The Commerce Chapter resolution aimed at strengthening public relations at the State Commerce Department was strongly supported by most of the chapter's membership.

The resolution, proposed by the chapter's Resolutions Committee, was endorsed by more than 22,000 members across the State. Seventeen replies have been received from chapters endorsing the resolution.

The objective of establishing a progressive public relations office within the State CSEA includes:

1. Improving the public relations personnel of the State employee to the public.
2. Ensuring bettering internal relations within the various departments and in enhancing community relations.
3. Continuing assistance given to association chapters in resolving internal relations within the various departments and in enhancing community relations. Such assistance should include improving the attitude of employees toward the public by instruction in proper telephone techniques, in courteous service, in methods of achieving letter press relations, and directing to the public attention outstanding volunteer work and other commendations of State employees to their own communities.

The chapter approved the resolutions at its recent meeting.

Vanguard in Space Opens Fair Exhibit Of Commerce Dept.

ALBANY, Sept. 7 — This is what three state agencies had to say about their public exhibits at the New York State Fair, now in full swing.

Commerce: "An electronic impulse from Vanguard J, on its 57th orbit around the earth, activated a switch to turn on the lights of the State Commerce Department exhibit Sept. 6th."

The Commerce Department exhibit epitomizes the 1958 State Fair theme, 'Opportunity in New York State.' The central feature of the exhibit is a map of the State—44 feet long and two feet six inches high—surmounted by a revolving 46-foot pole.

"Staff members of the Department will be on hand at exhibits to answer questions and distribute informative literature," Mental Hygiene: "By popular demand the New York State Mental Hygiene Department is bringing back its Haunted House exhibit to the State Fair."

"The 37-foot exhibit, which..."

Kaplan Cites Civil Service Improvements

ALBANY, Sept. 7 — H. Eliot Kaplan, president of the State Civil Service Commission, believes significant strides are being made to improve the State's civil service system.

In a report to The Leader, Mr. Kaplan said the commission had completed a review of all state appointments from Civil Service eligible lists. He said all departments had been reminded that provisional appointments should serve no more than nine months.

Wants To Speed Exams

"Recently we completed an announcement of nine months for a provisional position, providing an adequate opportunity to qualify for permanent status. The examination is open to employees who have been provisional for an inordinate time. In some cases, provisional has been replaced to one position only to be moved to another item or from one agency to another.

As you are aware, the Civil Service Law provides for a maximum term of nine months for a provisional appointment. It will continue to be our goal to keep the Civil Service Law in line with market conditions.

In times of full employment it is extremely difficult to comply with this requirement in all cases. However, we believe that a provisional who has an opportunity to acquire permanent status and who has served for beyond the law's limit in an occupational field in which there is a fair supply of experienced candidates, should be separated from the payroll not later than Oct. 1, 1959. We have attached to this letter a list that "A" for your employees who are in this category."

Appication of Variable Annuity Plan to Pension

BY PHILIP KERKER
CSEA Public Relations Director

In the previous article on the variable annuity there was a general discussion on the nature and history of the concept. In this installment there will be a brief explanation on how the variable annuity would work when applied to a retirement plan.

The violent inflation which befell the American economy during the decade between 1949 and 1959 caused untold hardship to thousands of people who were retired on pensions. As a result of their retirement, it was difficult for them to keep up with the rising cost of living. This made it necessary for them to work for a substantial period of time after retirement.

The Department of Labor, in an effort to ease the burden on these retirees, established a system where a member could elect to purchase a variable annuity which would be used to supplement the retirement income. The system was designed to provide a steady stream of income to these retirees.

In order to join the variable annuity plan, a member would have to pay a premium of $100 per year. This premium would be invested in a diversified portfolio of stocks and bonds. The value of the investment would be determined by the performance of the market.

Each year, the member would receive a statement showing the value of the investment and the amount of income it had generated. The member could then continue to receive a regular income for the rest of his life.

