CSEA Urges Rockefeller To Have Second Thoughts On Saratoga Spa Future

ALBANY, Aug. 3 — Corp. Nicholas A. Rockefeller has been urged by CSEA to have second thoughts on his plans to develop Saratoga Spa before forming facts concerning the operations of the Springs.(News) before forming any definite plans as to the unit's future.

In a letter to Mr. Rockefeller, John F. Povers, CSEA president, said:

"We are writing on behalf of our membership in the Adirondack-Dutchess Saratoga Spa Chapter of the Association. As you undoubtedly know, the Saratoga Spa Springs, under the operation of the Saratoga Springs Commission, are a most ridiculous position to have Second Thoughts on. The project, which the employees generated, has been substantially accomplished its original purpose of sanitizing the bondholders, Saratoga Springs, several years ago, and but for a failure to impound a small remaining amount, the legal authority for the continuance of the operation was about to expire."

"It is the position of the employees that a more enlightened position for Aden. Our employees have been in a most ridiculous position for many years because of this fact. Some persons are employees of the Commission and therefore direct state employees; others performing the same duties are employees of the Authority. The state employees are subject to the Attribution Rules and the general Civil Service Rules. Mandated Salaries A Must

The other day a letter came to my desk from a school custodian in Nassau County. He had been told that when he took the custodian test, he would not be covered by Civil Service Law and that his job had a certain tenure that could not be upset. I got in touch with Mr. Titus Plasilmen,

Director, of the Nassau Chapter for clarification on this point.

It has been in communication with Albany on the matter of School budgets and had done considerable research along these lines. He found that under the law, the salaries for non-teaching personnel are not mandated by the State, and that the staffs are employed in schools other than teachers. It means that it is entirely up to local School Boards and not the State, to give or not to give any salary Increases or other benefits.

Legislation Can Correct Evils

For the past several years, the State Civil Service Employees Association and the Nassau Chapter have had before the Legislature a bill to extend the civil service status to custodians. This is in the same way that teachers' salaries are mandated. This bill is to be presented in the 1959 Legislature again and the support of our membership this year is essential. As the bill has a better than even chance of being made into law.

The commission is seeking to cancel the civil service status of 12 Schenectady employees, alleging that 12 men, all chosen as custodians were altered after the tests were given several years ago.

The State Department maintained that it had uncovered an “overall fraud” in civil service exams in Schenectady County. Nine of the public employes under fire have taken legal action to halt the State’s procedures against them. The recently concluded tests have determined what happens to the other 19 employees. The State charges against three of the Schenectady employees were dropped by Judge Hughes because civil service exams were not given.

This month most important legislation is passed, we are afraid that custodians have no real Civil Service status.

Town, County Jails Rated

ALBANY, Aug. 4 — State inspection of village, town, city and county jails have been held by the State Corrective Commission.

Comments from the reports follow:

Bruce County Jail — “The security of the jail appears to be nonexistent. This is particularly true of the kitchen presented a well-groomed and clean appearance . . .”

Monroe County Jail — “Very satisfactory conditions as regards cleanliness and in good and order . . .”

Aurora County Jail — “The prevalence and unusual workmen of the jail were examined, including all cells, and were found to be clean in good and order. . . .”

Buchanan County Jail — “The jail is clean, and well-kept, and good conditions have been maintained. . . .”

Monroe County Jail — “Very satisfactory conditions as regards cleanliness and in good and order. . . .”

Oneonta City Jail — “The present city jail is unsanitary and its location is not in keeping with modern procedures.”

Wayne County Jail — “It must again be pointed out that the operation of the jail is not as good as it should be. Each and every respect indicates constant alteration on the part of all concerned and an acute awareness of the shortcomings of the structure now in use . . .”

Orange County Jail — “A check of the jail revealed that the unsanitary and illegal conditions specifically outlined in the 1957 and 1958 reports of inspection were still present. The entire situation has undoubtedly worsened, and the cells and cell and room provided for the inmates are also . . . It was also apparent that inspection facilities have been reduced well below the minimum with regard to janitorial service and maintenance . . .”

