CSEA Moves To Protect Rights of Barge Canal Workers If System Is Transferred to U.S.

ALBANY, Nov. 23—In a move to protect the interests of Barge Canal employees should the system be transferred to the Federal Government, the Civil Service Employees Association has called on Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to form a special committee to deal with the future of these workers.

Voters earlier this month approved a constitutional amendment which would permit transfer of the system from state to Federal control. It has been generally assumed that the State would take advantage of the amendment and pass over to the Federal government.

In a letter to Governor Rockefeller on the issue, Joseph F. Feily, Association president, wrote:

As you well can imagine, the many loyal state employees who have given long service to the State in the New York State Barge Canal System are naturally apprehensive and uncertain as to what their future will be. We are aware that no immediate steps have been taken either by announced proposals by your administration for legislation in the next legislative session, or with any announced agreement with the federal government for the transfer or lease of the Barge Canal System.

Moreover, the employees certainly would not be appraising the situation realistically if they did not believe that the constitutional amendment, prompted by past legislative and administrative action did not portend some immediate change in their status. We would therefore request that at the earliest possible moment, your administration give some formal statement as to policy with respect to the State Barge Canal in order to clear the air.

Employees or Committee

We would also request that a special committee be appointed to make a full and careful study of the entire problem. We believe this committee should consist of representatives from the Barge Canal itself, who, better than anyone else, could explain their problems and needs to us in this matter. For example, any proposed change in their status would involve immediate questions as to whether they would be permitted to remain in the New York State Retirement System, or whether, on the other hand, would be eligible for the Federal Retirement System. There are also the considerations of seniority rights, eligibility to the New York State Health Insurance Plan, and the like.

We feel quite strongly that the formulation of such a committee consisting of the appropriate representatives of your administration and the Barge Canal employees' representatives would constitute an excellent forum for an exchange of views in this regard and should, as a result, insure the employees full cooperation for the effectiveness of the policies of your administration.

White Plains Unit To Seek Raise for City Employees This Year

ALBANY, Nov. 23—A meeting to be held Nov. 30 at 8 p.m. in City Hall, the executive committee of the White Plains unit of the Civil Service Employees Association will determine what percentage pay increase will be sought for city employees.

The decision to seek a raise was prompted by past legislative promptings of geographies and need to the unit. The purpose of the luncheon was to provide an opportunity for the legislative session, or with any announced agreement with the federal government for the transfer or lease of the Barge Canal System.

177 Versus Murtough

How, King and 177 others versus John M. Murtough came to the Supreme Court last Wednesday after three years after the Board of Es- timates established the uniform leave regulations for city em- ployees. At issue was a special lack of definite regulations regarding sick days, sick leave and credit records on time off. Employees represent- ed by David Weissberg, the CoiTwration Counsel had sus- pected that they have not received the benefits of the uniform leave regulations. They pointed out that the Corporation Counsel had sus- pected the claims of the employees in 1959 when the Magistrates Court employees had not yet received these benefits. A court order is- sued September 30th by Judge Lupiano granting the employees some of the items requested has not yet been put into effect. Judge Murtough, representing himself, requested a reconsideration of the court order but offered to grant similar benefits upon the individual request of each employee. The court had adopted a map which it would accept as a reason "get together."

In response to the new map which was designed for a bright vista between Leonard and White Streets, the City Planning Commission were made for a bright vista between Lafayette and Centre Streets. This plan was finally approved at the last Board of Estimate Meeting. The building of a Municipal Building will be planned for the New York Law School and the Woolworth building in City Hall. A million dollars has been appropriated for the improvement of the area which will be undertaken with an intricate net- work of subway stations.

ATTEND GOWANDA CHAPTER DINNER

By A. J. COCCARO

Read 'em and Weep.

As a serfwoman during World War II it was common practice to pass leisure hours playing poker with the boys. A favorite expression of one of our young soldiers as he laid down his winning cards was "read 'em and weep." This writer got the same feeling recently when an employee asked him to read through the full list of titles upgraded by the Division of Classification and Compensation. The worker pointed out a very apparent feature, "out of the 2,600 positions upgraded there isn't anyone anybody interested positions was very unpopular with the institutional employees.

Look At The Action

Only a small number of hospital titles were re-allocated. In the case of Occupational Therapy it widened the gap between the instructor and the therapist, when for years the instructors' contention has been that the gap should be closed. Recreation therapist it-self with similar qualifications and pay grades for years are now listed differently. The change in the payable therapy was good but did not include any change for the employees doing physical therapy in the mental institutions.

