held by Alexander A. Falk, a former Democratic senator and Hats-

Under a new State Civil Service Law, the president of the three-year term expires February 1, 1963.
In a telephone Interview with Peeing that a step of such magntude would have resulted in some personal conversation re-Quests, Mr. Powers declared:
Kaplan said "I have had no conversations on the matter with anyone nor did the thought of having any such conversations occur to me.
Mr. Kaplan said that if there were any truth in the rumor it would involve change in public

well as my sense of duty to the Rockefeller which we could not likely rule out.

Powers Hits Sheriff Assn.
Opposition To Increase In Number of State Troopers

ALBANY, Feb. 9 — Repeated opposition of the State Troopers' Association to any increase in the force of State Police was termed "opposition to all legislation which gives promise of good ef-factive, statewide law enforcement," by John F. Powers, president of the Civil Service Emjorship Association.
In a telephone conversation here the sheriff's group again announced its opposition to any increase in the number of state troopers, concluding there was no need for such increase.
Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has asked for $1.5 million to add 250
trroopers to the present force.
Speaking in a teleier view-

Government Accountants Oppose 2 Albany Bills

The Society of Municipal Accountants, an organization of Federal, State and municipal accountants concerned with the preparation of governmental financial statements and other governmental accounting organizations, are opposed to two governmental accounting bills which are to be considered next session by the New York State legislature.

At their annual meeting held in New York City recently, the society announced its opposition to two bills which are violative of the principles of governmental accounting. The bills are designed to change the standard of the profession of financial officers in New York State and thereby alter the method of governmental accounting in the state.

The two bills are being introduced by Senator Earl W. Brayboy, Jr., and Assemblyman Sidney H. Andrus, both of the Democratic party. The society considers the bills to be discriminatory against municipal accountants and is considering the possibility of filing a suit to prevent their passage.

The society's opposition to the bills is based on the fact that they would alter the standard of practice in governmental accounting and thereby affect the integrity of the profession.

Sheriffs' Fight Still A Selfish One

Last year, just about this time, we vigorously protested the action by the New York State Sheriffs' Association in their effort to prevent the addition of more members to the corps of the State Police. At that time they used the technique of the form letter urging their members to address the Legislature in opposition to a bill which would have permitted an increase in the size of the police force. This year they are at it again — not as yet using the form letter technique, as far as we know, but voicing in convention assembled their opposition against an increase in the State Police force. The arguments which they use this year are the same as the ones used last year.

Interestingly enough, one of the recommendations made by the Sheriffs' Association last year was that there be a study of the whole subject. We have recently learned that such a study has been completed by the office of the State Budget Director and turned over to Gov. Nelson A. Rockerfeller. This study recommends not only an increase in the size of the police force but other changes for the betterment of the service. It could possibly be that Governor Rockerfeller will be asked to study for additional money for the State Police budget.

The Civil Service Employees Association answered the Sheriffs' Association opposition this year through the press and television. In addition, as this is an old problem, we think it is time to reprint our column of Feb. 25, 1958. There is a slight difference in circumstances but no difference in basic principles.

What We Said Last Year

Recently some shocking documents came into our possession. They include a statement of policy adopted by New York State Sheriffs' Association at a meeting held in Syracuse on January 11, and a copy of a mimeographed letter which that association sent to all of the sheriffs throughout the State.

We do not question the right of any organization to adopt resolutions or attitudes upon any question, but when the resolution or attitude runs counter to what we firmly believe, we have a right and a duty to speak our mind.

Oppose Increase In Troopers

The Sheriffs' Association is opposed in any increase in the force of the State Police. They frankly say so in the form letter sent to their members urging them to write to the legislators in opposition to the bill increasing the State police force from 1,200 to 1,700. The Sheriffs' Association calls the bill the "human duplicity" of the Legislature. This is, of course, not only an increase in the size of the police force but other changes for the betterment of the service. It could possibly be that Governor Rockerfeller will be asked to study for additional money for the State Police budget.

Why State Police Were Formed

In the middle ages in English history, the office of sheriff was created. In the middle ages in English history, the office of sheriff was created. In England, this office was established when the feudal system began to break down. The State Police have earned well-nigh universal protest that local law enforcement agencies in the rural areas had not a duty to speak their mind.