Public Advisory Committee Is Formed by Blue Cross

Formation of a Blue Cross public advisory committee of 18 representatives of business, labor, education, and public health, has been announced by David W. Brumbaugh, chairman of the administrative committee of the Board of Associated Hospital Services of New York. Donald F. McClure, formerly assistant vice president of the New York Telephone Company, is chairman.

Mr. Brumbaugh reported that the committee was formed "to strengthen relationships between Blue Cross and the groups traditionally served by its 200,000 subscribers and to broaden community representation in the Blue Cross program.

Named Members

Committee members are: Alphonse P. Ambrose, assistant treasurer, National Association of Manufacturers; Mrs. Mary Bark-chairman, Blue Cross study committee, Westchester Nursing Council; Westchester Nursing Association; member of the New Rochelle Visiting Nurses Association; Dr. Iona Baumgartner, New York City Commissioner of Health; Joseph P. Pety, Jr., director, New York City Employees Association; and Arthur G. Jaeger, secretary, pension and life Insurance board, District 4, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America; J. Mac N. Thompson, vice president, The First National City Bank; Thomas Zimmermann, local 32B, Building Service Employees International Union; and Charles Zimmerman, vice president, International Ladies Garment Workers Union.

Mr. McClure, chairman of the committee, described it as "one time channel of communication between Blue Cross and the community it serves."

"This time a period of hospital costs and growing demand for health care benefits," he said, "is there increasing need for mutual understanding of the problems facing those who provide protection for the public's health and those who receive it. With the guidance of the community leaders who have accepted membership on the Blue Cross advisory committee we hope to find answers to some of these problems."

"Committee will represent subscriber opinion and work closely with the AHR board of directors in the development of new types of coverage, methods of payment to hospitals and other services to meet the changing community needs.

City Rammer Starts at $6,280 a Year

Labors, foremen and assistant farmers, working under the five borough presidents' offices, can apply for the $6,280-a-year position of rammer.

U.S. Job Openings on Rise
In Many Federal Agencies

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 — Applications for job openings are being reported by various Federal agencies and their regional offices. A growing number of these are not vacancies declared open to the public, but openings for employees seeking new assignments in the areas of turnover growth.

There is an increasing proportion of these so-called "single spot" openings despite the usual shortages in the scientific, technical and engineering fields. There are definite indications that the stress of turnover grows.

The U.S. Job Openings Program, on reservations west of the Mississippi River and in Alaska, Announcement 194B. — Veterinarian $5,435 to $11,355. — Announcement 350.

Trades

All trades are in the Washington, D.C. area unless otherwise specified. Announcements are available at the Washington, D.C., area. Announcement 131B.

Medical

We have 28 hospitals, an ambulance corps with 92 ambulances with 350,000 calls a year, and 37,000 employees. We treat 121,500 nursing homes and 45 proprietary hospitals.

We also have 2,200 persons on home care, which means they convalesce at home and are visited regularly by nurses and physicians — even housekeepers.

This is considered an extension to our hospitals, but instead of the average $28-$30 a day for in-hospital patients, these patients only cost us $8 a day on an average. It also saves a lot of bed space.

In-hospital patients, these patients only cost us $3 a day on an average. It also saves a lot of bed space.

500 Jobs as Social Investigator

New York City employs more than 500 social investigators in the Department of Welfare and will keep on taking applications for the $4,250-a-year positions until next year. All that's needed is a bachelor's degree from a college or university. Seniors who will graduate in June, 1959, can take the exam and have the Department mail them when they get their diplomas.

Social Security Answers

I am receiving Workman's Compensation for an injury incurred in December, 1958. I have recently begun to receive social security disability checks. Am I entitled to keep these checks?

Yes. Since August, 1958, a person who is so disabled as to meet the requirements of the social security law may receive the social security disability payment and any additional disability payments to which they might be entitled.

I filed a claim for disability payments some time ago and was turned down because I had not worked for 1½ years out of the last 3 years before I became permanently disabled. Has there been any change made in the law?

