Senior and his wife, Dorothy Kennedy, Joan Pimstein and Dorothy Tierney who portrayed Betsy Ross.

ALBION MAN ON AUTHORITY

ALBANY, March 31 — Charles Paganelli of Albion has been appointed a member of the State World War Memorial Authority. He succeeds Henry H. Harper of Buffalo, whose term expired. Mr. Paganelli is a veteran and attorney.

ON AIR CONTROL BOARD

ALBANY, March 31 — Jerome Wilkenfield of Niagara Falls has been reappointed a member of the Air Pollution Control Board for a term ending July 1, 1963.

THE FLOAT SHOWN ABOVE, ENTERED BY THE RAY BROOK CHAPTER, CIVIL SERVICE EMPLOYEES ASSOCIATION, WON SECOND PLACE IN THE ANNUAL WINTER CARNIVAL AT SARANAC LAKE, HELD FEBRUARY 14. THEME OF THE FLOAT WAS BETSY ROSS MAKING THE FIRST AMERICAN FLAG. THE FLOAT COMMITTEE, LED BY RALPH PLUMLEY, INCLUDED CLYDE FERRY, EVERETT BROWN, O. W. SMITH, ANDY JONES, VIVIAN D. DURPEY, ANNA SOCEVA, LUCILIE ROBBIE, PEARL OLIVER, MARIE LEHART, DOLORES DEVOLIN, BOROTHY KENNEDY, JOAN ALBRECHT AND DOROTHY TIERNEY WHO PLAYED BETSY ROSS.
Representatives of The Civil Service Employees Association in association with representatives of the State Department of Public Works to discuss several problems of the State Department of Public Works Department employees who are members of CSEA. Representing the Department at the meeting were: Joseph P. Roman, Administrative Deputy; Warren Welsh, Director of Personnel; and Messrs. Moe Reiner and Frank Tucker. Representing CSEA were Charles J. Hall, Chairman of the CSEA Special Public Works Committee; Kenneth Smith of Poughkeepsie, Committee member; Joseph D. Lochner, CSEA Executive Director; and Henry Oulph, CSEA Research Analyst.

Following the meeting, Mr. Powers, CSEA president, sent the following summarization of matters discussed to Mr. Roman, Administrative Deputy, and has received from Mr. Roman assurance that the summarization is an accurate reflection of the topics covered and an assurance of the Department's cooperation to establish equitable conditions in all areas of the Department. It is very hopeful that progress can be made in the various matters covered by this summarization.

CSEA Outline

"1. We urge that your Department take the necessary steps to rise in our membership roles.

2. Our Association urges the conversion of hourly employees in your Department to an equitable annual pay basis. We understand that there are approximately 3,300 maintenance employees paid on a per diem basis. These employees work full time the year round and may have been so employed for 25 years. We realize that your Department has recommended to the Division of the Budget a plan for converting these employees to an annual pay basis but that such a plan has not been adopted. We urge that further attention be given to this matter with the hope that some plan agreeable to the Budget, which treats the employees fairly, can be agreed upon and adopted.

3. We understand that the Department now pays its laborers $1.43 per hour in 83 percent of the counties.

This rate of pay is lower than the particular county pays its laborers, and at that, the county rate is paid much lower than the rates paid laborers generally within each county. The salaries paid laborers working for the county labor contractors building state roads are usually 30 to 40 percent above that paid by the State Department of Public Works to its laborers. This is not the case, and we urge that the state be set as the yardstick for our labor contractors. We request the Budget Director for attention to this situation.

Salary, Miscellaneous

"4. Our Association pays its employees substitute and mileage allowances less than the State Comptroller as fair and equitable for all state employees.

Second Career Man Fills Correction Deputy Post

The appointment at an annual salary of $12,902 was effective March 26. Mr. Weinberg, 49, has been on the educational staff of the Department of Correction for the past 22 years. The slate of candidates will be held on June 13, 1959 at Bear Mountain Inn, Bear Mountain, New York.

The following board members were in attendance, Robert Soper, Sr., Treasurer of the Conference; Charles Lamb, Chairman of the Nominating Committee; William C. Fendke, First Vice President; Daniel C. Scit, Jacob Porter, Neille Davis, Francis A. Macdonald, Past Presidents; and Charles lamb.

WASHINGTON, March 31 — The Federal Personnel Manual (FPM), long a symbol of red tape and stenographers between 18 and 70 years of age who can pass a written test will be given by the City Personnel Department, 1 East 19th Street, Manhattan, where the performance tests will be given immediately.

A written test will be given by the City Personnel Department, on which the passing score is 70 percent. Besides the three year residency and the ability to pass the qualifying tests, no other training or experience is required.

