Congress Approves Police and Fireman's Social Security Bill; President's Signature Needed

MR. DARROW GETS THE GAVEL

Case of Mrs. Holating Will Be Appealed

ALBANY, Aug. 26 — The Civil Service Employees Association announced last week that it would carry the case of Mrs. Max Holating and others to the Court of Appeals. A favorable ruling in the Supreme Court was reversed by the Appellate Division recently.

Mrs. Holating and other persons were downgraded retroactively and the Association is contending the downgrading was arbitrary and unconstitutional.

John Kelly, Jr., Association counsel, announced that an appeal had now been filed. A favorable ruling in the State's highest court would effect hundreds of State employees.

The case of Mrs. Holating in particular was brought as a test case by the Association.

All candidates for office in the Statewide CSEA election must submit biographies and pictures to The Leader, 97 DuBois St., New York 7, N. Y., on or after Sept. 5. Many candidates have failed to send this needed information to date.

Shutdown of New York City Office to Affect 54 Aides; Albany Positions Promised

ALBANY, Aug. 26 — When the State Division of Military and Naval Affairs closes the doors of its New York City offices, employees will be given "every opportunity" to transfer to Albany.

The pledge was made by Maj. Gen. R. C. Brock, chief of staff to Governor Harriman and commanding general of the New York National Guard.

Relocation Effort Assured

General Brock said 54 employees in New York City were affected by the division's plan to centralize its operations in Albany about Oct. 1st. Those employees, he added, who do not desire to transfer to Albany "will be given every consideration in obtaining employment in state offices in New York City."

The division, which now occupies the second floor at 112 State St., Albany, will take additional space in the building to accommodate its New York City staff.

The move is being made, the General said, "in the interest of greater economy and efficiency."

It added: "The relocation of these offices is desirable from a military standpoint, since Albany is the seat of state government and the central location will provide for better command and control of the state's military forces under control of which the Governor is commander-in-chief."

CSEA Membership Nears 75,000

Membership in the Civil Service Employees Association has reached the highest peak in the group's history, it was announced.

Cleveland Rosenkrantz, reporting for Vin Perra, chairman of the CSEA Statewide Membership Committee, declared the roll of the Association now carried 74,783 persons.

The previous high, established last March, was approximately 60,000 members.

Congress Approves Police and Fireman's Social Security Bill; President's Signature Needed

Telegram Sent To Eisenhower Asking Swift Action

ALBANY, Aug. 26—Both Houses of Congress have approved a bill which will allow police and firemen of New York State to come under Social Security with retroactive coverage.

The move has been sent to President Eisenhower and an appeal press fire was awaiting his signature.

In the meantime, John F. Power, president of the Civil Service Employees Association, has sent the following telegram to the President:

A benefit of the 75,000 public employee members of this Association, including State troopers, policemen and firemen, we respectfully urge your prompt approval of H. R. 1733 which would permit extension of Social Security benefits to policemen and firemen in the State of New York. All interested employee groups in this State are in favor of this legislation and the existing State law covers the day when Federal law will permit coverage under Social Security to policemen and firemen of this State."

The Bill

The Bill, as passed by the House of Representatives, originally provided for extension of Social Security to public employees who were employed by instrumentalities of two or more states. Since, having received Presidential approval it reached the Senate by adding it is a provision for extension of coverage to policemen and firemen of New York, Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia. The bill was reported favorably by the Senate Finance Committee and was passed on August 20th by the Senate. It now head to the President's signature to become law.

Firemen and policemen in the State of New York are in favor of the Social Security provisions outlined for other public employees by the State at this time.

The State law made a provision at that time that fire and police could be covered should the Federal government change the law permitting them to do so.

Therefore, when the Federal bill becomes law, all police and firemen will be able to purchase Social Security on the retroactive basis approved by their local community. In most cases this will be six or seven retroactive quarters, thus giving a Civil Service employees full coverage as other employees.

Association Activity

The Civil Service Employees Association played a leading role in securing this vital employee benefit for the two groups.