Yes. 1½ years work out of the last 3 years prior to the date a disability is found can now be considered.

I am drawing social security disability payments as his dependent mother but was turned down because he was married and left a widow surviving him. I heard recently that I might be eligible under the new change in your law. Is that true?

We suggest you contact your social security office as soon as possible. Under the 1960 amendments, dependent parents became eligible for payments even though a dependent son or daughter might be survived by a widow or minor children.

I am drawing social security retirement benefits. My wife is also considering the adoption of our granddaughter, age 11. If we adopt her how will my benefits be affected, and if you and your wife adopt this child, both your wife and I will become immediately eligible for benefits. Each will receive a benefit equal to one-half of the amount of any

Kings Park

A large number of relatives, co-workers, and other friends gathered recently at Mrs. Provost's in Smithtown to honor Mrs. Provost. Upon her retirement from the occupational therapy department of Kings Park State Hospital.

Among those present were her husband, Mr. Frank Provost; her sisters, Mrs. Mary Griffin of History, North Carolina, Mrs. State Senator Marvin Mathis and son, Sandy, of Kings Park, Miss Fannie Peifer of Belferme and Miss Roberta Provost of Nokanop, Mr. Provost, Miss Mathis, assistant director of occupational therapy department of Kings Park State Hospital, and Mrs. Peifer. Dr. De Leon, superintendent, and other members of the Social Service Department; Mrs. Provost, the guest of honor, Mrs. Provost's auditor, and other members of the staff.

Mr. Provost, an occupational therapist of Kings Park State Hospital, opened the festivities of the evening with a toast to Mrs. Provost, all joined in wishing her much pleasure and happiness. During the dinner Mrs. Provost congratulated and thanked her colleagues in the Department and her patients for the many years of dedicated service to her local service. She also read a telegram from the Board of Trustees and a congratulatory letter from the Department of Social Work. Mrs. Provost also read to the assembled guests her greetings and congratulations, and expressing personal thanks to her patients for their faith and of the Department for her many years of service to her patients at Kings Park State Hospital.

Mr. Provost congratulated Mrs. Provost and read telegrams and letters from Mrs. Provost's colleagues, director of Kings Park State Hospital, and her patients who were unable to be present.

Mrs. Provost, a graduate of Kings Park, presented her with an engraved ladies leather handbag, token of love and esteem from Kings Park, and other members. Mrs. Provost expressed her personal thanks to the staff of the O. T. Department.

The guest of honor looked very lovely in a dress of hand woven material. She was an eldred lady, a fine citizen, presented by the members of the O. T. Department.

Mrs. Provost, a graduate of Kings Park, Mrs. Provost taught science and mathematics at the high schools of Sanford, North Carolina. She is a graduate of Sanford College.

State Bureau Gets Robot Filing System

Thirteen motorized filing consoles have been installed to replace nearly 300 old-style filing cabinets in the Unemployment Insurance Bureau in New York City. The Bureau is part of the Labor Department’s Division of Employment. The new installation is the first large-scale automatic filing system to be used in State government work.

Each of the new consoles can hold 132,000 file cards, arranged alphabetically on trays. The operator pushes a button and the file cards come out at the front of the cabinet. A voice warns automatically if the tray is full.

"Now," one of the file clerks in the Bureau said, "all I have to do is sit down and punch buttons, press a button and the file cards come out. My feet are beginning to live again."

When the executive director of the Division of Employment, Alfred L. Green, had the machines installed, he brought near the Bureau said, "all I have to compare with "my feet are twining." The new filing machines have increased the efficiency of the filing unit by 25% and have removed the need for four extra file clerks to handle the additional records.

"There are other savings too," Green said. "With the old filing system, our telephone bill was $4,000 a month. Now it is $2,000.

The new equipment, first of its kind in State service, brings complete automation to the Bureau and family spent a week's vacation at Glen Huntly, L. I., for a week. He has been in this position.