Youngsters under 18 may apply if they have working papers or a high school diploma.
Too, Too Fantastic

NEW YORK CITY has just been treated to some fantastic civil service happenings. Mayor Robert F. Wagner announced that he'd hoped to grant to 80,000 policemen, firemen, teachers, correction officers, and those employed in the departments that are also not under the Career and Salary Plan, would have to be less. The Legislature had failed to authorize the Mayor's request that would have made possible the full amount.

A larger scale threatened drastic action unless an across-the-board increase was granted to employees who are under the Career and Salary Plan, and gave the impression that his union was spokesperson for some $10,000, if not the 80,000 others. Actually, there is no across-the-board increase among the 80,000. Police, firemen, correction officers, and teachers are not members of that union. Nevertheless a one-day work stoppage was called.

Somehow for employees one doesn't represent is a fasching technique, as the trend in the labor movement is to speak only for one's members. A central labor body does not even authorize a strike unless the local seeking such authorization has a majority of the employees.

Mr. Wagner's decision to the claim of representation of even 50,000 members. It gave the number of employees for whom that union has sole collective bargaining rights as a little more than 5,000. That was fantastic, too, for a different reason. New York'sstrength of numbers are members of number for whom it has sole bargaining rights, but by how many are on dues checkoff.

In the entire City government there are 30,000 on checkoff. Still, it's a nice, round figure to use for any purpose.

All these circus antics got considerable space in the news columns of the dailies, something that had no weight gained the appearance of being ponderous indeed.

The canard that New York City intends to dismiss 3,500 provisions also got a lot of newspaper space. Professionals today consist mostly of professional and professional employees hired informally because the City could not attract enough candidates in competitive examinations and had better a way to pay for the skills it needs, for the paucity of candidates is directly related to the failure of the salaries to meet the competition of private industry and other governmental levels.

A more realistic move was made in the City Council to have New York City secede from the State and become a separate State in its own right. This was a way of expressing disgust over the treatment that the Wagner Administration's tax program received from Governor N. Y. Rockefeller and the Republican majority in the State Legislature. It was politics but in its clean and enjoyable form. The fantastic claims of the union to strength, it doesn't possess, and a clamor for goals it can not possibly attain, and on behalf of non-members to boot, was perhaps our only contribution to a movement.

It was not a stiff springboard for hitting the headlines without winning anything for employees.

Bargain Days Are Over

SOME MONTHS ago a State official addressing a group of civil servants declared: "You people were bought at a bargain because of the Great Depression. The State will never again be able to purchase such high quality personnel for such low money and I, for one, am glad that I will not have to work with the caliber of civil servants the State is going to have to buy for a few years from now."

That was the official's view. It is, of course, the State's present financial and working conditions set up in the longer run the government for top-caliber personnel. This is a dangerous situation — dangerous for the State and City and dangerous for the public welfare.

We have pointed out time and time again that government — on any level — is no longer the simple people's government. It has had to offer more and more service functions to government and depends on government to fulfill these imposed obligations with efficiency and dispatch.

In effect, the maintenance of government has become a science and, like any science, needs extremely skilled and devoted people to practice this new science.

Who would want to be employed on a doctor that had only the minimum ability? Who would live in a house built for a person who was interested in saving money, even if it killed him?

The Wrong Question

So, when we get right down to it the question of career in government has come to the point of saying not how good is he? but "How much does he cost?"

Well, as the old English pitchmen used to say: "You pays yer money and you takes yer choice."

At a time when government has become a science and, like any science, needs extremely skilled and devoted people to practice this new science.

Social Security Questions Answered

John Allan of the Bureau of Real Estate, 7th Avenue, is the vice president; Julia B. Danz, professor of public administration at New York University, president for the 1949-50 term.

The Society is composed of personnel officers and technicians in all New York City departments and agencies and of teachers of public personnel administration on the faculties of colleges and universities in the Metropolitan area.

Social Security Questions Answered

I have been informed that I need 16 credits during the year in order to get my old-age benefit. I only have 14 quarters to my credit. What do I have to do to work for those two extra quarters now even though I am over age 65?

Yes. Even though you are over age 65 you may still earn those two quarters of coverage you need in order to be fully insured.

I am now getting reduced widows' benefits based on my husband's wage. I chose to receive my benefit under the Widows' Allowance and I remarried after my husband's death. Does my remarriage reduce my benefit?

No. No reductions are applied for remarriage after death of government employee's spouse, unless you will lose some checks but the amount of these checks may be worked out between you and the Social Security Administration. Ask your local Social Security Office for an explanation of the Interests Allowance.