Mr. Powers, CSEA president, had been urging coverage for firemen and policemen on a similar basis of two or more states benefit for the two groups.

Together with John Kelly, Jr., Association counsel, Mr. Powers spoke before both the fire and police aides to emphasize the importance of how beneficial an addition Social Security would be to their present retirement set-up. At the end of the successful Congressional action on the bill, Mr. Powers expressed the pleasure of the Association in seeing the co-operation of three major employee groups bear fruit.

After presidential action on the bill, The Leader will carry further stories explaining what further steps are necessary now for police and firemen to avail themselves of Social Security coverage.
Welfare Jobs Offered To College Graduates By Local Governments

ALBANY, Aug. 26—City and county Welfare Departments throughout the State will appoint 1,207 workers as a result of an examination to be held by the State Department of Civil Service, 19 Application will be made by Friday, September 23. The positions are posted in order to fill the need for public resistance, care and services of families and individuals who are not able to support themselves.

Candidates must be field workers and must have a bachelor's degree or its equivalent experience with a public or private social agency or in teaching. At least one year experience may not be substituted for college graduation.

Candidates must also have a New York State driver's license at the time of appointment.

To apply for the position, contact the Civil Service offices.

Sanitation Test To Be Given In High Schools

The New York City Department of Personnel has received approval of the use of two schools in the City for the Sanitation test on October 19.

The test, which is qualifying, is designed to determine the candidate's general intelligence, common sense, judgment and ability to follow an idea. It is to be given to all candidates who have reached their 18th birthday, ten years of the time of filing an application less than three (3) years of age, and have not completed a course of study registered or in a school and ten (10) years of the required experience. The Department seeks the use of the test for sanitation examiners.

The eligible list may also be used by other jurisdictions, except New York City.

Opinion by Lefkowitz

State Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz yesterday rendered an opinion holding that, while Retirement and Social Security Law, Section 112, does not operate to reduce the number of provisionals, an electronic accounting machine tabulates the provisionals, and the Commission is amending examinations in the represented titles. All provisionals will be automatically admitted to the examinations.

Pennsylvania Fingerprints All Employees

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 26—All State employees will be fingerprints, not only those already fingerprinted, but all 10 fingers. All competitors in examinations, will have to register the prints of each thumb on their papers, instead of the former single index fingerprint print. These changes were ordered by the State Civil Service Commission.

State police will cooperate, and maintain a complete fingerprint file of all State employees, and will notify the Commission of all arrests and convictions of State employees.

Reasoning

"The new system," said Richard A. Rosenberry, director of the Commission's admission service, "will insure more positive identification, and eliminate the need for investigating all the eligible lists. Only a percentage of candidates will be selected, so it is better to investigate the applicants."

The Commission has also taken steps to reduce the number of provisionals. An electronic accounting machine tabulates the provisionals, and the Commission is amending examinations in the represented titles. All provisionals will be automatically admitted to the examinations.

Inflation and Pensions

"Living Costs Soar Eleventh Month in Row!"

"Prices in July Set Record!"

The average pensioner in the New York State Retirement System receives about $1,150 a year. Due to special laws, governed by certain conditions of age and service, the Legislature has supplemented the pension allowance so that the low pensioned retiree can now receive up to $1,300 a year.

Some Hard Thinking Needed

The question of what is happening to the pensioner in our 20th century inflation is a serious one. It is widespread, effecting all segments of the population, not only the public worker. It demands that some hard thinking be done in regard to our pension systems. If we are going to live in an age of continual inflation, with an ever-shrinking dollar, certainly some way ought to be found to protect a person's investment in his retirement future.

About a year ago we suggested in this column that perhaps the principle of the variable annuity could be applied to the New York State Retirement System. Recently we noted that Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, stated he was going to negotiate this principle into the automobile labor contracts. While we do not know the answer, we do know there is a problem. We are hearing about it on all sides from public workers.