Saugerties Town Lockup — “It is recommended that village officials give serious and immediate attention to constructing facilities which will be used by the police department in the near future . . .”

Schenectady Civil Service Trial May Be Argued In Albany

Schenectady, Aug. 3 — The question whether state charges of fraud in Civil Service examinations should be tried in Albany or here where they were given may be decided this week.

The State Civil Service Commission last week was given 10 days in which to ask for trial in Schenectady.

Supreme Court Justice Charles M. Hughes in opening the door for a change in venue, however, denied the State's request to move the case to Albany on the ground his court did not have jurisdiction.

2nd Chance
On Missed
U.S. Benefit

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 — U.S. employees or former employees, who missed out on some benefits because some agency tripped up, can still get them, according to a new Presidential executive order.

This will mostly help disabled veteran employees, who would have been eligible if their agencies had recommended them, for full career status in their jobs after only one year of satisfactory service.

The order covers many other types of cases of benefits conferred by executive order — not those conferred by law, the White House said.

Meeting the order's requirements, the applicant must have an unlimited license as a disabled veteran's preference is claimed.

A Good Decision

ATTORNEY GENERAL Louis J. Lefkowitz has again shown himself to be the friend of the civil service employee by ruling that funds should be allotted to reimburse public workers for tips paid out by them while on State business.

For years, employees have contributed to the operation of State business by paying these tips out of their own pockets. An archaic ruling previously declared that to allow State employees to be reimbursed for tips paid out by them while on State business.

The Civil Service Employees Association went hammer and tong to eliminate this unfair practice and Mr. Lefkowitz has agreed their point was well taken.

Comptroller Arthur J. Levitt has declared he is willing to sign the necessary letter and he now has the legal authority to do so.

Public employees are grateful to both men for their actions.

The City Clerk Exam

WHEN IS A FAILING mark passing?

Almost 6,000 people took the City examination for clerk a month and a half ago. Reports are that an unexpectedly small number passed it. There were quite a few loud complaints that the test was just too hard.

Seventy questions had to be correctly answered. The passing score stays the same (70 percent) — you just scale your wrong answers down. Each is entitled to his quota of errors, and that includes the Department of Personnel. The test result was too hard.

Does an examination measure the merit of the future employee? Or are clerks so good at taking exams and the test scaled up and down according to the number of people the City wants to hire? Either way, people who seek City jobs deserve to know.

Law Cases

Sidney M. Stern, counsel, submitted to the New York City Civil Service Commission the following report on law cases:

JUDICIAL DECISIONS

Court of Appeals

Hymes v. Schlechter. A promotion examination for assistant housing manager was held on April 7, 1968. An amendment to the rules allowing for the submission of a conversion formula in rating promotion examinations was approved on April 24, 1968. A conversion formula was employed in rating Part I on the examination. In question. Special Term and the Appellate Division decided such a rule was lawful but the Court of Appeals held that such examination was held before the effective date of the amendment and the commission had already fixed the required passing mark at 50 per cent, the employment of a conversion formula was disapproved.

SPECIAL TERM

Mazur v. Schechter. Petitioner, a candidate in examination for housing inspector, sought to have disqualification of his name reversed. The court granted his motion but noted the extent to which the commission might be required to review the matter to the commission for further review and consideration.

Mazur v. Schechter was found disqualified for the position of postman (P.D.) on the grounds of previous litigation. The court found that the commission, upon the entire record and upon its investigation, was not in a position to answer the merits of the case against the tainted individual.

PROCEEDINGS INSTITUTED

Cohen v. Schlechter, Petitioner, protested, claiming he was disqualified from the Personnel. His application was denied.

Korean Vets Check-List
On Plans for G.I. Training

Many veterans of the Korean conflict have found that their periods of active service were not eligible for GI training because their tours of duty did not meet the requirements for the training. An application should be made to the nearest regional office of the Veterans Administration to determine eligibility. The form is available in the Post Office under the heading "GI Check-List." To obtain the form, a citizen should be prepared to fill out the application and provide evidence of eligibility. The application should be signed and witnessed by at least two reputable citizens; one who is a veteran and one who is not. The witness should be prepared to verify the facts on which the application is based. The application should be filed within 10 days of the date of the conclusion of the period of active service.