I am a widow and both myself and my minor child are now receiving benefits. If I begin to work regularly would both my child and my own benefit be stopped?

No. If you work only your own benefits may be stopped. If you begin to work regularly both would be stopped, if you are under 65 years old. If you are over 65, only my own benefit may be stopped.

If 50 years old was and was dependent upon my deceased son for support, can I still claim his dependents' benefit in order to be fully insured?

Yes. It is possible for you to receive a dependent's benefit for a longer period of time.

I was 58 years old and was dependent upon my deceased son for support, can I still claim his dependents' benefit in order to be fully insured?

Yes. It is possible for you to receive a dependent's benefit for a longer period of time.

I'll be 65 in April, but will continue to work. Will my employer take Social Security tax from my salary?

Yes. You will be required to take Social Security tax, whether you work or not.
CITY EMPLOYEES GET RED CROSS TRAINING

Mrs. Laura Covell, member of the Brooklyn Red Cross Chapter safety services committee, and Mrs. Mable Corey Watt, deputy chairman of the office of volunteers, made the presentations. This is only one of many activities for which the chapter seeks to raise $1,340,000.

Manhattan State
Many members and officers of the Manhattan State Hospital Chapter of CSEA were active recently in calling the attention of the Assemblymen and Senators urging the passage of the bill to grant State employees Chapter membership. The intention of such legislation is to provide more opportunities for non-licensed employees to keep up with the demands of the job and for better working conditions. The Board of Directors will decide on the matter during the next meeting. The CSEA Field Representative Ben George Schall of the Bureau of Light Maintenance Fires will present the case. Free booklet by U.S. Government on Social Security. Mail order only. Diana Street, New York, N.Y. E. S. T. One change would open the membership to all eligible employees. The group also voted to hold a meeting for all eligible employees from one to two years.

The Board of Directors was unable to attend the immediate past president, past first vice-president, secretary, and others. Herefore, only the officers acting as such are listed.

Speaker for the meeting will be the ninety-two-year-old past vice-president of the State Office of Public Welfare, Robert M. Webber, misappropriated for treasurer; with Helen and Danielle Andrews, representative, and Sadie Flack, a member of the Board of Directors.

Contacted offices will be voted upon in a mail referendum. Win- ceremonies attended by all officers installed April 14 and the meeting of the CSEA Field Representative Ben George Schall for the Park Hotel in Lockport.

Westchester County

Nearly elected officers and directors of Westchester chapter, the Board of Directors, held their first meeting of the season on March 16 in the New York State Health Department Building in New York City.

Following the reading of the minutes and the treasurer's report, the Board of Directors, having attended the annual conference, was informed. The report, filed representative for this area, is that the state Board of Accountants is on a case of the status of the bills presented for payment. Personality Testing

The University of Princeton, which is also in New Jersey, has for some time studying methods of testing personality, a trait most often considered a chief factor in team work and successful work accomplishment.

New Jersey will also give attention to provide more avenues of advancement as talent will not leave State service.

Individual career outlooks will be re-planned recently by the new Rockefeller administration. In a letter to employees, Mr. Antolina declared:

"To the heads of the institution and to all the public employees, I expect for the high objectives of our institutional services, I consider that you will continue to carry out all progressive programs and measures that characterize professional work in New York State.

The public expects no less from you."

Out of the growing pains of an expanding labor relations program has come a healthy understanding of our common objectives resulting in the recognition of more employee organizations than in any time in the history of this Department. The exchanges and the status of the employees has resulted in the establishment of a sound management-labor relations program so far unparalleled in the history of the Department ...

Mr. Antolina ended the letter saying, "You have a new Commissioner in which you can be proud of the success of this Department in its development to a unified professional service.

The Civil Service Employees Association won the establishment of the State Health Insurance Plan in 1957. It negotiated the very broad protection accorded under the Plan. CSEA's program calls for the state to bear a greater share of the cost of this insurance.

CSEA was an important plank in 1958 to provide for extension of the State Health Plan to employees of local governments and through its staff and chapters is doing its utmost to convince the governing bodies of local governments to make this protection available to their employees.

Since 1954, CSEA has made available low-cost Group Life Insurance to its members. Under this Plan, a member and younger gets $1,500 of term life insurance at cost of $12 per year. Older members may purchase term insurance for a lower cost than if arranged through ordinary insurance channels. CSEA's plan pays death benefits to insured members disabled by accident or sickness. Over 40,000 or about half the over 80,000 CSEA members are in this Plan.

There is no red tape - claims are paid to beneficiaries within 24 hours of the time CSEA receives notice of death.
