Identical CSEA Letters Ask The 2 Big Parties for Planks

The Civil Service Employees Association sent identical letters to the heads of the platform committees of the two leading political parties in the State, recommending planks.

The letters were addressed to James A. Fitzpatrick, Republican, and David Gutman, Democrat, and were signed by John P. Powers, president of the CSEA.

The text:

The Civil Service Employees Association respectfully submits the following proposals affecting public employees in the State of New York for inclusion in your party's platform. Historically, both great parties of our State have accepted as important parts of their party platforms, many of the suggestions of our Association which represents well over seventy thousand of the State's employees and over ten thousand in the political subdivisions. We trust that once again your deliberations will result in a progressive and far reaching Civil Service Platform calculated to improve and expand the working standards and conditions of our State employees.

SALARIES AND HOURS

A. Salaries

We are, first and foremost, primarily concerned with the salaries of our public employees. They are too low. Despite the fact that the State's own agency charged with the responsibility of the study of State salaries reported that the employees of the State of New York were entitled to a 5% wage increase based upon comparable salaries paid by private enterprise and comparable governmental agencies, the State of New York failed to give a wage increase of any kind to its civil service employees.

We respectfully urge that your party adopt as part of its own program the principle of time and one-half pay for overtime when the State of New York fails to keep abreast of the almost universally accepted practice of premium pay for overtime. It is for this reason that we request that your party accept and advocate the principle of time and one-half pay for overtime when the State of New York fails to keep abreast of the almost universally accepted practice of premium pay for overtime.

B. Overtime

Along with the aforementioned need for a wage increase, our Association is deeply concerned by the failure of the State of New York to keep abreast of the almost universally accepted practice of premium pay for overtime. It is for this reason that we request that your party accept and advocate the principle of time and one-half pay for overtime when the State of New York fails to keep abreast of the almost universally accepted practice of premium pay for overtime.

C. Hours

Great progress has been made in the reduction of hours, particularly for institutional employees, to a maximum of 40 hours per week. Some state employees, however, such as the State Police, are continuing to work regular work weeks in excess of 40 hours. We respectfully urge that your platform include the adoption of a maximum 40-hour work week for all state employees now working in excess of 40 hours.

RETIREMENT AND DEATH BENEFITS

A. Retired Employees

Because of the impact of the inflation of the last 20 years, precipitated retirees employed in state service are deeply concerned by the plan.

Great progress has been made in the reduction of hours, particularly for institutional employees, to a maximum of 40 hours per week. Some state employees, however, such as the State Police, are continuing to work regular work weeks in excess of 40 hours. We respectfully urge that your platform include the adoption of a maximum 40-hour work week for all state employees now working in excess of 40 hours.
Bills Seek Better Postal Job Rights

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18—Bills introduced in the Senate and the House to correct changes in the Job Classification Act governing postal employees. The sponsors of the bills are Airmen and Airwomen unions. They know that's too late to expect action at this session but are aiming for enactment next year.

The key proponent is: Airmen and Airwomen unions, which would be advanced one grade in the postal classification ladder. A postal employee "detailed" on temporary assignment to a higher job must work in the new position 30 days before receiving the higher salary. The new bill would give him the extra pay from the first day.

Removal of the restriction that prevents a Postal Transportation Service substitute employee from being promoted beyond the fourth step of Level 5.

The competitive written test from eight hours within a period of not more than nine consecutive working days.

Making the compensatory time off for employees who work holidays during the examination period 36 hours to eight hours within a period of not more than nine consecutive working days.

Specialized technician training of one hour worked, instead of one hour for each hour of holiday work.

Text of Goals CSEA Asks Parties to Include In Platform Planks

CSEA Stresses Benefits Of Its Health-Accident Insurance Plan

The CSEA's Accident-Health-Insurance program provides cash benefits while an insured worker is unable to work due to accident or sickness. Sick leave and accident benefits are available before any insurance coverage begins. The plan also provides coverage for accident or sickness while the employee is on deposit with the plan and is not available to others. Sick leave and accident benefits are provided at the same rate as those available to employees who are not on deposit with the plan.