A Stiffer Ethics Code

The new Code of Ethics for New York City government officers and employees would establish stricter controls and make the code of ethics more demanding than the standards applicable to Federal and New York State employees.

The Council's Special Committee on Ethics and Standards has made four main recommendations:

1. The revision and clarification of Section 886 of City Charter, the section in which the present Code of Ethics appears.
2. The adoption by Local Law of a Code of Ethics for officers and employees.
3. The creation by Local Law of a Board of Ethics for officers and employees.
4. The adoption by a Local Law prohibiting former officers and employees from serving as Councilmen even from appearing before a City Board.

The proposed Code should carefully define in detail what private interest under a strict and narrow interpretation. It will, of course, pay taxes on Social Security purposes.

WHAT PROOF of age is needed if you have a birth certificate?

If you have a birth certificate, you will be able to get higher Social Security benefits in the way. New York 7, N. Y. is Wednesday, February 10.

Hearings to Start

On U.S. Health Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 - Provisions for a nationwide hospital insurance for Federal employees, under which in future, during the present Congressional session, the President, the White House Civil Service Commission hearings start next month. This measure, the Lyndon B. Johnson-Davis bill, would provide Federal civilian employees with permanent additions to their health insurance plans. The Commission is expected to report the bill to the Congress next month.

COMMISSIONERS TEACH COURSES AT LIU

To discuss the importance of the establishment of a governmental society and discuss the social security benefits that are available and the way in which the benefits are provided. It will be held on or before December 31, 1959, would have paid no State income tax for 1958, the same as anybody else, and the new withholding under the State law doesn't start until April 1, 1959. The only tax due would be the old one, which is specifically approved by the I.R.S.

They are: Dr. Morris Jacobson, City Hospital's, of Brooklyn. "of 1959 would be paid up on his tax only through 1958, and any amount due for 1959 would be paid in that year.

Nearly all public employees operate on a cash basis instead of an accrual basis, meaning that they charge personal expenses when paid or incurred in travel and includes meals and lodging. Thus they deduct taxes in the year paid, not the year in which they occur.

Real estate, personal property and State Income taxes are deductible, but only if imposed on you, not if you tax somebody else, since gross income is the difference between total income and deductions. Social Security taxes are not deductible, but are being taxed, but even marriage licenses, are not Federal estate, personal property and State income taxes, and these are fully deductible, not subject to the reductions applicable to the earning expenses of income-producing real estate.

Sales taxes are deductible, a rateable factor in the case of New York State. An auto inspection fee, as well as a driver's or chauffeur's license, are deductible as taxes. Auto inspection fees are not.

DENTAL AIDE JOB

Applications are being accepted by the VA to fill a vacancy as female dental assistant starting at $3,355 a year. 18 months' experience is required. As an assistant on a personal office, Room 20, Administration Building, Veterans Administration Hospital, Montrose, Westchester County.

The Only Break

Under the new law, State taxes for 1958 would be paid in full, though withholding in 1959, and if one dies by the end of 1959, nothing is due. As the only payment to be made in such death cases is· the Federal estate tax and there is no such debt, nothing is to be paid. That is about the only "break" the taxpayer gets under the new State Income Tax Law. Death benefits are not deductible.

The tax discussed is the State Income tax Impose only, if at all, on the income of the taxpayer, hence relates to the year when he is alive. It has nothing to do with old age.

Some Concession on Pensions

Pensions are governed by a recent amendment to the State Constitution, which requires that no pension shall be granted on a basis spread out over a period of years, and finally coming to a halt, after one has received the amount of the tax contributions. Under this provision, only one with job and system; all public employees systems now fall into that category, for all new entrants, and even for most old-timers, because for pay attacked the public to make suggestions, before any new Code is adopted.

Social Security Questions Answered

I understand that the maximum earning creditable under Social Security in 1958 was $4,200 to 1958 amendments to the New York State Social Security law. Is this correct?