I believe that the test of whether or not a change is an important factor in work production. As difficult as it may be, it would then be good to attempt to measure how the employees look upon an action of this nature. Our employees find it difficult to understand the work and decisions of the Division of Civil Service. In fairness to the Division of Classification and Compensation, it should be noted that the major salary problem is not of an education. A general rule for all State workers at this time is a must if our State government is to be fair to our employees and it is to compete equally with private industry in the labor market.

Equal Work Benefits For Per Diem Aides Sought

By Monroe County Chapter

BY GARY STEWART

ROCHESTER, Nov. 22—A group of Monroe County per diem employees is on a per with other county workers concerning employee benefits. This situation has been sub-mitted to the Board of Supervisors by the Monroe County chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association.

Mrs. Ruth McKeever, chapter president, said the target date of Jan. 1 has been set to gain better working conditions for the per diem aides.

In speaking for this group of employees, the chapter wrote the Board saying:

We represent all the per diem employees working for the County Department of Public Works working out of 115 Waring Road. There are 19 men who work all year for the Highway Department and are not employed part of the time by any town.

These men work 45 hours per week and are desirous of continuing to work 45 hours per week. However, these men are members of the Retirement Option, receive seven paid holidays and 12 vacation days. They do not receive any sick leave, do not get all holidays given other County employees. These men are not permitted the benefits of invalid rendition for their hospital insurance. They pay their own hospital insurance. Furthermore, the County does not pay one-half of their hospital insurance unless it is payroll de-ducted.

Five Benefits Asked

We, therefore, request that the County give these permanent employees the same benefits as all other County employees, namely, (1) full sick leave, (2) vacation, (3) personal leave, (4) all holidays given County employees and (5) that they be given the privilege of payroll deduction for hospital insurance and that the County pay one-half of their hospital insurance.

The State of New York gave all these benefits to their hour-ly employees some time ago. In 1958 the City of Rochester gave all these benefits to all full-time hourly and per diem workers. We feel the County employees should also enjoy these benefits to all hourly or per diem workers.

While our request is for this one department, no doubt there may be others who would benefit by such action granted to all such County employees.

We would appreciate consideration of this matter and, if possible, grant these benefits effective January 1, 1960.

Plan to Use Civilians in 100 Police Fingerprint Jobs; Dept. Is Cool to Idea

BY RICHARD EVANS, JR.

A way to provide New York City with about 100 more active law enforcement officers has been presented by Louis Chonoles, a paid fingerprint technician from the Frisco Police Department. He has appealed for appointment to the position of a fingerprint technician.

Mr. Chonoles, who has been a fingerprint technician since 1954, is in favor of the move. According to Mr. Chonoles, the move will provide New York City with about 100 more patrolmen on the force.

Police Department officials have been asked by Mr. Chonoles to appoint him to the position of fingerprint technician.

U.S. Service News Items

Longevity Pay

Since 1948, when the federal government adopted a longevity pay plan for civil service employees, the idea has spread to many other jurisdictions as a morale builder for those who can’t move up the service pay ladder. More than 1,000 federal employees are covered in a substantial number of states including California, and 13 big cities now have such a plan.

In most cases, longevity pay is determined by one or more of these factors: time in service, length of service, and age; and at maximum, in some cases, service ratings play a part.

A report issued recently by the Public Personnel Association shows that the “increment should amount to 4 or 5 per cent.” Most plans provide for two or more steps requiring five years between increments, but others vary from three to ten years. In addition, many jurisdictions experience increase after periods such as from 10 to 25 years.

Arguments for longevity offered in the plan include:

1. Reducing and faithful service.
2. Provides continuing incentive.
3. Mitigates problems of dead-end employment.
4. Compensates for lack of opportunity.
5. Increases retirement pay.
7. Reduces turnover.
8. Reduces operating costs by reducing pension benefits.
9. Reduces reclassification.
10. Retains skills of experienced employees.
11. Reduces turnover.

An equal number of objections are also cited.

Christmas Holidays

The President’s order that Federal employees will probably be given the afternoon of Dec. 24 but no time off preceding New Year’s Day will be effective. This plan will be recommended to President Eisenhower by personnel officials who have already approved it. The President is not expected to issue an annual holiday order before early December.

Most Federal agencies, as usual, will be liberal in granting annual leave to employees during the holiday period. Employees planning such vacations, however, should make plans for paid time off.