A. Competitive Classification

As another facet of the problems of retirement, our Association is concerned that the management of the billion-dollar Employees Retirement System is completely lacking in any kind of employee representation. We respectfully point out that this flaw in the face of sound business management. One cannot conceive of a billion-dollar corporation that is in no way responsible directly to its stockholders or its membership. It is altogether possible that either by legislation or by administrative action, the Federal government could be made for effective employee participation in the advisory management of the Retirement System itself.

B. Uniform classification plans within political subdivisions.

C. Adoption of minimum standards for public employees.

D. A maximum 40-hour work week.

POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS

We respectfully urge legislation requiring for the Political Subdivisions:

A. The adoption of definite salary plans with increments for all employees.

B. Uniform classification plans within political subdivisions.

C. Adoption of minimum standards for public employees.

D. A maximum 40-hour work week.

The above recommendations made by this Association do not attempt to go into the details of our legislative program, but rather to sketch in the most important general broad areas, significant proposals which we feel warrant consideration and inclusion in the platform of your party.

CIVIL SERVICE

A. Competitive Classification

We urge the further extension of the principle of competitive classification to all eligible positions in the Civil Service of the State of New York. We feel that there remain large numbers of employees who are now in the competitive class whose position would be readily acceptable to competitive examination. We accordingly urge an appropriate plank in the platform of both political parties to endorse the competitive class of the Civil Service of the State of New York.

HEALTH INSURANCE

A. Payment of Premiums

Under the recently installed State Health Insurance Plan, an insured public employee pays three times the amount paid by the employees. We urge that the principle of employee representation be recognized in the management of the State Health Plan.

B. Employee Representation

Since the employees presently pay the major share of the insurance premiums, and for the additional reason that the management of the Health Insurance Plan is set off from the health department, we urge that the principle of employee representation be recognized in the management of the State Health Plan.

EMPLOYER-EMPLOYEE RELATIONS

A. Anti-Strike Legislation and Collective Bargaining

Much has been written about the shortcomings of the Anti-Strike Law applicable to public employees. Experience indicates that the law is too strict, that it has not been enforced, and discriminates unfairly against public employees.

In the case of public employment, just as in private industry, there are many areas of employment affected with the public interest. It is not only desirable, but even necessary to be able to negotiate with responsible employee representatives on matters of the greatest importance to the State and to its employees. Long established procedures in the highly respected English Civil Service in the recently promulgated Executive Order in New York City are but indications of the trend in this regard. Combined with modifications of the anti-strike legislation and the establishment of collective bargaining procedures for public employees, it is expected that the system of the nation, particularly where the power of strikes is inhibited, of effective procedures to air employee grievances.

Accordingly, we urge drastic amendment of the anti-strike legislation to include only areas that are affected by the public interests, the establishment of formalized collective and exclusive bargaining procedures for state employees and state agencies, and codification of grievance procedures for state employees.

Better Approach to Pay

The FEDERAL government is making notable advances in personnel administration, including evaluation of job worth and implementation of an improved labor relations code to supplement with a better one the good one that has been idling like a poor, skipping motor. Now the U.S. aims at last a committee studied the State and New York City pay for the job evaluation. What is it worth to govern-ernment to have the job effectively and efficiently filled? What is it worth to government to have the job effectively and efficiently filled? Note that capacity to pay is not one of the ratable factors. It is not a question of whether the government offers a pretax, not a reality. Every employer must pay what a job is worth. For a while he may chisel, but econo- nomics catches up with him before too long. Choice em-ployees leave. Industry captures the stars of the dead's list. Government must face the same problems, growing costs, extra employee benefits, education, and tax. Does the government need to exceed our own in one accomplishment after another. Yet we have the mental equipment necessary to excell. Under-payments of salaries is therefore a costly form of "thrift." Government should at least match Industry's, preferably exceed it.

Last year President Eisenhower vetoed a pay increase bill on the ground that it would be inflationary. What kind of an argument was that? Federal employees have met the same demands of rising and peak living costs that the private sector has met. When the President and other New York City department. In most cases, women workers reduced, and mothers not reduced? J. J. O'B. A disabled worker's dependents during his lifetime. If your husband worked the re- turns with any coordinated plan. It would be assumed, however, that the PBA would be entitled to a benefit at age 62. If you qualify, you stop at your social security Office before you quit work, you are entitled to your benefits. The reduction provides for a better method of cleaning walls in the shower room, and how to keep the building heating system steam coils from freezing.