8. Veterans with dependents should have the necessary proof of dependency ready when required.
9. Veterans should take along enough money of their own to tide them over the first two months of training. It takes that long, usually, for a veteran's first monthly GI check to reach him. The reason is that payments are made only after each month of training is completed, and not before, reported the VA.

New Lefkowitz Decision Clears Tip Allowances

You also refer to 1912 Att'y Gen.'s opinion which, as far as I read it, states that when auditing accounts you ask what you want to know, and are told, 'tip, fees or gratuities.' We assume you are speaking of tips, service charges and things which are not of necessity required to be rendered. Such items of account cannot be paid by public officers and agents for whatever personal views or desires may be, for the reason 'these prevent service.'

Interpretation

The above quoted constitutional provision was construed to prevent the Legislature from enacting a law providing for payment (as compensation) to public officers and employees of the differences in the assessment of the State and its counties as such and that which they will receive when performing services for the State, Local government (G. L. C. of Brookv., 283 N. Y. 492, 498 [1911]; see also N. Y. Laws, 1911, p. 2457). The charge is that these payments would be a gift of public monies.

The Court of Appeals has also held that this constitutional provision does not prevent the Legislature from providing for the reimbursement of officers and employees of the State for traveling expenses actually incurred and necessary and reasonable for the performance of their official duties. It is not necessary that the honorarium or honorariums should be paid by the State. Executive Board v. Canal Railroad Co., 204 N. Y. 471, 475 (1909). In a dissenting opinion, Mr. Justice Cardozo said:

"The question is whether the constitutional provision does not prohibit payment by the State of tips properly given for the services rendered. Such tips or gratuities are part of the compensation of officers and employees of the State for services rendered to them while engaged in the performance of their official duties, and are not considered as part of their compensation for services performed for the State. The payment of tips or gratuities to public officers and employees of the State for services rendered to them while engaged in the performance of their official duties is a part of the compensation of such officers and employees. The constitutional provision does not prohibit the payment of tips or gratuities to public officers and employees of the State for services rendered to them while engaged in the performance of their official duties." (p. 224)

"The Standard Dictionary says a tip is money given, as to a servant, to secure better or more prompt service. It would seem, therefore, that tips are within the purview of the constitutional provision. The term is applied to a service rendered. Such items of the State may not be reimbursed for seasonable tips for services rendered to them while engaged in the performance of their official duties. Such tips are not covered by the constitutional provision." (p. 224)

"The United States Supreme Court, in Commissioner v. Fries, 283 U. S. 481, 487 (1931) said:

"The payment for services, even though voluntary, was nevertheless compensation for services rendered. Further Points

The establishment of the State and Local governments is in the public interest and the citizens of the State and its counties are entitled to be furnished with the services of competent and efficient officers and employees. The services of such officers and employees are being rendered to the public, and it is necessary that such services be rendered promptly and efficiently.

Marcy Social Worker Honored on Retiring

The social service staff at Marcy Hospital recently entertained Pearl A. Ruby of Rome, at Trineken Inn in Rome. Mrs. Ruby, a graduate of the School of Social Work at the University of Michigan, has been employed at the hospital for 28 years and is to retire in June. Her many years of service have been highly appreciated and recognized by the staff and friends of the hospital.

Marcella Victory, supervisor of the social service department, presented Mrs. Ruby with a gold watch and a letter of appreciation. Mr. Solomon Senior to Tell All

In his letter to employees in Workmen's Compensation Department, Mr. Solomon Senior, Department Manager, expresses his appreciation for the hard work and dedication of all employees in the department. He mentions the importance of their work in assisting employees who have sustained injuries on the job.

"I am proud to be working with you in attacking these problems, and I am happy to welcome back six referees to their old jobs — Vincent Caprio, Charles R. Drury, Leon Heiser, Abraham Goodwin, Otto Schuphag and Henry Anian. Slaughter. In addition, Arthur U. Volpe has joined us as a referee. Mr. Senior continued the letter with a plea for us to work together to resolve the problems and issues that confront the department.
