they return to work for the government that retired them.

'How-To' Book Tells Employees Of State’s Work

ALBANY, July 15.—"Getting Along Together" is the title of a new, 44-page employee handbook, just published for new and present employees of the State Department of Civil Service.

The booklet tells state workers the things he or she should know about state work. Included are sections on promotions, titles and salary changes, leaves, working hours, vacation and holidays and training.

Among suggestions contained in the pamphlet are these:

"You are a taxpayer and naturally you, like any other citizen, want your money spent wisely. All employees of the State have an obligation to be careful of State property, and extra care is needed to avoid waste."

"Thinking logically, just one person can start a chain reaction that hurts civil service employees everywhere. Think before you speak. Be friendly, courteous, helpful. Treat everyone the way you like to be treated yourself."

Regarding political activity, the booklet points out the Civil Service Law declares no one can require a state employee "to contribute to any political fund or to render any political service."

COMP'TOILER CASHES IN

Robert A. Lieberman, deputy post comptroller of Fort Jay, was awarded $200 for sustained superiority in performance. He received the award at Governors Island.

Recruitment Also Gets Its Annual Leave

The July series of New York City examinations includes five open-competitive tests for which filing closes on July 26. In addition there are nine openUntil further notice, and five promotional tests for which applications are being accepted.

Next month, as is usual for August, there will be no monthly application period. Experience shows the inadvisability of having an August application period. Many persons are on vacation most of them out of the City, and might not even learn about the tests. If they did hear about them, even the temptation of a City job would not be enough to compete with their vacation employment.

In contrast, the September period will afford applicants the opportunity to apply for 39 positions of which 22 will be open-competitive.

NYU Group Will Study Effect Of Institutionalization on Certain Retarded Persons

ALBANY, July 15 — A grant of $120,000 to New York University for a two-year study of the factors determining the institutionalization of retarded persons was announced by Raymond W. Hous- ton, Chairman of the New York State Interdepartmental Mental Retardation Resources Board, and Dean Will- iam J. Rosan of the Graduate School of Public Administration and Social Service.

The study, which begins this month, will be conducted by Dr. Gerhart Saenger, director of the School's Research Center and a member of the University's psy- chology department. The goal is to find out whether institutionalization constitutes the best possible solution for different groups of retarded persons and how often it is actually being used.

"Because of the large number of retarded persons in New York state," Dr. Saenger explained, "the state is vitally interested in the quality and quantity of the psycho- logical, social and professional services and whether more effective use of services would tend to keep more of the retarded in the community under conditions advantageous to the retarded, his family, and the community.

Queries Commitment Methods

"We do not at present know," he continued, "to what extent the decision to send a retarded person to an institution is determined by the wishes of the family, the degree of mental retardation, additional physical and psychological handicaps, and the familial situation of the family. Little is known about the relationship between the use of existing diag- nostic and treatment facilities and the final disposition of the retarded.

To obtain data it is hoped that lead will result in improvement in service for the retarded, a staff of occupational social workers assigned to the Research Center of the Graduate School of Public Administration and Social Service will make an exhaustive in- vestigation of records in institutions, public and private social agencies, offices, and schools and general clinics.

A major part of the study will consist of interviews with some 1,000 parents of retarded persons between the ages of one and twenty- five to get their reactions toward services they have received.

Professor Saenger will be assisted in this study by experts from various fields: psychologists, psychiatrists, pediatricians, and social workers. He expects to work closely with the major state agencies, hospitals, and schools of New York City that are concerned with this problem. He is confident that both groups have already indicated their interest and desire to cooperate in this project.

Report on CSEA Group Life Plan

When the Civil Service Em- ployees Association Group Life Plan became effective, June 29, it was as a previous article stated, "considered a great issue that the civil service employees could arrange through any other means." The monthly contribu- tion for one million dollar Group Life Insurance with all members contributing per $100 of life insurance in reduced amounts. was as a previous article stated, "considered a great issue that the civil service employees could arrange through any other means." The monthly contribu- tion for one million dollar Group Life Insurance with all members contributing per $100 of life insurance for the year 1957-1958: $20.00 for each $100 of life insurance in reduced amounts. was as a previous article stated, "considered a great issue that the civil service employees could arrange through any other means." The monthly contribu- tion for one million dollar Group Life Insurance with all members contributing per $100 of life insurance for the year 1957-1958: $20.00 for each $100 of life insurance in reduced amounts.

Through favorable experiences — claims paid under the policy being less than the amount anticipated — there has been a resulting reduction in the contribution required of members, first in 1955 and then again in 1956. For each one-dollar higher contributions were required — those 85 hot less than 90 years of age, for example, paying $1.00 per month per thousand.