Anite Is Up For Medical Officers

The United States Civil Service Commission has approved payment of the highest rates for their respective pay grades to all medical officers in grades 11 through 17. The move is designed to attract more applicants to the short-sold jobs.

About 1,100 doctors will get immediate pay boosts through the order. Also, 353 others will be hired in the next few months.

All salaries in each grade will henceforth be the same, with raises only by grade, instead of also by time of grade in.

Most Federal agencies, as usual, will be liberal in granting annual leave to employees during the holiday period. Employees planning such vacations, however, should make plans for time off.

Recreation Leaders in City Wanted

Recreation leaders are needed in the New York City Police Department hospitals and Parks and Hospitals at a salary of $6,096 to $5,920 a year. Eligibles who do not have a college degree will be certified to the Department of Parks only.

Requirements are a college degree or four years’ experience, or a combination of both. Filing will close, June 15, and those who file by the 15th of any month will be considered for the position to begin the following month.

Members of the New York State Department of Health, who are paid less than patrolmen, and at the same time are employed in the Bureau of Criminal Identification, will be a decided advantage.

He appealed to have fingerprint technicians appointed to the jobs, thus saving money, since fingerprint technicians are paid less than patrolmen, and at the same time providing the city with around 100 more patrolmen on the force.

The move is designed to attract more applicants to the short-sold jobs.

Questions Answered On Social Security

I have a cleaning lady who comes once a week to help with the housework. Do I have to pay social security tax and what should I do?

If you pay your cleaning lady on a daily basis, the service you pay her. Notify the District Director of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance that you have a household employee, and at the end of the quarter, your statement will be completed. The total social security tax is 5 percent of the cash wages. You may deduct 2½ percent from your employee’s wages and you add 2½ percent. This tax rate is effective for wages paid in October, November, and December. On March 1, you may notify the District Director of Old-Age Revenue may be obtained at your social security office.

I worked in a dress factory from January 1940 to December 1944. From February 1955 to about August 1967 I worked for a grocery store. What should I do?

Although I grant this is generally sufficient time for a citizen to obtain a receipt for the State Election Law, Article 8, No. 286.3 (Book 17 Election Law, McKinney’s Codes of New York) clearly states that:

An employee may absent himself from his job for a period of two hours in order to vote at a general election (including a special election called by the board of election by law) and no deduction from his wages may be made by reason thereof, even though the polls are open for the period of two hours outside of his regular employment.

Economies Must Contain Consideration of Workers

TRUE ECONOMY in government has no enemy in employee organizations. But effectuating an economy frequently involves dismissal of workers and here the employee organization serves its members by bending every effort to protect the status of workers threatened by a job closure.

The Civil Service Employees Association is now moving in two areas to make sure its employee members are fairly treated. New York State is considering the transfer of the Barge Canal System to the Federal Government. The State is also planning to close down its highway weighing stations. A number of members will be seriously affected by both moves.

To give these workers all the job protection possible, the Employees Association has called for a special study committee to be set up by Governor Rockefeller. This committee will participate in all ways in actions of absorbing these workers in other State departments.

Most of these employees have long years of service with the State. They deserve the best treatment possible in protecting their future careers. As the agency affected, the Employees Association is to be congratulated for the efforts on behalf of these civil servants.

AIDES PENALIZED

Editor, The Leader:

It is with great dismay that I, as a Mental Health employee, am obliged to write regarding the rendering of the Grievance Board the 3½ hour work week for clerical employees. This proposal was made by the employee personnel director of the Agriculture Department in San Francisco at the annual conference of the Public Personnel Association.

There can be no question now that these investigations were designed solely to create the illusion that serious consideration was being given to ways and means of reducing the present inadequately staffed mental hygiene services of the State. They deserve the best treatment possible in promoting the needs of the few rotten apples that must inevitably be found in the State. The Social Security Administration recently took steps to formalize a six-year-old practice of reimburse state public assistance agencies to locate parents who have deserted their needy children. Under a plan initiated by the Administration in 1963, 48 of the 53 states or other political jurisdictions have arranged for information on deserting parents to be sent to their public assistance agencies by the Federal government.

I am getting a monthly disability check from the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance. I have been disabled for two years. My husband was disabled for many years and I was supporting him until I got sick. Was notified that those who have social security will give you a monthly benefit equal to one-half of your average earnings. The benefit is not available for those who have deserted their dependents.

This week I received a copy of your weekly list in advertising columns of The Leader. «