Yes. In 1959 your total earnings up to $5,000 are fully creditable under Social Security. You will find your total earnings up to that amount and by excluding your earnings are under the maximum and you will be able to get Social Security benefits for your old age in the future.

My husband is totally disabled and is drawing disability insurance from social security. How old must I be to collect as his wife? We have no children.

The wife of a disabled beneficiary must be at least 62 years of age or over who have been married to a disabled worker for at least 7 years before the age 18 and who are permanently and totally disabled since before 18 age and who are

WHAT PROOF of age is needed when I file my claim for benefits?

If you have a birth certificate, you will do. You may also use other documents that may be available, such as marriage license, and Social Security card. If you have not a birth certificate and Social Security card, your Social Security benefits may be delayed.

My son reported me to the Social Security office. What should I do?

I am under the age of 70 and I have a wife who is 65 years old. Can she receive a base on my payments?

Yes, if you are the recipient of Social Security benefits and have been married to your husband for at least 10 years. Your husband may be entitled to benefits on your account, but only to the extent you have not already been paid. If you have not been, you may visit the social security office.

By H. J. BERNARD

MANY PUBLIC employees drive their own cars on official business for the employer. They are entitled to exclude this amount from income if they account in detail for it to their employer, and even if they itemize, the Internal Revenue Service, or keeps within the Federal Government's formula, no accounting is necessary. This formula is 12½ cents a mile for car operation and $15 a day for ordinary expenses incurred in travel and includes meals and lodging. These amounts are maximum. Any excess is subject to the accounting requirements. So by excluding, they are showing the larger amount is specifically approved by the IRS.

The necessity of accounting in general for all expenses, transportation and meals is a matter of interpretation, but it is recognized, is paramount, in the absence of Federal Government-approved exception. Otherwise the money received must be included as income, and taxed, if it is not excluded from income. Some, but not all, taxes are deductible. The State income tax paid for the year 1958 is deductible in full, and this will be true of the amounts to be withheld by New York State after April 1, 1959, under the new State Income Tax Law, a deduction applicable next year in 1960 against 1959 income.

As there will be no State income tax for 1958, no deduction will be made on such an income. So, the Federal income tax paid for the year 1958, so that your absolute Federal income tax will be higher on that account, which affects you now. In no real sense do the taxes you pay really constitute a loan, which will be forgiven, in final analysis, as what the State doesn't take now, from 1958 income, is taken later, from 1959, income, as the widely disseminated facts on the new State tax program abundantly will double monthly with the tax amount for the standard family—husband, wife, and one child—assuming same income, exemptions and deductions.

You have to die to win under the new State Income Tax Law because anybody who dies on or before April 1, 1959, and on or before December 31, 1959, would have paid no State income tax for 1958, the same as anybody else, and the new withholding under the State law doesn't start until April 1, 1959. The only tax due would be the old one, which is specifically approved by the I.R.S. and the old one, which is specifically approved by the I.R.S. and the old one, which is specifically approved by the I.R.S.

Now if you have a birth certificate, you will be able to get Social Security benefits for your old age in the future.

No, only if imposed on you, not if you tax someone else, since gross income is the difference between total income and deductions. Social Security taxes are not deductible, but are being taxed, but even marriage licenses, are not Federal estate, personal property and State income taxes, and these are fully deductible, not subject to the reductions applicable to the earning expenses of income-producing real estate.

void estate, personal property and State Income taxes are deductible, but only if imposed on you, not if you tax some somebody else, since gross income is the difference between total income and deductions. Social Security taxes are not deductible, but are being taxed, but even marriage licenses, are not Federal estate, personal property and State income taxes, and these are fully deductible, not subject to the reductions applicable to the earning expenses of income-producing real estate.

Sales taxes are deductible, a rateable factor in the case of New York State. An auto inspection fee, as well as a driver's or chauffeur's license, are deductible as taxes. Auto inspection fees are not.

Social Security taxes paid by the employee are deductible by him, but the employee can not deduct such taxes that he pays to himself. Federal income, estate, and gift taxes are not deductible, but are being taxed, but even marriage licenses, are not Federal estate, personal property and State income taxes, and these are fully deductible, not subject to the reductions applicable to the earning expenses of income-producing real estate.