HIP Prepares to Give Influenza Shots

The Health Insurance Plan of Greater New York has ordered sufficient Asiatic influenza vaccine in anticipation of a second wave, according to Dr. George Baehr, president and medical director of HIP announced.

Baehr said that the vaccine would be administered by the doctors at HIP's 32 affiliated medical groups in accordance with priorities established by local and state public health authorities. Thousands of job opportunities in civil service exist for women. The Federal, state and municipal governments are actively seeking qualified women for positions ranging from clerks and typists through professional grades calling for advanced academic degrees.

Personnel directors of governmental agencies have often expressed surprise that more women do not apply for jobs for which they are fully qualified, and to which they could be rapidly appointed. These personnel directors have felt that there is an erroneous impression by many women that it is difficult for them to be hired because agencies prefer men. This impression may be attributed to the fact that some announcements for jobs specify that they are open to men only. But the vast majority of jobs are open to both men and women.

The Federal government has vacancies for actuaries, actuaries, cartographers, chemists, draftsmen, illustrators, mathematicians, meteorologists, medical officers, nurses, physicians, publicity writers, statisticians, stenographers, and many other occupational categories.

New York State has openings for clerical workers, pharmacists, social case workers, nurses, casual machine operators and food service advisors, to name a few.

On the September list for filing in New York City, women are eligible to apply for many openings among which are alphabet key punch operators, tabulator operators, numeric key punch operators, dental hygienist, illustrator, home economist, and public health nurse.

For applications for any of these jobs see, "Where to Apply," on page seven.

A Bid for Police Careers

The examination for patrolman (P.D.) that opens on September 3, with no applications for other examinations in the September series being received on that particular day, has caused some policemen to look forward to the end of the application period, September 24, for a firm indication, the number of applications received on the first day will serve as an informative straw.

The work is hard, demanding, and sometimes exhausting, but the rewards of satisfaction are there for those who have the stamina and the fortitude. A strain it is, but what undertaking of a life work is not?

Why Interest Is Increasing

The increased interest in starting a career in the Police Department arises largely from the stress being put on juvenile delinquency. Also, social problems are closely associated with much police work, as in dealing with juvenile delinquency.

Aving a hand in tackling the really important problem of policing a great city is stimulating in itself. Knowing that promotion opportunities are good is another incentive. A policeman may rise to sergeant, then to lieutenant, then to captain, through passing competitive promotion examinations. Any young policeman, however, would have to be assigned, a captain being named deputy commander, inspector, or even chief inspector.

The work is hard, demanding, and sometimes exhausting, but the rewards of satisfaction are there for those who have the stamina and the fortitude. A strain it is, but what undertaking of a life work is not?

CIVIL SERVICE LEADER
Retroactive Benefit Is Considerable
Under Social Security

Under the Federal Social Security Act, an individual having a career with retroactivity, after 1935 in work covered under Social Security is fully insured for retirement and survivors' benefits. With New York City's retroactivity going back to the first quarter of 1940, survivors are immediately insured for all benefits. In addition, this retroactivity prevents the necessity of retirement under Social Security check or my retroactive pay check? Maintenance Man.

The following table gives the number of months of coverage which is required for recovery under the Federal Social Security Act. The survivor benefit may be prodigious, compared to the survivorship benefits of the state and various State Civil Service offices. It shows how deeply public employees appreciate the value of Social Security.

The official referendum that follows an individual's personal preference expressed in the declarations signed by employees of course will be overwhelmingly affirmative. The situation among State employees and other local government employees in the State will be enthusiastically the same.

Fills an Important Gap
Social Security provides benefits lacking or insufficient, in the public employee retirement systems. These are principally the survivorship benefits under which widows and children, and in the absence of minor children, are dependent parents receive monthly allowance. The money thus received is exempt from Federal and State income taxes; the Social Security income tax is not paid. In addition, Social Security and the survival benefits, including provisions from a public employees' retirement system, are also exempt from State Income tax but Social Security tax is subject to Federal income tax.

The survivorship benefits may be prodigious, compared to the amount the member contributes to Social Security; so may the member's own Social Security retirement benefit. If he is at least 65 for men (62 for women), he would receive monthly allowance. The father, if retired, would receive $105.50 a month; the widow $1.00 and each child $73.25 plus an increase based on $72.20 a month. If there is only one minor child, that one gets the $73.50 plus $27.20, and $51.75. If there be more than one minor child, the increment is divided among them. There is, however, a maximum of $200 a month or 80 percent of the covered workers' average monthly wage, whichever is less.

The beneficiary is entitled to a refund of the Social Security tax that he has paid. It is a legal right that one was privileged to buy, and, depending on age, or after death at any age the money the member contributes to Social Security; so may the member's own Social Security retirement benefit. Questions Answered
On Social Security

In the public employee retirement allowance, the cumulative effect is zero counts. Talking in terms of security, in relation to $500 per month pension, is nowhere. Only as a survival benefit does it mean something. However, Social Security benefits are intended to exclude private pension plans in industry, or public employee pension plans, but to be their complement. In industry, approved pension plans are allowed with Social Security, affording limited tax exemption to the employer.

The directive that Social Security liberalization is taking is not to the point. The minimum age is 65. Social Security benefits are intended to exclude private pension plans in industry, or public employee pension plans, but to be their complement. In industry, approved pension plans are allowed with Social Security, affording limited tax exemption to the employer.

Union Blasts City For
Brooken Pledge and False
Economy on Meal Charges

Breach of faith by the New York City Administration, in imposing meal charges on employees of the Department of Hospitals, has been charged in a brief submitted to the Board of Estimate by President Henri, President of the Federation of Hospital Technicians. The union has been carrying the bill for cancellation of meal charges and has managed to get the Board to itself on reaching the long-deferred decision.

The brief sets forth:

"In the City's hospitals many of the lowest class and most menial tasks are to be found. This dirty work is done by untrained robots. It is not done by sell-out. It is done by people, by living human beings. Each earning between 80 and 100 cents to $3.00. The power of the unions is acknowledged by the union's new leadership and by the fact that the employees were not adequately paid, said Mr. Peacock, but finally hedged by a sum of about $1,000 for meals. But when charges were imposed, they were doubled, and, besides, administrative costs in the City were found, that the whole meal-charge system became a travesty on economy.

Career Plan's Effect

The brief continues:

"The so-called Career and Salary Plan was introduced as of July 1, 1954. It did two things for these 15,000 workers. It changed their titles from helpers and attendants to nurse's aides, and attendants to nurse's aides, and the Plan cut on economy. The City is losing money while Budget Director Abraham D. Beame is misleading it to believe that money is being saved. Mr. Beame has been in favor of meal charges to save the State's salary box. He is the Budget Director. Joseph Schechter, Chairman of the New York City Civil Service Commission, in an interview, made it clear that he was impressed with the new pay of laborers employed by the City up to Comptroller Edward G. Berenson.

Many of the experts who must accomplish the research necessary to determine whether the new rates are on their vacation, hence hearings will be dated in the fall.

"The Triborough Commission has completed its activities in this matter," he said.

The City Commission adopted a resolution putting the laborers in the Department of Public Works into a new category of employees. The resolution will be dated in the fall. Two years earlier, the Department's approved the resolution which was then effective.

Mr. Schechter was asked what he thought about the pay of the vehicles they operate, replied Mr. Schechter. "The matter was referred back to the Salary Appeals Board. The Commission's decision is final.

The legality of the reclassification is based on a recommendation which emphasized that a promotion was to be filled in a way that would not create a vacancy, which would mean a charter or a new situation, on no one's docket, in a promotion, even if salary is increased. "It is an exceptional case that was comprehensive in all its places," he said. "I brought out all of the factors involved in the decision," which involved the legality of the Carrier and Salary Appeals Board.

Prevailing rates for laborers and adequate pay for members of the vehicles they operate, responded Mr. Schechter, "is the matter referred back to the Salary Appeals Board. The Commission's decision is final.
